The Mail hypocritically complains that the Mowat Government is taking no steps to secure the arrest of the criminal who fatally assaulted a Grand Trunk operator at Cornwall last spring and remarks: "It is too bad that Ontario should offer, as it does under the present administration of the law, immunity to wrong-doers." It strikes us that a Canadian citizen, named Thomas Scott was foully murdered at Fort Garry over a dozen years ago and that an Ontario Government offered a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension of the murderer; that Sir John Macdonald colluded with the murderer in his escape from justice, and that Sir John on a public platform in this very town of Peterborough, raised one hand to heaven like the perjured Sinon of Trojan memory, and hypocritically "wished to God he could catch" Riel, while the other hand was extended in giving the red handed murderer $4,000 to assist in his escape from the hands of justice, which through Sir John's good offices he has succeeded in evading in perpetuity. If the Mail had one scintilla of shame left, it would blush to comment on a matter in a way that would suggest a recollection of Sir John's complicity in the most shameless evasion of justice that has ever disgraced Canadian annals.

One of the grounds upon which some Tory journals object to Ontario taking possession of the Disputed Territory is that in taking possession and giving them a fair administration of the laws, the Government is guilty of a gigantic attempt at wholesale corruption. If it is bribery, as insinuated, how different from the Tory style of bribery. The latter bribe by lavishing vast sums of the people's money on political favorites, who are expected to give a quid pro quo in the form of debauching the electors in the interest of the Tory party. The Ontario Government, by giving the people efficient administration of the laws, by maintaining law and order and wisely legislating for the benefit of the people, endear themselves to the public, create a claim for their suffrages and support, and in this way are guilty of a form of bribery to which the Tory party during its history has not often been called upon to plead guilty.

Is the Review ashamed of the appointment of Mr. Chaplean to the position of Sheriff of one of our Northwest Districts. Last week we referred to this disgraceful appointment, and expressed a desire for the opinion of our contemporary on the placing by Sir John Macdonald of such a person in such an honorable position. Up till the present it cannot find one word in its defence. It will be remembered that this Chaplean was Sir Charles Tupper's clerk, and was ignominiously dismissed by Sir Charles for selling his services to Mr. J. J. McDonald, of the firm of Manning, Shields, McDonald & Co., and for acting as secret agent of an American firm—revealing the secrets of the Department for a cash consideration. The Review must be shamed into silence. The Dundas Banner says that this appointment shows that honesty and integrity are not essential elements in the character of those who occupy positions of trust under the Ottawa Government.

In a lucid and level-headed interval, the Review speaks of the Disputed Territory as follows:

"Much as we differ from the policy of the Mowat Government with regard to this boundary, we wish it to be distinctly understood that our fault-finding relates, not to the extent of territory which they claim. * * * * No matter whether Mr. Mowat or Mr. Meredith be at the head of affairs, it is and will alike be their duty to claim every inch of territory for Ontario, that there is evidence to show that we have a reasonable claim to."

We thus see that the return of the responsible editor of the Review restores the tone of that journal to something like a common-sense condition. Nothing succeeds like success, and Mr. Mowat's recent triumph in the Mercer escheat case, and his bold policy of seizing the territory awarded to Ontario, compel even the representative of West Peterborough to admit that the claim of Ontario is valid—something he fought mighty shy of during last February. When we have the Review acknowledging, though late in the day, Ontario's claim to this territory, and rebuking the political idiocy of the Mail, we require no stronger proof of the correctness of Mr. Mowat's course in sticking to the territory through thick and thin. The Mail might yet be converted if there was enough raw moral material left to work on.

The Waterloo Advertiser has this to say of the census:

"Dr. Tache, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, has made a labored effort to bolster up the third volume of the census, which the newspapers have shown to be a stupid botch. The worthy doctor has not made matters much better. He has apologized for some blunders, vainly endeavored to explain others, and left the greater mass of them just where they were. The census cost the country a great deal of money. Time enough was devoted to the compilation to have had it somewhere near correct. It is worse than worthless if not accurate. As it stands, it is a libel upon the country, and liable to prejudice the public interests by creating a wrong impression abroad of the industries and resources of Canada. It is a sad commentary on the way in which public affairs are conducted by the Dominion Government, that a mass of misleading and worthless statistics should be issued just at a time when we are making a high bid for immigration and spending large sums of money in inducing people to settle in Canada."

Canadians in Dakota.

We take the following exodus item from that staunch Conservative paper, the Kingston News:—

"Canadian people are going rapidly to the front in Dakota, and some of the liveliest towns in that territory have been founded by families from this vicinity. There is every prospect that Dakota will be the next state admitted into the Union, and just now, while crop prospects throughout many States are far from good, Dakota indications were never better for an enormous yield of wheat. Along the line of the Northern Pacific Railway business is booming, and just now people in this part of the world are looking toward Crystal Springs, in Kidder County, 63 miles east of Bismarck, the new capital. The town site is owned by W. C. Spafford, of Prince Edward County, who has already built a fine hotel and is doing everything to aid settlers in securing land, etc. The railway company has put in side tracks, switches, a good passenger house, freight depot, telegraph office, etc., and Crystal Springs is evidently destined to soon become one of the best towns in that wonderful territory."

How does this chime with the usual contention of the Conservatives that the stories of Canadian settlement in Dakota are nothing but Grit fables?

CAPT. WEBB'S FOOLHARDY FEAT.

WHIRLED TO DEATH IN THE WHIRLPOOL RAPIDS AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Capt. Webb, the English champion, attempted to swim the rapids and whirlpool at Niagara on Tuesday, and paid for his rash venture with his life. He succeeded in passing down the rapids, buffetting the current with lusty stroke; but when he entered the whirlpool, "the hurrying billows, whose madness foams at lip," seized him, and he never rose. Up to midnight the body of the Captain had not been found.

A FRACAS.

An unpleasant fracas occurred here on Saturday night, and even extended to the early hours of Sunday morning. The participants were not our railway navvies, but young men of good social position amongst us. The affair may be called a social scandal, and the ingredients of the flame, which unfortunately burst out with such velocity on Saturday night, have been smouldering for a number of years, and it were better for all parties to have suffered them to be buried in oblivion. We withhold the names of the parties concerned, as publicity would reflect discreditably on many respectable families in our village.

NEARLY A FIRE.

On Sunday morning, about church time, our village narrowly escaped a serious conflagration. On that morning some of the children of Dr. Pettigrew (who resides with his father) were playing with some matches, in one of the rooms upstairs in Mr. John Pettigrew's residence, on Peterborough street, when the matches ignited and set fire to some loose clothing in the room, and speedily extended to the wall. Fortunately Mr. Pettigrew was in the house at the time, and smelling smoke, soon found the whereabouts of the little blaze, which he, with some little difficulty however, speedily extinguished. Beyond the loss of some wearing apparel, very little damage was done to the building. The prompt discovery of the incipient fire fortunately prevented a serious conflagration, as the wind at the time blew a regular hurricane; and as there were a number of wooden buildings to windward, nothing could have saved the block eastward from Mr. Pettigrew's house from becoming a prey to the fiery element.

NOTES.

Mr. Robert Wilson, saddler, &c., has had a really artistic business sign painted above his shop; like the boss himself, it attracts a great deal of public attention. It was painted by Mr. John Simons, of Peterborough.

Mr. N. B. Gould, our great, enterprising merchant, is spending considerable time and money in beautifying his residence

MORE RAILWAY.

Your Norwood readers of THE EXAMINER will be glad to learn that Messrs. F. S. Macdonnell, S. Bray and R. Jones, of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, and residents of this village since the commencement of the construction of that road, have received the contract for the construction of the whole line of the Gatineau Valley Railway, commencing at the city of Hull, opposite Ottawa, northward to the Desert Village, on the River Desert. The road will be about 70 or 80 miles in length, and will run through a well-settled country, rich in minerals and timber, intersected by prosperous and thickly populated villages. Work will be commenced by the first of August next, and in the hands of such experienced and pushing contractors, will be pushed forward to completion with the utmost despatch. In Mr. Bray the Ontario and Quebec Company lose a most competent engineer, and one who, in all the details of his work in connection with that line, has given complete satisfaction. We are sorry that he cannot remain with us to see the completion of the road, as his best wishes have always been with the success of this great railway scheme; and we feel sure that he would like to have seen finished a work so well begun. However, as the construction of the road is so far advanced, and all engineering difficulties thoroughly mastered, little or no practical work will fall to the lot of Mr. Bray's successor. Our people, too, one and all, will regret his departure from amongst us, as he had become a genial and popular citizen, and thoroughly esteemed by all with whom he became acquainted. All wish him success in his new field of labour.

WORKING HARD.

Our Village Fathers, though working without a head, are diligently keeping our municipal ship afloat. Cheap sidewalk building is now going on in different parts of our village, and the work in every instance is being faithfully superintended by one or more of the fathers. They are also overhauling several brokendown culverts, which the old Council had left them as a legacy, and are putting things into ship-shape generally. Success to them.

Turnbull has just received a fresh stock of those Black Cashmeres so favorably known at 40, 50 and 60 cts. a yard. See them.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

RUNAWAY.

While the driver of the the Buckhorn stage was in the post office getting the mail, Tuesday, the 17th inst., his team took fright and ran along Queen street and Church street, and were not caught till in front of Mr. H. LeFevre's. Though running all the way nothing was broken.

AFRAID TO VENTURE.

One, of two Americans who was going from the back lakes to the St. Lawrence River in a canoe, decided to go over the Lakefield dam the other day. After taking a survey of the current below the dam, he, however, decided not to make the attempt in his Rob Roy.

MILL REPAIRING.

Mr. John Hall is giving his mill a thorough overhauling, and putting in new machinery. He will, when running, be able to manufacture flour by the new process. All will be running again within a month. Mr. H. also intends rebuilding the Mount Julian saw mill at once.

PERSONAL.

Dr. Ball and family have been spending a few days up the lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Crickmore, and Miss Crickmore, of Toronto, are visiting with Mr. R. C. Strickland, Reeve of this village.

Cricket Matches at Lindsay and Uxbridge.

The cricket matches played by the Peterborough club at Lindsay and Uxbridge, though resulting in the defeat of the home eleven, were two days' fine sport at this noble pastime, and the victors had to work pretty hard for their laurels. Our team was laboring under the disadvantage of being without some players counted on to make a strong team. In the case of Lindsay, they had to contend against a picked team embracing first-class players from Port Hope and Toronto. At Uxbridge they had to face a team fresh from the capital practice gained in a cricketing tour, while our own club labored under the disadvantage of lack of practice, which is their chief weakness. These reverses will, perhaps, teach them the folly of allowing first-class material to stagnate for want of systematic and thorough practice. There was some weakness in the fielding, a "muff" at Lindsay in Boyd's first score, with four lives afterward, giving him top figures, and virtually winning the game for Lindsay. The appended scores show what members of the home team distinguished themselves at the bat and crease:

It will be remarked as something singular that the totals for both innings were exactly the same in the two matches. If Peterborough would practice and put her best men on a team there are few clubs that could down them.

A Paris despatch says a gentleman was found insensible in a first-class railway carriage between Paris and Lyons, who had been stabbed and robbed. Until a prince or a bishop is killed the absurd plan of locking up passengers in their compartments will likely be continued.

The English proved victorious on Saturday in the contest with the American team for the international trophy. The English, while behind the Americans at the short ranges, showed great superiority of shooting at the eight and nine hundred and the thousand yard ranges. At the conclusion the score stood:—England, 1,951; America, 1,906.

The London Daily Telegraph, referring to the international match, praises the courage with which the American team came to the struggle with the English experienced shots, and says it is possible they were defeated because their weapons were inferior at the longer ranges. The Daily News calls attention to the state of the weather, which must have been very trying to the American marksmen, who are accustomed to a clearer atmosphere. The weather remarks the News, was illnatured but patriotic.

M. Challemel Lacour, in the French Senate on Saturday, declared that the acts of Annam and the language of her ambassador was such that France must consider herself at war with Annam. "If we are unable," he said, "to restore order in Tonquin without attacking Annam we shall not hesitate to ask the necessary powers of Parliament; but we have not yet arrived at this point. We are determined to avenge the insult to our army and the outrages committed on the bodies of our soldiers."

Olive Logan, in a speech at a woman's meeting, said:—"I reject the trousers with contempt and scorn. Men cut a sufficiently ridiculous figure in them themselves. The truth is they don't like their own costume, and are envious of our laces, jewellery, frills, and dresses. 'Trousers, forsooth, trousers', shake not the ridiculous garment at me. No, so long as we can have our silks, satins, and shawls, we repudiate your absurd bifurcated unwhisperables. Look at your swallow-tailed coats, stovepipe hats; and you wear your hair so short, some of you, that you look precisely like monkeys; and I don't wonder that one of your number has written a book showing that animal to be the father of his race." This speech was greeted with laughter and applause.

Rents in Lindsay.

In comparison with the rates paid in other towns rents are higher in Lindsay than in any other place in the Midland district. The demand for houses is so great that a number of property owners are about to build new houses and rejuvenate a number. Mr. J. J. Lundy of Peterboro, the owner of the brick block on William-st, is having plans prepared with a view of turning the store into dwelling houses. It will be remembered that a fire in the rear of the stores had swept away the outbuildings. Mr. Lundy informs us that the work will be got on with at once and the dwellings made ready for occupation this winter. The locality is, of course, a central one and the block will make a number of commodious and good houses. —Post.

"VOIDED ABODES."

[The accompanying versification has come under notice for publication under peculiar circumstances, in every sense. Any show of figurative illustration discerned therein has a fixed central background of saddening fact and reality, sustaining the presentation aimed at, and much more closely linked with occurrence and circumstance than Beatty's "Minstrel," which, beautiful as its poetry is, is simply instructively and morally allegorical. The to be deeply deplored condition of one prominently before the world for a remarkable heroism, deriving quite as much of its singularity from the surprising fidelity of the successful seekers of the lamented De Long, as by the fortitude and bravery evinced amongst perils difficult to confront, has for months been a topic of occasional comment by various journals amidst our American neighbors, and we would, in true courtesy, say friends. The man who last September was eagerly, yea, clamourously recognised as the individual fated, or rather on whom had devolved, under the ordering of occurrences, the opportunity of evidencing what intelligence, courage, affection, sense of duty and humanity can do, and who, to the forgetfulness of self, can tenaciously cleave to purpose in peril, while death confrontingly leers to quell the endeavour that consummates a triumph, is again before the world, ruined, upon a condition, which, upon every due ground, ought to have been one of eminent comfort and security. As a father, he is bereft of his offspring, through the wily machinations, legalized by the skilled abettors of a faithless stewardess of his interest, substance, advantage and repute as a fondly inclined father.

Superadded to this, she has insidiously deranged his steps for his practical disavowal of her as wedded consort, by successfully alienating his offspring's affection from the mourning father. Incalculably beyond this he is at this moment immersed in law proceedings, directed towards the restoration and the possession of the girls, as the only means by which he can rescue them from debasement and inevitable ruin. No little portion of the versification is a rendering-if in measured form, of his own expressions to a Deleware county editor. The whole of the matter is meant as an emanation from a Canadian exponent of the true position of the complainant.]

A winter's gale its wrath had spent,
Nor longer blast'rous howled,
While, here and there, the sky's arch rent
Blue showed where black had scowled;
And rays, as darts do, crossed thwart space
To scatter as 'twere mists,
Lagging like lurchers seeking place
Where hid they might exist:
Nor longer does the vex'd wind lift
The snow-flake in hushed fall,
To elevate the gathered drift
'Gainst fence, or house, or wall;
While if a breeze at all awakes,
It but in transience blows
To farther waft some truant flakes
In quest of fixed repose.
Sunlight, excursive of infant,
To aught it well could reach,
In cheeriness, forth message sent,
To search nooks them to teach
Vivaciously, while 'tween banks curv'd
Rippling, the wint'ry stream,
From fet'ring ice freed, joyed disturbed
In mirth bespeaking gleam.

Thus was it, when 'neath polar ray,
Upon the sullied snow,
Within my sight an object lay,
The most of children know.
It neither fruit was, nor yet nut
Which upon tree had grown,
Nor yet of limb a product, but
From off tree had been blown,
It was a structure of those skill'd
For to construct it whale,
Unlikely toiled it to build,
Nor had they toiled in vain.
It built had been of wool and hay,
With feathers interlaced,
And, rigid connoisseur would say,
Judiciously was braced.
If ever subjected to rain,
Or to fierce storm exposed,
'Twas calculated to bear strain,
Tho' of frail parts composed.
Completed, it had purpose served,
Within it hatched a brood,
Fledged had become, and therein nerved,
Chirping, had full-grown stood.

To one beside me, grave of mood,
Ev'en intensely calm,
I handed it, and it he viewed
Placed upon out-stretched palm.
While plainly saw I he it eyed,
And pondering thereon gazed,
Absorbed of thought—and deep he sighed
Over that mansion, raised.
"I, too, a structure," thought he, "reared,
Fashioned by rule and line,
Nor one thing grudging on it spared,
It to equip for naught—
Or these till lately deemed as such;
But it for me is void
As this, nor can I it now touch,
My claim on it's destroyed.
Alas! for me—unlike the schemes
By you quite realised,—
My best designs have been as dreams,
Like this abode, capsized,
Brisk fabricators of this nest,
Declaring you most skilled,
Secured were ye in the behest,
For which such house ye build.
In it your clamorous brood was reared,
From out it forth they hied
To climes abroad; since then have paired
And at nest-building tried—
Sad, sad am I, through childlessness,
For I am disallied;
From much loved ones, through wickedness
To me, their sire, denied.
I am the sport of dire distress.
Homeless—as time extends
Its range, I miss the fond caress
Which comfort parent lends.
Hence, self-examining, sore pained,
Conscience of me demands:"
"Art thou, poor man, for aught arraigned
Which stain leaves on thy hands?
Or on thy memory burden lays,
Thy soul 'neath it to quail,
Compunctively thine eyes to haze
Or render thy cheek pale?
Or which, if written, spoke or sung
As recreant could thee brand?
For if it be that thou, as one
Through wrongful impulse stirred,
Dead to disgrace thee ere hast done,
Speak! the confessing word."

"Naught have I done, designed or said
By which I am self-blamed,
Or causing me one tear to shed,
Save those for fond hopes maimed;
No freak of boyhood's wayward days
Or youth-tide would I hush,
Naught would I veil from crowd-bent gaze;
Or dread as cause of blush.
To tinge the cheek of her whose son
Distressed I am this day,
Nor as her child since have I done
That villanous doth betray,
Yet as that turns, whose life blood coursed
Through artery and vein,
One pet did I which me diverted—
Pining now entombed for
Some tiny [illegible]
Lifeless [illegible] whose move
To me evincing life,
To crazy, honest impulse cold,
By vicious promptings lies,
To vanity's conceits thrice sold.
On aught worth aught, e'er,
Involved for [illegible]
Indelicate or [illegible]
Such things as [illegible] shrank shrieking
For that inviting shame:
Such is the mother, bad and bold.
To whom this father owes
The certainty, his girls behold
In him their worst of foes.

Entreated, be omnipotent!
Creative Power Divine!
My heart, if wrack [illegible]
For sake of thought of mine,
Answered Thou'lt deal these [illegible]
Fond I go wrong-minded
Beyond thy strength—shield me also
From these fiendsmart woes:
Or mercifully, if I pain
Must suffer at Thy will,
Patience vouchsafe me and retain
My reason to me still.
My joys indeed, dread God, are thinn'd
Father, hear him who pleads
As sinner may—who hath not sinn'd
Here's one as soul, sins bleeds.
Yet for my cause do Thou extend
Thy rescuing aid, and condescend
To grant this prayer to Thee;
Keep, keep my babes within Thy sight,
Thy might, O interpose,
Them to protect from vice's blight
And influence of those Looking to Moloch and the fire
Of crime's unhallowed rites,
And these as victims of schemes dire
The thought of which affrights.
If hesitative as to creed,
I cannot comprehend,
Creator Great, be pleased to heed
One who doth to Thee bend.
Thou art the everlasting God
Of power which naught may bound,
While I am but a living clod
By Thee raised from the ground.
Might is thy attribute All-wise—
Infirmities are mine—
Then, Fashioner of star-gemmed skies
Unto my prayer incline.
Dread Monarch, in their hour of need
Pray do not those out cast—
Thou didst make mine—nor let sin lead
Them, as in seasons past.
Sovereign supreme, from them divert
The ills that clustering wait
Upon their path, nor them desert,
Abandoned to such fate.

THE MATTER OF MEAT.

The high price of meat in England has greatly stimulated imports this year. The Manchester Guardian compiles from the Board of Trade returns figures showing the numbers and values of animals imported in the first five months of three successive years, as follows:

IMPORTS OF LIVE ANIMALS, JANUARY 1 TO MAY 31.

	1881. Number.	1882. Number.	1883. Number.
Oxen and bulls..	92,464	93,549	115,743
Cows	10,941	20,678	24,130
Calves	13,204	12,381	17,004
Sheep and lambs.	339,227	443,565	452,301
Swine	8,297	8,697	10,628
Total	453,543	572,650	619,806
	Value.	Value.	Value.
Oxen and bulls....	£1,890,648	£1,695,069	£2,462,840
Cows	205,698	407,160	476,181
Calves	60,137	56,510	77,177
Sheep and lambs...	710,036	920,489	949,634
Swine	26,293	8,396	88,685
Total	£2,802,980	£3,377,626	£3,993,517

"The value of our aggregate receipts of live animals suitable for food purposes now reaches," says the Guardian, "very nearly £10,000,000 per annum. Of oxen and bulls the imports come mainly from the United States, but more than one-fourth reach us from Denmark. The latter country is almost the sole source of our supply of cows and calves. Germany and Holland send us more than three-fourths of our receipts of sheep and lambs, and from Holland comes a full half of the swine imported. The value of the fresh meat received during the five months just passed reached £1,014,037, against £714,436 in the same period of 1882, and £1,123,738 in 1881. The reason for the falling off last year was the drouth prevailing during the summer of 1881 in the United States."

ANOTHER LONDON HORROR.

The Victoria disaster at London the less, two years age, was, one would think, enough to last the worst city a life time, but it was the centre of disaster on Wednesday last. A violent rain storm swept over and around it, growing all the creeks and rivers in the neighborhood and causing such a sudden flood that people were swept out of their houses before they had time to make an effort to escape. Bridges and houses were carried down the Thames, and the country for miles around suffered immensely. Sad to relate a score or more of human lives were lost in the flood.

THE MERCER CASE.

The appeal in the case involving jurisdiction in the matter of the Mercer estate was argued before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council last Saturday. Judgment was reserved. This case grew out of the escheating of the estate of Andrew Mercer, who, as the Courts decided, died without a legitimate heir. The Ontario Government assumed the property on the ground that it represented the Crown in matters of property in Ontario. This is denied by authorities who contend that the Dominion Government represents the Crown in the province even in such matters.

DECEASED WIFE'S SISTER BILL.

The bishops the House of Lords are so alarmed at the storm of criticism evoked by their opposition to the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill that they are preparing to publish a reply in justification, explaining their motives. The royal family is much vexed at the failure of the measure, which puts the intended marriage of the Princess Beatrice to her widowed brother-in-law as far off as ever, that project being said to explain the warm advocacy of the bill by the Prince of Wales and his brothers.

THE SODA WATER SCARE.

An exchange remarks that the cheerful discovery has been made that in drinking the beverage known as soda water, and which fizzes out of an Arctic refrigerator at the drug stores, we stand in danger of lead poisoning. The analysis of samples all over the Dominion go to prove the presence of lead in this preparation. People had better keep down to pure cold water if they want to be safe. But then the question as to where pure cold water is to be got arises.,

BLACKWATER, LATE WICK JUNCTION.

The opening of the line between Wick and Manilla this month is the first completed step in the permanent arrangement of the amalgamation of the lines which are now known as the Midland railway. On this railroad of junctions (of which there will be from ten to thirteen) this Wick Junction is of course the principal, because it is there the main line from Toronto splits in two, one branch seeking the north and west, and other the east, with all their different feeders. This point was selected for the joining of the T. & N. and the W.P.P. & L. railways because a line across was most easily constructed there. The name of Wick Junction will, as before stated by a contemporary, be changed to "Blackwater" on the next new time-card. It is announced that Wick station, a little below the junction, will be closed to the public immediately, and the traffic transferred to the junction. It seems to to us likely that the traffic from Pinedale, Layton and Victoria Corners, with the southern part of Brock, will go there too. If there is good accommodation, Saintfield and Greenbank, with the north of Reach, should also go up the Centre road to the junction. The north and west part of Zephyr, Scott, and the villages of Lesadale, and Udora will probably find it to their interest to seek the railway at its nearest point via the 4th con. of Brock. There is no village now at this place, but it is highly probable one will spring up that will attain considerable size and do a thriving business. By a curious coincidence the new line joined the old one at a place where two good gravel roads (one the high road of the county) and a river cross the track. This gives the site an unusual advantage both as to the railway and as to serving the country around it. We take it that all things being equal, country towns and villages are like shops on a street,—the shop which has the best stand takes the trade. Blackwater has a capital stand, and it will undoubtedly do a large trade in supplying a wide and fertile farming country and become a smart, prosperous village.—Lindsay Post.

THINKING ALOUD.

One of the Newport, R. I., churches has a somewhat eccentric church goer who has a habit of expressing his thoughts aloud when very much in earnest, never mind where he may be. His entire unconsciousness of having thought aloud is irresistibly funny. Last Sunday a late comer at church—a young lady with voluminous skirts—sought to pass him to get a seat. As she did so she carried the gentleman's hat, which was on the floor, some distance. It happened during a pause in the service when their came slowly distinctly, and with an earnestness worthy of the preacher, this unconscious ejaculation: "Now—where—in—the—name—of—the—Lord—is—that—girl—taking—that—hat?"

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

GRAND TRUNK FREIGHT SHED WITH CONTENTS AT SEAFORTH DESTROYED.

On Saturday night between 9 and 10 o'clock a terrible thunder storm passed over Seaforth, Ont., during which the large freight shed of the Grand Trunk railway was struck and set on fire. Owing to the incessant flashes of lightning, the fire was not observed until it had gained such headway as to render all attempts to save the building or contents unavailing. Loss about $20,000.

FATAL "FOURTH" FOR BISHOPS.

Wednesday week will be remembered as a Fourth of July peculiarly fatal to bishops in the United States. Bishop Pinkney, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, was found dead in bed in the morning; Bishop McMullen, of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Davenport, Iowa, expired at four in the afternoon after a painful and lingering illness; and Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, breathed his last at Mt. St. Mary, in Ohio, at 7 in the evening.

HE WON.

A lot of old chaps were sitting around the other evening telling stories, and one bet the treats he could tell the biggest lie. The crowd got ready and the first man led off:

"It happened this way, boys," said he, "away out West. In those days I was a gentleman, and—"

"Hold on," interrupted the entire gang, "that's enough. We'll pay for the drinks. What'll you have?

And it was so.

TWO ARMS RESTORED.

Mrs. Syvret, of Mal Bate, Gaspe, P.Q., is the author of a very interesting letter in which she recounts the restoration of both her arms whose use she had lost completely. Her sole remedy was Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. In that district the Liniment is recognized as the most wonderful remedy in existence, which undoubtedly it is.

THE KOLAPORE CUP.

This trophy, which was thrice won by the Canadian Team, was shot for at Wimbledon on the 17th and 18th. England won it by a score of 698. Canada standing next, with 679. The contest between these two teams is reported to have been very close throughout the match, and not until towards the close did the Englishmen get the advantage.

PAID FOR HIS BLOOD.

Judgment was rendered on Friday in New York in favor of Edward Banks, the negro who sued C. F. Okenberg for $250 for blood taken from Banks for transfusion in Okenberg's veins while the latter was partially asphyxiated. This is ten cents a drop.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

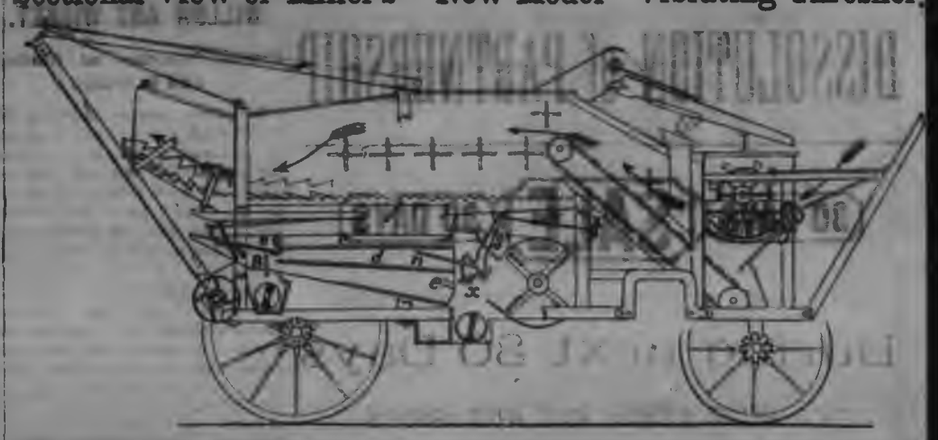
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher.



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.
F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.
To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Joe. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.
To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing grain for the past fifteen years, and the New Model is the best one I have ever been used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1882.
Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me satisfaction wherever I have [illegible] could not begin to thresh for all who [illegible] me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain counter. Don't stop over for one month yet. It is open to you since the buyer has an equal chance with the other. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in it—to clear off stock. Our aim is to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

THE ROSS FAMILY'S SORROW.

Hoping and Waiting for the Return of the Stolen Boy.

Philadelphia Record.

On a porch overlooking a beautiful lawn in front of a quiet looking residence on Walnut lane, Germantown, yesterday, three persons. An elderly looking gentleman, dressed in a plain business suit, a nice looking lady of nearly fifty years, clad in black, whose finely moulded features bore traces of an inward sorrow, and a lithe, supple lad of some six-teen years comprised a trio who have excited more or less public attention for the past nine years. They were the parents and brother of Charlie Ross, who nine years ago yesterday was abducted. The grief of Mrs. Ross has not been assuaged by the lapse of all these years, and like her husband she suffers untold agonies from the feelings of suspense in which they are at all times kept by the fact that they do not know whether the boy is alive or dead.

"Were we only assured of Charlie's death," said Mr. Ross, "it would be a relief, for we are tortured with thoughts of him being reared among thieves and vagabonds. If he is alive he is surely living among vagabonds, because those who took him, Mosher and Douglass, could not have entrusted him to others than scalpads and robbers. This is what causes us so much worriment, for I would rather have him dead than grow to lead a dishonest life. It is indeed a deep mystery to think that nine years could pass without any trace of the boy being discovered. His abductors were traced but never has anything turned up concerning Charlie himself. If he is alive I smile and I feel somehow or other that I will hear of or come across him some day. Why we entertain such a belief, or how we expect to find him, I can not say, but, nevertheless, we feel, that if alive, he will be restored to us some day. I am constantly in receipt of communications containing what the writers believe to be clews. I never fail to answer every letter thus addressed me, for anything that has the faintest semblance of a clew I always work up either personally or by correspondence. Only yesterday I received a letter from the State of Ohio, containing a description of a boy supposed to be my son. These letters I have carefully filed away. The number of children supposed to be kidnapped that I hear of in a year is simply astonishing, and I presume there are many disconsolate fathers and mothers throughout the country, who, like us, are to-day mourning the disappearance of a loved child.

DEATHS OF THE SEVERE HEAT IN NEW YORK.

The heat in New York city, Friday, was deadly. The sun struck the pavements and flagging, and was reflected in the faces of those who tried to shelter themselves under umbrellas. One hundred and eighteen had been killed by the heat during the preceding two days. The number of deaths reported Friday was 252, of which 127 were those of children under 5 years of age, and 94 were from sunstroke. The average number of daily deaths is about half of the smallest of the preceding figures, those of Thursday. Seventy-five cases of sunstroke were reported in New York, and four in Brooklyn. Friday. There were 176 deaths Saturday, with 13 fatal cases of sunstroke. The street car companies erected temporary sheds for their horses. Each street was patrolled by carts loaded with blocks of ice and covered with tarpaulins. The greatest suffering was among the immigrants at Castle Garden. No less than 30 children under 5 years of age died in New York during the week.

The most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain the back, it leads the sufferer to a premature grave. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is the only known remedy that prevents the results. Take it in time. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

ASIATIC CHOLERA.

There is great apprehension in the British Ministry as to the spread of the cholera. All the reports come through official sources, and are believed to be much underrated as to the returns of the number of deaths. The disease is believed to have broken out among the troops in Cairo and Alexandria. At the Cabinet Council, Saturday, it was seriously debated whether or not to recall the whole British army away from Egypt, and send them to Malta or Cyprus. The matter was referred to Lord Wolseley, and on his report it was decided to retain them in Egypt for the present. So far the disease seems chiefly confined to four towns on the eastern branch of the Nile. In Damietta about 1,000 have perished, or about one in every thirty of the inhabitants. At Sherbin, a small village of mud huts, 30 miles up the Nile, there have nine cases within 24 hours. In Mansurah, 20 miles further up, the death rate has risen rapidly from 6 to 60 a day. The town contains about 16,000 inhabitants, and is a local centre of trade. From this point it has spread to Menzaleh, on the lake of that name. The next outbreak is at Samanoud, a small village on the Nile, about 17 miles further up. It is noticed that the disease, as in former instances, is steadily following the course of the great river. It is now only seventy miles from Cairo, and should it reach that city a terrible mortality may be anticipated in the Arab and Jew quarters, which consist of narrow streets, many ending in a cul de sac, without drainage or sanitary arrangements of any kind. The London papers point out that the disease was due in 1877, having appeared regularly every 12 years since 1781, spreading always to the west, and taking about two years to exhaust itself. In all previous instances the epidemic has developed energy among the Oriental races, whence it has spread to Europe. The exodus which has taken place from Egypt is likely to carry the infection to the adjacent towns of Syria, and particularly to Beyrout, whence it may spread to any point on the Mediterranean. The disease is undoutedly Asiatic cholera of the most virulent type. Most of the cases occur among the poorer classes, and a large majority are fatal. All the European Governments have established strict quarantine regulations as to vessels coming from Egypt.

THE MOTHER OF TWENTY-FOUR CHILDREN.

From The Thunder Bay Sentinel.

Mrs. Thomas Ritchie, who leaves town by the United Empire in the morning and who is now board the steamer, is the wife of a well-to-do stock raiser at Gladstone, Manitoba, and is a native of Clinton, Ontario. Her remarkable size and weight entitle her to notice in these columns. The lady, who is 42 years of age, went west four years ago, but whether she anticipated growing up with the country, as advised by Greeley, does not appear. The fact remains however that if she did, she has been disappointed, for she has lost no less than 148 pounds during the past four years—from 631 pounds to 483 pounds, her present weight. Mrs. Ritchie is the mother of twenty-four children, seventeen of whom are living. She is a lady of some intelligence and free in converse. We are sorry to state, however, that Mrs. Ritchie is on a unpleasant mission, having been telegraphed for an account of her sickness of her mother, who, she is afraid, will not be living on her arrival. A defect in the construction of the Empire became painfully apparant to-day when the lady in question was unable to get into her stateroom. She will travel as a deck passenger, everything, of course, conducive to her comfort being studied.

Two majors and ten lieutenants in the Egyptian army have been sentenced to seven years' penal servitude in the Soudan for complicity in the massacres at Alexdria last year.

It is now in season to warn our readers against the sudden attacks of Cholera, Cramp, Colic, and the various Bowel Complaints incident to the season of ripe fruit, vegetables, etc. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the grand specific for those troubles. 30-2t

Owing to the opposition to the agreement the English Government proposed to make with M. DeLesseps respecting a second canal, it is likely the scheme will have to be dropped.

There is no excuse for suffering from Headache, Constipation and all the wearying train of symptoms of a disordered liver, when Burdock Blood Bitters is an unfailing remedy, and only costs One Dollar a bottle. Why suffer on without a trial? 25,000 bottles sold during the last three months, with almost universal satisfaction. 30-2t

Sanitary measures are so neglected by the local authorities of Egypt that there is a strong feeling in favour of England's forcibly taking the administration of preventive measures into her own hands.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—One of the most valuable discoveries in medical science, for the benefit of mankind, was made when Burdock Blood Bitters were invented. This medicine positively cures all diseases of the Livers, Kindeys, Stomach, Skin and Blood. 25,000 bottles have been sold during the last three months. 30-2t

The London season this year has been a short but brilliant one. The Queen will remain at Windsor. She seriously feels the absence of the Princess Beatrice, who is at a continental watering place for the benefit of her rheumatism.

"When all other remedies fail" for Bowel Complaint, Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, etc., "then Dr Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue." Thus writes W. H. Crooker, druggist, Waterdown, and adds that "its sales are large and increasing. 30-2t

A village in Styria was recently burned while the inhabitants were absent from their homes to give a welcome to the Emperor of Austria. It has been discovered that Irridentists from Eudine set the village on fire, and five of the incendiaries have been arrested.

Phthisis, instead of being purely a local disease of the lung, as is commonly believed must be treated as a great constitutional malady, the result of impoverishment from a failure of nutrition. Organs and tissues impaired by climatic influence, or previous disease, are the first to give way, and we have the poverty of blood showing itself in consumption of the spine, hip, knee and bowels, as well as the lungs. The defect consists essentially in an insufficient supply of the food phosphates for tissue construction and the generation of nerve force. WHEELER'S Phosphates and Calsaya shows the best record yet attained in benefiting and curing this disease.

A VERY NICE TOWN.

Stratford must be a very nice town to live in. Some time ago the Mayor and Clerk were arrested by the Chief of Police in a house of ill-fame, and were fined by the Police Magistrate; the conviction was quashed on the ground that it was not proven that they were "frequenters" of the den. The Council refused to sit with the Mayor after the conviction, and he wisely absented himself, but now that the conviction has been quashed he presists in presiding at the Council table, and the Council won't sit with him. Business is therefore at a stand. A little tar and feathers would probably not be a bad application in this case, and it might bring the Mayor to his proper senses.

WHAT WORK AND ENERGY WILL WIN.

There is talk just now in Italy of the poor Italian Benedictine who, while possessing not a penny of his own, managed through preseverent activity and strong will, to found and maintain 164 houses of refuge or orphan asylums, scattered all over the world, and in which 250,000 children of both sexes are received, clothed, fed, and educated, the number coming in and going out varying from 35,000 to 40,000 in every twelvemonth. He recently startled a fashionable audience with these astounding facts during a lecture delivered by him in Paris, in the aristocratic temple of "La Madeleine." The result of this lecture was the immediate addition of the snug sum of $3,500 to the Benedictine's charitable coffers.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Music in the Park.

The band will play, weather permitting, in the Court House Park on Friday evening next.

Eye, Ear and Throat.

Dr. G. S. Ryerson, the well known specialist, in diseases of the eye, ear and throat, will be at the Oriental hotel, Peterborough on Saturday, August 11th, for consultation and treatment.

The Band.

The band has decided to enter the competition at the Chatham Tournament on August 16th and 17th. They are diligently practising, and we have no doubt they will give a good account of themselves at the forthcoming contest.

How the Maitlands Feel.

The Mail of Saturday says that the Maitlands returned to town yesterday morning, very much pleased with the way everyone had treated them during their brief sojourn in Peterborough. On the way up they passed a vote of thanks to the committee of the club.

A Huge Hydrangea.

Mr. McWhinnie, Murray street, possesses a phenomenally fine specimen of hydrangea. The plant has three blossoms the largest of which is a yard in circumference. There are few flowers of this variety that have more blow about them than Mr. McWhinnie's hydrangea.

The Keene Band.

In our notice of the Orange celebration of the 12th of July due credit was inadvertently omitted to be given to the Keene brass band. The omission was due entirely to a clerical oversight and was not intended as the slightest reflection on the band, which, we are pleased to say, fills with great credit the position it occupies.

Peterborough Pulp Company.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating Alex. Henry, John R. Scott, and Wm. F. Hall, of Napanee; George A. Cox, Thos. G. Hazlitt, and Richard Hall, of Peterborough, for the purpose of manufacturing pulp and paper under the name of "The Peterborough Pulp Company," with a capital of $50,000 divided into 100 shares of $500 each.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic returns of the Midland Railway of Canada for the week ending July 7th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $11,074.73; freight, $12,197.01; total, $23,224.74, as compared with $2,116.57 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of 1,128.17; and the aggregate traffic to date is $543,780.64, being an increase of $18,869.23 over 1882.

Mothers, Wazen the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

The Late Mrs. Whyte.

We find the following in the Campbellford Herald respecting the death of Mrs. Whyte, of that village. In noticing other deaths the Herald says:—"The fifth of our list is also called away from the 'blessed staff of hoary age.' We allude to Mrs. Whyte, relict of the late Peter Whyte, of Dumblane, Scotland, and mother of the Messrs. Whyte of Campbellford and Peterborough. The deceased lady passed the last hours of her life at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. James Fulford, Seymour township. She continued on in life's conflicts until she had passed far beyond the allotted time of man, having died full of years—at the age of 83. Of the deceased we can only speak in praise. She lived to fulfill good and noble purposes in life, and met death peacefully with a hope of entering the sweet rest beyond the river of death.

Baptist Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Baptist Sunday School will take place on Tuesday, August 7th, at Hastings. Fare for the round trip 50 cents only. Train leaves Midland station at 6.45 a.m. The public are generally invited to take advantage of the occasion.

Central Exhibition.

It may not be amiss to inquire what the officials of the West Riding Agricultural Society are doing in reference to securing the holding of a central exhibition in Peterborough this fall? If there is anything in this way to be accomplished it is high time that action was taken.

Forestry.

A new court of the Canadian Order of Foresters—Court "Little John," No. 92, was instituted on Tuesday night with sixteen members. The dispensation was secured by H. W. Watson, P. C. R. of Court Peterborough, No. 29. The officers will be installed on Tuesday evening next. Rooms have been secured for the Court in Tresnum's block, Water street.

Toothache Attention.

By mutual agreement the dentists of Peterborough have agreed to close their offices for a fortnight, beginning August 1st. Those contemplating the sacrifice of teeth within the next three weeks had better expedite the matter before August first, or they may have to suffer until the molar removers return. A tooth always exhibits the greatest enterprise in aching when it can't be pulled.

Sons of England.

A lodge of the Sons of England will be formed on the first Monday in August, as it is at present arranged. At a meeting at Dr. Sproule's office on Monday night eleven candidates passed the necessary medical examination. The name of the new lodge is to be Lansdowne, in honor of our new Governor-General. Another meeting will be held in connection with the organization of the society on Friday night.

Dominion Centennial Exhibition.

In comment of our article on the editorial page, we might add for the benefit of local manufacturers who may think of becoming exhibitors at St. John's next October, that Mr. P. H. O'Brien, a member of the Manufacturers' Committee of the exhibition, will be found at the Oriental Hotel. He will be willing to give them full information and all the assistance in his power. We should like to see some of our manufacturers take a good list of prizes.

Promenade Concert.

Before their departure to compete at the Chatham Band Tournament, on August 16th and 17th, the Band will give a promenade concert, at which, of course, it must be expected a choice programme of music will be rendered. At even this early date we bespeak a liberal public patronage, by which the funds to defray the expenses of the expected trip may be liberally assisted. The boys of the band play liberally in public, and when they require the patronage of the citizens, it should be liberally extended.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

This is the Place to Come.

The Lindsay Post says "it is understood that the paper mill people are in correspondence with several leading steam engine manufacturers with a view of purchasing a new engine. Among others the Wm. Hamilton Engine Works of Peterborough have been asked to name their price for a modern improved engine of 100 horse-power." If the paper company want to get good, solid, substantial machinery, let them order from Wm. Hamilton's establisment, Reid Street, alongside the track of the Missing Link. They will get machinery they can depend on, and if the lightning should strike it, which is about the only way it can get out of order, there is easy access for repairs.

Otonabee's Officers.

Vennor Once More.

This irrepressible prophet is out with another batch of predictions, and he has the cold-blooded cruelty to predict snow in August. Here is his latest:

July 27th and 28th.—Cooler; storms along the Hudson to New York; heavy rains in northern sections.

29th and 31st.—Cooler for brief period, with pretty general storms at close of month and entry of August; heavy rains and floods at western points.

The first week of the month of August is likely to give heat and some severe local storms where these were experienced last year. Hail should be guarded against in Western sections. I think the fore portion of this month will be characterised by wide-spread heat. First change to cooler weather after the 10th, when a very decided relapse to cool weather may take place, with even snowfalls in mountainous regions.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.

What They say Here.

My site is most convenient for both Ashburnham and Peterborough. I have been a big better and a heavy loser for the cause and should be recouped.—C. W. S——e.

I own the Cavanagh block, and my property will be greatly benefitted by the choice of the site owned by the "new bosses" of the Town Council. I sacrificed a good deal in the "Clarton-Bertram outrage," and should be recouped.—W. C——n.

Never fear, "our" lot on Hunter street is the place, "Jimmy," and I control the French vote. Monsieur Langevin wont go back on a compatriot.—H——y LeB—n.

Unfortunately I could not go into active service the last election, but I have given both time, talent and money for the cause, and I think "our" lot, corner of Water and Hunter streets is the spot.—A. P. P——e.

I sacrificed time, money, endured cold, and stood Muskoka whiskey—for the boys—wasted the corruption fund in buying bony cows, sacrificed even my name. Worked like a slave for John, and my lot is the most b-e-autiful site in town. I should be recouped if anybody.—E. P——n.

By Jove, I hope it goes on "McIntyre's" corner, my property will jump 50 per cent.—H——y E—h.

My lot is most central and convenient (corner Brock and Water streets) but I'm on the honest side of politics, and the ring freeze me out 40° below zero. Last June I made the party lavish the corruption fund too strong to expect to be recouped.—J. J. L——y.

I want the post office somewhere in this block. I think Sawers' site would suit.—Acting Mayor.

I think the corner of Brock and George streets, opposite the present post office, is the place.—Geo. A. C—x, and almost everybody.

I have become respectable and dropped politics. My gravel pit on Hunter street would be central, but I'm told that Mr. McIntyre has the thing "fixed" already at Ottawa.—Dr. O'S——n.

We're the financial backbone of the party here, and should have a say in the matter of a site. The very idea of anybody else talking about being recouped!—R. A. M——w, and J. S——n.

I want to keep my hands clear of this post office business. We can't choose all the sites, and there'll be trouble. I'll stick the chief engineer for the blame, and sign petitions in favor of all the sites. My brother-in-law and I will fix the thing at Ottawa.—J. C——e, M.P.P.

All this wire pulling is useless, and my inspection too, for that matter; for I'll have to report as the Government direct.—Thos. F——r, Chief Engineer, Public Works.

If that confounded post office ring don't quit pestering the life out of me, I'll grind up the hull batch by the patent reduction process.—Geo. H——d, M. P.

Let us select a site by popular vote.—The people.

That map of the town that stopped short at Brock street was not a square deal.—The rest of the ring.

A meeting of the School Board to consider applications for the vacancies in the teaching staff of the schools, was held as we went to press.

Ballast trains are busy bringing in gravel for ballasting the portion of the track of the Missing Link—about a mile—laid west of the town.

Stewart street is closed at its western and precipitous termination at Hamilton's creek by the Missing Link railway fence. Thus a dangerous spot has been made safe.

A dog owned by Mr. John Kelly, superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, killed a ground hog (Arctomys Canadensis) the other day after a terrierific tussle.

The next meeting of the Eastern Dairymen's Association is to be held in Peterborough, provided (what should not be difficult to do) 100 new members can be obtained in the district.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

A SAD AND SHAMEFUL CASE

A Picture of Corporation Inhumanity Negligence and Parsimony.

Friday morning one George Rumerell, a blacksmith, aged about 68 years, died in the constable's office of the police court under circumstances that disgrace the civilization and humanity of a town of the size and wealth of Peterborough. On Thursday night the police were informed that Rumerell was lying dangerously ill in Mr. John Delaney's blacksmith shop, Murray street. They proceeded to the shop, and seeing the state of the man at once called Dr. O'Shea, who pronounced the unfortunate to be suffering from a dangerously severe attack of congestion of the lungs, and said that if he recovered he would require careful nursing. The policemen applied for admission of the patient to several hotels and private houses, but they were, naturally enough, invariably refused. The sick and suffering man, in default of any other resource, was removed to the constable's office. Here all that could be done for him was done. Constables Pigeon and Adams did their best. Benches were placed alongside and covered with their coats. On there the sick man was laid, and the two constables sat up all night with him and administered the medicine Dr. O'Shea had prescribed. In the morning, Dr. Kincaid, town physician, was called, and confirmed Dr. O'Shea's diagnosis, and left additional medicine, but, while one of the constables was absent getting an order from the Acting Mayor for a bed, the poor man breathed his last at about a quarter to twelve. The deceased, who was buried on Friday evening, says that his name was George Rumerell, and that he had a son, Charles, and a daughter, Ferdinanda, at Springport, Cayuga Co., N.Y. State. On Saturday morning, the Chief of Police, Johnston, received a letter from the Kingston Chief of Police, enquiring of Rumerell's whereabouts, The deceased has been about town for about two years, and though given to drink was a good workman. He was recently engaged in the erection of iron roof ladders, having put up some on St. John's and the George Street Methodist Churches, and one for Mr. Calcutt, who had given him on Tuesday a check for $24 in payment for his work, of which only $7 were found on his person at his death. The conditions under which a sick and suffering human being, with money in his purse but without a home, languished and died without the aid and care that Christian civilization demands, gives intense emphasis to the arguments for the establishment of a hospital connected with the Orphan's Home, or with a house of refuge or some similar institution. The matter is one urgently requiring prompt and intelligent attention, and therefore one may count on the Town Council ignoring it and postponing it with the most systematic dilatoriness.

PERSONAL.

Mr. George Walton returned home to Emerson on Monday morning last.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall, of Moose Jaw, N. W. T., has returned to town for a few days.

Sir. Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Co's, is expected in Canada next month.

J. R. Dundas, Esq., M.P., South Victoria, has returned from England, and was in town on Monday.

Mr. J. F. Dennistoun's many friends in town will be pleased to know that he is improving. His visit to the old country has been beneficial.

Mr. Wm. P. Hartney of Uxbridge, was in town on Tuesday, making arrangements for the Uxbridge and Stouffville picnic party, which will arrive here at noon on Friday next.

Rev. E. C. Wilson, late of the diocese of Wellington, New Zealand, has been appointed curate of Otonabee. He has arrived and taken up his residence on the corner of Stewart and Robinson streets, Ashburnham.

Rev. Mr. Annis, of Alliston, occupied the pulpit of the Charlotte Street Methodist Church, on Sunday evening last. The reverend gentleman is brother to Mrs. Rice, whose husband is in the Fuel Department of the Midland Railway.

Mr. H. Morrow, of this town, has passed his examination and has been certified by the headquarters board of examiners, and has been duly approved for admission as a cadet to the Royal Military College, Kingston.

The Winnipeg Siftings says that Mr. John Jenkins of Peterborough, Ont., but for some time past in the employ of N. Germain & Co., leaves on Saturday morning, to resume his old position with H.A. Collins, of Toronto. Jack will be greatly missed by his numerous friends in this city.

On Sunday morning Rev. Reginald Starr, on behalf of Trinity College, Toronto, preached a sermon in St. Luke's church. His discourse was full of interest regarding the work and wants of this fine educational adjuvant of the Church. In the evening he preached in St. Johns, on the same subject.

Rev. Canon Matheson, of St. John's Cathedral, Winnipeg, who is on a visit to Peterborough, occupied the pulpit of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, on Sunday night, preaching a plain, earnest and altogether excellent sermon. The musical services were very fine, Mr. M. Porteous rendering an anthem in very creditable style.

Mr. S. Ray, of Whitby, is one of the members and captain of the International Cricket Eleven that will visit the United States this season. Mr. C. J. Logan, of Lindsay, is another member of the team, and the wicked bowler, being always on the wicket. Mr. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, is also the third member of the team furnished by the Midland District. He will do the slow bowling as a "rest" for Logan's lightning.

TOWN COUNCIL.

A Dozen Hydrants Granted for George Street.

Petition for Hydrants on Aylmer Street—Privilege of Sabbath Sanctuary Granted to the Vagrant Cow—Bank of Toronto Buildings By-law—A Fuss over the Finances—Tall Talk—The Mayor's Authority Defied—Breaking up in Disorder—An Unseemly Scene.

Council met pursuant to adjournment on Monday evening, July 30th. Present—Acting Mayor Menzies in the chair, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Paterson, Sawers, Yelland, Douglass, Rutherford, Denne, McNaughton, Kelly and Hartley.

After routine,

COMMUNICATIONS

From E. B. Edwards, the town solicitor, in reference to the bylaw for hydrants, stating that he had prepared a bylaw which he enclosed, providing for the renting of hydrants for George street, in accordance with the petition, and fixing a special rate therefor. The rate should be struck by this by-law, not left to be fixed by a subsequent by-law. He had also under consideration the title to the bank of Toronto property, which he had been instructed to examine, but he had not yet been furnished by the vendors with all the evidences of title necessary. It would be necessary for the Council to pass a by-law authorizing the completion of the purchase, and the taking of an assignment of the lease, and declaring the purposes for which the property is to be held.—Received.

From A. P. Bradley, Secretary of Railway and Canals Department, in reference to the O. & Q. Railway bridge over the Otonabee River, and acknowledging communication from the Town Clerk.

From Thos. Geo. Hazlett, in reference to street improvements on Water street, and the injury likely to result to lots adjacent to grading works on said street.

On motion the Town Engineer was requested to strike the grade.

From Joseph Griffin, asking street improvements.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Wm. Yelland, in reference to siding on Bethune street, according to plan submitted, the matter of damage to be decided by arbitration.—Received.

From Walter Paterson and 19 others, asking the Council to secure one hydrant on each block on Aylmer street, between Brock and Charlotte streets.—Received, and referred to the Clerk to find out if the signatures were sufficient, and if so, to have a by-law prepared in accordance.

From Wm. Fitzgerald asking improvements on Dublin Street.—Street and Bridge Committee.

HYDRANTS.

The Clerk said in reference to the petition of Geo. A. Cox and others, for hydrants on George street, that it required for the distance designated 140 tenants to sign the petition, and 150 had signed it; it required 39 freeholders, and there had 49 signed it.

From J. H. Crevier, asking refund of taxes.—Court of Revision.

ACCOUNTS

were presented as follows:—

D. Sullivan, charity supplies to Mrs. Falconer	$ 2 00
Mrs. White, cleaning lockup	1 00
Fire Brigade, testing waterworks	10 00
Fire Brigade, filling tank	3 00
M. Millar, hardware	42 35
Geo. Allan, repairing revolver for Constable Pidgeon	1 00
E. Whitfield, driving Mr. Fuller and party to select Post Office site	4 00

In reference to the account of Mr. Sullivan, Mr. McNaughton explained that the goods were supplied to Mrs. Falconer, whose husband had since returned home and had repaid the amount of the account cheerfully.

Mr. Rutherford explained that the smallness of the account for filling tank was due to the kindness of the Water Works Company allowing the firemen to fill the Post Office tank from their hydrant. If the water were taken from any other source the account would have been $15.00.

CIVIC HOSPITALITY.

On the account of E. Whitfield, for driving Mr. Fuller, Mr. Denne said that the Mayor deserved credit for doing the junketting at so small a figure.

A member.—When does the champagne bill come in?

Acting Mayor Menzies.—There was no champagne, nor beer, nor even a glass of pop. (Applause.)

Payment was ordered of all the accounts, except that of Mr. Millar, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE OLD MUSIC HALL.

The matter of the custody of the upper story of the old market building was settled by a reference to the by-law which gave the charge of it to the Market Inspector, Mr. Beavis, and Mr. Doherty was requested to give up the keys to that functionary.

NO NEW WATER CARTS.

Mr. Rutherford, Chairman, reported, on behalf of the committee recommending in view of the lateness of the season, that no new water carts be procured this season.

On motion to adopt the report Mr. Rutherford said he was opposed to the adoption of the report because the present watering cart was in a dangerously leaky condition, and as other streets were asking for water, and were willing to pay a portion of the expense of the watering carts, it was necessary to have the water cart in readiness, and it should be done.

Mr. Rutherford, in reply to Mr. Sawers, said that one tender, that of Lockhart & Chowan, had been received.

The report was adopted, and the Clerk instructed to return to Messrs. Lockhart and Chowan their tender and accompanying plans.

GEORGE STREET HYDRANTS.

On the motion for the first reading of the by-law granting hydrants for George street, on the petition of Geo. A. Cox and others,

Mr. McNaughton enquired whether the by-law was prepared under the "by-law" or the act of Parliament. He meant to "stick to the by-law."

The by-law was put through its various stages, and was finally passed, signed and sealed.

The by-law provided that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee be authorized to contract with the Peterborough Water Works Company for renting 12 hydrants on George street and side streets to the the depth of one lot on each side, from London to Sherbrooke street, for fire and street watering purposes, at $50 for each hydrant per year.

That a sum not to exceed $600 per annum be levied on the property on the said street to the value of $542,750, by a rate of 1 1-10 mills on the dollar. That the amount thus raised be applied only to the purpose recited in the by-law.

The by-law was read the third time on motion of Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Hartley.

STREET METAL.

Mr. Rutherford asked the Street Inspector whether the stone being broken on London street was done by contract or by the day. If done the latter way the breaking would cost $10 per cord.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Mr. Denne inquired whose duty it was to impound cattle on Sunday?

The Chief of Police said he did not know; he considered it illegal to impound cows on Sunday, an opinion with which Mr. McNaughton agreed.

Mr. McNaughton "fired off" of interrogations in reference to the cow by-law, the builder's by-law, etc.

Mr. Paterson explained that the $50 extra appropriated in respect of the cow by-law, was intended to procure extra assistance for the constables, and he did not think that there was anything wrong in having cows impounded on Sunday. After remarks by several Councillors the matter dropped.

WEEDS ON STREETS.

On a motion to authorize the Street and Bridge Committee to see to the cutting of the weeds on the streets.

Mr. Cahill said that this would cost an immense sum—it would absorb the full amount of the appropriation for the streets.

Mr. McNaughton said that every man should be compelled to cut the weeds in front of his own premises.

The discussion was continued by others and,

Mr. Douglass moved, seconded by Mr. Sawers, that it be the duty of every property owner to cut the weeds on the street in front of his own premises.

BANK OF TORONTO BUILDINGS.

Moved by Mr. Sawers, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the town solicitor be instructed to prepare a by-law to complete and carry out the purchase of the Bank of Toronto buildings.

The motion was agreed to.

MR. YELLAND'S SIDING.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, that the Council is willing to give Mr. Yelland permission to put down a switch on Bethune street provided he settle with the parties affected, by arbitration or otherwise.

The motion was declared carried on the following division:—

YEAS.—Messrs. Cahill, Sawers, Yelland, Rutherford, Denne and Hartley.—6.

NAYS.—Messrs. McNaughton and Douglass.—2.

OFFICIALS' SURETIES.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the Council go into Committee of the Whole to examine the sureties of the several officers of the town.

On motion of Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Denne, Mr. Sawers' motion was left over as a notice of motion.

The amendment was carried and the original motion was lost on the following division:—

YEAS.—Cahill, Yelland, Rutherford, Denne and Hartley.—5.

NAYS.—Davidson, McNaughton and Sawers.—3.

WATERING GEORGE STREET.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that so soon as hydrants are contracted for, that George Street be watered before any other streets.

Remarks were made by Messrs. Cahill, Denne, Sawers and Yelland, pro and con, and Hartley, the latter claiming that George street should be done by contract and by local taxation, and the town team be otherwise employed.

Mr. Douglass contended that Mr. Cahill's motion might be just enough, but it was exceedingly selfish. He did not think that there should be a monopoly of street watering.

Mr. Kelly said the team was paid for by the whole town, but the water cart was paid for by a special rate paid by George street, and it was fair that George street should have the benefit of the street watering.

The motion was agreed to.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that as the communication of Messrs. Sawers and McNaughton brings to the notice of this Council that the funds of the town were not properly dealt with during 1882,—it is resolved that this Council do examine the auditor's report and accounts of the town treasurer for 1882, and that the Council, when it adjourns, adjourns till Thursday next at 10 a.m., and then go into Committee of the Whole and make such examination.

BREAKING UP IN DISORDER.

Mr. Sawers followed up his motion by a most violent speech, in which he flung broadcast the most dishonorable insinuations against various members of the Council, using language of so "unparliamentary" a nature, that if it had been uttered on the floor of a house of parliament, the member so far forgetting himself would have been liable to receiving the attention of the sergeant-at-arms. The motion was brought up at a late hour and the Council was disposed to adjourn, but Mr. Sawers, taking advantage of having the floor, talked against time. At length he subsided, and after other members had made a few remarks, a call was made for a vote on the motion, when Mr. Sawers, sprang to his feet, and insisted, contrary to rule of Council, on speaking. When called to order by the Mayor and directed to take his seat, he refused, and the Council, who had been very long-suffering, thinking that patience had reached its limit, rose from their seats in a body, and left Mr. Sawers addressing his remarks to vacancy, at 11.45 p.m.

Grumblers are never at a loss for a subject. Many who complained most loudly of the vagrant cow nuisance, now grumble because the grass is becoming so long in the streets. If such persons were fortunate enough to get to heaven they would find fault with the golden floor as being too much of a good thing.

Mr. Geo. Rubidge, tobacconist, exposes for sale in his shop window a beautifully colored meerschaum pipe one hundred and forty years old. It was made in 1740, and the modest price put upon it by Mr. T. M. D. Crowley, the owner, is $100. Doubtless, judged by the value of the tobacco it has burned, it is worth that figure.

PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 2, 1883.

Unwholesome Literature.

The present age is one of cheap literature. The masses of the people have access to books, especially on this continent, from which they were quite debarred but a very few years ago. This is the day of standard publications issuing from the press in one unceasing stream, which widens and expands year by year in a way that is simply marvellous. The stream flows on and on, and multitudes, increasing in numbers as education advances, come greedily to slake their thirst at the river of knowledge. Alas that the fount should ever be polluted!

While we admit the inestimable benefits which the printing press has conferred upon mankind, we must not neglect another aspect of the literature question. Knowledge of all kinds has been brought within reach of the people. But there is a sort of literature which, like medicine and its pharmacopœia, contains many poisons and injurious drugs. Much of the cheap printing done now-a-days had far better be left undone. Books and papers are scattered broadcast in cities and country districts, which are either positively immoral in their tendency, or are plausibly written by sceptics and scientists, with the view of undermining the Christian faith. Then, there is the dime novel and the blood and thunder tales of a whole host of serials, whose evil tendencies upon the youth of the present day has been proven by many a newspaper paragraph. Still another class of work exists which, though in themselves not positively dangerous, only do injury to the inexperienced and unwary. When carefully administered, their effect, like some strong potion, is wholesome and good; but, partaken of too freely and in blissful ignorance of their real nature, the results are most pernicious. How is it that, so far as medicine is concerned, the ignorant are protected by licensed experts, while no such censorship is exercised with regard to literature? We must all readily admit that a sound mind and a healthy spirit are, at least, of equal importance with the possession of a sound body. And it is also undoubtedly true that by instinct no one knows positively what is wholesome and what is pernicious. No man is the possessor of infallible instincts on which he can implicitly rely for direction. Yet as regards medicines for the body, everyone is protected from what we may term unlicensed ignorance, while food for the intellect, of all sorts, good and bad, wholesome and deleterious, is left untrammelled and unguarded. There seems to be positively no protection, except what the Government of the country gives, with regard to obscene and immoral literature. And even of this sort of evil stuff, with all the safeguards, there is not a little distributed in almost every large city. But there is much literature,—many books not necessarily in themselves immoral or disgusting—which have a free circulation and an extensive one. They have a weakening, a paralyzing, a faith-destroying tendency. They are found everywhere,—in our libraries, in our bookstores, at railway stalls, yes, even among the books intended for the education of the young. They are known to be dangerous books and are capable of doing incalculable injury.

Ought not the general public to be protected from such dangerous and unwholesome literature? Shall a censorship be placed on drugs and poisons, which we know are capable of destroying the body, while more deadly medicines, which can injure the mind and spirit of man, are left without any safeguard or protection? Of course the mass of men cry out for freedom, but every country must place restrictions on certain things, and if, in one respect this is readily yielded and agreed to for the general good, why not in another? Let us not be misunderstood. Strict censorship, we believe, is both foolish and impracticable. The press is now strong, too powerful by far to be muzzled. And we do not advocate any such thing. The days of an index expurgatorius, too, is past and gone, if indeed it ever accomplished its purpose, which we very much doubt. But, we believe, if it could be managed to restrict, not the books, but readers, a step in the right direction would be made. Let advanced students and specialists be permitted to use certain books, while the hoi polloi are prevented from doing so. In fact, what we advocate is, place the same restrictions on works of a certain class as is now done in respect of poisons and anodynes—let them be controlled and administered by experts only. Until that time arrives, if it ever comes, the only feasible plan to destroy the circulation of impure literature is to increase the sale and spread of good books, and to watch carefully the younger generation.

Editorial Notes.

The stock books of a new bank to be called the Bank of London, of Canada, have been closed, the whole of the million dollars having been subscribed.

Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway, has sailed for Canada. On his arrival he will make a tour of inspection of the whole Grand Trunk system.

Mr. Wilkinson, of "Big Push" fame, has been appointed Registrar of one of the new North-West Districts, at which the Ottawa Free Press exclaims: "What a nice aristocracy Sir John is creating in the territories, this appointment indicates."

It is a peculiar fact that out of all the Tory petitioners in the election cases so far examined, not one of them knew or would tell where the $1,000 came from that they had to put up with the petitions as security for costs. Wouldn't it be well to subpœna Sir John and H. H. Smith as witnesses on this point.

One feature which marks the policy of the United States is the determination to avoid, so far as possible, a national debt, and when one is incurred, to pay it off as soon as possible. The debt incurred during the civil war was large, but soon no part of it will be remaining. This policy is a most salutary one. People should, so far as possible, be left unburdened, so as to be able at all times to make the most of their opportunities.

The strong point of resemblance between Mrs. Langtry and the lyrical milkmaid is that her "face is her fortune." The Jersey Lily has netted two hundred thousand dollars by her American theatrical tour; whereas, if her beauty had not been so liberally advertised by the patronage of royalty, and she had had to depend solely on her histrionic abilities, she might have had to take in washing to make ends meet.

Sir. Alexander Campbell, one of Sir. John's colleagues, together with a few select friends, is off in the government parlour car for a trip to British Columbia. He affirms that his trip is to be one of pleasure and business combined. It will probably tax the patience and perseverance of some of the people's representatives to a considerable extent to find out just what the country will pay for Sir. Alexander's outing. Probably the expenses of the trip will be charged to "C. P. capital account," or "repairs to car Keewatin" as was the case with some similar accounts which were ferretted out last session.

"It is evident," says Mr. Phipps, in his report on the necessity of preserving and replanting forests, complied for and published by the Ontario Government, "that the time has passed when it was a matter of choice to attend to the forest preservation in Ontario. If we are to retain any, it is now an affair of immediate necessity. In time, if we wait longer, our forest will be gone, and cannot then be renewed excep at the vast expence of time and money required in planting. If we move energetically now, we can preserve our forests, the maintenance of which is most necessary to our prosperity, and shall also have time to plant where no other means exits.

Notes of the Day.

An exchange calls attention to the fact that Vennor predicted "intense electrical manifestations" for the 19th ult. "Did he," asks the Tiser, "refer to the strike of the telegraph operators?

A genteel method of suicide, while assuring the perpetrator a reputation for undaunted courage, is that just invented by Capt. Webb, the English swimmer. But no one is likely to emulate his example.

Last year the English Society for the Education of the Poor in the Principles of the Established Church, realized by the sale of books and school material the sum of £51,162, as against £46,231 in 1881.

The Globe says that the statement that the Mowat Government are "determined to issue additional liquor licenses and facilitate the sale and consumption of whiskey at Rat Portage" is a falsehood out of whole cloth.

A despatch from Rome says information has been received at the Vatican from New York to the effect that the Catholic clergy of the United States will follow the Pope's instructions in regard to Mr. Parnell and his followers.

At Nakskov, in the Danish island of Laaland, the gas company lights the streets gratuitously, as a return for the monopoly which enables it to supply nearly all the houses with gas for cooking, heating, and lighting. For heating purposes the price is 91 cents per thousand; but for lighting the company charges $1.20.

A Buffalo paper contemplates the time when "wherever there is a post office there will be a telegraph instrument, and the rates be so low that everybody may use it; when the telegraph will belong to the people, not to the monopolists." Such a time may be nearer at hand than some people imagine.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, of the Toronto Telegram, has provided a home for destitute children on the Island, opposite Toronto. It was a kindly act, and one that will redound to the newspaper man's honor. It is one of the glories of our time that many men who have means devote them during their lifetime to the good of the unfortunate. To give the children of the poor a blessed breathing space is in itself a great happiness, and Mr. Robertson deserves all the kind things that are said of him for having done so. And the Mail was the only city newspaper that had the jealous meanness and littleness to omit mentioning the fact in its news columns.

At the annual meeting of the Hudson Bay Company recently held in London, England, some interesting information was given in regard to the position and resources of the Company. Owing to the low prices that have ruled the market the business of fur-trading has been less remunerative than usual. The receipts from this source have fallen to such an extent as to lessen the dividend to the extent of $100,000. The land transactions yield the largest portion of the Company's revenue. The following is a brief resume of that part of the report which deals with this branch of operations:—

"The balance of the land account on the 28th of February last was £115,801, from which it was proposed to make a return of £1 a share, which would reduce the nominal value of their shares to £14. When the company was reorganized their nominal value was £20. The result of their land transactions from the beginning was that they had actually received cash instalments amounting to £356,000 and £36,000 in interest on unpaid instalments—together, £392,000. Charges of management, taxes, &c., have absorbed £73,000, and the return of capital made last year was £200,000, leaving a balance of £119,000. Nevertheless a very large amount of arrears on due instalments had occurred, though the prospect of a future large monthly reduction in this item is anticipated."

It is estimated that the landed possessions of the Company will reach 5,000,000 acres, from which immense wealth will yet be realized.

Some One Said.

"One should not know they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

SPECIAL MEETING.

The New Public School Headmaster—Drawing in Schools—Gage's Series of Readers.

The Peterborough Board of Education met in special session on Friday night. Present—the Chairman, Mr. Stevenson, in the chair, and Messrs. Denne, Stratton, Rutherford, Kendry Weir, Wrighton, Robinson, Cox and McClelland.

The Chairman stated that the meeting was a special one to consider the report of the committee on appointments, when, on motion of Mr. Stratton, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, it was decided to transact general business.

ACCOUNTS.

From Adam Hall, for coal oil, etc., and from school section No. 11, Township of Douro, $13.50, fees for the half year to town pupils (13) attending that school.—To be paid when certified to.

Mr. Stratton moved that Mr. Goggin, representing W. J. Gage & C., be allowed to place before the Board the two new series of books lately authorized by the Department. Mr. Goggin stated that the introduction was attempted at an early day so that the new series might gradually replace the old series before 1885, when one of the two new series will, of necessity have to be adopted. The series of Messrs. Gage were entirely Canadian, printed on a $5,000 press imported specially for the purpose on paper manufactured specially in the new paper mills at Cornwall. The cost of Gage's series was only $1.91, while that of Campbell & Sons was $2.25. The former series contained lessons on Canadian history, rendering a text book on that subject unnecessary. There were were also a series of Scripture readings, also household hints and plain scientific lessons. They had been adopted in 17 counties in Ontario, and in Manitoba and Quebec, and recommended by Superintendents of Education in Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Jamaica and the West Indies.

Mr, Stratton moved, seconded by Mr. McClelland, that the matter be left to the Chairman of the Board, the Inspector, the Principal of the public school, and the Committee on School Supervision to report.

Mr. Denne moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the consideration of the matter be left over till the next meeting of the Board.

The original motion was adopted.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. Stratton moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, that the Board grant Mr. G. B. Sproule immunity from the foteiture of his office as a member of the Board by reason of his absence from regular meetings on account of his absence from the country, and that leave of absence till the September meeting be given.

SCHOOL REPAIRS.

Mr. McClelland made enquiries as to what repairs in the Union School building.

Mr. Wrighton said that the repairs required had been efficiently made, and that there could no complaints now be made.

APPOINTMENT.

Mr. Dumble, from the Committee on Appointments reported that the Committee had advertised for a headmaster for the public schools in the Toronto papers, and had received twenty applications. Mr. H. Kay Coleman, of Port Hope, was recommened by the committee for appointment at a salary of $750 per year. The Committee also recommended that Miss Brodie's appointment be made permanent, and that Miss Cooper be employed as a teacher of drawing for not less than three half days each week.

On motion the report was adopted and the Board adjourned.

THE DOCTORS AND THE DIVIDED SKIRTS.

It is plain that the great "divided skirt" question will soon have to be referred to a committee of specialties, sitting with closed doors, says the Pall Mall Gazette. Without being prudish, it is impossible to feel that the combatants are going into physical details to an extent hardly compatible with journalistic discussion. What may be the verdict of the experts we do not pretend to say, but to judge from an article in the Lancet the "reformers are not likely to have the doctors on their side. "If woman," says the medical journal, "please to unsex themselves in dress as well as in habits of life and silly exploits of possible, but not prudent, intellectual and physical energy, they may be left to compass their discomfiture without more than an ordinary warning; but when they appeal to the cannons of health in support or defence of their vagaries, it is necessary to shew that the appeal is inadmissible." But while deprecating the "divided skirt," the Lancet is all for the disuse of corsets and the excessive weight of the clothing worn by women. On the latter point, at any rate, all persons of sense are pretty well agreed.

A ROTHSCHILDS WEDDING DRESS.

Our lady readers will be interested in the following description of Mlle. de Rothschilds' wedding dress. It was of white satin profusely plaited in front, and trimmed with a very deep fringe of orange blossoms. A long wreath of orange blossoms, beginning on the left shoulder, finished below the waist on the right side. The back of the skirt and train were covered with regular cascades of Venetian lace. A mantilla of the same lace depended from the small wreath of orange blossoms at the back of the head, and mingled with the lace at the back of the dress. An enormous veil of tulle illusion was thrown over the head, face, and entire dress of the bride, and lent grace to the whole. The six demoiselles d'honneur all belonging to the Rothschilds family, wore cream-colored dresses of satin merveilleux, trimmed with lace, and confined at the waist by large sashes, and broad-brimmed hats loaded with feathers. The bridegroom presented each of them with a large gold brooch representing a horseshoe (the nails of which were sapphires), and bearing the monogram of the bride in brilliants.

PETEBBOROUGH, AUG. 2, 1883.

Ontario and the Northwest.

We have received a copy of the "Official Guide Book to the Canadian Pacific Railway Lands," situated in Manitoba and the Northwest territory. The pamphlet is well printed and gotten up. It has a most glowing outside, and within are to be found equally glowing inducements to the searcher after land for settlement. But recent reports take the edge off the attractiveness of the North-West as a place of settlement. The boom that recently convulsed the country has apparently touched bottom, and the time has come when the North-West must compete on its merits with Ontario as a home for the agricultural adventurer. This Province has, by the immense exodus of its citizens to Manitoba and the North-West, lost a large proportion of its "bone and sinew," and the experience of the vast majority of those who have left the comparative affluence of established Ontario homes—positions slow, through land craze spectacles, but sure and abiding—for the uncertain advantages and certain discomforts of life in the North-West, are repenting pretty freely. The artificial prosperity that prevailed in the North-West is a thing of the past, and the reaction that follows inflation is beginning to be felt severely. Under these circumstances the vast majority of those Ontarians who sought the North-West as a place where they might make haste to be rich, realize that Ontario after all would have suited them better. We do not for one moment disparage the richness, fertility and limitless agricultural resources of our northern possessions, but it is a suicidal policy to puff the possessions of another province, and thereby supply inducements to our established citizens to leave Ontario and seek wealth elsewhere, a quest which, in the majority of cases, is disappointing, and, in very many, disastrous. To the landless laborers of the old world the North-West presents one of the best opportunities on earth to secure, in course of time landed possession, competence and comfort. But the farmer in Ontario who is comfortably situated will make a ruinous exchange if he extinguishes the fire on the established and happy hearthstone and sets out to the North-West on a mad race for sudden wealth. The land regulations compared with our own are vexatious, and for years at least there must be a sacrifice of all the comforts and advantages that the average Canadian farmer has in his life been accustomed to. But while conceding the fertility of our prairie possessions we must assert that there are thousands of acres of excellent land in Ontario available for settlement, which under our wise governmental regulations present splendid opportunities for settlement, and the means of communication have become so well developed that every portion of Ontario's lands that are available for settlement are within easy reach of a market. There are thousands of acres in this Province which, if not the best for farming operations present first class chances for stock raising. Let those who are in search of land for settlement "please call and examine Ontario's stock." Compare all advantages and disadvantages and we are sure that few will pass our doors to make their way to the illimitable wilderness of the North-West. When we are full of population then the prairie land presents the next best chance to the settler.

The Late Wm. Elder.

The death of Hon. Wm. Elder, provincial secretary of New Brunswick, creates a blank in the ranks of Liberal statesmen in the maritime provinces that will be filled with difficulty. He has been an active politician for only seven or eight years. Yet in his capacity as a journalist he has exercised a powerful influence on political affairs. Mr. Elder started the St. John Morning Journal, which was afterwards amalgamated with the Telegraph, which journal Mr. Elder has conducted the past twelve years. At the late provincial election Mr. Elder was re-elected for St. John, and at the time of the ministerial crisis the formation of a new ministry was entrusted to him. The late provincial secretary will be greatly missed, and his bitterest political opponents speak highly of his journalistic and personal qualifications.

Manitoba Ruled Out.

The Mail and other Tory journals of the baser sort are denying Ontario's right to the Disputed Territory and inferentially, at least, conceding the ownership to Manitoba. But the Tory Government at Ottawa are of a different opinion, and deny in a negative manner the possession of any right of Manitoba to the territory in question. A late number of the Canada Gazette contains a notice of the withdrawal from operation in Northwestern Ontario of "The Act for the Preservation of the Peace in the Vicinity of Public Works." The wording of this proclamation ignores and practically denies the existence of any right of Manitoba to even a portion of the territory. It is moreover a practical confession that in causing legislation to enact, ceding a portion of the Disputed Territory to Manitoba the Dominion acted ultra vires, and now desires to sneak as quietly as possible from an untenable position. The proclamation declares that the Public Works Act "shall be no longer in force within the limits of the town of Rat Portage, in the District of Keewatin, in our Dominion of Canada." Of course, Bleu pressure will not allow the Government to admit the right of Ontario, but there is no objection on the part of Quebecers to Manitoba owning the Territory, therefore, the Dominion Government's ignoring of the shadow of a right of Manitoba to the Territory in and around Rat Portage is significant, especially at the present time. Hon. Mr. Mowat, in the name of Ontario, has taken possession of the territory in dispute, and Manitoba still claims a right to it, in which it is backed by the Mail. But the refusal of the Ottawa Government to recognize Manitaba's claim makes the action of the Norquay Government, as extravagantly recounted in the Mail, a mere "game of bluff." The sensational talk indulged in by the Mail, of field batteries being wanted at Rat Portage, on account of the interference of the Ontario Government, are highly coloured yarns emanating from Winnipeg, a long distance from the scene of the alleged trouble, to which the reports direct from Rat Portage give the lie. The scheme of the Mail has doubtless for its object the stirring up of strife, and making Mr. Mowat's assertion of the rights of this Province unpopular.

The Prescott Election.

In depending upon the Election Courts to assist in the success of a series of conspiracies to break the force of public opinion as expressed in the return of Mr. Mowat to power, the Tories must begin to think they have been trusting to a broken reed. They have so far not only failed to score a single success, but, in one or two cases, have been visited with crushing and humiliating defeat. In the Halton and South Victoria cases their defeat was square and complete, and a similar fate has overtaken them in the Prescott case, where the seat of Mr. Hagar was attacked. The petition has been dismissed, the petitioner to pay the costs except those arising from a single case, where an indiscreet agent of Mr. Hagar's was adjudged guilty of treating within the meaning of the Act. When such a constituency as this—strongly Conservative—returns a Reformer—where the probable closeness of the contest would furnish a most powerful temptation to bribing, comes through—at least the Reform portion of it—the ordeal of an election trial with clear skirts, there is little hope that other ridings will give a more comfortable rendering in the interests of the political desperadoes of the Tory party. While the election trials have failed so far to unseat a single Reformer, they have also failed to give us any information as to the source of the guarantee fund of $1,000 required to accompany each petition. If it had been contributed by local politicians there would have been no reason to conceal its source; but it would never do to admit that it came from the Dominion Government corruption fund at Ottawa.

The Ottawa Government are apparently not satisfied with giving the Pacific railway Syndicate half of the North-West, but a member of the Governmeet must desert his duties (retaining the salary portion, however) and become High Commissioner for the sake of drumming up navvies for the building of the line. The Government has notified Sir Charles that one thousand workmen are wanted on the Pacific Railway. Of course if the Government gives "assisted passages" to immigrants to the United States, they can't do less than do the same for their pets, the Pacific Syndicate.

Editorial Notes.

The Review's silence for two weeks is an admission on its part that the appointment of Mr. Chapleau by the Dominion Government to the position of Sheriff of one of the North-West Territories, is a disgraceful breach of trust. Our contemporary knows this, but it is not honest enough to acknowledge it. It is all right for Sir John to do that which would be all wrong for Mr. Mowat to do.

We are informed that the Ontario Government are taking practical steps for the more thorough enforcement of the Crooks Act, and that our License Inspector has been requested to see to it that any parties found selling liquor on Saturday night and Sunday shall be prosecuted without fear or favour. Mr. Leary, the License Inspector, will be glad to receive reliable information from any respectable parties, and the names of the informants will, in all cases, be kept in confidence.

The Review as an Ontario journal could not very well avoid denouncing with warmth the absurdly disloyal and traitorous position assumed by the Mail on the matter of the ownership of the alleged disputed territory. The Mail asserts that Ontario does not own the the territory now in possession of this Province, and the Review takes it to task for a statement so outrageously inconsistent with fact. Our down street contemporary is right in asserting that Ontario owns the territory, since it was was awarded her by the unanimous decison of a legally constituted board of arbitrators. Hence it appears slightly inconsistent for the Review to assert the ownership of the territory and still republish the cock and bull stories of the Mail as to alleged disturbances in our territory, with a palpable sympathy with the lawlessness that is originating these disturbances.

Tory wire-pullers are always alive to the interests of their party—that's the only loyal and commendable quality they possess. One favorite plan for securing undue advantages at election times is to tamper with the voters lists. But the Liberal Conservative Association of Bowmanville has been snubbed. Thinking to steal a march on the Liberals, they were checkmated by the weakness of their case in the municipal Court of Revision. Not satisfied with one rebuff, they courted another by appealing some of the voters' list cases to the County Judge, and then sought in a clandestine and improper manner to induce the latter to hold the enquiry to suit their own convenience. Judge Clarke very properly rebuked the applicants in open Court, and as none of them appeared in suport of their appeals, the latter were summarily dismissed with costs. There is nothing surprising in the attempt of the Bowmanville Conservative Association to "capture" Judge Clark by a private note, when the chief organ of the party is engaged almost daily in the presumptuous task of trying to influence the Election Court Judges by its grossly indecent comments on trials in progress before them.

GEORGE READ,
31-1t, Clerk of Municipality.

Dissolution of Partnership.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Take notice, that the Partnership hitherto existing between the undersigned, trading together as Staple and Fancy Dry Goods Merchants, at the Town of Peterborough, under the Name, Style and Firm of MUNRO & ALEXANDER, will be determimed by mutual consent on the 31st day of August, 1883.

From and after that date the business will be carried on by the undersigned, JAMES ALEXANDER, in his own name, who will liquidate all liabilities and to whom all outstanding Accounts are to be paid.

THOS. MUNRO,
JAS. ALEXANDER.

Dated 31st July, 1883.

In reference to the above, while thanking our numerous customers for their liberal patronage during the last five years, I beg to bespeak for Mr. Alexander a continuance of that patronage, feeling assured that the same courtesy and attention will be extended to them in the future as in the past.

THOS. MUNRO.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A REEVE ELECTED.

At a meeting of the ratepayers, held Wednesday of last week, for the election of Reeve, Mr. Thomas Fraser was unanimously chosen. There was really no interest whatever taken in the event, as there were only five, as far as we have been informed, of the "free and independent" present. Municipal politics do not trouble the people of this locality to any extent.

A COUNCILLOR WANTED.

As there is a vacancy in the Council board in consequent upon the resignation of Mr. Fraser, an election was held yesterday to supply his place. There seems to be a great scarcity of candidates for the office as for that of the Reeve, as the post of a councillor is creating very little interest here.

SUBSIDING.

It is very gratifying to notice that the little social episode of a few days ago is rapidly leaving public mind here, and very little is now heard of that unfortunate affair. At any rate the sooner it is forgotten the better, as the occurrence did not reflect the least credit on any of the parties concerned.

MORE NAVVIES.

A strong force of Italian navvies have been engaged by Mr. Macdonnell to push on the work of his section of the Ontario and Quebec Railway. They are very quiet and orderly, and some of our young and old citizens could profitably take a lesson from them in their conduct and general demeanor. The eastern part of Mr. Macdonnell's section from Norwood is now ready for the ties and rails.

FATAL OCCURRENCE.

We regret to announce the sudden death of Mr. Richard Heally, which took place on Saturday evening last, at his residence in East Asphodel. The deceased had been in Norwood on the previous Tuesday evening in his accustomed health and strength. On going home that evening he unfortunately fell out of his wagon, and was slightly injured internally. On reaching home, the cooling being warm and close, he drank freely of cold water which brought on inflammation of the bowels, from which he suffered for several days. Later on cholera set in, and though the best medical assistance was given to him he expired after an illness of about four days. Mr. Healy was an honest and industrious farmer, had resided in Asphodel for a number of years, and was highly respected in the village and community. His funeral took place on Tuesday last, and was attended by a large number of friends and relations.

NOTES.

Mr. Chas. Scaright is putting a very essential and attractive front to his furniture warerooms.

The Methodist parsonage is receiving the necessary repairs preparatory to its occupancy by the coming resident pastor, Rev. Mr. Gee, who is expected to arrive here on Friday next.

The Peterborough and Norwood Lacrosse Clubs crossed sticks on Tuesday last.

For Black Henrietta Cloths, with silk warp, very desirable goods, go to Turnbull's.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

NAVIGATION.

A petition to the Minister of Railways regarding the obstructing of navigation from this village to the back lakes by the lumbermen, has been circulated and signed by all our leading citizens. The uncertainty of navigation, on account of logs in the river, has proved not only a great loss to the owners of boats, but a great annoyance to the public. There is an abundance of water for the lumbermen, and also for the boats. It is to be hoped the Government will give their attention to the matter that the interests of all concerned may be protected. Our back lakes are assuming more importance and becoming better known every year.

STONY LAKE MEET.

Extensive preparations are being made on Gin Island for the American Canoe Association, which holds its annual gathering there this year, and which will attract many pleasure seekers to spend a few days in as delightful a spot as there is to be found in our Dominion.

HARVEST.

The wheat harvest, which has just commenced, promises to be more than an average crop this year, and it speaks well for the enterprise of our farmers in this vicinity that seven or eight self-binders will be at work in this neighborhood during the present harvest.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. J. Wallace left on Monday for a trip by way of Thunder Bay to Manitoba. He hopes to improve his health and also to see after some real estate he has there.

GARDEN PARTY.

A garden party and concert will be held in Mr. R. B. Strickland's beautiful grounds on Saturday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the English Church fund. As there are different attractions no doubt many will be there.

Press Excursion.

The Press Association of the Province of Ontario will hold its 25th annual meeting at the Windsor Hotel in Montreal on the 7th of August After the close of the business meeting, at 2 p.m., Montreal journalists will take their confreres for a drive through the city. At 7 p.m. they will leave for Quebec by boat, arriving at 7 a.m. on Wednesday, when they will meet the members of the Associated Press of Quebec and transfer to the Saguenay boat for three days' trip on the St. Lawrence and Saguenay rivers, calling at the principal resorts. The party will return to Quebec on Saturday and will remain till the following night. On the return to Montreal another day will be passed in that city, during which a drive and steamboat excursion have been arranged for.

A NORWOOD SENSATION.

A VILLAGE VENDETTA,

Ventilated in the Peterborough Police Court—A Teacher Pummeled for Writing a Epistle too Strongly Spiced—A Midnight "Mill"—Big Excitement, Big Crowd, Big Trial and Big Costs.

On Friday morning the village of Norwood contributed a generous portion of its population to figure as accuser, accused and witnesses in an assault and battery case in the Peterborough Police court before D. W. Dumble, Police Magistrate. As to the origin of the litigation, it is a little singular that, as has been remarked once or twice before, there was a woman at the bottom of it as will be seen further on, but the interest of the case was weakened by the unknown damsel not figuring in it. Matthew McKay, now headmaster of the Renfrew Model School, and at one time headmaster of the Norwood High School, charged Fred Brennan, Oscar Brennan, Joseph Pearce, W. H. Mullins and Parker Stevenson with committing an aggravated assault on him in Norwood on Saturday night last about twelve o'clock.

Messrs. R. E. Wood and J. O'Meara appeared for the complainant, and the accused were jointly defended by Messrs. John Burnham, M.P., and E. B. Edwards. The hearing of the case began at nine o'clock and continued with only a brief intermission till seven o'clock in the evening. As the facts are fully detailed in the subjoined report of the evidence, comment is unnecessary.

The first witness called was the complainant,

Matthew McKay.—On Saturday night last, between eleven and twelve o'clock, I was coming out of the barbershop adjoining Brennan's hotel. As I got a few feet from the door Fred Brennan came up to me and said something about a letter that I had sent to his mother, and demanded that I take back the contents. He said that I had called his mother a liar. He came on me suddenly, and I, seeing his friends with him, thought I was going to be mobbed. I offered to make some explanation. At this time his brother Oscar was yelling, "kick the d——d coward; make him take it back." After some words Fred Brennan slapped at my face twice with his open hand. I said I didn't wish to be mobbed, and that if he would wait till I got a second I would fight him on Monday night. Brennan slapped at me again with his open hand and said I must take it back just now. I repeated that I didn't want to be mobbed and that if he would wait two minutes till I got a second, I would fight him on the spot. I asked to see "the letter," and Brennan seized me with violence and drew me up to the window of the barbershop and pointed to that portion of the letter (written by me to his mother) where the word "liar" occurred. Either he or his brother Oscar said, "Take it back or we'll murder you on the spot." I replied that I would take back nothing. Frederick Brennan then struck at me with his right hand, and I dodged the blow, which, however, took some effect over my left ear. I struck him with a light cane over the head as hard as I could. As I struck the blow his brother Oscar made for me, and as I wheeled after striking with the cane, I received a blow which I believe was struck by Oscar. Am almost positive it was he. I then ran across the street and tripping, I fell partially. Frederick Brennan was after me, and as I fell he passed over me. I got up quickly and struck at Brennan, and we then closed, and a number of his friends crowded around me, among whom was Parker Stevenson. Still scuffling we moved towards Mr. Roxburgh's house. I seized Fred Brennan and had him almost down, when Bristow Moffatt interfered, and through his efforts Brennan rose to his feet again. Parker Stevenson then held my right arm, and somebody had my left arm secured. Fredrick Brennan worked behind by back. Somebody then held me fast behind by the collar of the coat. F. Brennan choked me with both hands. I gasped out to one Gilbert that they were choking me. Gilbert loosed Brennan's hand from my throat, and I heard the voice of Thomas Houston. I said: "Tom you'll not see them kill a fellow." He held Fred Brennan's arm. I saw W. H. Mullins with a cudgel in his hand, and I saw Mr. Gould, who separated me from the grasp of Brennan and others. I then made for home with all the rapidity possible.

Mr. Wood.—What part did Mr. Pearce take?

Mr. Burnham objected to the question.

Witness continued,—I heard Mr. Pearce telling the crowd to stand back, I think I heard from him use the words "kill him," but won't swear to it. I was surrounded through the whole squabble by my enemies, and Pearce tried to keep back those of the crowd friendly to me. I heard him tell Mr. Howson to stand back or he would strike him.

Mr. Edwards contended that this evidence should not be taken down.

Cross examined by Mr. Burnham,—My occupation is teacher, am a graduate of a university, and hold the degree of B.A. Have been headmaster for the last five months of the model school in the village of Renfrew, was also headmaster at the Norwood high school two and a half years. Am a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston. I lived in Norwood two and a half years. I boarded with John Vosburgh, at Brennan's hotel and at other places. Know all the Brennan family well. Fred Brennan asked me to retract a certain word in the letter. (letter produced.)

On Mr. Burnham beginning to read the letter, Mr. Wood objected to its being read.

The Magistrate ruled out the objection and the letter was read as follows:

(COPY.)

Norwood, 30th, 1883.

MRS. BRENNAN.—Please excuse me, I have letters of many of your sons in reference to my [illegible] in this town. During my last visit I knew that you had been lying as to your motives, but knowing that you are a family of liars I did not pay any attention to you. Do you remember of a certain young lady going to and from Hastings with you? You said she cried all the time. Do you remember telling of her conversation and crying scene in your own house?

Do you remember your attempts when I first went to your house to step me going with said young lady? You miserable old arch hypocrite. All that I am sorry for is that my name is dishonorably associated with yours. I sat up too many nights with you for my own good, but I hope to live it down. You and that starchy little skunk, and your cheese toy are well matched for lying. But steam ahead. You might find better employment in killing off—say bed bugs, for example.

McKAY.

Had been on fair terms with the family previously. Had not expressed any such terms as in the letter, previously.

Another letter written previously was submitted. Mr. Wood objected and objection sustained.

Witness continuing—I offered to make some explanation to Fred. Brennan regarding the letter. During the time of the altercation the others, besides Fred. Brennan, were a short distance from us. Oscar Brennan came down off the hotel stoop, and Parker Stevenson was not far away. I thought all the crowd about was hostile to me, including Joseph Pearce, though I won't swear that Mr. Pearce was there at that time. Fred. Brennan slapped at me twice. I spoke to some man named Billy Richardson not to see me killed, before Brennan hauled me up to the window. Couldn't ask any other person to second me. Was willing to fight him on the spot if I had got a second. Brennan caught me by the right arm with violence, and pulled me up to the window to show the letter to me, and pointed out where the word "liar" occurred. He asked me to take back the word, and I said I would take back nothing. He then struck me below the ear, and I struck him over the head with the most dangerous part of a bamboo cane. I struck with all the force I could. Then I was struck on the back of the head. While we were at the window Oscar Brennan was very close. Don't know who struck me on the back of the head. Fred. Brennan didn't strike the blow. I ran across the street to free myself from the mob, and Fred. Brennan falling over me we came into close contact. We came together mutually. There was no ring formed. Parker Stevenson seized my right arm. I saw Parker Stevenson and W. H. Mullins (in front of me). I saw Mr. Pearce once on the stoop during the "combat," and once afterwards. Am positive that Parker Stevenson held me by the right arm. Fred. Brennan was choking me. I was badly beaten on the back of the head and severely kicked on the left leg. The whole affair didn't last ten minutes. After the affair was over I went home. I went in the house the back way and found several friends at the front gate. I took a large stick with me. I had to lie down about half an hour on the way home. I felt shaken up by the squabble. I did not go into the house, but I found my friends at the gate and stood talking, and we took a little walk down as far as Bristow Moffat's. Afterwards we went up street as far as Mr. Reynold's store, and then returned. At Moffat's we saw Joseph Pearce and Mr. Moffat. I said to Mr. Pearce, "Boys, here is this coward that led the assassin mob to kill me tonight." I challenged Mr. Pearce to fight, and Mr. Moffatt interfered. Mr. Pearce sat and trembled, without saying a word. Then we returned, passing Brennan's hotel. After passing I saw an object dressed in white; it proved to be Oscar Brennan. The crowd with me gave a cheer for McKay near Brennan's. The crowd sang "John Brown's body." Didn't hear a note of the "Protestant Boys" whistled. Oscar Brennan spoke and said I was a coward and couldn't fight one side of him. I might have said that if Oscar would come down I would thrash him. I was used up badly, but on Sunday went to church to show I was not marked. I said on Saturday night, when my blood was up, that I wasn't hurt. Did not consult a doctor.

To Mr. Edwards—I did not tell Parker Stevenson on Sunday that I was not hurt. Since I was assaulted I have not eaten one meal a day.

Re-examined by Mr. Wood—I got three very severe blows on the head, one over the left ear, one on the back of the head, and one a little below and back of the right ear. I felt the effects of these blows, and feel them yet. They have induced fainting spells, which compel me to lie down till they pass off. I have had no appetite since; was previously in the best of health. Have been so disorganized by the squabble that it will be some time before I regain my health.

To Mr. Burnham—I trace the bad symptoms I now feel to the wounds I received. Don't judge so from medical knowledge, but by my common sense.

Wm. Richardson sworn—I came on the scene as Fred. Brennan asked him to "take it back." McKay refused. Brennan asked him to take back just one line. He refused again, and said he would never take back the truth. Brennan then slapped him in the face. McKay said if he would let him get seconds he would fight on Monday night. Brennan said it must be taken back at once. McKay then offered to fight him on the spot. Brennan then struck at McKay, and McKay struck him with the cane, a bamboo one. He struck him on the head. Then Oscar ran in and struck McKay. I then interfered and kept Oscar back. In the meanwhile McKay got across the street, and when I reached the spot Fred. and McKay were at it again. I told Oscar Brennan to stand back, and he said I had too much to say, and to stand back or he would punch me. Then John Beckett interferred. I saw Mullins on the scene next with a stick in his hand. I heard him say that McKay ought to be killed. I heard Mr. Pearce tell Thos. Howson, who was trying to part McKay and Brennan, to stand back or he would strike him. The last I saw was McKay running away. The defendants talked about the matter. Mr. Pearce said that whenever he met McKay he would pound him. I saw Brennan strike at McKay.

To Mr. Edwards—Did not hear McKay ask anybody to be his second. I did not offer to be McKay's second. Did not see Mr. Mullins at the beginning of the row. Don't remember seeing McKay put his hand to his pistol pocket. Beckett was a peace-maker. I was in the crowd that was with McKay after the fight.

T. J. Howson—I arrived on the scene when it was near Mr. Roxburgh's. The noise called me out. I made my way to the centre of the crowd, and Fred. Brennan had McKay by the throat with his left hand, and struck him on the head with his right. McKay was being held by some one else. I seized Brennan's arm to restrain him, and Mr. Pearce threatened to strike me unless I desisted. Oscar then came to me and said something about taking something back. I told he didn't have to make anything back, and that it was a queer way to use a man. Mr. Pearce was excited and shouting. He told me that if I did not keep back he would strike me. McKay was choked till his tongue was out, and some hand was thrust in to loosen Brennan's left hand from McKay's throat, after which I held the left hand. I heard Mullins denounce McKay. Stevenson said that if Fred. Brennan hadn't thrashed McKay he (Stevenson) would have done it.

To Mr. Edwards—I heard McKay say that he would fight Brennan. I didn't think McKay was getting fair play. What Stevenson said was just after McKay got free.

Geo. Back.—Came on the scene the same time as Mr. Howson. Saw Oscar Brennan and Mullins, the latter with a stick. This witness corroborated Howson's testimony as to his part in the fray. They were both running around and shouting, "take it back." Pearce and others told Howson to stand back. I told Mr. Pearce to arrest the crowd. He said he had no power, as he was not now a magistrate. He said if he was a magistrate he would not interfere, as McKay should be killed (or words to that effect) as he was a liar and a villain.

To Mr. Edwards—Howson had hold of Fred. Brennan's arms when Pearce spoke to him. Mr. Pearce and I spoke in the outskirts of the crowd.

A. B. Gould, sworn—I saw the last of the row. McKay was held by several hands. I do not know who was choking him. Howson, Beckett, Moffat and Mullins were close by. There was choking going on. I did not tell anybody that Mullins had a stick. There was choking and yelling.

Bristow Moffat—I saw Fred. Brennan taking McKay to a window to take back something. Fred. Brennan struck McKay, who returned the blow. McKay ran and fell. Mullins came up with a stick and lifted it, after McKay asked me for protection. I told Mullins not to strike. He could not have struck McKay where he stood. Mullins said the villain (McKay) ought to be killed.

To Mr. Edwards—I saw Fred. Brennan strike McKay a pretty heavy blow on the head.

John Beckett,—I saw the row in front of Brennan's. There was talk about a letter between Fred Brennan and McKay. Oscar Brennan was calling out to kick him. Heard Stevenson cry out to kick the villain. I asked Pearce to stop the fight but he refused, and I said if he would not I would.

This concluded the evidence of the complainant.

Messrs. Burnham and Edwards held that if any case, only that of common assault had been made out, and that there was no evidence whatever against Pearce, Stevenson, Mullins and Oscar Brennan.

Mr. Wood spoke briefly for the prosecution.

His Worship ruled that there was no evidence to prove aggravated assault, and evidence for the defence was admitted.

FOR THE DEFENCE.

John McKelvie.—Saw the best part of the row—from the time when F. Brennan was taking McKay up to the window. McKay asked me to show fair play, and I made no answer. McKay said he would fight if he had a second. Saw Brennan strike him, or at least strike at him, and McKay strike Brennan with a stick. Saw Fred Brennan and McKay "clinched." Oscar Brennan could hardly have hit McKay without my seeing him—that is in front of my barber shop.

John Simons—Saw the beginning of the row. Heard Brennan asking McKay to retract something. There were perhaps half a dozen present. Didn't see Oscar Brennan strike McKay. Saw Stevenson and Mullins at the beginning of the row besides the Brennans.

O. W. Moore,—Heard Oscar Brennan say that McKay ought to be thrashed for writing such a letter. McKay replied, "You aren't man enough to do it and you know it." Saw Fred Brennan slap at McKay, with his open hand, the letter in it, and McKay almost at the same moment struck Brennan. The stick was light but the head was white metal. Fred Brennan and Oscar were the only ones of the defendants present. Saw Beckett try to stop the row.

W. Morrow,—First saw the row in the middle of the street. Brennan and McKay were in "holts." Brennan asked McKay to take it back. Brennan struck him on the back of the head with his fist. Moffat then caught McKay by the arm and McKay and Brennan were pulling and hauling. McKay and Brennan then separated. Didn't notice any of the defendants there at this time in the middle of the street.

To Mr. Wood.—I would see fair play. I pulled Moffat from McKay to see fair play.

Andrew Sloan,—I saw the affray towards its end. I saw Brennan and McKay in "holts." Saw Brennan have McKay by the neck and strike him with the other hand. At that time I did not see the other defendants. I tried to separate Brennan and McKay.

John Breakenridge, J.P.,—I heard a noise at Brennan's hotel and thought it was navvies, when I went up street as the crowd was on the sidewalk. I saw Mullins closing up his shop, and he asked me what the row was. He went towards the crowd and must have reached it as it separated.

W. H. Mullins, one of the defendants,—I was in the shop at the time of the row. After meeting 'Squire Breakenridge I went towards the row, which was on the side of the street opposite the barber shop. Went to the crowd and met Moffat, who asked me not to strike. I had not the least idea of striking. After I found out it was McKay and Brennan I pulled two or three people back. Saw a cut on Brennan's head after the row. I saw Brennan strike McKay. Dont think I said "The villan ought to be killed." After the row was over I made some remarks.

Parker W. Stevenson, one of the defendants,—I did not say that if Brennan had not thrashed McKay he would have got it anyway, while the row was going on.

J. B. Pearce, one of the defendants, sworn,—Did not lay a hand on McKay, nor strike him. Did not use any of the expressions attributed me by several witnesses. I used violence to nobody.

Oscar Brennan, one of the defendants—I told my brother to kick McKay and make him take it back. The witnesses that swore that I struck McKay were mistaken.

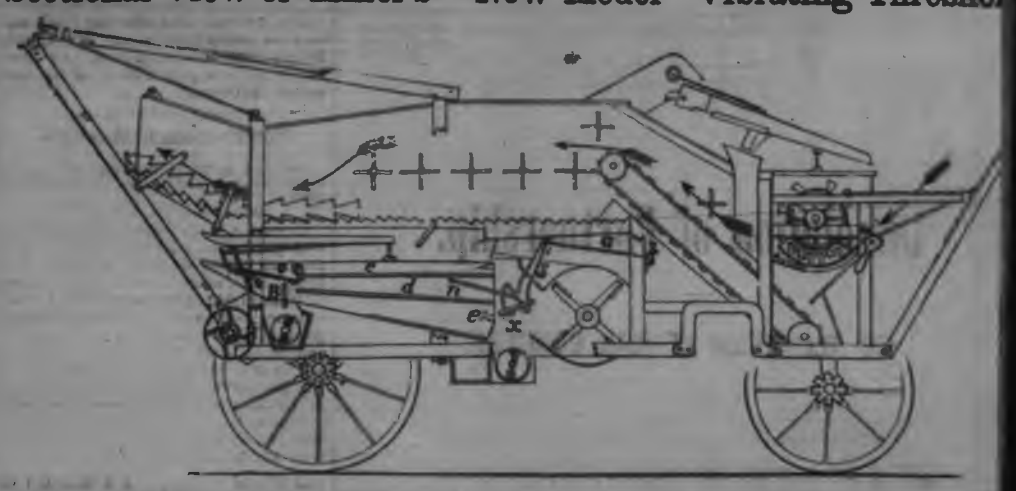
SYMPATHIZED BUT DIDN'T STRIKE.

The magistrate held that there was not sufficient evidence to convict Mr. Mullins and Mr. Pearce with the assault, and the charges against them were dismissed, though they warmly sympathized with the assailants.

FOUND GUILTY AND FINED.

The counsel for the prosecution and defence then made their arguments, and Mr. Dumble followed with a careful summing up of the evidence. He decided the case by fining Fred Brennan $10 and costs, and Oscar Brennan and Parker Stevenson $5 each with costs, which will perhaps amount to $75.

Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ON

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1883.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever seen or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1883.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last season. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who want me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH RITER.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervousness, Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price in a sealed envelope, only two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

CONFIDENCE MEN AGAIN.

LEGALITY OF MASONRY.

The legality of the Grand Lodge of Quebec Masonry is to be tested in Montreal courts by an action for libel, brought by Mr. Wm. Ross, W.M., of St. George's Lodge, No. 440, English register, against Mr. J. H. Isaacson, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, for publishing that Mr. King has been suspended by King Solomon Lodge for non-payment of dues.

A CHILD ROASTED ALIVE.

A 4 year old son of John Casey, of Providence, Rhode Island, while playing with matches in the attic, set fire to his clothing. His screams brought his mother, who, rushing upstairs, was horrified to see her boy roasting alive. In attempting to extinguish the flames she was shockingly burned about the arms and neck. The child was actually roasted from head to feet, and presented a sickening sight. It lingered twelve hours and then died.

CAPTAIN WEBB'S BODY RECOVERED.

The body of Captain Webb who was drowned in an insane attempt to swim the whirlpool rapids at Niagara Falls, was found on Saturday floating in the river near Lewiston. An inquest was held, at which a cut was discovered in the head sufficiently to have caused death, and which he probably received before entering the whirlpool from some of the rocks, which project above the surface of the water.

MAY MARRIAGES.

—May is considered an unlucky month for marriages in the United Kingdom. Referring to the falling off in the number of marriages in May as compared with other months, the British Registrar-General quotes a line of Ovid which recalls this superstition, and mentions that it was found written upon the gate of Holyrood on the morning after the marriage in May of Mary Stuart with Bothwell—a circumstance to which the dislike of the Scotch to May marriages may possibly be traced.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

A report on St. Paul's Cathedral, just issued in London, shows that its annual revenue is £25,000. Of this sum £2,000 is paid to the Dean, £1,000 each to three residentiary canons, and another £1,000, forming the income of a fourth canonry, is divided between the archdeacons of London and Middlesex. The minor canons receive in the aggregate from this revenue £2,600, the choir £960, the organist £900 and the vergers and other officers nearly £1,000. The maintenance of worship in the cathedral, independent of these stipends, costs £2,200.

AN OLD ORANGE MEDAL.

The Huron News-Record lately had the pleasure of examining a medal presented by L.O.L. 137 of Toronto, to John Armstrong, first grand treasurer of the Orange society of Canada, and father of Mr. Armstrong, of her Majesty's customs at Clinton. The medal is of elegant design and superior workmanship and bears the following inscription: "Toronto: Presented by the members of the loyal Orange lodge No. 137 to Alderman John Armstrong, the worshipful master, in testimony of their deep sense of his exemplary character, both official and private, and of his exertions as the uncompromising friend of our loyal association—July 12, 1840."

A Great Discovery.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. Truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in Side and Chest, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, a positive cure. Guaranteed. Trial Bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's Drug Store. Large size $1.00.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Rev. Professor Scrimger, of Montreal Presbyterian College, will preach in St. Paul's Church next Sabbath, morning and evening.

Civic Holiday.

A petition having been largely signed, asking Acting Mayor Menzies to appoint Wednesday, Aug. 15th, a civic holiday, a proclamation has been issued granting the request.

Sunday School Excursion.

There was a good attendance at St. John's Sunday School excursion to Hastings on Tuesday. The large number, not deterred by the rainy weather of the morning, passed a most enjoyable day.

The Brigade Band.

The generosity of the band is beyond all precedent, as well as praise. Beginning with last Monday night the boys will delight the public with an open air concert every night for a fortnight. This kindness should be recognized by the public when the band, at their promenade concert, make a demand upon the liberality of the public.

A Garden Party and Concert will take place on Mr. R. C. Strickland's grounds, Lakefield, on Saturday, August 4th, for the benefit of St. John's church parsonage fund. The grounds will be open from 4 to 10 p.m. Lawn tennis tournament from 4 to 7 p.m. Concert to begin at 7 o'clock, in which Miss Evelina De Beaumont, the celebrated artiste, has kindly consented to assist. Peterborough Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

A Baby Abroad.

A heartless act of child desertion was committed in the southern part of the town, recently. A basket containing a healthy infant was left on the door-step of Mrs. O'Brien on Wednesday evening of last week. Along with the child was a photographic portrait of a well-known girl, probably so placed to divert suspicion from the guilty and heartless mother. Mrs. O'Brien has made application to the town fathers to become foster fathers to the unfortunate foundling. In the meantime the matte has been referred to the Charity Committee, whose report, along with the child, the Council will no doubt be forced to adopt.

A New Company.

Letters patent have been issued bearing date the 24th of July, 1883, incorporating William Hamilton, manufacturer, George Albertus Cox, President of the Midland Railway of Canada, George Munro, machinist, Andrew Macfarlane, machinist, and Richard Hall, civil and mechanical engineer, all of the town of Peterborough, in the Province of Ontario, in the Dominion of Canada, for the purpose of purchasing and acquiring from William Hamilton the foundry business carried on by him at the town of Peterborough, in the county of Peterborough, and Province of Ontario, together with all land, buildings, machinery, plant and materials of all kinds used in connection with said business, and the manufacturing by the said company of mill machinery, engines, and boilers, and the carrying on by the said company of the said foundry business in all its branches, etc., under the name of "The William Hamilton Manufacturing Company (limited)," with a total capital stock of two hundred thousand dollars, divided into two thousand shares of one hundred dollars.

Hall's Health Preserving Corsets, so highly recommended by Physicians, to be found at Turnbull's.

Local Lacrosse.

A well fought match game was played in Ashburnham on Friday last between two juvenile clubs, the Crotes and the Independents. The match was a keen one, and good play was shown. The Crotes took the first, second and fourth games, in 21, 20 and 10 minutes. Mr. James Sheehy was umpire for the Crotes, Mr. Rufus Stevenson, for the Independents, and Mr. H. LeBrun acted as referee. A match will soon be played for a silver medal, presented by Mr. W. A. Sanderson.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Willow and Wicket.

Accompanying the large excursion that visited the town last Friday were the Sunderland cricketers, who played with with the home team on the Ashburnham grounds. Peterborough went first to the bat and run up a score of 87, of which G. W. Hatton piled up 10; W. A. Stratton (not out), 16; T. Rutherford, 10; and R. B. Rogers, 12. Sunderland's score was 50, of which Lawton only, took double figures—11. The home team went in for their second innings and had put together 44, with the loss of two wickets, to which H. Burnham contributed 19, W. A. Stratton (not out), 6, and P. Cooper (not out), 14. Th game was, of course, drawn.

Printed by Gas Power.

It is no new thing, for parliaments, town councils, et hoc genus omne, to be run largely by gas; but the application of gas as a motor for the mighty engine of the press is something new in this district. The Lindsay Post is now printed by one of Doty's gas engines, which the proprietor of that enterprising sheet is greatly delighted with. We are pleased to see the Post placing itself, by such a spurt, again far ahead of most of its journalistic competitors. With this latest addition to its mechanical facilities the Post Gas Printing Establishment adds materially to the completness of a well-equipped typographical concern. We are pleased to see such evidences of prosperity, inasmuch as they are the result of intelligently directed enterprise and energy.

Excursion from Belleville.

Belleville holds high holiday on Friday, August 3rd, and the Bridge-street Methodist Church will manage a grand excursion to Peterborough on that date. Two years ago the same parties very successfully conducted a similar excursion to this place. The excursion train will leave Belleville at 8.30 a.m., and, calling at intermediate stations, will arrive in Peterborough at 12 o'clock. A special car for refreshments will accompany the train. The fare for the round trip will be $1.00 from Belleville, 75 cents from Campbellford, and 50 cents from Hastings. All tickets at these figures include return. No doubt there will be a large representation of our Belleville and other neighbors that day, and we will give them a hearty welcome. The excursionists will visit one of the finest towns in Ontario, and the wisdom of their choice of a rendezvous for their civic holiday is to be highly commended.

Another Plate Glass Gone.

A strange fatality seems to pursue the plate glass windows of George street. On Saturday night the most thorough smash in the catalogue of breakages occurred. The northernmost window of Mr. Macfarlane Wilson's establishment, China Hall, was literally demolished. About twelve o'clock a crash was heard, and two men were seen to retreat rapidly from the corner and disappear in the town buildings arcade. The lamp-lighter was only a few feet distant, around the corner on Simcoe street, and saw the parties making off. Whether the breaking was accidental or designed is not known. The probability is that an indulgence in horse play, stimulated with whiskey, was the cause. The break is a bad one, the plate, which was six feet by twelve, having been broken into small fragments and completely driven out of the setting. At the time, the window was filled with about $400 worth of fine crockery, of which, strange to say, only about $10 worth was broken—parts of three chamber sets. The plate was insured for $50, only about half of what it will cost to replace it. Apart from the actual damage done, the break is to be deplored, as it injures the appearance of the show windows of one of the finest, neatest and most attractive establishments in town. So far there is no trace of the parties guilty of the deplorable act.

Lacrosse Tour.

On Tuesday evening the second twelve of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club arrived home from their tour, flushed with victory. The team was composed of E. Rogers, goal; W. Scott, point; W. Welsh, cover point; P. Welsh, J. R. Canning and A. Mercer, defence; A. Mooney, centre field; J. Carveth and H. Myers, field; M. Hackett, J. Howden and R. Begley, home; Messrs. Higgins, Delaney and Lalley, spare men. On Monday the first match was played with Campbellford, against a strong team. The ground was unfavorable for good play, and the rain interfered a good deal with the sport. Campbellford took the first game after about an hour's play. Play was resumed, but frequently interrupted by the rain. Peterborough took the second game against very strong defense play. It being six o'clock the match was drawn, and in the morning the team went to Norwood, where a fine day's sport was enjoyed. Peterborough took first game, Norwood second, and Peterborough the two following, thus winning the match. This shows how the match might have resulted if it had been played out at Campbellford, Norwood having a few days before defeated Campbellford in three straight games. The home team speak in the highest terms of the exceedingly friendly manner in which they were entertained by both villages, and will long remember the trip as a most delightful outing. All arrived home in good condition; the rumours of injuries having been received were greatly exaggerated.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

An Excursion Series.

It is the intention of the Young Men's Christian Association of the town of Peterborough to run a series of excursions by rail and boat to Stony Lake during the days of the regatta, which will be on August, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th.

Episcopal Amenities.

His Grace Archbishop Lynch, of Toronto, spent a few days in town enjoying the hospitality of Bishop Jamot. He preached in the cathedral on Sunday morning last. His Grace left for home on Monday, accompanied by Bishop Jamot as far as Lindsay.

Cricket.

The first two innings of a game between a Toronto east cricket eleven and Peterborough was nearly finished as we went to press on Wednesday evening, the visitor's being at the bat with fifty runs scored and two wickets to fall. The home eleven scored 87 in their first innings.

"The Cup that Cheers."

Mr. John T. Grange, ex-M.P.P., Lennox, a member of the firm of Daly, Grange & Co., Napanee, importers of and dealers in tea, and representing the company, arrived in town on Wednesday, arranging for the introduction of the best teas in the market to the inhabitants of the county of Peterborough. Mr. Grange will be found gentlemanly and square-dealing in his business relations.

French Crystal Photographs

Are the most life-like picture ever produced. As Mr. H. E. Caswell has left town, not intending to return to make any more of these celebrated pictures, Miss L. Cooper takes great pleasure in informing the public of Peterborough that she is now prepared to furnish pictures either on plain card or in the French crystal style. Call and see samples. 31-2

The Post Office Site.

The petition signed by 200 residents of Ashburnham, and a like number in Peterborough, asking the Government, in case the site of the Post Office is removed from its present position, to select the lot on the corner of Hunter and Water streets as the most central, was forwarded to Ottawa on Wednesday night. The petition was signed by many who had signed the Market Square site petition and had repented.

West Riding Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the West Riding Agricultural Society was fixed at a meeting of the Directors held last Saturday, for Tuesday and Wednesday, 2nd 3rd October. We understand that large additions have been made to the prize list, especially in the ladies department. By an enlargement of the rules, ladies not residents of the riding may compete in these classes. Unless the annual fee is paid by the first of September fifty cents extra will be required for the privilege of exhibiting.

R. C. Pic-nic.

At large and enthusiastic meeting held at the Murray street school rooms on Tuesday night it was decided to hold a grand pic-nic in Capt. Wallis' Grove, Monaghan (subject of course to the proprietor's consent being obtained) on Wednesday, August 15th. The pic-nic will be under the patronage of his Lordship Bishop Jamot, and its object is to add to the funds of the proposed new Lake Street Separate School building. The pic-nic falls on the Civic Holiday, and the locality being near the town there will be an immense attendance.

Band Concert.

The promenade concert of the band will be held in the Drill Shed on Monday evening, August 13th. The object of the concert is to secure funds to assist in defraying the expense of the journey to Chatham. The total expense will be over $300. The prizes for which the band is entering are $200 and $100—first and second, and if the band secured both the amount would hardly cover their expenses. Hence we hope our citizens will turn out en masse at the concert on Monday night, Aug. 13th, and give the boys a benefit. The band is lavish in its musical favors, and they should be liberally patronized.

Sons of England.

A lodge of the Sons of England Benevolent Society will be established here on the sixth of August. The lodge will be named "Lansdowne." The lodge will be organized by the Grand Secretary, the ceremony taking place at the place of meeting, in the Bradburn Block, corner of George and Simcoe streets. After the organization ceremonies, a supper will be enjoyed at the Queen's Hotel, corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. Those wishing to join will do well to leave their names at a meeting to be held at Dr. Sproule's office on Friday night. "Hearts of Oak," take notice.

A Field Day.

Thursday, August 16th, will be a field day for lacrosse in Peterborough. Orrillia's civic holiday is on the 16th, and the Orillia Lacrosse Club have organized a mammoth excursion to Peterborough on that date, and it may be expected that the town will be overflowing with visitors. The big event of the day will be the lacrosse tournament on the Ashburnham grounds, which will include a match game between Orillia and the home team for the championship, and a match between Beaverton and Belleville teams. The home Club is making every preparation to ensure everything passing off pleasantly and smoothly.

Church of England Temperance Society.

A meeting was held in the chapel of St. John's Church on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Church of England Temperance Society for Peterborough. There was a good attendance. Rev. V. Clementi occupied the chair, and the society was organized with a good list of members. The following are the officers: Rev. J. W. R. Beck, Rector, President (ex-officio) Mr. I Robinson, Vice-President; Mr. Charles Meurisse, Secretary-Treasurer. The appointment of the committee called for by the constitution was deferred till the next meeting. The members enrolled subscribed to the following declaration:—

"I recognize my duty as a Christian, to exert myself for the suppression of intemperance, and having hereby become a member of this society, will endeavor in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, both by example and effort to promote its objects."

This must be signed by every member, but there are other declarations, regarding abstinence, total or partial, from intoxicating drinks, and treating and being treated. This society has wrought a vast amount of good, and in England, Toronto, and other places has a large membership. A wide field of usefulness opens before the newly organized branch in Peterborough.

Praiseworthy.

Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, headmaster of the Separate School, is to be complimented on the success of the pupils from his school rooms at the recent entrance examinations, the large number of four having passed successfully. There are only three teachers in the Murray street school, and the number of successful candidates per teacher is as high than that of any other school, and one candidate, P. J. Murphy, took the highest number of marks, 395. Another fact that speaks highly for Mr. McIlmoyle's teaching qualities is that the present list contains the first candidates direct from the Separate School that have passed the entrance examinations.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

☞Fast, brilliant and fashionable are the Diamond Dye colors. One package colors 1 to 4 lbs. of goods. 10 cents for any color.

Pleasantrial Purloining.

Mr. J. J. Lundy while on a fishing excursion to Lake Huron, sent to his brother, by express, a fine box of the spoil of his rod and reel. When he arrived home he asked how the fish tasted, and was astonished to learn that the fish never arrived. On inquiring it was found out that the first letters of the address had been rubbed off in transit, and that the express agent, interpreting according to first impressions the letters "—undy," had delivered the "speckled beauties" (poetically speaking) to Mr. Harry Grundy, who, by the way seems to get his full share of good things inadvertently.

Charlotte Street Church Choir.

The recent improvements in the Charlotte-street Methodist Church have made it one of the prettiest, best appointed and most convenient churches in Ontario, and the trustees are determined that everything else shall be in keeping. A visiting worshipper will be struck with the excellence of the musical portion of the services. An excellent and well-trained choir, under the leadership of that talented artiste, Mrs. Chambers, and Mr. M. Porteous, the splendid baritone, render the musical services phenomenally excellent. The solo by Mrs. Chambers, on Sunday morning last, and the anthem in the evening, in which Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Porteous took leading parts, were beautifully rendered selections of sacred song. Experience has shown that music is the sweetest and surest way to the human heart, and the Charlotte-street Church people appear practically to recognize the fact.

R. C. Pic-Nic.

Attention is again called to the R. C. pic-nic which will be held in Capt. Wallis' Grove, Monaghan, about a mile and a half west of the town. The civic holiday, August fifteenth, is the date. It will be noted that dining and refreshment tables, in charge of the ladies' committee, will be on the ground, and refreshments may be had at popular prices. A first-class band will be on the grounds to supply the charm of music. A fine programme of athletic sports will be carried out, as follows:—100 yards race, two prizes, $3.00 and $1.50; hop, step and jump, prizes, $2.00 and $1.00; three-legged race, $1.50 and 75 cents; quarter-mile race, $3.00 and $1.50; putting heavy weight, $1.00; standing jump, $1.50 and 50 cents; boy's race, $1.50 and 50 cents; running broad jump, $2.00 and 75 cents; girls' race, $2.00 and $1.00; clog dance, $1.50; Irish jig, with partner, $2.00; quoits, $2.00. The entrance fee to the above contests will be 15 cents, except to the girls' and boys' races, which will be free. The management are making every preparation to make this pic-nic a most enjoyable occasion. Everybody is cordially invited. Admission to the grounds, 25 cents; children under twelve, 10 cents. Busses will run to the grounds during the day, fare 10 cents. This will be a grand pic-nic, and being on the civic holiday, and so near town, there will, no doubt, be an immense attendance.

Sons of England.

A lodge of the "Sons of England" was organized in Peterborough on Monday evening last under the name of Lansdowne Lodge, consisting of twenty members. Mr. J. W. Carter, of Toronto, Worthy Grand Secretary, acted as organizing officer. The officers are:

President	A. G. Compigne.
Vice-President	J. S. Hall.
Secretary	Phil. P. Brellette.
Treasurer	K. Mannell.
Chaplain	G. A. Milliner.
Surgeon	Dr. Sproule.
Inner Guard	F. Brown.
Outer Guard	Geo. Godfrey.

Committee.—Jas. Bradley, H. Manly, G. Godfrey, R. Parks and J. E. Norris.

Trustees.—J. S. Hall, J. E. Norris and Dr. Sproule.

Auditors.—A. G. Compigne and R. Parks.

After business came enjoyment, a fine supper having been partaken of at the Queen's Hotel. The usual loyal toasts were then duly honoured, after which the toast of the Grand Lodge brought Mr. J. W. Carter to his feet, who explained the objects of the Society in a brief address. The Sons of England was, he explained, a society banded together to provide for the widow and orphan, relieve the distressed and bury the dead. Its further object was to unite and elevate Englishmen. The lodge starts with a good prospect of a successful career.

An Important Want Supplied.

We are pleased to announce the establishment in Ashburnham of St. Luke's Private School for Boys. This school will supply a want long felt by persons who desire to give their sons a special educational training, combined with attention to the formation of their moral character and to their deportment, not otherwise easily attainable. Rev. E. Carus-Wilson, of Oxford University, assisted by Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Incumbent of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, will receive a limited number of boys for instruction in all the branches of a thorough English and classical education. It will be the aim of St. Luke's School to instil sound moral and religious principles, as well as give all the comforts of home life. Rev. Mr. Wilson's residence has been specially fitted up to meet the requirements of a school, the class rooms and dormitories being commodious and well appointed. Rev. Mr. Wilson has had ten years experience as private tutor and master in high class schools in England, and has the highest testimonials as to ability and adaptation to the work, from the best English scholars. He has resided several years in France and Germany, and will make the study of the languages of these countries a special feature. We have not space to allude more fully to the advantages presented by this school, but we shall have pleasure to deal more fully with the matter hereafter. Full information as to terms, etc., will be cheerfully supplied by applying to Rev. E. Carus-Wilson, Ashburnham, Peterborough post office. The establishment of St. Luke's School, while supplying a long-felt want, is so full of promise that one would, perhaps, not be two sanguine in regarding it as the foundation of a future Harrow or Eton. We wish it great success.

Albert Caverly was charged at the Police Court on Friday with stealing a quantity of clothing from Jeremiah Moore, a fellow-boarder at Sullivan's Hotel. He was found guilty, and is now enjoying a three months' rest in jail, at "hard labour." The prisoner was defended by Mr. J. O'Meara.

PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 9, 1883.

Depression in the North-West.

That commercial depression exists to a very grave extent in the North-West, those most interested and best informed do not deny. Wild and reckless speculation, fostered by the action of the Dominion Government, has resulted in disastrous reaction. Competent authorities agree in asserting that the cause of the depression lies in the simple fact that the towns have been developed at the expense of the country. Besides the delay of the Government in putting land in the market, and the refusal to recognize the rights of squatters, have been important contributory causes. The land and general policy of the Government in dealing with settlers have greatly retarded the opening of the country and have kept the rural population from keeping up a due proportion to the growth of the towns. The action of the Government in reference to the completion of the Thunder Bay Branch of the Pacific Railway has retarded the settlement and assisted in not increasing the demand that would result from a large influx of settlers for the goods of the merchants and dealers in the towns. The want of settlement, judiciously and impartially developed, has wrought injuriously. The reserving of alternate blocks in Manitoba for the benefit of speculators and politically-fostered colonization companies, so called, who are holding thousands on thousands of acres for a rise, instead of throwing them open on easy terms to settlers, must be readily recognized as most mischievous conditions, and extremely hostile to the development of the agricultural resources of the country by settlement. If the land were obtainable on easy terms, if a high tariff and heavy transportation rates did not compel the settler to undergo an expense fatally extravagant, and impossible to his generally slender hoard, settlement would have progressed pari passu with the growth of the towns and the commercial depression that has settled on the country would have been impossible. If the North-West must become the great country that its fertility and extent warrant one in hoping, the policy towards settlers must be changed radically. An exchange points out that low taxes, low railway rates, and easy terms for securing land would give Manitoba and the North-West three or four settlers for every one who goes there now. The Hamilton Times tersely points out the proper policy:—"Let settlers get a start with cheap implements; let them get full value for their grain, instead of paying an excess of toll to a railway monopoly for its transportation; let them have money to spend on comforts for themselves and families, instead of being tied to make big payments to the speculators from whom they buy their land, and the settlers would soon become liberal and regular contributors to the revenue of the Dominion. Their families would grow up and remain Canadians. The young men would take farms and also contribute to the revenue. In short, the policy of taxing the few settlers heavily in the start is not so good for the Dominion as the policy which would bring in many settlers, to be taxed lightly for all time to come. The North-West wants the people worse than it wants their money, and by getting too greedy for the money the people are likely to be lost to the country."

Thousands of Canadians who would like to have settled in Manitoba and the North-West have been driven into Dakota, not because the land is better, but because the terms for securing land are easier, because the settler is not turned over to the tender mercies of a speculative and extortionate land company. It is to be deplored that the policy of our Government has made our North-West acres so difficult of attainment, and has indirectly handicapped the settler with so many burdensome conditions. But, little better can be expected from a Government who make every principle of right, justice and progress subservient to a course of action having for its object a retention of the power which they have so flagrantly abused.

The New Regime

A gentleman who has known Rat Portage for years asserts that the place has never before been so quiet and orderly as it is now under the vigorous administrative acts of the Mowat Government. Within the past few weeks the streets have been greatly improved, the Ontario gaol is a model of its kind, and but for the little trouble stirred up by Manitoba filibusters there is no disturbing element. The vast majority of the respectable and law-abiding citizens pray for a perpetuation of the rule of Ontario, and if the evil influence of Mr. Norquay and his clique were taken away there would not be ten men who would object to the action taken by the Ontario Government. The fact appears plain that all the interference has for its object, is the manufacture of political capital against Mr. Mowat, and it requires a gigantic incredulity to disbelieve that the interference of Manitoba has not been dictated from Ottawa. It was the Ottawa Government that procured legislation, introducing Manitoba as a further disturbing and conflicting element in the Boundary Question. Sir John is too great a "constitutional" lawyer to go the length of opposing by violence except through, a plastic catspaw, such as Mr. Norquay has proven himself to be, Ontario's claim to the territory, which claim he has it inadvertently, yet repeatedly admitted. Feeling that on no earthly ground could the Ottawa Government overtly interfere with the bold method for the solution of the Gordian knot, taken by Mr. Mowat, he cannot resist the temptation to harrass "Mowat—that little tyrant" by the cowardly device of egging on Mr. Norquay and his clique, to undertake what would be impolitic for Sir John himself to do.

Every day demonstrates the wisdom of the energetic course of action taken by the Ontario Government and the popularity of the new regime as compared with the slipshod manner in which the affairs of the district were managed before the advent of the present legally constituted administration of public affairs, is undoubted.

Editorial Notes.

The only redeeming feature of the Gerrymander Act of Sir John is the deliberate admission that the territory east of the Lake of the Woods and the Winnipeg River is in the Province of Ontario.

The newspapers of Peterborough, Port Hope, Lindsay, Whitby, and other of the leading Provincial papers unite in opposing the granting of the Dominion bonus of $12,000 a mile to the Northern. They want an independent road between Gravenhurst and Callender that will take freight from the Midland, the Grand Trunk, the Northern and the North-western on equal terms.

The crop prospects in Europe are not nearly so good as they were some weeks ago. The New York Herald's London correspondent says the rains and cold have dispelled all hopes of a fine harvest in Britain; while in France the wheat area and yield will be smaller than the average. Holland and Belgium expectan average. Italy a moderate harvest. In Southern Europe wheat and barley are fair. Hungary will fall below the yield of last year. Central Europe seems favored. On the whole the cereal crops of Europe promise fairly well.

The Hamilton Times thus briefly sums up the effects of Tilley's policy: "N.P. hurts the farmers steadily, and they are half the population. It makes them do 4 days' work for 3 days' pay. The N. P. hurts all those engaged in professional and personal services, about one in five of the working population. It hurts all workers for wages, because it raises the cost of what they must buy to a greater extent than it raises their wages. It helps about 2 men in every 100 in Canada, and it takes away from the 100 a great deal more than it gives to the 2.

The adjourned hearing in the trial of the East Northumberland petition was resumed on last Thursday. Several witnesses were examined. The fishing for evidence having in the interval of the adjournment been unsuccessful, Mr. Cameron, counsel for the petitioner, moved for a further adjournment, but the application was refused. The Counsel on both sides made their arguments, and their lordships reserved their decision, which will be rendered in Toronto. It is altogether probable that the petition will be dismissed, Mr. Ferris sustained in his seat and another $1,000 of the Tory corruption fund wasted.

Dr. Fruhling of Berlin has devised a new plan of disposing of the dead which at least has the merit of being less barbarous that cremation. His method is to transform corpses into stone mummies by the use of a new kind of cement. That subetance when hardened would not in any way indicate the organic change going on within it. The cement in hardening takes an accurate cast of the features which it incloses, thus allowing of their exact reproduction after the lapse of centuries. He suggests the use of coffins of rectangular shape, it being futher considered by Dr. Fruhling that underground sepulture is needless, as the coffins soon become practically masses of stone.

The Review at last comes to the surface in the matter of the appointment of Chapleau, Sir Charles Tupper's departmental confidence man and detected and discharged secretary, to a North-West shrievalty. "If," says our cautious coterm, "the appointment has been made, it merits our strongest condemnation." Of course, nothing else could be proclaimed; but that "strong condemnation" wont affect one iota the Review's slavish support of a Government which allows its departments to be honey-combed with corruption, from which it derives political advantage, and then rewards detected rascals with lucrative Government appointments.

The Welland Tribune shows how Dr. Ferguson rewarded a Tory ward politician who assisted in the former's election, by securing for the wierpuller Mr. J. V. Browne, a contract for facing the canal banks with stone. Thus the people of Canada pay taxes to reward a politician for assisting in electing a Government supporter. The sequel is, however, that the contractor having extracted the meat from the contract kernel has decamped with $4,000, leaving very many labourers and their families destitute from lack of pay. Thus, a protege and pet of the paternal Government, the working man's friend (at election time), lines his pockets with the hard earnings of the labouring man.

The Cornwall local election case came on for trial at Cornwall on Monday last before Justices Patterson and Ferguson. J. Sandfield Macdonald appeared for the petitioners; E. Bergin for the respondents. Mr. Macdonald made application to their Lordships to postpone the trial, and for further time in which to furnish particulars. Mr. Bergin opposed the application. Their Lordships refused to postpo.. the trial, on the ground that sufficent time had elapsed since the demand for particulars had been served to have supplied them. Mr. Macdonald said if the application was refused he was not prepared to proceed with the case, as he had been unable to get the evidence in proper shape. The petition was therefore dismissed with costs.

MATRIMONIAL.

On Thesday of last week Rev. John . McCleary, for several years past e popular pastor of the English Church this village, was married so Miss lle, second daughter of our highly ed townsman Mr. John A. Butterld. The happy event took place in Church in the presence of a large mber of relations, friends and well-hers of the blooming bride, who was tefully and appropriately dressed for occasion. Mr. R. E. Birdsall, of pidel, performed the duties of groomsn, while Miss Kate Macdonald, of bourg, gracefully filled the position bridesmaid. The happy bride was e recipient of a large number of wedg presents, both costly and ornamen. The newly wedded couple on the e morning took the train at Hastings the mission to which Mr. McCleary been recently appointed, at Batteau d Duntroon, in the north riding of coe. A few days previous to the Miss Butterfield was waited on by members of the English Church gregation, for whom for a number of rs she zealously and satisfactorily perned the duties of organist, when the lowing address was read by Mrs. A. Calder, and a well filled purse preted by Mrs. W. J. Patterson, on be-lf of the members and adherents of t Church :—

DEAR MISS BUTTERFIELD,—The mem-rs of Christ Church have learned th much regret of your approaching parture from their midst, and re to avail themselves of this oppority of expressing their warmest es for your future welfare. By your form courtesy, your consistent christ life, and the deep interest you have ys manifested in the work of the urch, you have endeared and comded yourself to all. Your intercse with us has ever been characterd by love and kindness; and while, in r removal, the Church looses an ive and devoted member, we each feel t we are bidding good-bye to a perl friend. By your service as organ-so cheerfully and efficiently rendered, have placed us under a great obliga-; and, as an evidence that our grati-is of the heart, and not of the lips , we ask you to accept this purse, for any intrinsic value that it may , but as a memento of the many py hours we have spent together. congratulate you on your future pects, and pray that the benediction our Heavenly Father may continuous-rest upon you, and that the evening your life my be illuminated by a sun, ich, like the morning star, goes not behind the darkened west, but away into the brightness of Hea-.

igned in behalf of the congregation.

MRS. A. C. CALDER,
MRS. W. G. PATTERSON.

iss Butterfield replied as follows :—Y DEAR FRIENDS,—My feelings will allow me to reply in suitable terms your kind address, nor can I express that I feel in receiving such a gener-present; the whole is so unexpected completely silences me. Many, many, nks for the beautiful purse and be red I shall value it for the kindness the hearts which have contributed to and wherever my lot in the future be cast, my heart will always be h you the friends of my early years. in my services as an organist, I e given you satisfaction I am more n repaid, having found compensation the pleasure it afforded me to con-te my mite towards the worship of our Heavenly Father. I cannot part without thanking the many dear friends who have assisted me with their voices from time to time. The services of an organist will not avail much if not supported by the voices of those about her. Trusting that God may continue to be with this congregation and myself, I am very respectfully yours,

LILLIE BUTTERFIELD.

TERRIBLE HAIL STORM IN CAVAN AND MANVERS.

On Saturday afternoon last, July 28th, says the Millbrook Messenger, the severest hail storm that has ever been known in this section of the country, passed over the front of Cavan and Manvers, destroying everything in the shape of growing crops in its onward march. From all we can learn it rose in Lake Scugog, then proceeded in a south-easterly direction. It is supposed to have risen for some distance and again struck the earth about Jeff. Morton's, 4th concession of Manvers, proceeding along between the 3rd and 4th concessions of Cavan, spending the main strength of its fury from the west boundary for a distance of about three or four miles eastwards to Josh. Jones, when it appears to have again risen, then re-visiting the earth about three or four miles further east, in the neighborhood of the Elger settlement, 2nd concession of Cavan, east of the middle line. R. Lees, John Douglas and Jeff. Morton, of Manvers, have lost the largest portion of their crops; W. H. H. Wood, John Hamilton, Jas. Fee, R. Baker, James Brock, Aaron Petnick, W. Mullee, George Wragg and Joshua Jones have lost almost everything they had growing, including the fruit in the orchards. The storm passed over about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The hail, from the size of pigeon's eggs down, fell for about twenty minutes, accompanied with peculiarly heavy winds—not a straight wind, but apparently countless little whirlwinds that appeared to descend, tearing the heads off the growing grain, while the falling hail battered the straw to the ground. Mr. J. Fee, one of the heaviest losers, says, with the exception of the hay crop, which was mostly harvested, he has not the least particle of crop to gather; everything, even to the potatoes and other root crops, are cut up and crushed into the ground. The track of the storm ranged from half a mile to a mile in width. Hail fell to the depth of of about four inches. A heavy permanent covering of a large haystack on Fee's farm was lifted off, carried a short distance, and fell, without being the least injured. The average loss to each farmer will be about $1,000. When the storm arose in the west it had every appearance of coming straight for the Village of Millbrook, but separated a few miles to the west, the principal part going slightly to the south, the other part going a little to the north. This latter portion was water with a sprinkling of hailstones. From Cavanville, Ida, etc., we learn that the rain poured down in torrents; while in Millbrook for half an hour there was only a pretty heavy fall of rain with considerable wind. In less than an hour the sun was out in all its glory.

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WEATHER NOTES.

July has given something like an average of our rain fall, although on 11 days, 9 of which were accompanied with thunder, it only amounted to the depth of 2 inches and 62-100 of an inch; although almost around us heavy storms of rain and hail have done considerable damage, we have only felt it lightly. Our severest storm was on the 3rd when rain only fell to the depth of 71-100 part of an inch. July of '82 had 15 days on which rain fell to the depth of 2 inches and 1-100 part of an inch. The thermometer of both '82 and '83 never went higher that 90 degrees, with an average temperature of 60° for '82 and 63° for '83. We had white frost on two mornings, namely, the 14th and 20th, which doubtless was the cause of rusting our spring wheat, the sun coming out hot and actually reaching 70° at sunset each day.

CROPS.

Fall wheat and barley are about one week later in commencing to cut than in '82, both this year being a good average crop. Spring wheat about two-tenths less from scalding and drowning out, but will probably average less than that owing to the rust. Peas and oats have suffered to the same extent, but, of course will not be affected by the rust. Potatoes about five-sevenths of an average crop. Apples and other fruits will not be more than 30 per cent. of an average crop. Turnips, mangolds and carrots, though late, look healthy. All the above calculations are based on the hope they will receive no further injury.

Did She Die?

"No; she lingered and suffered along, "pining away all the time for years, the "doctors doing her no good; and at last "was cured by this Hop Bitters the "papers say so much about. Indeed! "Indeed! how thankful we should be for "that medicine."

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 31st 1882.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS a trial I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.

PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 9, 1883.

These Libel Suits.

John Shields of Section B and Muskoka notoriety, was virtuously wroth at the statements made by the Globe and London Advertiser in reference to the corrupt acts of himself and partners in regard to the recent elections. To vindicate his slandered virtue he instituted libel suits, but the issuing of the writs is the last we hear of them. It was boldly asserted by the Globe that Mr. Shields would not be allowed to bring the suits to trial on account of the damaging revelations respecting the relations of the Dominion Government and the contractors of section B, which would thereby be elicited. We learn on the authority of the London Advertiser that Sir John has been afraid to treat directly with the contractors, and has employed one Clemeau, of Ottawa, to act as a political Pandarus. Between Sir John and the contractors Mr. Manning has for some time been trying to secure a settlement. Mr. Clemeau has all along refused to take any action till Mr. Manning gives over all his private correspondence with Shields and Sir John. This Mr. Manning declines to do, as it would deprive him of the means of securing his rights, and, with him, personal interest is paramount to political expediency. Lately Mr. Ibister, who seems to have some interest in the contract, arrived at Ottawa, and when he learned what Clemeau was doing he became indignant, and threatened that if a prompt settlement was not effected the whole matter would be thrown into the courts. But the courts would never do, and Sir John hastened to Ottawa, and the whole matter has has been referred to Mr. Peter McLaren, who will receive all books, papers and correspondence, and being a good Tory, will not tell any tales. Shields is to keep out of the way till the Ontario election petitions are disposed of. The entire business goes to show that the libel suits will never be brought to trial. The revelations would damage the Government more than lying under the alleged scandals can injure Mr. Shields' shining character. But the probability is that some means will be found to ascertain judicially from Mr. Shields what he knows about the way several of the Ontario election campaigns were conducted. He knows too much of public interest to make it proper for him to keep it locked in his breast.

Admitting Our Right.

The Dominion Act of 1882 for the "readjustment" of the representation of Ontario and Manitoba—the notorious Gerrymander—lays down that the electoral district of Lisgar shall be bounded on the east by the "Lake of the Woods and the Winnipeg River." Rat Portage is on the east side of the Winnipeg River and, therefore, not in Manitoba, but in Ontario. Besides, an additional proof and admission is, that the electoral district of Algoma, in the Province of Ontario, shall be bounded on the west by the electoral districts of Manitoba. This makes Rat Portage in an electoral district of Ontario, so declared by Act of the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, which received the royal assent on May 17th, 1882. Thus, by Act of Parliament, Rat Portage is admitted to be in this Province, to form a part of one of the electoral districts. By what law of right, justice or common sense can Manitoba consistently claim the exercise of authority in an electoral district of this Province? Why in Algoma any more than in Haliburton, Muskoka or East or West Peterborough? If the Government at Ottawa ever thought that Rat Portage in the Disputed Territory did not belong to Ontario they would not have placed it anywhere else, by a deliberately and duly considered Act of Parliament, than in Manitoba. It would seem that the logic of fact has forced the Dominion Government to conclusions, which from political expediency they refuse to formally enunciate. Not only has the Ottawa Government admitted as above that Ontario's claim to the territory is valid, but its proclamation, issued early this year, refused further recognition of the conventional boundary line of 1874. The fact that the Ontario Government had after the award of 1878 abandoned this conventional boundary, coupled with the proclamation, is another admission of the right of Ontario to the territory given her by the award.

The proclamation, also, to which we alluded in our last issue, relating to the suspension of the Public Works Act in the territory, is another admission that Rat Portage is not in Manitoba, and since, according to the "Gerrymander" Act, the eastern boundary of Manitoba is the western boundary of Ontario, Rat Portage not being in Manitoba must be in Ontario. Therefore, Manitoba, in presuming to exercise authority in Ontario, is an usurper, and Mr. Mowat, in taking possession of Ontario's territory, is only doing what every honest man, Reformer or Conservative, will heartily endorse, and what his duty to this Province demands he should do. It is the duty of the people of this Province to stand by Mr. Mowat in this matter, and we have no doubt that everybody except Tory wire-pullers and politicians will do so.

Editorial Notes.

Sir John has it is stated, promised Mr. Norquay, the Premier of Manitoba, control of Government lands in that Province, in return for his efforts in embarassing Mr. Mowat in Northwest Ontario.

Some of the Tory papers assert that Mr. Mowat's action, in taking possession of the disputed territory blocks the only one way opened by which the boundary can be determined. If such will consult the Ontario Boundary Papers, 1882, page 370, they will find the award of the arbitrators circumstantially determining the boundaries as they had full authority to do.

While we Canadians have abandoned our ship, and have ceased to be ranked among the naval powers of the earth, the Australian Provinces are calling for an increase in their protecting "navies," and are adopting measures to strengthen their military defences. We, too, have done something in this respect: we have a "standing army," which will probably long remain standing. We fear no foe, simply because we are not likely to have any.

The Canada Gazette of Aug. 4th contains the following entertaining paragraph:—"Samuel E. St. Onge Chapleau, of Ottawa, in the Province of Ontario, Esquire, to be sheriff for the Northwest Territories vice Edouard Richard, Esquire." This precious appointment is dated July 7th, 1883. The only thing creditable about the affair is the Government's being ashamed to make the announcement sooner. Now for our cotemporary's "unqualified condemnation" of the appointment.

A very active Tory member of the Norquay party in the Rat Portage usurpation tactics has released the cat from the bag. He said that every Ontario Tory knew that this Province would ultimately get the territory, but Sir John was anxious to hand it over to Mr. Meredith. Thus to serve party ends, and to complete the subjugation of Ontario to an Ottawa oligarchy, Sir John does not hesitate to countenance the spoliation of a portion of this Province, by assisting Manitoba in robbing the late disputed territory of timber and minerals to an extent hardly conceivable.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

MOST SUCCESSFUL GARDEN PARTY.

The garden party held in the grounds "The Homestead", Mr. R. C. Strickland's residence, in aid of the St. John's Church parsonage fund proved a complete success. A Lawn-Tennis tournament took place between Peterborough and Lakefield, resulting in favor of Peterborough. The very high wind blowing made good playing difficult. The following were the teams chosen :—

Lakefield.	Peterborough.
C. Strickland,	Burnham,
Barlee.	Budden.

After close play Lakefield won the 1st set, 4 games to 6. Peterborough won the second set after a hard fought "deuce," "vantage" set. Peterborough won on the winning set with more ease.

Lakefield.	Peterborough.
LeFevre,	F. Haultain,
Rowell.	G. A. Smith.

This was a very exciting game, both sides getting to 5 games all in each set before it could be decided. Eventually Peterborough won 2 sets.

Lakefield.	Peterborough.
Rackham,	A. Haultain,
W. D. Strickland.	C. Haultain.

Peterborough won the first two sets and therefore the third was not played.

Lakefield.	Peterborough.
A. Strickland,	P. Smith,
Loewen.	G. Smith.

Lakefield lost the first and second set, thus giving the game to Peterborough.

In the evening the grounds were brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and from 400 to 500 persons were present. About 200 arrived by train from Peterborough. The Fire Brigade Band, which also came by the same train, contributed in no small degree to the pleasures of the evening. Their magnificent playing won universal applause. Every provision had been made to cater to the tastes of the many present. The concert was opened with an instrumental piece by Mrs. A. Strickland, which was rendered in truly artistic style. Signorina E. DeBeaumont was the great attraction of the evening, and was heartily applauded and encored for rendering of "Annie Laurie" called forth such an outburst of applause as must must have made the artiste feel that she was duly appreciated. Messrs. Porteous and Shaw's "Pilot Brave" was especially well received, and greeted with loud applause. Our local talent, consisting of Miss Clarin, Mrs. Hodgins and Messrs. Graham and Henderson, acquitted themselves most creditably.

The gathering dispersed about half past ten o'clock, the band playing the National Anthem.

NEWS NOTES.

Two men who were working at the new mill the other day got into a row, resulting in a fight. On Saturday evening the transgressor was fined, with costs, by Mr. J. Hall, J. P.

Large numbers of our citizens have gone up the lakes for a camp, and still many are going next week.

We learn with regret that Mr. Wm. Ferguson, of Smith, has become deranged and has been committed to gaol at Peterborough. No cause is known for the sad calamity.

The Council meet on Monday evening in their chambers.

The School Board meets on Tuesday evening next in the same place.

The Court of Foresters meet in the Union Hall this evening.

THE ISCHIA EARTHQUAKE.

THE EARTH OPENS AND SWALLOWS 5,000 PEOPLE—TERRIBLE SCENES.

Latest advices show that the earthquake on the island of Ischia a few days ago was a terrible calamity, and the latest computations agree in placing the loss of life at the fearful figures of 5,000. The shocks began at half-past nine in the evening. The majority of the upper classes were at the theatre, and nearly all the houses in the town collapsed. The curtain had just risen when a tremendous shock at the theatre was felt. A fearful roar followed, the ground rocked like a sea in a storm. A great cry of terror arose from the audience, who were thrown into a heap and a large number buried beneath the timber which fell upon them. Two more shocks occurred. All who could rushed outside. Hundreds clambered into trees; most escaped to the shore, where bonfires were lighted as signals of distress. Hundreds of half-naked men and women, wild with terror and grief, ran among the ruins with torches during the night searching for their friends.

The stench from rotting corpses is horrible, and the authorities have ordered lime to be strewn over the ruins.

Turnbull's Table Linens are becoming a household word. They have only to be seen to be appreciated.

EXIT CETEWAYO.

Cetewayo, the Zulu King, is dead. Killed in battle. He was a warrior and a statesman, although a negro savage. In London, when he was a prisoner, he was the recipient of marked attentions from the populace and distinguished persons who sympathized with him. In answer to an enquiry as to the treatment he had received during his captivity, he said everyone had been most kind to him. He thought his acquaintance with white people, together with what he would learn in England would enable him to make his people happier than they ever were before.

After having been released he returned to his "Kingdom" to find it overrun by rivals, and had to fight his way. It was in the endeavor to capture his throne that he was killed.

ELECTION PETITIONS.

TWO MORE DISPOSED OF.

The West Northumberland and East Elgin election petitions were disposed of Monday, the former being withdrawn, each party paying their own costs. In East Elgin the respondent's counsel also agreed to the withdrawal of the petition without costs. Mr. Justice Cameron, in delivering judgment, however, took occasion to express his own and Justice Osler's dissent from the construction placed upon the 159th section of the Ontario Act with regard to the number of cases of corrupt practice necessary to be established in order to void an election.

Peterborough Markets.

[Supplied by W. H. Wrighton, Grain and Produce Dealer, and General Grocer, George Street.]

PETERBOROUGH, August 9th, 1883.

Very little doing in grain. Wheat is scarce. Spring sells at $1.05 to $1.06; fall, none offering. In barley and peas nothing doing. Oats selling at 48c. to 50c. On the market, there is not much doing. Butter is still plentiful, and worth from 14c. to 18c. Eggs in lots, 13c.; retail, 14c. No changes in other commodities.

Mr. Alexander Mackenzie, the ex-Premier of Canada, has returned from the Continent, and is now in Scotland. He will sail for Canada about the middle of next month.

"By asking too much we may lose the little that we had before." Kidney-Wort asks nothing but a fair trial. This given, it fears no loss of faith in its virtues. A lady writes from Oregon: "For thirty years I have been afflicted with kidney complaints. Two packages of Kidney-Wort have done me more good than all the medicine and doctors I have had before. I believe it is a sure cure."

ONEIDA.

The men putting up the line for the telephone between Port Hope and Lindsay, passed through this village on Thursday. It is not known who will get the office here.

MANVERS.

The announcement of the establishment of a new post office bearing the name of New Park, in the township of Manvers, is contained in the last issue of the Canada Gazette. Mr. Jas. Miller is the postmaster.

CAVAN.

Parts of Cavan and Manvers were visited by a cyclone on Saturday afternoon. The track of the storm was about a mile in width. Mr. James Brock's crops suffered severely. Hail stones as large as pigeon's eggs, to the depth of four or five inches, fell.

HASTINGS.

The Clarendon House was formally opened on Thursday last for the reception of guests.

The past week has been very prolific in street brawls, no less than two occuring each night, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Mr. Fowlds' pony "Fanny" met with a bad accident on Friday last in attempting to jump a barbed wire fence near the railway bridge. She got stuck in the wires and the barbs lacerated her leg in a shocking manner. There are hopes of her recovery.

NORWOOD.

Speaking of the late midnight ruction in Norwood the Register says:—"A disgraceful row occurred here on Saturday night last, the particulars of which, were we to give them, would not be at all conducive to the popularity or the good name of some of our prominent men; hence the mere mention of the matter.

We learn from a reliable source that all that is required to secure the location of the Ontario & Quebec Railway workshops here is for the village to make the request.—Register.

Mr. W. H. Mullins has resigned the leadership of the Norwood Cornet Band.

It is said that the O. & Q. Railway will consider the matter of building the Brighton and Norwood railway when the former road is completed.

BOBCAYGEON.

Fishing is excellent.

The business on the Locks has been good. Twenty-two lockages were made in day.

The new time table on the Midland is a great improvement, mails arriving in comparatively good time.

A workman was horribly crushed in the machinery of a crane at the Trent Valley Works at Pigeon Lake on Friday.

The last issue of the Independent was not a full sheet. Mr. Smiff got full—of spring water by mistake—hence the half sheet.

Bobcaygeon hotels are full. Thirty-two visitors were refused by the hotels last week. How much better is Bob. than Saratoga, for the hotels of Saratoga are more than half empty.

BELLEVILLE.

Belleville's rate of assessment for municipal purposes has been fixed at 14½ mills. $50,000 is to be raised.

Last Tuesday, Mr. Benson Sills, of Thurlow, was shot with a revolver by a "hired man" with whom he had an altercation. The hired man, Millar, held the pistol so close to Sills that the latter knocked the muzzle, aimed at his heart, upward, and received the bullet in his head, where it flattened on his skull, making only a flesh wound. He was also hit by a second shot in the arm, yet he took the revolver from the rebellous hired man and gave him a sound thrashing. Millar was arrested.

Alex. Arthurs, of Trenton, and a former resident of Belleville, died suddenly on Wednesday morning. He was found in his night dress, lying upon the floor of his bed room, and, presumably, had died of apoplexy.

COBOURG.

The funds of the Fountain Hose Band are again getting low.

Mr. John Davey, sen., of Bowmanville, formerly of Leskard, a gentleman well known in Cobourg, died suddenly at his residence on Wednesday morning of this week.

The Cobourg bad boy robs his mother's purse.

An old lady returned to Cobourg, and found the (Sentinel)-Star the only recognizable relic of former days; so the editor says, any-way.

The military camp opens at Cobourg about the 18th Sept., and will include some 2,500 men.

On Wednesday evening the Skating Rink was dedicated to the muses by the ever popular Holmans, who presented Audran's sparkling operatta, La Mascot. With a few improvements, the rink can be made very suitable for summer theatricals.

LINDSAY.

According to the Post, Lindsay has dudes to let.

The staff of the Post is boasting of having enjoyed one square meal. Somebody made it the present of a salmon.

The Salvation Army is the most gigantic example of faith in accomplishing the impossible on record. Last Sunday it had [illegible] the work of converting Lindsay. [illegible] of a professional life of [illegible].

Mr. Hugh McCosh was lighted with gas for the first time last Sunday evening.

The Post has gas fixtures placed in its composing room. The sanctum has long been provided with gas.

Lindsay's taxes are all to be collected by the 12th of December.

A Mrs. Vankoughnet was terribly injured by a dog the other day.

The Salvation Army has opened its campaign in Lindsay. Their meetings are well attended.

PORT HOPE.

Port Hope is bound to be ahead of Peterborough. She is building a sewer.

Several of the oldest employees of the Midland repair shops were discharged last week.

T. H. Ambrose has sold the patent of his automatic car coupler to an American firm for $15,000.

Midland Railway engines Nos. 2, 11 and 27, were sent to Montreal on Monday last for general repairs.

Port Hope is an N. P. town yet the caps for the band are imported from "the States."

The Orange Young Britons have decided upon holding a monster pic-nic in this town upon the 20th of September. Invitations will be extended to the brethren of Kingston, Belleville, Napanee and a number of other places.

Business at the harbor continues dull, and it is expected that it will remain so for the next few weeks.

Mr. Walker Learoyd, of the Heddingly Harriers Club, Leeds, Yorkshire Eng., champion runner, and present holder of the cup, is on his way to Canada, and will settle at Port Hope. He left Liverpool on the 12th inst., by the steamer Sardinian.

The imports for this port and duties collected during the month of July are as follows: Imports $11,045.00; duty collected, $1,524.00. During the corresponding period last year the imports were $4,807.00; duty collected, $747.50. Showing an increase in imports of $6,258.00, and the amount of duty collected, 776.50

Durham Lodge I.O.O.F., No. 78, celebrated their annual decoration day on Wednesday afternoon. The members left their lodge room accompanied by the 46th Regt. Band, at four o'clock, and marched in procession to the cemetery, where singing by the choir, prayer by the Rev. Bro. W. P. Dyer and an address was read by Bro. J. B. Trayes, after which the ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased brothers was proceeded with. There was a large turnout of ladies and others to witness the ceremony.

THE EX-PREMIER ON HIS TRAVELS.

The Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, M.P., under date of June 17, writes the following letter from Venice to Mr. Badgerow, M.P.P., at Toronto.

I write from the old, old sea city of Venice, where I arrived last night from Rome and Florence. I often longed to see Rome and Italy and the Holy Land—the former I have now hurriedly seen, the latter it is unlikely I shall ever see. We travelled via Paris (where we spent a week) to Turin by the Mount Cenis Tunnel. Thence by Genoa and Pisa to Rome, where we spent three days only (I wish we could have made it weeks); its gorgeous churches and palaces, the grand old structures of the Coliseum and Pantheon (the latter now a church), though in ruins bear testimony to the grandeur of their architectural author's ideas. Of comparatively modern architecture, of course, St. Peter's eclipses everything. The vast structure is wonderful in its perfect beauty as in its size. It is impossible to look at it, be you Protestant or Catholic, without a feeling of reverence filling the mind. The greatest of all Christian temples, it competes wonderfully with the finest of the old classic temples of heathen Rome and Greece. I would never tire looking at Roman architecture I was only sorry I did not read up Roman history once more before leaving home. The Tiber is a dirty puddle, full of slime and mud; the city itself full of evil smells which are sickening. In this respect Florence and Venice are cleanliness itself. Compared to Rome, Florence is beautifully situated on the Arno, in a broad beautiful valley, while the hillsides are covered with vineyards and fine villas, amidst which the finest possible roads are built. Every city however, has good roads here. Toronto will ill compare with the meanest of them as to roads and streets.

It is a curious, though anticipated, change here to be met at the station by gondolas to convey us to the hotel. We sailed through narrow streets for a mile and landed on the footsteps of our hotel as if landing on a wharf. No horse or donkey pollutes the city. No rumbling of wheels or carriages is heard, only the yells of gondoliers as they meet and pass. From the windows of our bedroom we look down on a canal; another is on the other side. At one side there is a wide street of eighteen feet; radiating from this are several streets of seven, six, and even five feet wide. These have shops, many of them really very good. One Grand Square (all land) is two minute's walk or sail from the hotel. Here stands the fine old cathedral built in the sixth century, the Doges' and King's Palaces, near which stands the old State Prison, and between it and the Doges' Palaces the well known Bridge of Sighs We will have an evening on Italy when I return. We leave for Milan to-morrow, and thence on Tuesday for Switzerland over the Alps. I hope to reach London by the 3rd of July, and Edinburgh by the 12th. I have engaged passage by the Urnia on Sept. 1st. I hope to get Canadian papers at Interlachen on Saturday next, and hear what you are all doing.

THE KILLING OF CAREY THE INFORMER.

DETAILS OF THE MANNER IN WHICH THE MURDER WAS COMMITTED—REJOICINGS IN DUBLIN.

The Government had received information concerning meditated attacks upon Carey, and had many suspected Invincibles under surveillance, but the officers had no knowledge about any person answering O'Donnell's description. Carey was bound for Port Elizabeth, South Africa. He had regained a good deal of self possession and spirit and was pretty well convinced that his identity and destination were both unknown No passenger aboard when the ship left London knew anything about Carey. When the vessel made fast to the Port Elizabeth dock in a rather jubilant manner the informer supervised the landing of his baggage. He then boarded the gang plank and walked down to the wharf. The moment he stepped upon the wharf a man stepped up to him, placed a pistol close to his breast right over his heart and fired. Carey staggered and fell, but before he lost his footing his assailant fired another bullet into his brain. The assassin was for a moment supposed to be a madman, but when he flourished his weapon and cried out, "That is James Carey, God ——— his soul," the officers of the Melrose Castle realized the situation, overpowered the speaker and placed him in chains. The murderer was soon identified as a stranger who had boarded the Melrose Castle at Capetown and booked himself for Natal. No one knew his business, and on board the Melrose Castle he had shown no interest in the man he had killed. He loitered about until Carey went ashore, and then walked after him and shot him dead upon the dock. O'Donnell refuses to make any statement.

Another account of Carey's murder would indicate that the shooting had been done at sea, and that the informer had died later on arriving at Port Elizabeth.

REJOICINGS IN DUBLIN.

A Dublin mob celebrated Carey's assassination by entering the houses on Abbey street Friday night and seizing the bedding, furniture and other articles to make bonfires to celebrate the death of Carey. Effigies of Carey were burned and mock funerals held in various towns. Eight enormous bonfires were built around Carey's residence. There were numerous fires throughout the city. Bands marched through the streets playing national airs, followed by crowds cheering. A slight collision occurred between the crowd and the police. The officials fear that the Fenians will be much emboldened by these demonstrations.

NORTH-WESTERN ONTARIO.

Ontario Officials Taken in Irons to Winnipeg.

A Winnipeg despatch of July 30 says: "The conflict between the Manitoba and Ontario Governments continues. Premier Norquay, ex-Judge Miller, Chief Constable, and the posse of special police, went to Rat Portage and caused the arrest of the Ontario special named Boston O'Brien, and also two others, named McKay and Mulligan, who released the prisoners from the Manitoba gaol, also Montgomery, who escaped. They are charged with selling the prisoners liquor. They went after midnight last night with a caboose and engine to Deception, where they awaited the regular train for Winnipeg, and arrived here to-night. The passengers were shackled and taken to the Provincial gaol. It is stated that application will be made to-morrow for their release under habeas corpus, which will raise the question of the jurisdiction of the Manitoba Government. The Chief Constable and Premier Norquay are still at Rat Portage. A collision appears inevitable if the present state of affairs continues.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. O'Donnell, the assassin of Carey, was further examined before the magistrate at Port Elizabeth on Wednesday, when the murdered man's wife and son gave evidence. It is stated that the scene of the murder was outside colonial jurisdiction, and that O'Donnell will therefore have to be tried in England.

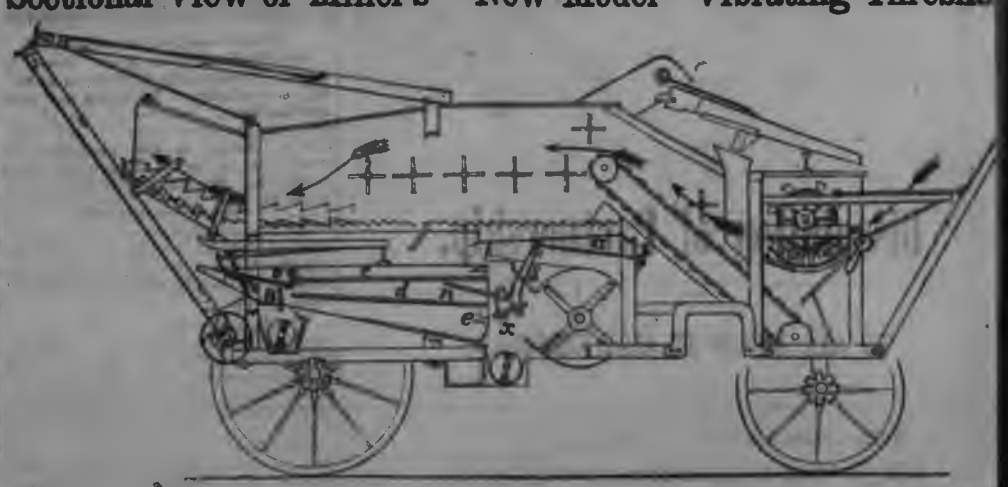
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1883.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing [illegible] for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever seen used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1883.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last [illegible] I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, on receipt of one or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is 'get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

RESULT OF THE STRIKE.

The strike of the operators has caused a revival of attempts to compete with the big monopoly. The Exchange Telegraph Company has been incorporated with a capital of two millions. The line will run from New York to San Francisco, touching at intermediate points. Another organization—the Bankers' and Merchants' Telegraph Company—has obtained a loan of $300,000 to extend its lines. If these organizations could only be kept out of the clutches of Gould, there would be some show for competition, fair rates, efficient service and employment for all the striking operators at living wages.

NEVER forget that at your druggist's you can always obtain DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It is the only known remedy that speedily relieves all Kidney Diseases, and if persisted in will effect a permanent cure. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

The cattle commission report to the United States treasury that after a long and exhaustive enquiry they have been unable to find foot and mouth disease apart from herds just imported from Great Britain.

"Leaves have their time to fall," says the poet, but Wild Strawberry leaves are on the rise just now, being utilized in such enormous quantities in making Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—the infallible remedy for Cholera Morbus, Diarrhœa and other Summer Complaints. 32-2t

THE MOST frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal results. Take it in time. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

Anexpress on the South-Eastern Railway was derailed and ditched between Newport and North Troy on Wednesday evening. Three passengers were probably fatally injured and fourteen others more or less seriously.

W. A. Edgars, of Frankville, was cured of Liver and Kidney Complaint after life was despaired of. He had remained from ten or fifteen days without an action of the bowels.— Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he writes that he is a better man than he has been for twenty years past. 32-2t

Mr. W. C. Van Horne, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, says that the line will be completed to Calgary next week, and that the summit of the Rocky Mountains will be reached some time in November. The whole line will be completed within two years.

Do not delay, if suffering any form of Bowel Complaint, however mild apparently may be the attack, but use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is the old reliable cure for all forms of Summer Complaints that require prompt treatment. Ask your druggist and all dealers in patent medicines. 32-2t

In the House of Lords Lord Derby stated that the Government agreed with the principle of Mr. Stephen's Irish emigration scheme, but required the Dominion Government to assume the responsibility of the loan. Negotiations on the subject were still being carried on.

That no mischief may be done, it is necessary that remedies placed before the public for general use should be the outcome of medical minds experienced in the nature and action of drugs and the form of energy they express in the organism. The mixture in the caldron of the witches of Macbeth would be as rational medication as much of the villainous stuff every day taken by the credulous for the cure of disease. In is a gratifying and notable fact that since the introduction of WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA no harmful results have ever been occasioned by its use.

Miss Margaret Traube Ball has received the degree at the Roman University. It is the first time in Rome that a young lady has gone through a thorough scientific course.

A ROYAL VISITOR.

THE PRINCE OF WALES' SON IN HALIFAX.

As news spread through the city shortly after three o'clock on Thursday afternoon that the British corvette, Canada, with the Prince of Wales' middy son, Prince George, on board was entering Halifax, considerable interest was exhibited by the public, and large numbers betook themselves to the different wharves to await her arrival. Below George's Island the Canada fired a greeting salute of fifteen guns to admiral Sir J. E. Commerell, and the latter answered with seven in the stream off H. M. dockyard. It was seven o'clock before the Canada reached her mooring place, and the anchor was dropped, when her commander, Captian Frances Durand, proceeded ashore to report to the Admiral. Prince George's health during the voyage is reported to have been excellent, no complaint being heard from him. He occupies quarters with the others middies, wears uniform of the same description, and performs similar duties. By his kind and quiet manner he has won the love of every member of the crew, by whom he is greeted with exhibitions of pleasure. He is a slender youth, in height about five feet two inches, with light-colored hair and fair complexion. Prince George Fredrick Ernest Albert, as he is named, was born at Marlborough House on 3rd of June, 1865, and consequently has just passed the eighteenth anniversary of his birth. He and is elder brother, Prince Albert Victor, entered the Royal Navy as cadets in June, 1877, and were promoted to midshipmen in January, 1880.

Some One Said.

"One should not knew they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

Regulate all this internal trouble. Regain pure, enjoyable, jubilant health with that grand prescription, ZOPESA. At least try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 31-tf

DOWN IN THE MARKET.

The investors in Canadian cotton mill stock will find sympathetic spirits in another important American industry. Glucose manufacture, which gave such enormous profits for a few months, has become a losing trade. A large number of factories are idle, the output last year being far in excess of the demand, and no small share of the $15,000,000 invested in the trade proving a losing venture. This is the result of the customary overdoing of a new business. Just like cotton.

WASHINTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880.

GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a long time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since, and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated. MRS. MARY STUART. 32-2t

A PERSISTENT FRIEND'S SUCCESS

The following incident will explain the above: "I have suffered from rheumatism during the last winter more than I now can write; it makes me shudder now to think of my pains with every change of the weather. A friend brought me a bottle of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment and insisted on my using it; I did so and am now as well as ever."

A TRUE WITNESS.

Earl Dufferin spoke with grace when he said, in his last banquet speech, "There was not a man in England who did not understand that beyond the narrow seas which confined this island, there were powerful communities proud to own allegiance to Queen Victoria, and which, if only the feelings and just exigencies are duly considered, will never have higher ambition than to continue co-heirs of Englands illustrious career.

Is it Worth the Money.

That's the question. Will it pay to suffer day after day when a twenty-five cent bottle of PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR will give prompt and permanent ease and comfort. Thousands testify it is a good investment, and if you are a sufferer from corns, try it. Sure, safe and painless. Sold by all druggist everywhere. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Proprietor.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters, will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaint quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale by 50c. a bottle at Taylor & McDonald's.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

Horticultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough Horticultural Society will be held in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday, September 13th. It is desired that members will promptly hand in their fees, and that intending exhibitors will begin the preparation of their exhibits and assist in making this next one the most successful exhibition of the society.

French Crystal Photographs

Are the most life-like picture ever produced. As Mr. H. E. Caswell has left town, not intending to return to make any more of these celebrated pictures, Miss L. Cooper takes great pleasure in informing the public of Peterborough that she is now prepared to furnish pictures either on plain card or in the French crystal style. Call and see samples at Esterbrook's. 31-2

Lake Street Separate School.

At a special meeting of the R. C. Separate School Board, held on Monday night, the tenders for the erection of the Lake Street Separate School building were opened, and the contract was awarded to Mr. Patrick J. McNamara. The contract figure is $1,275, the building to be completed by the first of October. The building is on Lake street, just west of George street, and will be 30x50 feet in size with two porches.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

A Fine Cow Lost.

Mr. William Graham, of Smith, was so unfortunate as to lose by death a fine thoroughbred Durham cow, on Sunday, July 29th. A fine two-year old steer died on Monday from the same cause. The cause of death is attributed to a surfeit of clover, as the field where the animals had pastured was covered by a rank growth of clover fostered by the abundant rains of the season. Thus, the tremendous growth of clover this year was in this case too much of a good thing. Mr. Graham advises farmers under similar circumstances to take prompt action in applying the usual remedies for indigestion. The world is coming to a bad pass when brute beasts indulge in intemperance as well as mere men.

Toronto Industrial Exhibition.

The advertisement of this exhibition, popularly known as "Canada's Great Fair" appears in another column. It will take place this year from the 11th to 22nd September. Prize lists will be sent to anyone requiring them by dropping a post card to Mr Hill, the manager at Toronto. All entries must be made on or before the 25th August. The prize for live stock, agricultural and dairy products, and ladies' and children's work, are very liberal, and large prizes are offered for horseback riding and driving by ladies. The special attractions this year will be numerous and of a novel character. Full particulars of all the special features in connection with the great fair will be published in programmes shortly. An electric railway, balloon ascensions by a lady aeronaut and electric lights are among them. Others are being arranged for. Cheap rates and excursions will be granted on all the railways. This will be the best time to visit Toronto, and take in the exhibition at the same time.

Commendable Liberality.

The following pupils from the Separate School, who passed the Entrance Examination, viz.: Patrick J. Murphy, Armand J. Welch, Redmond Henry and J. Joseph Henry, each received a silver medal from R. W. Mancaster, Chairman of the Separate School Board, for successfully passing the examination, and each also received five dollars in gold from the following liberal gentlemen: Messrs. James Dolan, T. Cavanagh, Moses Giroux and Thomas Darcy, in the order named.

Death By Lightning

We learn from the Winnipeg papers of the death of R. B. Mowat, nephew of the Hon. O. Mowat. The deceased young gentleman, formerly in the Bank of Commerce here, was, on the 23rd of July, assisting in the construction of a house on some land he had homesteaded, and he kept at work in the house during a violent thunder storm. A few minutes after having been advised not to continue work, a terrific crash was heard. The thunderbolt had struck the young man fair in the forehead, and death must have been instantaneous, as the axe was grasped in death in the victim's hands. This is the first death that had taken place in the settlement of Chimo.

Lacrosse Tournament.

The Peterborough Lacrosse club has received a letter from the secretary of the Orillia excursion, stating that Orillia will contribute four or five hundred to the excursion, and that Beaverton and other places will send a like number, so that there will likely be a thousand visitors in town on August 16th. The tournament will begin at two o'clock with a game between Beaverton and Campbellford, who will play an hour and a half. Then the match game for the championship, between Orillia and Peterborough, will be played. The band accompanying the excursion will be on the grounds during the play. Admission to grounds 25 cents. Seats for thousands. This will be the biggest lacrosse day the town has ever seen. Don't fail to see the matches.

Sunday School Excursions.

The annual excursion and picnic of the Baptist Sunday School took place to Hastings on Tuesday. There was a good attendance, and a pleasant and successful day's pleasure seeking was passed at Hastings. The party returned at eight o'clock, Conductor Morris, as usual, bringing every one safe home.

The annual excursion of the Charlotte Street Methodist Sunday School was held at "The Summit" on Tuesday. The train left town at 9.30 and returned at 5.30. The attendance was largely composed of children and youngsters, and the party was of course proportionately jolly. Some of the older children too enjoyed themselves immensely. A very pleasant day's outing was spent by all who attended.

For new shapes in ladies' Linen Collars, go to Turnbull's.

The Belleville Excursion.

The excursion train from Belleville last Friday brought about six hundred of our neighbours to town, where they enjoyed themselves in various ways. There was a singular unanimity in the matter of dinner, however, and also, so impressed were the visitors with a first view of the town, that every livery stable was soon emptied to allow the visitors to see more of it. A member of the largest business firm in Belleville, in conversation with our reporter, said, in speaking of the business and buildings of Peterborough, "You're a long way ahead of us, anyway." The day was a fine, though rather too breezy one, and we only hope that the visitors enjoyed their visit to the town as much as the town enjoyed extending its hospitality to them. The excursion party was, for a promiscuous assemblage, a well conducted one, in all respects.

Promenade Concert.

The grand promenade concert to be given by the Fire Brigade Band on Monday evening next will be a grand opportunity for the public to return, in a substantial manner, the many favours which the latter have freely enjoyed from a musical organization that has always liberally, and on all occasions, entertained the public with first-class music. Now that the Band, for the credit of the town, is to make an endeavour to take first honors at the Chatham band tournament, and merely ask the public to assist in defraying their expenses, which will be over $300, it is only reasonable that they should expect that the public should heartily recognize past favours. A bumper house on Monday night will have a double effect. It will relieve the boys of the individual burden of an expensive trip, and will encourage them by the feeling that the citizens of Peterborough sympathise with their efforts, and pray for their success. The tickets are placed at a low figure, 15 cents, or lady and gentlemen 25 cents, and there is no reason why the Drill Shed should not be crowded. Give the boys a good send-off.

Outside Opinion.

The Belleville Ontario, in speaking of the excursion from Belleville to this town last Friday, thus kindly compliments Peterborough:

"Those who visited Peterborough for the first time were agreeably surprised at the size, location and general appearance of the coming city. There are evidences of taste enterprise and prosperity on every hand. Many of the public and private buildings would be a credit to more pretentious places. The site is a commanding one, and the surrounding country, though quite hilly, is productive and well cultivated. A casual visitor cannot help observing that the Midland Railway is a potent factor in the prosperity of Peterborough. Its stations and attendant warehouses, &c., make up a considerable part of the thriving town, and there appears to be a determination on the part of the management to make every advantage bear good fruit. The places of business—stores, banks, hotels, &c., are generally large, well appointed and tastefully dressed. Peterborough has three good newspapers. THE EXAMINER, a model of typographical neatness and admirably conducted, does yeoman service for the Reform party in that section. The Review—daily and weekly—is an ably-conducted, well-printed paper, equally as zealous as its local confrere in promoting the Conservative cause. The Times takes an independent stand, and all three seem to be liberally supported."

Another fresh lot of Prints at Turnbull's. Call and see them.

Summer Series of Big Eggs.

An enthusiastic breeder of Plymouth Rock fowls has left with us a dozen of monster eggs, averaging 6¾ inches and 7¾ inches in circumference. These eggs are not the result of a phenomenal splurge, but are ordinary samples of the eggs produced regularly, under a season's engagement by these ambitious birds.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic returns of the Midland Railway of Canada for the week ending July 14th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $11,047.73; freight, $12,197.01; total, $23,244.74, as compared with $2,116.57 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of 1,128.17; and the aggregate traffic to date is $543,780.61, being an increase of $18,859.23 over 1882.

Private School.

A private school for boys conducted by the Rev. E. C. Wilson and the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, will open at Ashburnham on the 13th Sept. Boarding and day pupils received at moderate rates. Thorough instruction given in all departments. French and German a specialty. Advantageous arrangements offered for evening pupils. For prospectus, etc., apply to the Rev. E. C. Wilson, Peterborough. 32-6t.

Excursion to Stony Lake.

There will be an excursion to the canoe camp, Stony Lake, on the Civic Holiday. Trains to leave in the morning at 7 o'clock, returning at 8.30 in the evening. The steamers "Cruiser" and "Fairy" have both been chartered (accompanied by palace scows) and on the arrival of the train, will leave for Eagle Mount, adjoining the A. C. A. camp, giving a stay of about five hours at Eagle Mount. This will be a most delightful trip, Fare for the Round trip $1.00. It will be observed that the number of tickets sold is limited to 500.

Itching for Notoriety.

Some men must have notoriety, if they have to commit murder for it. Guitteau killed a president to get talked about. Mr. C. W. Sawers, the accidental member of the Town Council for No. 2 Ward, in a communication to the Review, declares the EXAMINER'S comments on his misconduct in the Town Council "gross and untruthful" in their nature. We repeat that our comments were founded on fact, as shown by the members of the Council, Mayor and all, rising in a disgusted body; one of the members remarking: "I was willing to hear the fellow out, but when he refuses to obey the commands of the Mayor it is time to cut him short." The EXAMINER is not, as Mr. Sawers charges, trying to "shield" any Councillor. On the contrary, it holds that Mr. Sawers is not doing wrong in seeking the investigation into the finances he has proposed. If there is anything "crooked" let it be exposed. All the EXAMINER objects to is the outrageously indecent and boorish manner in which the matters complained of are presented to the Council. We believe that any other member of the Council could procure the passage of any motion of the myriads Mr. Sawers has had voted down; but he wouldn't begin by abusing the Council, individually and collectively, and end by having the mover and not the motion voted down.

GEORGE STREET.

CONFIDENTIAL.

Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBEBIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.

Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $1 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

MOIRA HALL "HOME."

A Peterborough Branch of Dr. Barnardo's Homes.

Commendable Munificence—The Gift of Moira Hall—A Home for destitute and Orphaned Girls—Dr. Barnardo's Homes—The Peterborough Branch.

It should be a proud boast for Peterborough that the town is the second place in Ontario to establish a branch of the phalanthropic Dr. Barnardo's homes for destitute, orphaned and homeless children. These homes have their head in London, England, and are one of the grandest expositions of the divine principle of charity, both in aim and attainment in the world.

London may fitly be called the

CITY OF SUPERLATIVES

It is at once the most magnificent and most miserable. Its environments close in the most solid comfort and the most melancholy misery; the utmost splendor and the utmost squalor; the widest wealth and the most pinching want; the most stately opulence and the most grovelling poverty; the highest rank and the deepest degradation. While London possesses the greatest amount of human misery, want and wickedness, her charitable and Christianizing organizations are unequalled in any Christian land. Of these are the greatest because they strike at the root of the evil, and by rescuing the young from the ways of sin, shame and suffering, they attack the apprenticeship to evil, and transform embryo criminals and paupers into honest and self-sustaining citizens. The aim and work of these homes, at least those of interest to the present purpose, are to furnish preventive means for the rescue, education and training of destitute and orphan children, whose utter hopelessness in their unaided condition is beyond calculation. For the reclamation of the children of poverty and crime there are several homes.

DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES

THE BOY'S HOME

is in Stepney Causeway, and has accommodations for 400 boys, rescued from gutters dens and dives on the brink of crime; it educates, christianizes and trains them to be put in places of usefulness. "By day and night, in all weathers, low lodging houses, narrow courts, noisesome alleys, the docks, empty carts, unsued packing cases are searched, and out of them are taken scores of young vagrants, so pathetically described as 'Nobody's children.'"

THE VILLAGE HOME FOR GIRLS

is at Barking Side, Ilford, Essex. This is for girls rescued from scenes of shame and the most degrading associations, which, if continued, ensure a future such as fancy shudders to suggest. In these homes, which consist of thirty cottages, each a complete domestic establishment, the girls are educated and trained for lives of usefulness as domestic servants or for adoption by childless parents.

It is a branch of the latter institution, which through the liberality of Geo. A. Cox, Esq., is ESTABLISHED IN PETERBOROUGH.

During the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Cox to England last summer they, and especially Mrs. Cox, were saddened by sights of the wretched children of the cities, and, pity developing into practice, Mr. Cox put himself in communication with Rev. Mr. Fielder, in charge of the Boys' established in Toronto, and the result was that that beautiful home, Moira Hall, built for the abode of comfort and luxury, is devoted to be the home of the otherwise homeless and destitute. To give an idea of what is implied in Mr. Cox's munificent present, it may be stated that Moira Hall was purchased by him a little over a year ago at a cost of $11,000; and the building is to be enlarged and altered to meet the requirements of its new use, at Mr. Cox's expense. Here destitute and parentless female children will be taken in, educated and trained for domestic servants. In addition to changes and additions to fit it for its destined purpose, the salary and maintenance of a matron accompany the gift of Moira Hall, and Miss Millie Sanderson has been sent to London to fit herself for the position of matron of the institution. She will return in early spring with a band of girls, the first inmates of

MOIRA HALL HOME.

One feature of this home, which shows the broad basis on which the institution rests, is its strict undenominationalism. It is proposed to form a committee of ladies, to be taken from the several churches, to constitute an advisory board, and to supplement by solicitation and other means, the parent Home fund, which, with Canadian contributions will form its support.

It is not difficult to predict that Canadian contributions will be liberal, for the Home will be for the reception of our own orphaned and destitute girls as well as those of the mother land. The utilitarian aspect of the Home will commend itself to public approval, for it will not only eliminate an element of evil from society, but also supply a want, that of well-trained domestic servants, which is daily becoming more urgent. The public can hardly avoid aiding liberally the funds of the Home, in view of Mr. Cox's generous gift. His is the sort of liberality that commends itself to our common sense. There is little merit in a greedy millionaire hoarding up his wealth during his lifetime and then, at death, when he has no further use for his musty millions, giving them, like a cast-off garment, to the poor; but the man who, in the middle course of a business career, makes pecuniary sacrifices for the sake of humanity, acts in accordance with his convictions of duty and and conforms in practice to the spirit of generous Christian beneficence.

THE STONY LAKE MEET

NOTES FROM THE CANOE CONGRESS.

A Large Attendance—Juniper Island a busy Scene of Life—Canuck and Yankee Fraternizing—A Great Gathering of Prime Paddlers.

Juniper Island on Stony Lake erstwhile a wild solitude, is now the gay scene of animated jollity and enjoyment. The camp opened on Friday morning, August 10th, with the encouraging muster of twenty-four members of the association present. These included some of our Yankee cousins. Of course the first day or two was devoted to "settling," though some enthusiastic Waltonites settled down to fishing and some fine takes were made. Among these was an 18½ lb maskinonge, and a young lady by gaffing a 14 lb. monster.

COVERED HERSELF WITH GLORY

Saturday morning witnessed fresh arrivals. There arrived by the boat Commodore Neilson and five companions from Toronto, some from Ottawa, some nearer points, but the Knickerbocker Club of New York to the number of seven, who had come through in a special car, were delayed by saw logs at Youngs' Point, and did not reach camp till Sunday morning, when they were enthusiastically welcomed.

This brought the second day's muster roll up to about forty, and day by day the number was added to. For the first day or two forming and renewing acquaintances, both personally and with the unique points of the canoes and their outfits, brought by our ingenious American neighbors was the order of the hour. The fraternization of the two nationalities represented is complete. The members are on the most cordial terms, and the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes flaunt amicably in each others faces, and flap to the refreshing breezes eloquent homilies of peace and concord. The visitors were of the camp.

Dr. C. A. Neide, secretary of the Association, reached camp on the first day with his Rob Roy canoe, in which, since the last meeting (at Lake George) he has completed a cruise of 3,800 miles. He was accompanied by his brother, Rev. Dr. Neide, and the father of both arrived on Saturday. Lieut Col. Kensington, of the Royal Millitary College, Kingston, made his appearance in an which is an object of general observation amonst its more stylish and nobby modern companion crafts.

Mr. W. O. Ross, of New York, made his welcome bow at the camp also on the first day. Mr. Ross, formerly of Toronto, is the veteran, and one may say the champion lacrosse player of the Dominion, who has distinguished himself on many a hard fought field.

REMEMBERING THE DAY.

The Sabbath day was not forgotten. At three o'clock divine service was held at the central camp. Rev. R. H. Neide, Rector of Canajoharie, N.Y., conducted the services, the impressive and beautiful ritual of the Episcopal Church losing nothing of its solemnity and comfort, if wall and roof, stained glass, carpeted aisle and cushioned pew did not echo its comforting assurances. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. C. French, D.D., Presbyterian, of Jersey City, and it was an earnest and eloquent one, and received the closest attention of the sylvan congregation. The singing, which was a delightful feature of the service, was lead by Mrs. Captain Andrews and Mrs. R. Morrison of Toronto.

The local members of the Committe of Management are most energetic and assiduous in doing the hospitalities, especially the Commodore, Capt. Edwards, who is indefatigable. Those who have arrived speak in the highest terms of the kindness shown them en route, the American members, especially commending the attentive courtsey received on the Norseman from captain to deck hand, and the officials and employees of the Midland Railway were equally obliging.

Visitors are constantly pouring in, including American canoeists from Maine to Colorado, and on Tuesday there were as many as 150 permanent campers on Juniper and neighboring islands, and the number will be added to as business men find time to seek the camp. The meet so far promises to be the most successful in the history of the Association.

Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 16, 1883.

General Booth's Difficulties.

In an editorial some month's since we pointed out the position of that peculiar organization known as the Salvation Army, alluding, among other things, to the financial difficulties and embarrassments with which its originator and chief leader was beset. Recently, it appears, the pecuniary troubles have become more serious, and the treasurer, "General" Booth, as he chooses to call himself, is in a very sea of difficulty, chiefly through the acquisition of the Eagle Tavern and Grecian Theatre for Army purposes. At the time these properties were secured, it was understood they were to be used for religious purposes only. Mr. Booth himself then wrote that the "premises would be transformed into a house of mercy for the multitude of poor souls which have been hitherto ensnared and ruined amid the fascinating scenes of ungodliness which have been witnessed there." The prospect, indeed, was so attractive, converting thus a stronghold of Satan into a fort of Christ, that many who objected to the ordinary methods of the Salvation Army, gladly gave unqualified approval to this particular plan, and offered more substantial and material assistance to Mr. Booth's appeal for funds. The late Archbishop Tait even went so far as to give a quasi approval of the project and sent the promoter £5, together with an encouraging letter. There can be no doubt now, that, had he known the entire circumstances of the case, Mr. Booth's proceedings would not have been sanctioned by such a wise and practical prelate of the Church, and the subscription list would not have shown such a handsome total.

Mr. Booth seems, in the pursuit of his religious craze, to have altogether lost sight of morality. He has distinctly disregarded the conditions of the lease under which the Eagle Tavern was secured, and he has also given his intentions in doing this a false, colouring by a misleading affidavit in a court of justice. The lease, which does not expire until 1898, has a clause that the building shall be used as an inn, tavern or public house, and that nothing shall be done to afford a just or reasonable ground for withdrawing the license for the sale of beer, ale, wine and spirituous liquors. Doubtless this was inserted to secure the property from pecuniary deterioration. Mr. Booth, at any rate, as a sub-lessee, knew these conditions. He was well aware that were he to carry out his intentions, holding such lease, he was liable to damages. He could not possibly, with his object of holding religious services, or even for providing a place for rational recreation or amusement, keep to the letter of the contract. Nay, he distinctly and unquestionably broke its conditions knowingly. And when it was sought to restrain him by obtaining an injunction, Mr. Booth defended himself by an affidavit, which made it appear that, having discovered the obnoxious clause, he would sub-let the premises to brewers.

Instead of doing this, however, he went on to utilise it himself, just as he had proposed. The army held their peculiar meetings. Processions and riots became frequent. The skeleton army met Booth's followers in battle array. Skirmishes took place near the Tavern and within its precincts. The neighbours, of course, suffered heavy inconvenience and annoyance. The noise and tumult were naturally very unpleasant to all in the locality, and it was little wonder that complaints were loud and frequent. At last, by slow legal process, Mr. Booth has been, as our readers will admit, righteously defeated, and his lease is judged forfeited. As he paid over $80,000 for the lease only a year ago, and has since expended on the premises about $12,000, to adapt it for the meetings, his loss, it will be seen is no light matter. Yet, he is too shrewd and clever a business man to plead ignorance, or to be excused for his Jesuitical conduct in the matter. He was dishonest and untruthful, and his specious defence shows, what has often been illustrated before, that religious enthusiasm is not always restrained by moral obligations.

There is little doubt but this disingenuous and unfair proceeding on the part of Mr. Booth, when coupled with the other drawbacks to which we have referred before, will seriously affect the Army and its work, and will help to hasten its downfall as a useful method of doing good. Already, indeed, there are numerous signs proving that as a religious movement the Army has seen its best days. If it engenders the particularly evil sort of character among its adherents, which the above proceedings show its leader possesses and indeed encourages, the collapse of the Army need not be regretted.

School Reading Books.

We have received from the Education Department a circular announcing to school boards, inspectors and teachers, that the Minister of Education having learned of general dissatisfaction with the present Canadian series of reading books, has under consideration proposals for the introduction of other series. The Lieut.-Governor in Council has sanctioned the use, after the first of August next, of the Royal Readers, published by Messrs. Thomas Nelson & Son, Edinburg, and James Campbell & Son, and books I., II., III. and V. of the Canadian series, published by Messrs. W. J. Gage & Son; book IV. of the latter series is undergoing some slight changes, and is to be submitted for approval when complete. The Central Committee of Examiners, to whom the readers were referred, report that "in literary excellence the series of Nelson and Campbell & Son stands first," and that the earlier books of Gage's series have the "advantage of greater simplicity." The Government authorized two series for the very good reason that the authorization of one series would place the public at the tender mercies of a monopoly, which, by warrant of Scripture, are "cruel." The Government has also arranged that the mechanical execution of the books authorized shall be kept up to a high standard. Another wise caution is the regulation that any particular series shall be introduced by the teacher only on the order of the board of trustees, and not otherwise, and that no change from the series thus adopted shall be made without notice of, at least, eighteen months being given in the manner to be prescribed by the Minister of Education.

Following is a schedule of the retail prices of the respective series authorized:

	Royal Readers.	Canadian Readers.
First Book, Part I.	$0 05	$0 05
First Book, Part II.	0 10	0 10
Second Book	0 30	0 25
Third Book	0 45	0 40
Fourth Book	0 60	0 50
Fifth Book	0 75	0 60
Total cost of series	$2 25	$1 91

The two series will remain under official authorization till August 1st, 1885.

The selection by school boards of one of the two series is a matter of great difficulty and responsibility, and there should be no merely perfunctory examination of the respective merits and defects of the two series, for, of course, each series possesses both. Both, too, have many warm friends and advocates. The school board of Peterborough has made a judicious selection of well-qualified persons to perform the delicate and important duty of arriving at a decision in the matter. The Committee consists of the Chairman of the Board, the Inspector and the Committee on School Supervision, and we are sure that the matter will be dealt with purely on its merits, and that the respective representations of the interested publishers will be accepted with the due grain of salt, requisite to insure an unbiased decision being arrived at on so important a matter.

Editorial Notes.

The Winnipeg Sun is by no means a "Grit" Journal, and this is the way it speaks the truth respecting the blundering and criminal land policy of the Dominion Government, in the great north-west. "It has been afflicted with mismanagement and misgovernment of its affairs sufficient to have ruined it, if it had not possessed an unusually stiff backbone. The reaction from a speculative excitement is but a temporary evil, while the results of a disastrous governmental policy are far reaching, if not permanent. Had settlement been duly encouraged, homesteading been made easy, the colonization folly avoided, and the spirit of greed and monopoly kept down, the reaction that naturally follows a boom would have been felt far less severely."

The London Advertiser contends that Sir Charles Tupper as a member of Parliament, in accepting an office of emolument under the Crown—the High Commissionership—forfeited his seat. Presumptive evidence of the fact that he does receive more than his $7,000 salary as a Minister is offered by the assertion of Sir A. T. Galt, that if he (Sir A. T.) was unable to keep up the position on $10,000 a year, Sir Charles can't do it on his ministerial salary of $7,000. Therefore Sir Charles must receive some emolument that brings his case within scope of the independence of Parliament statute. Besides a Maritime province journal asserts that Sir Charles Tupper's seat is to be declared vacant, and that an election will be held for the constituency of Cumberland. Hence, exit Sir Charles. Thus has "vaulting ambition o'erleaped itself and fallen (in an exceedingly soft spot, upholstered with $10,000 a year) "on the other side" (of the Atlantic). Sir John has a neat way of sweeping from his path all that dare presume to the position he occupies as arbiter of the destinies of the Tory party in Canada. Sir Charles is safely shelved in a snug sinecure, and the Chieftain now reigns without a rival.

The Regina Leader editor, by one of Sir John Macdonald's devoted adherents, and not likely to make matters out as bad as they really are, says of the district around the capital of Assiniboia:

"Instead of to-day having a contented, happy, and well-to-do number of settlers breaking up their lands, stocking their farms, and thus assisting to build up these points, they contain the finest class of settlers in the whole Northwest, but who are disgusted with their prospects, broken-spirited, and purged of every atom of energy by the uncertainty in which they have been torturingly kept."

The same is true to other districts. A correspondent of the Globe says of the Turtle Mountain region, that many of the finest young men who found their way there have left for the U. S., and that the men who have remained, were so discouraged, that the quantity of land put in crop is not nearly so large as it would have been had they been stimulated by better treatment, It is useless denying that settlers, instead of being taken by the hand, and helped to find and make comfortable homes, have had every kind of obstacle thrown in their way. Their lands are costing them twice or three times as much in many cases. Their implements are taxed to the tune of 35 per cent. Either no railway is constructed to enable them to send their products to market, or, if they have access to one, the absurd policy which demands that the road shall pay from the word "go" makes freights so high as to be a most oppressive tax on every bushel of grain, and on every pound of goods.

LINDSAY'S CENTRAL FAIR.

Our own agricultural fair officials can take a lesson in energy and wide-awakeness from Lindsay. The Post has the following in reference to the attempt to organize a Central Fair:

The communication sent by the directors of the South Victoria agricultural society to the town council has met with a generous and hearty response. The directors asked that the council should make a grant of $200 towards the guarantee fund. Moreover, in addition to the grant of $200 the society have raised by private subscription over $300. Most of the sister societies have engaged to contribute sums of $50 and upwards, and the sum of $1,000 needed to back up the prize list can be estimated as assured. The prospects of a large and interesting exhibition are very bright, and a week or two more will see see matters fairly under way. Reeve Deacon and Dep.-reeve McLennan were appointed by the council to act with the directors of the society in the matter of expenditure, as far as may prove necessary, of the guarantee fund. With fair weather it is hoped that the gate receipts will be so large that it will not be necessary to draw on the fund at all.

Huckleberries are not very plentiful.

Fly fishing around Bob is "fly" and visitors are enjoying good sport.

Kennedy's saw mill took fire a few nights ago, but the fire was put out by the mill hands.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Campbellford also has her civic holiday on the 15th.

Another attempt is to be made to organize a lodge of Oddfellows in this village.

Duck shooting—breaking the game law—is common around Campbellford.

Coal is now used for fuel in the Trent Valley Woolen Mills.

COBOURG.

The apple crop will be light in this vicinity.

Thos. Hoskins shows a head of bearded wheat with over 200 grains in it. The Sentinel-Star does not know the name of the variety.

Cobourg people dislike to patronize the skating rink for theatricals—it's too far from a hotel—too long a time and too long a distance between drinks.

The military camp will begin at Cobourg on the 18th prox., and about 2,500 men will be included in the ranks.

PORT HOPE.

On Saturday morning burglars relieved Mr. C. Quinlan of $300 worth of silver.

Mr. N. Hocken's pony "Punch" was killed on the railway track the other day. The pony cost £400 in England.

Mr. R. Paterson, mechanical foreman of the Midland Railway shops, goes to Montreal as locomotive foreman of the G.T.R.

It is said by those capable of judging that vessels can be loaded with lumber at this port quicker by several hours than at any other port of the chain of lakes.

Seven convicts passed through here on their way to the Central Prison in Toronto, on Thursday morning last, from Cobourg. Port Hope supplied two of the number.

LINDSAY.

Lindsay is to have a "dog by-law."

Lindsay has her civic holiday also on the 15th.

Sam McHugh, of Ops, defeated Hallinday, of Lindsay, at wrestling on Tuesday evening of last week.

Lindsay has only expended $2.75 this year municipally on the health of its citizens. A more valuable class of villagers might warrant a larger expenditure.

The Post says it takes eight gas burners to light up the Council Chamber. Peterborough has a like number, but sometimes it would be more for the credit of the town if the deeds were done in darkness.

The Salvation Army are still holding services nightly in town. On Sunday seven services were held; at 7 a.m., at 10.30 outside: at 11 inside; at 2.30 p.m. outside; at 3 p.m., inside; at 7 outside and 7.30 inside, the latter service continuing until very late. Bell's hall has been engaged for the next five weeks and the hall is found to be two small to accommodate all seeking admission. If a larger room could be procured it would be at once engaged.

Did She Die?

"No; she lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years, the doctors doing her no good; and at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about. Indeed! Indeed! how thankful we should be for that medicine."

SCHOOL OFFICERS BEWARE.

The following circular has been addressed to school officers in regard to the recently authorized school books:—

GENTLEMEN,—Representations having been made to the Department that certain inspectors and teachers are acting as agents in promoting the sale of school readers recently authorized by the Department, I am directed to call the attention of all teachers, trustees, inspectors and other persons officially connected with the Education Department, the Normal, Model, public or high schools or collegiate institutes, to the provisions of section 227 of the Public Schools Act, which are as follows:—

"No teacher, trustee, inspector or "other person officially connected with "the Education Department, the Nor"mal, Model, public or high schools or "collegiate institutes, shall become or "act as an agent for any person or per"sons to sell, or in any to promote the "sale for such person or persons, of any "school, library, prize or text-book, "map, chart, school apparatus, furniture "or stationery, or to receive compensa"tion or other remunerarion or equiva"lent for such sale or for the promotion "of sale in any way whatsoever."

I am to add that the Department will take notice of the violation of the above section by any inspector, teacher, or other official embraced within its provisions.

Your obedient servant,
ALEX. MARLING,
Secretary.

Education Department, Toronto, 4th August, 1883.

PARALLEL CASE

"The contention of the London Advertiser, in respect to the effect of the boundary award, it based upon the assumption that the Ministry of the day can constitutionally bind Parliament, without its assent, to any agreement such Government may make with a third party in reference to the disposal of the public domain. Such a principle is inimical to Parliamentary government and authority. That may do for Grit doctrine, but it is not consistent with Parliamentary Government to give any Ministry absolute irresponsible power to dispose of the sovereign territorial rights of this Dominion."—Brantford Telegram.

What the Telegram says is inimical to Parliamentary government and authority is precisely what Sir John did in giving the Pacific Railway contract to the Syndicate. He made the contract outside the House, no one knew its provisions, and when the House met he said it had to be ratified, as the honor of the Government was pledged to it.

THE LEGREE OF HORSES.

Everybody remembers the infamous slave owner Legree, in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," who beat his slave to death. Unfortunately the same stamp of man is found everywhere on this continent, although in the place of negroes they have the more helpless horse. When the poor animal is doing his utmost but is prevented from exertion by lameness, sore shoulders or other causes, the lash is resorted to. If a different plan was adopted and Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment applied to the unsound part, the same horse would be able to do twice the work.

Some One Said.

"One should not know they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

Regulate all this internal trouble. Regain pure, enjoyable, jubilant health with that grand prescription, ZOPESA. At least try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 31-tf

WASHINTON, D. C., May 15th, 1880.

GENTLEMEN—Having been a sufferer for a long time from nervous prostration and general debility, I was advised to try Hop Bitters. I have taken one bottle, and I have been rapidly getting better ever since, and I think it the best medicine I ever used. I am now gaining strength and appetite, which was all gone, and I was in despair until I tried your Bitters. I am now well, able to go about and do my own work. Before taking it, I was completely prostrated. MRS. MARY STUART. 32-2t

Increased strength created by the use of alcohol, strychnine, opium, chloral or any form of stimulant or narcotic, is simply wasted energy, as overdriving the heart and nervous system augments the consumption of those tissue elements that generate vital force, and inevitably reaction must follow. The brightening of the faculties and buoyancy of feeling induced by WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA is not from stimulation, but a physiological result of promoting digestion and securing the nutrition of the nerve ganglia.

ROANTREE'S GRIST MILLS, NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

PETEBBOROUGH, AUG. 16, 1883.

The Algoma District Election.

Last Friday the writs for the holding of the election for the Algoma District were signed by the Lieut.-Governor. Nomination day will be Friday, September 7th, and the constituency being so widely scattered the polling will not take place till September 27th, three weeks later. The candidates have been in the field for some time, so that ample time will be given for making all necessary arrangements. The candidates are, in the Reform interest, Mr. R. A. Lyon, who has represented the constituency satisfactorily since 1878. In that time he has learned by practical experience the wants of the District, and will for that reason, apart from his other qualifications, efficiently represent it in the Ontario Legislature. The Tory candidate is Mr. Plummer, of Sault Ste. Marie, who is pledged to oppose the Mowat Administration, "tooth and nail." Of course he is merely the tool of the Ottawa Government centralization clique. He will, of course, consult the interests of Algoma by dismembering it and handing over half of it to Manitoba. Ontario wants no legislators who, in obedience to political wire-pullers, will vote for the dismemberment of the Province. The Tory party labour under the hallucination that the loss of Algoma to the Government will place the Tories in power. It is doubtless the determintion to carry Algoma a la Muskoka, that has sent up J. J. McDonald, of Manning, Shields & McDonald, to Rat Portage with $40,000 of the Ottawa corruption fund, to be used in persuading the Algomese in the coming contest. But the loss of Algoma will only mean another triumph for political corruption. The Mowat Government have a sufficient majority to keep them in power for another term. Money may do almost anything, but it has failed to corrupt and Toryize Ontario.

Muskoka Election Petition.

The trial of the Muskoka election petition is set down for August 24th. An application to postpone the trial was heard in Toronto. The postponement was asked for on the grounds of the absence of Messrs. H. H. Smith, of this town, general agent for the Tory party in both local and Dominion elections, Rod. Pringle, of Cobourg, an unscrupulously valuable electioneering agent, and John Shields, of Section B. notoriety and malodour. These are considered important witnesses whose testimony would vitally affect the result of the trial of the petition. Judge Patterson, however, decided that the trial of those cases in which these gentlemen were not implicated go on, on the 24th, and it will probably be a long and tedious one. There are over two hundred charges of corrupt practices, and over two hundred votes objected to in the particulars already delivered; besides there are hundreds to follow, and it will, in all probability, be far into the mild September before the case is disposed of, and perhaps longer. The witnesses above named are important ones, and the merits of the matter cannot be dealt with without having them on the witness stand. We all know here how deep an interest all of the parties took in the Muskoka contest, and their prolonged absence indicates that they are absent in the Old Country from some other motive than mere pleasure-seeking. The sudden and uncontrollable desire of Messrs. H. H. Smith and R. R. Pringle to see the Old Country simultaneously with the election trials is certainly suspicious. They must have been aware that they would be called as witnesses, and it was very inconsiderate in them to flit and deprive the public of the deluge of light they could throw on the way in which Muskoka was won. The public generally believe that had the Muskoka election not been petitioned against, Mayor Smith and Rod. Pringle would not have felt so sudden a necessity to make a foreign tour. But there are other local wire-pullers that know something about the Muskoka contest, and it appears that the Government at Ottawa was not deeply enough impressed with their knowledge of the relation of bullocks to ballots, to warrant them in paying the expense of a journey by them to Europe. They will very likely be on hand at the time of the trial, and their developments will be awaited with interest.

Sectional Jealousy.

In a recent issue of the Winnipeg Times the following is found:—

"The North-West cares very little for Ontario, which assumes that all the other partners in the Confederation owe her a debt. We hope for nothing from and care nothing for the friendship of Ontario. Our interests are not Ontario's. Her mission appears to be to secure our trade through the agency of enormous duties, and she may succeed for a while; but 'it is yet early in the dawn.' The North-West is loyal to the Federal authority, but neither the North-West nor any other section of the Dominion appeares to be enamored of Ontario. The reason probably is that her press and public men are in the habit of treating the smaller provinces as poor relations of doubtful honesty."

In commenting on this the Toronto Evening Canadian says that this language is "unjust though not unprovoked" and intimates that it is due to the appeals to sectional passion of some Ontario journalists and politicians. Just who or what journals and politicians our contemporary alludes to, is not specified, but if allusion is made to the mass of Tory newspapers and Tory politicians, the implied accusation is not without force. It is they who have stirred up sectional passion by condoning and assisting the dominant party of the Province of Quebec, in stirring up the most bitter sectional feelings. They have listened to the demands of the Bleus of our sister province, and in compliance with those demands, they have joined in a scheme to deprive Ontario of her territorial rights. Whatever sectional jealousy exists between Ontario and Quebec the Tory party is largely responsible for. Had they, as citizens of this province, firmly resented Quebec's insolent demand respecting the recognition of Ontario's claim to the "Disputed" Territory, the demand would not have been pressed, and the shameful condition of one province exhibiting a jealous animus against another would never have existed in a decided form. But to gain a political advantage the Tory party, as represented by Sir John Macdonald, traitorously assented to the dictation of Quebec, and refused assent to the confirmation of the boundary award. Again, the Tory party as represented by Sir John, introduced Manitoba as a disturbing element in the boundary question, and has been inciting that Province to active interference in a matter that concerns only this province. The jealous and hostile spirit indicated by the remarks of the Winnipeg Times, quoted above, has been fostered by the direct encouragement of Sir John Macdonald and his party. If such language, as the Canadian says, "has not been uprovoked," the Tory party and press are responsible for the provocation.

Ontario has not at any time shown a hostile spirit towards the lesser provinces, nor have the press and public men of either party "treated the smaller provinces as poor relations of doubtful character." Ontario has simply stood up manfully for her rights as constitutionally granted, and if struggling for self-preservation is exhibiting hostility to the other provinces, the Times is welcome to all the capital it can make out of the assumption. This province knows what her rights are, and is bound to maintain them, and the other provinces that seek by unwarrantable interference to break the entente cordiale of the members of the Confederation, are responsible for whatever consequences may ensue.

Editorial Notes.

The Welland Tribune thus opens the battle cry: "Norquay must go."

The total debt of the United States on the 1st of August amounted to $18,949,620 which included $9,854,578 interest.

Mousseau's ideas of economy in government expenditure is to cut off the grants to public institutions. It would be a nice way for a householder to economise by cutting off his children's supplay of food and clothing.

The Winnipeg Sun, a thoroughly independent journal, asserts most emphatically that the vast majority of the citizens of Rat Portage are in favor of recognizing the authority of Ontario. They "know which side of their bread is buttered."

The Mail's despatches in reference to the Rat Portage matter have mendacity on the face of them, but when it is known that they are sent by Mr. Section B. Shields, the public will cease to suspect that Ananias had revived and received a situation of special correspondent of the Mail for Rat Portage.

The Lindsay Warder bears valuable testimony to the potent effect of the N. P. in maintaining manufacturing industries and keeping up workmen's wages, when it states that the Lindsay paper mills have shut down, and that it is proposed to pay off the workingmen whom the N.P. was to furnish permanent employment and the highest wages, at the rate of fifty cents on the dollar. The Warder is a hide bound Tory in politics, too.

Twice, says the Guelph Mercury, the electors of Prince Edward Island have declared their want of confidence in the Local Conservative Government by defeating its candidates, and now there is a vacancy in the Cabinet of long standing which they are unable to fill through fear of another defeat.

The Methodist Conference of Manitoba has voted unanimously in favor of Methodist Union. All the Conferences have voted in favor of it except the London Conference. The General Conference of the Methodist Church meets in Belleville shortly, and there is little doubt of them voting far Union, in which case deputations from other Methodist bodies will be admitted, and the details of actual and organic Methodist Union will, in all probability be arranged.

The Review is getting rebellious in its latter days, and the party will soon have to think of disciplining the recaltricant sheet. It is continually running foul of its party. It even had the hardihood to lecture the Mail on morality, and now it runs against Messrs. Burnham and Strickland—by no means the least of the Tory party—respecting the registry office question. These gentlemen at the last meeting of the County Council moved, and the Council carried unanimously a resolution earnestly beseeching the Mowat Government not to make an appointment this year, on the ground that delay would be in the interest of the county. Yet in spite of this snub from its party leaders, the Review keeps hammering away at the question. In a recent issue there appeared a half column on the subject, whose flippant flap-doodleism would indicate the feeling on the part of the editor that the possession of money renders the use of brains unnecessary. The Review has not said and cannot say that the interests of the county have suffered one iota from the delay in making the appointment, and, as our cotem. has no proprietary interest in a party point of view, in 'the funeral,' a little judicious reticence would be becoming. Let our cotem. possess his soul in patience, and if he must hold forth in homilies on the sin of political procrastination, let him soundly lecture Sir John on the sinfulness of keeping the Napanee customs collectorship dangling before the faithful of Lennox. A snub from the chieftain would surely follow, but the Review's ambition recently is to court snubs from the prominent men of its party, and it would be happy to be kicked by the illustrious knight.

To Get Rid of Insects.

The Scientific American says that the vapor of tobacco juice has been tested in France as an insecticide in green houses with great success. Instead of burning or smoking the tobacco, it is made into an extract by soaking or boiling, and the juice is then placed over a chafing dish, a a fire, or the flame of an ordinary lamp, and deposited in the greenhouse or conservatory. Delicate plants which are very sensitive to smoke, are not injured by this vapor, and it leaves no offensive atmosphere, while it effectually disposes of thrips, lice, scale insects, and slugs. One quart of tobacco juice, vaporized in a house containing 350 cubic feet, is an ample amount.

Luther left three sons, and it has often been said that the male line was extinguished early in that century. But the report is confirmed that there are at Cloister Allendorf, on the Werr, in Meiningen, two brothers, Heinrich and Carl Luther, who can prove descent from the great reformer, by a genealogical tree, which has been deposited for safety with a Leipsic insurance company. Heinrich, the elder, is a journeyman carpenter, while Carl is studying theology. Their mother is said to have been the daughter of a high official at Berlin. Their father was working at his trade as a mason, in the capital, when the girl fell madly in love with him, as much through enthusiastic admiration of all that related to Martin Luther as from appreciation of the good-looking young journeyman. But the marriage ended unhappily, for the mason's wife was disinherited by her family, and is said to have died in misery.

OBITUARY.

We regret to announce the death of an old and highly respected resident of this neighborhood, Mr. Hugh McMillan, for nearly 50 years an active farmer of the Township of Dummer, his place of residence being only about a mile and a half from Norwood. He first came to this county in the year 1836, and settled on the land now occupied by Mr. M. Harman, in Dummer, but not liking the situation he abandoned that place, and purchased the property on which he had happily resided for the last 47 years. He bore the hard work and hard times which fell to the lot of the Canadian pioneers generally, and like them too succeeded in building up for himself and family a home and farm as valuable as any property in that township. The funeral of the deceased took place on Sunday morning last and was attended by a very large assemblage of people. He lived to a ripe old age, being in his 73rd year. Mr. McMillan was father of Mr. John and Andrew McMillan of Norwood.

Manitoba Methodist Conference.

The proceedings of the first Conference of the Methodist Church in Canada for Manitoba and the Northwest Territories are drawing to a close. Its deliberations were successfully conducted by the delegates. Dr. Rice, President of the Central Conference, was present all the week, and visits were made by clergymen of sister churches.

SIR FRANCIS HINCKS AND THE BOUNDARY.

In an interview with a Montreal Herald reporter, Sir Francis Hincks, one of the boundary arbitrators, in reference to this matter made the following statements:—

"The Conservative newspapers are constantly saying," remarked Sir Francis, "that I have admitted that the boundary line of Ontario, fixed by the arbitrators in 1878, was merely a conventional line, and not one based on legal evidence. This is, however, an error; anything that has been said in that sense had reference solely to the northern boundary, and not to the western boundary, which is the one over which the present disputes have arisen. The two boundaries, as fixed by the arbitrators, are based on entirely different grounds. No tribunal could find a legal boundary on the north for Ontario, because that boundary as defined by the Imperial Act of 1774, is declared to be the southern boundary of the territory granted to the merchant adventurers trading to Hudson's Bay. The Hudson's Bay Company received their charter from Charles II. in 1670, and they were granted all the territories in that part of North America not in the possession of any other Christian prince. It comes then to be a question as to what were the boundaries of the old French Province of Quebec. Two treaties, those of Ryswick and Utrecht, were subsequently made between the French and English crowns, which were believed to have affected the boundaries between the possessions of France and England, but there is no evidence of any new grant having been made to the Hudson's Bay Company. By the treaty of Utrecht it was provided that the boundaries should be settled by commissioners, but they never were settled, and in 1763 Great Britain acquired the French title."

Reporter—How is the western boundary defined?

Sir Francis—The western boundary is defined by the Act of 1774, usually known as the "Quebec Act." A great deal of territory was added to the old Province of Quebec by that Act. The treaty of 1763 fixed the boundaries of the possessions of France and England at a line drawn along the middle of the River Mississippi from its source to the River Iberville, and from thence by a line drawn along the middle of that river and the lakes Mourepas and Pontchartrain to the sea. One of the objects of the Act of 1774 was to include the western posts on the Mississippi, which were outside of the old Province of Quebec, in the Government of Canada. The bill was first passed in the House of Lords, and it contained the following descriptive clause:—

All the said territories, islands and countries heretofore a part of the territory of Canada in North America, extending southward to the banks of the River Ohio, westward to the banks of the Mississippi, and northward to the southern boundary of the territory granted to the merchant adventurers of England trading to Hudson's Bay, and which said territories, islands and countries are not within the limits of some other British colony as allowed and confirmed by the Crown.

There was some question raised by Mr Burke as to whether this description might not encroach on the territory on the northeast of the Province of New York, and the description was changed so as to define with the utmost precision all the boundaries of Canada where it joined any of the other Provinces, concluding as follows:—

"Thence along the western boundary of the said Province of Pennsylvania until it strikes the River Ohio, and along the banks of the said river westward to the banks of the Mississippi and northward to the sourthern boundary of the territory granted to the merchant adventurers of England trading to Hudson's Bay."

The arbitrators held that under this clause the Mississippi River was intended to be the western boundary of Canada, and not, as was contended by some, a line drawn due north from the junction of the Ohio with the Mississippi. The arbitrators were strengthened in this vew by the fact that the treaty of 1783 with the United States made the North-west angle of Lake of the Woods a part of the western boundary of Canada, this point being almost due north of the source of the Mississippi. We therefore, held that Mississippi River was the true boundary.

Reporter—Was the award unanimous?

Sir Francis—Yes, the three arbitrators, Chief Justice Harrison, Sir Edward Thornton and myself, all came to the same conclusion without any previous consultation with each other. There never was a doubt in our minds as to the true western boundary of Ontario.

Reporter—The opponents of Hon. Mr. Mackenzie say that he wished to keep this question open; was that the case?

Sir Francis—No; before the award was made there was an Order-in-Council passed in which, in the plainest terms which words could expressed, they agreed to abide by the award of the arbitrators. This Order-in-Council received the approval of the Governor-General, thereby binding the Crown to carry out the award. The present Government therefore should be bound by it, for I know of no instance in which a British Government has repudiated an agreement made by their predecessors.

Reporter—Do you think that the matter is now likely to be taken before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council?

Sir Francis—I do not well see how it can get there, unless it goes by way of reference, in the same way that it was taken before the arbitrators.

AN EFFECTIVE PRAYER.

At a village a few miles from Evansville lived a farmer, well to do, a widower with two daughters. The young ladies will be heiresses, and this fact, added to their natural attractions, draws all the young men from far and wide to the farm. But Mr. Wilson's troubles have been augmented of late. A revivalist has been down in the neighborhood, and they've ended by making a deacon of him. It was bad enough to have to keep the village beaus from his daughters, but of late some of our city young men have taken to drive over there to church. Last Sunday old Wilson was especially annoyed by young men, who during the whole time of service, were flirting with his youngest daughter. Their misbehavior was carried to a climax when the regenerated father was praying. Suddenly he felt that he could bear it no longer, and raising his voice to its highest pitch, he prayed: "An' now, O Lord, hev mercy on the dum idiet with the store clothes on as is winkin at our Alice, an' keep him a hangin' round the church door when service is over till I can get to him an' put a head on him! Amen." The young man picked up his hat and went home.

The revolt in Spain has at present a very ominous appearance. In addition to fresh outbreaks in other parts of the peninsula, the Carlists are reported to be moving. A royal decree has been issued suspending the constitutional guarantee, a state of seige has been declared throughout Spain, and all furloughs to officers of the army have been cancelled.

The outbreak at Badajoz, Spain, appears to have been the forerunner of what may prove to be a general rising. Yesterday's despatches contain accounts of seditious movements in other parts of the kingdom, and though official accounts take an optimist view of the condition of affairs, the fact of a Cabinet Council considering it necessary to suspend the constitutional guarantee and declare a state of siege, would scarcely denote a condition free from serious disquiet.

CAPT. WEBB, HIS RIVALS, AND HIS FRIENDS.

The professional swimmers of London have organised a series of performances for the benefit of the widow of Captain Webb. The London press, on the first receipt of the news of Webb's drowning, bitterly denounced the American speculators and railway who, it is alleged, had induced Webb to undertake a task which he could not comprehend, but which they must have known was fatal, for the mean motive of making money out of the excursion they calculated would be got up to witness the scene. The London papers based their denunciation upon the story they had to the effect that a combination of Yankee speculators had agreed to give Webb $10,000 for undertaking the swim. Officials of some of the railroads, happening to be in London, at once made a public denial of the bonus story, and the papers which printed it have retracted and now call Webb a fool, and say he must have become deranged before he undertook, for remuneration even, a struggle with Niagara. The common people were proud of Webb, particularly because of his success in swimming across the channel, and they have made many manifestations of their grief for the loss of the man whom they regarded as the finest development of an English athlete. At the Crystal Palace last night there was a grand exhibition of fireworks which had been long in preparation. The whole audience hissed the fire-picture of Niagara Falls because it didn't contain a portion of Webb. Murphy, the Preston butcher, who has often challenged Webb, and who had always contended that Webb would never succeed in breasting the Niagara whirlpool, has also met with a death similar to that which overtook the Captain. Murphy on more than one occasion challenged Webb to dare with him the Pebble whirlpool. Murphy undertook to swim this fearful pool on the very day Webb attempted the Niagara, and was drowned.

AN EVENTFUL YEAR.

Eighteen Hundred and Eighty Three will be remembered in the annals of man, as a year remarkable for its long list of dreadful events involving the loss of thousands of human lives. No sooner has the prblic mind ceased to be influenced by the recital of one dreadful tale of woe, than another story comes fast upon its footsteps. At sea or on land, in the old world or in the new, on this continent or on that—nowhere does there seem to be immunity from wholesale and unexpected loss of human life. True, human foresight might have prevented some of the occurrences, but otherwise it would be difficult to ascribe them to neglect. The Sunderland disaster, the sinking of the Dauphine on the Clyde, the cholera in Egypt, several accidents fatal to a large number of persons on this continent, have occurred within the past few weeks, and now to crown the catalogue of evils, comes the reported loss of between five and six thousand lives by earthquake at Ischia in the Bay of Naples. Sympathy with Italy in her deep affliction will of course be extended from every quarter of the globe; but no such expressions can be adequate to the to the magnitude of the disaster. The Bay of Naples is one of the most lovely spots on the face of the earth, but it and its vicinity have been among the most fateful to our race. Pompeii, Herculaneum, Cassamicciola, Vesuvius, and a long list of minor names are hateful in our memories. Several days ago an increased activity was announced as an attraction to visitors and it would be interesting to know if this accelerated activity bears any relation to the earthquake. If so it should be a warning to visitors to avoid the neighborhood in future, when the volcano is unsually active, rather than accept the opportunity as the best time for making a visit.

An English vessel has been seized by the United States authorities at Port Townsend on the charge of smuggling Chinese into Washington Territory.

A plan has been adopted by the Home authorities to settle two hundred thousand poor Irish families upon lands in the North-West. They will be brought to this country next spring, and placed upon lands where buildings have previously been erected for their accommodation, and it is intended to provide them with all necessary stock, seed, and food for making a commencement.

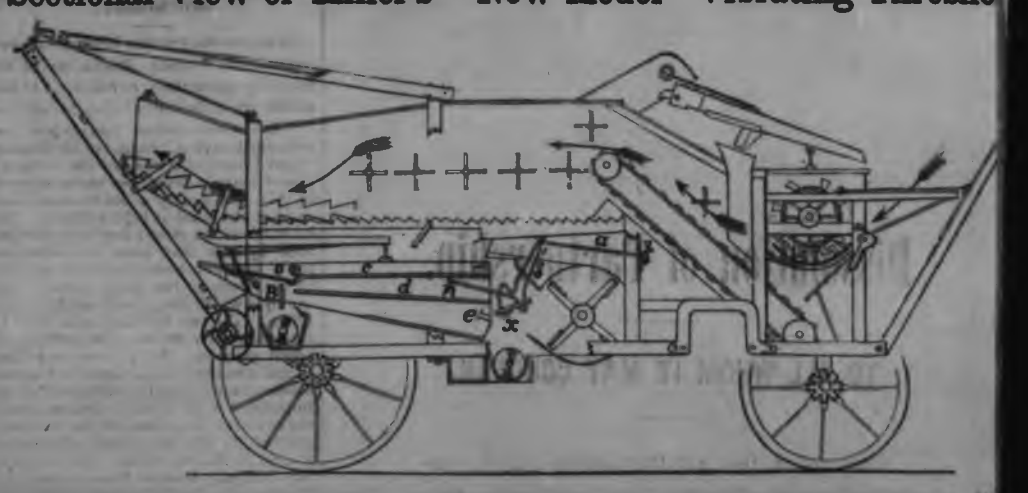
The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUSERBIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Threshe



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ON

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1883.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 1883.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write to you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have been. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

OTA, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing myself for the past eighteen years, and the "New Model" is the best one I have ever seen or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no 'judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

It is pleasant for much married men to read about the delicate touch of the ladies rendering them better for telegraphing in some respects than men. With a broomstick or a rolling pin her delicate touch has been known to put a six-foot husband and four children out of the house in 2:16½.

Area of Timber.

From Mr. R. W. Phipps' valuable report on "The Necessity of Preserving and Planting Forests," we learn that the amount of forest existing in Peterborough county is as follows: A large porportion of the area of the county—not far short of one-half—is under timber; consisting of pine, cedar, beech, maple, hemlock, baswood, tamarack, birch and ash; used for lumber, fencing, firewood, shingles, bolts, railway ties and telegraph poles. Bush fires have destroyed large tracts, especially in the township of Harvey."

Lake Couchiching Cut-Off.

Mr. Patrick Kelly, Clerk of Rama, informs the Orillia Packet that the proposed canal from Lake St. John to Lake Couchiching is quite easy of construction, as there is no rock. There are large quantities of land periodically flooded, the owners of which would no doubt contribute liberally, as the canal would have the effect of keeping Lake St. John at about low water mark. Mr. Kelly says that eleven years ago—before the construction of the Northern railway through that Township—the water flowed during the spring floods across the Rama road into Lake Couchiching, to the depth of three feet.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

Steam Thresher Explodes.

About 2 o'clock on Thursday a terrible boiler explosion occurred while threshing on Mr. Edgar Price's farm near St. Williams Norfolk county, killing instantly P. Caldwell and, it is thought, fatally scalding and cutting Mr. L. Howick. Both were standing at the side of the engine at the time. Many others had a very narrow escape. One piece falling iron buried itself three and a half feet in the earth, and nothing was left of the engine and boiler to show where it stood. Pieces have been found 130 yards from the place of explosion. The rear of the boiler struck the separator and tore that to pieces completely. No one was feeding it at the time, although two men had just stepped off to fix the belt and thereby saved their lives. The explosion was caused by the steam indicator being out of order and misleading the driver, Mr. Caldwell.

BE ADVISED in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as simple backache now, to run into a disease of the Kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Sold by John McKee, Peterborough. 27-8t

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

"Dare to be True."

The Lindsay Post in referring to our remarks on its introduction of gas as a motive power, says: "We accept our confrere's congratulations, but don't know just what to think how we like the title of 'gas power printing establishment.'" The Post is inclined to be super-sensitive; it should not be afraid to call a spade a spade; when a little deception is deemed necessary a Tory paper takes to it naturally. Thus, though the Review is run by an aquatic engine, its job work bears the imprint, "Review Steam Presses."

Interesting to Farmers.

Now, when farm labour is so urgently needed, and a few hours delay may involve a few hundreds of dollars of loss, especially with the barley crop, farmers will be comforted in knowing that the law protects their rights. At the last sitting of the Colborne Division Court a "hired" man sued a farmer for arrears of wages. The hired man had agreed verbally to work for the farmer from March to November, but in the interval he was offered higher wages; he threw up his place, engaged with another man, and sued for the balance of wages. His case was dismissed with costs—a warning to others that they cannot leave a farmer in the lurch with impunity, even on a verbal agreement.

The Band Disappointment.

After weeks of hard practice the news that the Chatham band tournament was postponed, from lack of entries, fell, like a wet blanket, on the boys of the band. Only two bands besides Peterborough entered, and the contest was, of necessity, indefinitely deferred. The band is to be sympathised with; but it is not all loss, the practice they have had will be an offset against their disappointment.

Private School.

A private school for boys conducted by the Rev. E. C. Wilson and the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, will open at Ashburnham on the 13th Sept. Boarding and day pupils received at moderate rates. Thorough instruction given in all departments. French and German a specialty. Advantageous arrangements offered for evening pupils. For prospectus, etc., apply to the Rev. E. C. Wilson, Peterborough. 32-6t.

Intermediate Examinations.

The figures representing the names of the successful candidates at the late intermediate examinations have been published in the Globe, but a list of the names not being available we are unable to give a list of the successful applicants. It is known, however, that the successful numbers run from 2,803 to 2,847 inclusive, and embrace twenty-five candidates. Of these 14 passed the intermediate, 10 the third class, and one second class B. The total number of candidates was 43.

Mothers, Watch the Little Feet

And see that they are clad in Foot & McWhinnie's spring heeled boots. For ease, elegance, and durability these have no equal. No running down at the ankles; on the contrary, they are a support to the ankles of so decidedly beneficial a character, that surgical men warmly recommend the spring heeled boot for constant wear. Try a pair and they won't ask you to buy another; you'll be sure to buy without asking. 19-4t

The Wheat Crop and Wheat.

From the report of the township assessors to the Ontario Bureau of Industries we learn that the acreage and estimated yield of wheat in the County of Peterborough is as follows:—Fall wheat, under crop, 13,182 acres, estimated yield, 290,004 bushels; spring wheat, 23,103, estimated yield, 392,751, being 2,834 more acreage of fall wheat than 1882, and an acreage of 4,003 less of spring wheat than 1882. The amount of old wheat on hand in this county is 90,947 bushels.

Cup for Juvenile Lacrossists.

Mr. W. A. Sanderson has presented for competition among the juvenile lacrosse clubs of Peterborough, of which there are about a dozen, a beautiful silver cup. The cup, including the lid, is in the shape of a ball, and rests on three crossed lacrosse sticks, which in turn are supported by a handsome pedestal. The apex consists of three smaller lacrosse sticks enclosing a smaller ball. The cup, a beautiful piece of work, is displayed in Mr. LeBrun's window. Mr. LeBrun has also the district championship medal displayed there—where he intends to keep it.

Thos. E. Pope.

The public will consult their interests in more ways than one by noting particularly the removal of the dry goods establishment of Mr. Thomas E. Pope from its location in the Lundy block, George street. The removal has been made to the premises formerly occupied by Miss Jenkins, opposite Peter Connal's grocery store. The increasing popularity of Mr. Pope's business rendered larger and more commodious premises necessary. At his new place of business the public will find an ample and well selected stock of dry goods, and a complete stock of ready made clothing, which will be sold at prices as low as any house in town. Remember the place, opposite Peter Connal's grocery store, George street, Peterborough.

A "Send off" on the Square.

At the last meeting of Peterborough Lodge, A.F. & A.F., Mr. Thos. Munro, who is about to remove to Belleville to engage in business in that city, was honored by the unanimous and enthusiastic adoption of the following resolution:—

Moved by B. Shortly, seconded by R. S. Davidson:

The members of this lodge having learned of the intended departure of Bro. Thos. Monroe from Peterborough for a new field of labor, desire to express their deep regret at his removal from amongst us. His earnest and faithful labors on behalf of Masonry will be much missed, as he was ever at his post in discharge of every duty, and worked devotedly to promote the interests of the lodge, the happiness of the members, and the success of those grand principles which Masonry inculcates. This lodge therefore would express their sorrow at his departure, but at the same time pray his future course may be prosperous, happy, contented and useful, and that at some future date he may be directed back to us where also a hearty and sincere welcome would be extended to him. We wish him and his family a long, happy, and prosperous future, and may the Grand Master above grant him every success in life.

Builders and Bricks.

All spring the builders have been complaining of lack of brick delaying building operations, and now that bricks are available some complain that the high price is also another condition unfavorable to building. This spring, face brick, which cost last year $7.50 per M., cost $9.00, and other qualities have advanced to $7.50. The other side of the question is the makers' statement, that there is no great demand for brick. The supply is, of course, later this season than last, owing to the wetness of the first part of the year, which greatly delayed brick-making—in fact in one yard the water put out the fires in the kiln. At Curtis' yards there are 1,200,000 brick made, and 500,000 (red brick, at Heep's yards; so that the supply seems equal to the demands of the building trade this summer. In regard to the raise in price the makers say that the advance is legitimate. It is accounted for by a sharp jump in the price of wood, owing to the condition of the roads last winter, and the rise in wages caused by the demands of the railways, under construction, for labourers. Still, one maker asserts that he pays no higher wages, railways and all, than he did seven years ago, when there was no extraordinary local demand. Thus, under the Mackenzie regime wages were as high as in 1882, with the vaunted N.P. and railways to boom them up.

Watches, Clocks, Jewellry, etc., carefully repaired and warranted at Hughan's. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf Donnelly's Lots.

At the recent sale of Mr. Donnelly's lots, situated at the foot of George street Mr. S. F. Allen purchased two, Mr. E. W. Cox five, and Mr. T. Bradburn one, making eight in all disposed of by auction.

Hon. Mr. Mowat Endorsed.

At a meeting of the Reform Association of South Monaghan, held at Baillieboro' last Friday, a resolution was unanimously adopted, heartily endorsing the action of Hon. Mr. Mowat in dealing with North-West Ontario.

Fire.

About three o'clock on Friday night or Saturday morning a fire was discovered in the summer kitchen of Mr. Geo. Goodwin, corner of Stewart and Simcoe streets. The alarm was at once given and the steamer turned out promptly, but in the meantime the fire had been about put out with pails. The damage will amount to about twenty-five or thirty dollars. It is not known how the fire originated.

Moving Matters.

A few days ago Mr. A. McCarthy, assisted by Mr. Thos. Parrington, successfully removed a distance of 260 feet a large barn 36x36 feet. The building belonged to Mr. Wm. Best, of Emily, and though the barn was elevated ten feet above the ground, and though two other parties after examining the situation declined the contract, Mr. McCarthy went to work and successfully performed the removal.

The Finest Fence in Town.

Mr. James Stevenson has just completed, in front of his residence, Simcoe street, the finest fence in Peterborough. It is of iron, resting on a plinth of solid, chiselled Canada free stone. The fence is of cast malleable iron, of a beautiful gothic design, is light, airy, beautifully proportionate, yet solid and strong. The ironwork is painted a deep green. The fence is a magnificent one, yet it is a little out of line with the N. P. speeches made by its genial proprietor, in June, '82, advocating the fostering of Canadian manufactures for it bears a Rochester, N.Y., trade mark.

Bobcaygeon Bridge.

Mr. Law, Law's machine shops has completed an iron turntable for the Bobcaygeon swing bridge and shipped it on Wednesday. The turntable is a massive piece of machinery weighing 3,500 lbs. It consists of two circular iron tracks, the lower resting on crib work which in turn rests on the rock work; the upper rests on eight rollers connected by axles to the central pedestal. The bridge rests nicely balanced on the upper track on a central steel pinion engaging a steel socket in the pedestal. A geared pinion worked by a lever near the centre of the bridge, engages a quarter segment of gears, bolted to the lower or stationary rail circle, and turns the bridge at right angles to its position when at rest, and consequently opens it. The turntable is built from Mr. Law's own design and seems well adapted to its purpose.

Collector's Roll.

The collector's roll of the town of Peterborough for the year 1883 is not yet returned. We should be surprised if there were another municipality in the Province of Ontario that is in a similar position. It is certainly high time that the Council looked after the matter. But they have so often extended the time for the return of the roll that it is no wonder that the inference is drawn that the Council is not anxious to have the roll returned. It is now time to strike the rate for 1883, and it will be necessary to have an exact statement as possible of our finances, before so doing. The majority of the ratepayers have paid their taxes—some almost a year ago—while others have been allowed to go till the present time. The prompt payers are therefore entitled to a refund of five per cent. as well as the late payers are liable to pay that much extra. If our town fathers would meet for business instead of talk and personal palaver the neglect of public business, as illustrated by the forgetfulness of the return of the roll, would not occur. The collector is an efficient and careful officer, but he is powerless in view of the Council extending the time for the return of the roll.

MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

Under the assumption that a letter in your widely circulated journal would result in some action being taken in reference to the disgraceful dilapidated condition of the floating bridge, I give a slight indication of the present condition of the structure.

In the first place the approaches are terribly out of repair, and for one hundred yards at least the bridge is out of position. There are two or three hundred yards unprotected by railing, only bare posts remaining; and some of the anchors have seceded from the bridge altogether and are not connected with it, and are therefore perfectly useless.

I cannot understand why repairs so badly needed were not made long ago. The County Engineer received authority at the last meeting of the Council to have the repairs, so urgently required even at that time, attended to. But nothing has been done, and the bridge is in a dangerously tumble down and ricketty condition. I trust that the Warden will look after the matter and see that the Roads and Bridge Committee have the matter attended to.

Every day's delay detracts from the state of repair and efficiency of the bridge as surely as a mortgage devours a farm.

Yours truly,

Speeding the Departing "Guest."

Complimentary Supper to Mr. Thomas Munro.

Mr. Thomas Munro, late of the firm of Munro & Alexander, having decided to go to Belleville to enter into business, his many friends and admirers decided to give the popular gentleman a good "send-off." On Wednesday evening he was entertained at a supper at Chamberlain's restaurant. A company of about fifty, composed of representative business men of the place, sat down to an elegantly appointed banquet, laid out in Mr. Chamberlain's best style.

After the "removal of the cloth," Mr. Mennie's, Acting Mayor, who occupied the chair, read a letter of regret from Mr. Charles Cameron, with good wishes for Mr. Munro's future.

The first toast proposed was "The Queen," followed by the "Prince and Princess of Wales and Royal Family," the "Army, Navy and Volunteers." Song by Mr. Galletly, "Battle of the Baltic," and short speeches by Messrs. J. B. Stratton and Wm. Ball, of Smith. "The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor," brought out a song from Mr. John Armstrong. The toast of the evening, "Our Guest," was very felicitously proposed by the chairman, who highly eulogized the moral and business worth of Mr. Munro, and regretted his departure from the town. This was drank with great enthusiasm, and Mr. Munro in responding recounted the progress of Peterborough since he came here nine years ago. He contrasted its condition then and now, and predicted that ere long Peterborough would take her place among the cities. He looked on the town as his home, and he should always entertain warm feelings towards it. His connection with the Rifle Association created another tie that made harder his leaving town. His remarks were followed by loud applause.

Mr. R. E. Wood proposed the "Mayor and Corporation," which was drunk with all the honors, and elicited responses from Mayor Menzies, Councillors Paterson and Davidson, and ex-Councillor Alford.

"Trade and Commerce," brought brief responses from Messrs. R. B. McKee, J. Alexander, D. Fitzgerald, B. Shortly, John McKee and Mr. Smeaton, Mr. Munro's future partner.

"The Ladies" were upheld by Messrs. Stothart, Hill and Graham, and Mr. Galletly gave in rousing style, "The Laird o' Cockpen."

Mr. J. R. Stratton, Mr. E. E. Henderson and a representative of THE EXAMINER acknowledged "The Press."

The "New Firm" brought eloquent replies from Messrs Smeaton and Munro.

"The health of the Chairman" was bathed in bumpers, and Mr. Galletly sang "Scotland Yet," in fine style.

"Our Host" was honored by the appropriate song of "John Barleycorn," given con amore by a member of the staff.

This good-bye gathering was a splendid tribute to the solid worth of a gentleman who, during his brief business career here, has co-operated with his late partner in building up a business which is among the most flourishing in town. Mr. Munro deserves all the encomiums which each speaker heartily gave him, and we have no doubt that his future career will place him in Belleville, as his past has done in Peterborough, amongst the thriftiest, most reliable and shrewdest of our business men and most respected citizens.

Turnbull's Table Linens are becoming a household word. They have only to be seen to be appreciated.

INFORMATION FOR IMPORTERS.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—You will confer a favor on merchants who import goods by publishing the following section of the "Act to amend and consolidate the Acts respecting the Customs," passed last session of the Dominion Parliament. 46 Vic., Chap. 12, Section 81, reads:—"Except only in cases where it is otherwise provided herein, or by regulation of the Governor-in-Council, no entry shall be deemed perfect unless a sufficient invoice of the goods to be entered, duly certified in writing thereon as correct by the person, firm and corporation from whom the goods were purchased, has been produced to the collector and duly attested, as required by this Act."

To enable parties to instruct those from whom they may purchase, how to obtain a proper certificate, see section 87 of said Act:—

"Any oath required under the provision of this Act connected with the entry of goods may be made in Canada before the Collector, sub-Collector, Surveyor or Chief Clerk at the port where the goods are entered, or if the person making such oath is not resident there, then before the Collector or proper officer of some other port, and when such oath is required to be made out of the limits of Canada, it may be made at any place within the United Kingdom or any place in Her Majesty's possessions abroad, before the Collector or before the Mayor or other chief municipal officer of the place where the goods are shipped, or before a Notary Public, and any other place before a British Consul, or if there be no British Consul, then before a foreign Consul at such place."

The conditions of these two sections are now obligatory in making an entry for duties on goods imported.

Yours, &c.,

J. STRATTON,

OUR CIVIC HOLIDAY.

How it was Celebrated.

The Cathedral Picnic—True Blues Excursion—Stony Lake Excursion.

Peterborough celebrated her civic holiday last Wednesday with the enthusiasm and good order characteristic of her wide-awake and well-conducted citizens. Business was generally suspended, and the more congenial—for the day—employment of pleasure-seeking substituted. All day long the town was very quiet, as might have been expected when about a third of the population had deserted it for the day—about three thousand citizens having been out of town.

THE CATHEDRAL PIC-NIC

was patronized by about 1,500 persons. From nine o'clock in the morning vans and carriages in a continuous stream, laden down, carried merry parties of pleasure-seekers to the beautiful grove of Captain Wallis, about a mile and a half west of the town, and the crowd kept increasing till there were from 1,500 to 2,000 persons on the grounds. Of the many choices of amusement presented, the dancing was the earliest and most persistently patronized. From about nine o'clock till five the dancing platform was not allowed to grow cold. Excellent preparations had been made for the entertainment of the guests of the day. Long tables were extended beneath the sheltering leafage of the beeches. These were laden, literally, to groaning with a most abundant, appetizing and tempting display of edibles. These were done ample justice to by the keen appetites developed by the day's outing.

THE LADIES

deserve the greatest credit for the entirely satisfactory manner in which they performed their share, and it was the chief one—in the most important feature of the day's programme. His Lordship Bishop Jamot, as patron of the

FIRST CATHEDRAL PIC-NIC,

was present, and there were also present eight or ten other priests. The object of the pic-nic being to raise funds for the erection of the R. C. Separate School the occasion was improved. A dozen or more persuasively eloquent young ladies circulated freely among the immense crowd, armed with pass-books to record "chances" on various articles, from a Williams sewing machine, generously presented by the local agent of the company, Mr. P. H. O'Brien, add "Mary's Little Lamb," to cruet stands, ebony walking sticks, etc., etc.

After dinner the

SPORTS AND GAMES

were entered upon with the following result:—

BOYS' RACE (under fourteen years.)—Jos Phelan and Willie Sanderson.

100 YARD RACE.—J. Kennedy (Lindsay) and J. Giroux.

HOP, STEP AND JUMP.—P. Welsh (37 feet 4 inches) and J. Theobold (35 feet 1 inch).

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.—Walter McIlmoyle and J. McNamara.

QUARTER MILE RACE.——J. Kennedy and P. Welsh.

PUTTING HEAVY WEIGHT.—Thos. Armstrong.

STANDING JUMP.—M. Dunn (11 feet 8 inches) and J. M. Conlon.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP.—M. Collins and W. McIlmoyle.

GIRLS' RACE—(15 entries).—Jenny McIlmoyle and Katie Johnson.

200 YARD RACE—(open to members of the Lacrosse Clubs,—William Rudkins and W. Morrow.

CLOG DANCE.—Bernard Corcoran.

IRISH JIG.—R. Tierney and Miss Kernan and J. Cronin and Mrs. Tagney.

QUOITS.—D. Galletly.

About five o'clock the crowd began to separate, but it was nearly seven o'clock before conveyances could be procured to bring home the last of the party.

It may be stated that the drawing for the different articles was held the following evening, with the result appended:

Mary's little lamb became Muncaster's little lamb, Mr. R. W. Muncaster being the lucky man to become a shepherd by a cast of the die.

Mr. Wm. Rudkin's luck in securing the Williams sewing machine indicated that William's sewing machine should have an operator at once provided.

Rev. Father Keating's good luck consisted in his securing the belle of the pic-nic, in the shape of a doll, which is to be prized, "not for its intrinsic value," but for its extreme usefulness to the reverend gentleman.

Mr. H. McGuire secured the meerschaum pipe, no doubt a recognition of yeoman services in promoting the popularity of the doll.

Mr. P. Rudkins won the silver pickle cruet, and Mr. H. LeBrun now sports, as as proprietor, the silver-headed ebony walking stick.

In the good-natured contest between the ward tables the South Ward board carried off the honors easily.

The financial out-come of the Cathedral pic-nic was equal to its social success. Although all the returns are not made, it is pretty sure that the net proceeds will reach the neighborhood of $800.

TRUE BLUES EXCURSION.

The excursion under the auspices of the McWilliams Lodge of True Blues, down the river, was a very pleasant success. The second annual excursion party left the Sherbrook street dock in the morning, and the King-Fisher had a large and jolly crowd on board, and in addition the palace scow had its complement, chiefly those whose fancy lightly turned to the "light fantastic toe," for which a quadrille band furnished music. Owing to the abundance of logs in the river the steamer was unable to proceed any farther than "Campbelltown," a very charming grove about eighteen miles from town; here the excursionists landed and spent a most delightful day Dancing, dining, swinging, flirting, and all the usual amusements that compose the enjoyment mens of a pic-nic were enjoyed till evening began to close in, when the party returned to town, all safe and sound, weary, hungry and happy. Everything passed off smoothly and pleasantly, and the McWilliams Lodge of True Blues have another signal success in the excursion line scored to their credit, in the very pleasant outing on the civic holiday.

CANOE CAMP EXCURSION.

At seven o'clock the excursion train bound for the Canoe Camp at Stony Lake left with about 200 on board, which number was largely increased by accessions en route. At Lakefield the party embarked on board the steamers Fairy and Cruiser, and all reached Stony Lake about noon. The visit to the camp was a most pleasant one, and the entire sojourn among the many and varied scenic beauties of Stony Lake were very highly enjoyed. The return home was timed, so that the entire party reached the Midland Station about nine o'clock, all greatly pleased with the successful and delightful nature of the trip.

Besides the above noted stated events there were any number of "go-as-you-please private pleasure parties improvised, and driving and fishing gave pleasant occupation to other holiday-makers.

The Doings of the Campers—The Excursions—The Races, Arrivals and Amusements.

The enjoyment of the delights of the scenery of Stony Lake continues at flood tide, and numerous are the diversions resorted to to enhance the pleasure of the meet. It appears that the ladies camp is sacred ground, not to be lightly profaned, and is kept guarded with

ORIENTAL EXCLUSIVENESS.

A gallant Yankee canoeist ventured to tread on the forbidden ground, and he was forthwith court martialled for visiting the ladies camp without a permit. The court was duly constituted, the culprit duly tried, found guilty and heavily fined.

The pleasant routine of camp life was disagreeably broken by the sudden illness of Commodore Edwards, who was compelled to return home, but he came back to camp on Thursday. He was greatly missed in camp, for his well-directed efforts towards promoting the comfort and enjoyment of all were untiring.

There is a motley assemblage of canoes here, every builder in Canada being represented, but English's canoes and those made by the Ontario Canoe Company take the lead

The race among the Knickerbockers excited great interest, and was won by the district Attorney of Brooklyn, N.Y.

A pleasant departure from the routine of camp life and aquatic enjoyments was an excursion to the TOP OF BLUE MOUNTAIN.

En route the large party made a call at the Syndicate camp—of Peterborough people—where they were right royally entertained. The next call was at the camp of Mr. W. E. Roxburgh and party, at the head of Stony Lake. The overland tramp to the top of the mountain is four miles, and the summit was first reached by Mr. Jas. Gilmour, of Peterborough, and third by Mr. R. E. Wood. The view from this point is a grand one, no less than thirty-two lakes in Peterborough and Hastings studding the wide sweep of forest and field with their silver sheen.

The advent of the wild duck season woke the truculent instincts of some of the campers, and roast duck was added to the bill of fare.

On Thursday morning a "raid" was made on the SYNDICATE CAMP,

which was ready for the assault, and entertained the visitors most hospitably. A visit was also made to the "Fort," the stronghold of Capt. Clegg, an old salt, who, with his daughter, lives in seclusion the year round; the Captain's art gallery, of his own works, was much admired.

On Friday there were numerous arrivals, among whom was Mr. John Edwards, of British Columbia, brother of the Commodore, who remained a long time in camp before his identity was discovered by a lady who had known him well before his twenty years' absence from Ontario.

A PADDLING RACE

for those who had never before used the single bladed paddle was won, after an amusing struggle, by two American gentlemen, using the beautiful cedar rib canoe, "Kanuck," built by the Ontario Canoe Company for General Oliver. There were more distinguished arrivals, and in the evening an consisting of 65 canoes, gay with Chinese lanterns, and commanded by Commodore Edwards, was a beautiful sight. The procession went from the ladies camp round Otter Island in single file, and then to the main camp, where the prizes of the day were presented.

Saturday's arrivals added many to the camp. Rochester and Philadelphia members arrived on the Fairy, and with them Dr. Neide's canoe, which had been shipped to him here all the way from Florida. The thunderstorms and showers were not sufficient to cause much discomfort, and all was forgotten in the high hilarity around the camp fire, when song and jest went round, and the "campers Saturday night," made worthy of especial memory.

On Sunday divine service was held by Rev. R. H. Neide and Dr. Hoffman, and a sermon preached by Rev. G. L. Neide.

On Monday Mr. Little, of this town, was busy with photographs of the Knickerbocker club, and Mr. Anderson, of Toronto, with other clubs. Further arrivals are being constantly made.

[Our letter with report of Tuesday's regatta was lost in transmission.]

THE FEAST OF THE FIRE.

The Element Devours Four Industrial Establishments—Blacksmith Shop Pump Factory, Marble Works and Cabinet Shop Burned.

On Friday morning last a destructive fire broke out in Wright & Payton's Pump Factory, Charlotte street. When discovered the fire had gained such a head that the flames were bursting through the roof of the building. The fire alarm was promptly rung, and the brigade as promptly responded, but there followed one of those unfortunate delays, or blunders, the like of which has resulted in the loss of so much property heretofore. The fire engine was on hand, but there was no hurry in getting her to work, the water works being evidently depended on to do the lion's share of the work. A branch was attached to the City Hotel hydrant, but that having been just put in, and not completed, there was no water supply, owing, it is said, both to there not being sufficient pressure on and the hydrant being obstructed. A delay during which the fire was by no means idle, followed, while a man on horseback was despatched to the pump house to demand more pressure. In the meantime the steamer had got to work, and was doing good service at the western extremity of the fire in preventing its spread to the rear. The fire had by this time destroyed Desautel's blacksmith shop, the pump factory, and was busy with Moore & Son's marble works, from which it spread unmolested to Comstock's cabinet factory. This building being brick stayed the spread of the flames south on George street, while the steamer prevented the spread in the rear. When, however, the water works pressure was got on a fine, strong stream was thrown, which, had it been available at the beginning of the fire, would have saved at least Messrs. Moore & Son's and Mr. Comstock's premises from destruction. All the buildings burned, except the marble works, belonged to Mr. George Taylor, whose loss will amount to over $3,000. He has insurance to the amount of $1,500 on these buildings. Messrs. Moore & Son's loss in building and contents is about $1,500, on which there is insurance of only $600. Messrs. Wright & Payton's loss is about $800 or $900, protected with a $600 insurance policy. Mr. A. Comstock was protected by an insurance of $1,000, but his loss will amount to at least $1,800. Mr. Thomas Desautel is perhaps the heaviest loser of all, because he had not a cent of insurance. He loses his complete set of tools and shop furnishings, besides two Haggart Bros. reapers and a large amount of machine repairs, belonging to different machines, enough to make up his loss to $1,500. The origin of the fire is supposed to be from tramps, as Messrs. Wright & Payton say that they have more than once found the hasp broken off a back door of the shop.

A COMPLAINT.

The sufferers by the fire complain, and apparently not without reason, at the action of the fire brigade. When the latter had subdued the fire they left the scene, but in the morning, after the wind had risen, the fire threatened to break out again, and actually did start in one or two places. The firemen were requested to put the fire completely out, but they refused, saying, as we are informed, that it was not their business to do so; their duties ended with getting the fire under control. Be that as it may, those who had suffered such severe loss were compelled to employ men to assist them in putting out the fire, which, if neglected, would have done another large amount of damage.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A TROT.

Our worthy landlord, Mr. G. Berubee, and our genial friend, Mr. S. Wallace, both pride themselves on driving a "fast horse," but which could drive the fastest was a subject which gave rise to some discussion. To solve the problem both parties agreed to trot from John Fitzgerald's corner, Smith, to Mrs. Phelan's, on Saturday evening, 18th inst. Twenty dollars a side was to make it interesting. Mr. John Dinwoodie rode with Wallace, and Mr. W. McKibbon with Berubee, that there might be a square trot. Mr. R. Braden gave the start, and Mr. Geo. McIlmoyle acted as judge at the winning post. Quite a number collected to see the fun. The got away about 7 o'clock, S. Wallace having the lead and Berubee starting 100 yards further back. Wallace won the heat easily in from 6 to 8 minutes. Mr. Berubee had some difficulty in getting his mare down to a trot, and thus lost ground at the start.

We learn that the Trewern cheese factory, on the 8th line Smith, has sold its cheese for the first three months, realizing something over $6,000. They expect to manufacture a much larger amount this year than in any previous season.

PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 23, 1883.

The Rat Portage Affair.

The Mail and its following have been industriously endeavoring to show that the people of Rat Portage were hostile to the rule of good order instituted by the Ontario Government. We have learned better than to accept the Mail's dictum for truth in anything; much less is there reason to do so in this matter. The people there have spoken for themselves in an unmistakably emphatic manner, and declared overwhelmingly for Ontario rule. The Globe says:—"On Monday night the citizens of Rat Portage in public meeting, of which the fullest notice was given, decided to ask the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for a charter of incorporation under the laws of Ontario. The fact that this public act has been performed ought to silence the absurdities which the Tory organ has been indulging in to the effect that the citizens still favored Manitoba government. The fact is that the Rat Portage people were never favorably disposed either to Manitoba rule or to the persons who represent Manitoba at that place. When Premier Norquay visited Rat Portage and desired officially to confer with the alleged corporation established under his laws, the concern had so far gone to pieces of its own weight that a quorum could not be got together to meet him. The people have recognized that the rightful owner of the land is the only person who can give them titles, and that until the rightful owner has quiet possession there can be no surety of possession for anybody. The petition for incorporation is the official declaration that the inhabitants of North-Western Ontario, who best know what is good for themselves, have elected to throw in their lot with their own Province."

Helping the Party.

One great advantage which a Tory party leader possesses is that derived from the unquestioning and subservient obedience of his followers. At one time the Review in a momentary spasm of independence ventured to criticize the Mail's, and consequently the Premier's, attitude on the Boundary Question, but the party whip was brandished and our cotem. falls into line and again becomes the assailant of Mr. Mowat in his attempts to secure the territorial rights of this province.

In 1881, Mr. Norquay the Premier of Manitoba, had a mind of his own in regard to the duty of his province in reference to the question of jurisdiction in the late Disputed Territory. In an address to the Manitoba Legislature in that year he said:—

"While the Government are willing and very eager to have the question settled, we do not consider that we would be justified in throwing ourselves into the vortex of a quarrel in which two other parties are more interested than we are. It is not with us a question of the acquisition or retention of the territory but only of the knowledge as to how far our jurisdiction extends. Were we the owners of the public land or public domain in this Province our cupidity might be aroused, and we might possibly make strenuous efforts to acquire the territory, but with two powerful contestants in the field it would be the height of folly to allow ourselves to get hurt by meddlesome interference."

But Mr. Norquay has made a decided change of base. He was very careful in the above sentences to only desire to find out "how far our jurisdiction extends." Now he asserts that Rat Portage is "undoubtedly" a part of Manitoba. Whence, then, comes the reason of Mr. Norquay's sudden conversion? The affairs of the province are financially in a bad shape, and it is certainly unwise for Manitoba to assert a claim to a public domain which it does not own, and which cannot be a source of revenue, but on the contrary a bill of expense. His pacific statements of May, 1881, have given place to another feeling, his "cupidity has been aroused," and Norquay no longer considers it "the height of folly to allow ourselves to get hurt by meddlesome interference." In this sudden conversion one detects the stirrings of the master hand at Ottawa. Sir John has issued his fiat that Ontario must be crushed, and the plant Norquay is ascribed as anxious to lend himself a willing tool. Sir John is ready to do anything to lend that any direct dirty work in the direction of robbing Ontario of her rights, or at least, embarrassing her in the exercise of her administrative functions would be unpopular. Therefore by some means he brings in Mr. Norquay, and Mr. Norquay obediently bows to the mandate and faithfully carries out the orders received from Ottawa. While Mr. Norquay is making himself the tool of Sir John, the interests of his own province are being neglected and, as a Manitoba journal asserts, "bankruptcy is staring us in the face." But everything must become subservient to the political advance of Sir John and his party. Ontario must be humbled and Manitoba must aid in the vile work, even though she sacrifice her interests in the attempt to help the Dominion to rob a sister province. Patriotism must be sacrificed to power, and the provinces must give way for the benefit of the party.

Notes of the Day.

Winnipeg is a very thrifty place. A $200,000 cemetery of 225 acres is being purchased for a city that only a few years ago was a mere "swapping" post for the exchange of peltries for powder and loud colored calicoes with Indians.

In the artillery meeting at Shoeburyness, on Wednesday, the Canadian team, we are pleased to notice, carried off for the second time the Marquis of Lorne's prize for shifting the large gun in the quickest time, viz., 4 minutes, 35 seconds.

The solicitor for the petitioner in the Monck contested election has notified the respondent's solicitor that the petition will not be proceeded with, and giving as a reason that the allegations made in the petition against Mr. Harcourt cannot be sustained. The petition will, therefore, at the proper time be dismissed with costs.

White muslin was the principal fabric used by the ladies in the ball at Newport. This description of dress is very fashionable nowadays. Paterfamilias who have to foot the bills will rejoice if it long remains so. The material is just as comfortable and as pretty as much more expensive goods. Let the reign of economy continue.

The Crown Lands Department of Ontario have just issued a circular showing how to obtain title to public lands under the "Free Grants and Homestead Acts." The pamphlet contains complete information on the subject, a list of townships open for location, lands for sale, systems of survey and general directions, besides an appendix containing forms and regulations.

More zeal than discretion is shown by the Tory organs in their attempts to vilify Mr. Mowat and belittle his attempts to maintain law and order in Northwestern Ontario. For instance, the Brandon Sun thus alludes to the utterances of certain Tory journals:—

"Mr. John Sydney O'Brien, the Dominion Land Guide in the Turtle Mountain District, the bosom friend of Sir John, and Mr. Mulvey's right bower, will be gratified to know that his promising son, 'Boston' is referred to by the (Tory) Port Hope Times—quoted approvingly by the (Tory) Mail—as 'that rough and blackguard, O'Brien the slugger.' Mr. Mulligan, of this city, a respectable citizen and decent Conservative, will also be pleased to hear his brother spoken of by the same papers as 'the hardest case in Rat Portage.'"

The Brandon Sun does not mince matters. It says:—"The Manitoba Government were weak enough, foolish enough, and impertinent enough to thrust themselves into the dispute, in order to gratify the Conservative Government at Ottawa. Whoever owns the territory it is clearly not ours; we have therefore no right to interfere. It is earnestly to be hoped that should any Manitoba officials presume to resist the authority of Ontario in the matter of the Rat Portage license they will be driven out of the territory; better still if they be thrown into the Lake of the Woods. In doing either, Ontario can count on the sympathy and moral support of every respectable man in Manitoba whose sense of right and public decency is not blunted or destroyed by political fanaticism.

It is not only in the language of poetry that the woodman may sometimes be called upon to spare the tree. It is shown, for instance, that if the annual supply of white pine continues to be drawn upon as it has been for many years, it must soon give out altogether. This wood furnishes three-fourths of the building material in the United States and Canada. If the cuttings that have already been made were limited to those that were necessary, the present supply would not be so short. But whole forests have been cut down with the most reckless extravagance, and now we are to suffer in some way as the result. A good authority on the subject declares that there is less than seven years' supply of pine and spruce left. We are thus threatened, in spite of the wide-spread use of other building materials. What developments are to take place, so that we may be compensated for the loss of our pine forests, is not yet known. It appears to have been only recently realised that this state of things is the fact.

CRIPPLED AND CURED

A household remedy that will cure Rheumatism and like ailments, such as Sciatica, Sprains, Lame Back, &c., has long been needed. and an oil has been found in Dr. Dows sturgeon Oil Liniment. W. A. Freeman, Greenwood, Ont, writes of it as follows: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and the pain being so severe that I could not rest at night. Finally I became crippled in both knees, when I tried Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment and was cured by it."

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The rice crop in Rice Lake is an entire failure, on account of high water.

Ducks are plentiful, and quite a number of sportsmen have taken advantage thereof.

Messrs. R. English and John Reid took their departure last Thursday evening for the camp at Stony Lake.

Dr. Massie, formerly of Norwood, has commenced the practice of his profession in this village.

Mr. James McNeil has just completed, in front of his residence, Division street, the finest fence in this village. It is of iron, the frame work being of cedar, finely dressed. Its appearance is beautiful and it is painted a medium green, the post and frame work painted white. The fence reflects great credit upon our enterprising townsman, and may many more follow suit.

THE PUMP FOR DEEP WELLS.

The following letter which we have received speaks for itself:—

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR.—Would you kindly permit me through your columns to testify to the very satisfactory manner in which Mr. Henry Owens, the well known pump manufacturer of your town, put in a pump for me in a well 80 feet deep. The pump is one of his new improved cone pumps specially fitted for deep wells, and from the satisfactory manner in which it works I have no hesitation in recommending this make to all in need of a pump for deep wells. For ease in work, its non-liability to getting out of order, and general utility I have never seen any pump to equal it. Those requiring one cannot do better than order from him.

Thanking you for inserting this,

I am yours truly,
CHARLES MILLS.

REAPER ACCIDENT.

On Tuesday of last week, while Mr. W. Gilbert, sr., residing near Enniskillen, was driving a reaper, some of the gearing broke and the rakes carried him on the table. The horses became frightened and ran away, and when he was extricated it was found that his arms were so lacerated that both had to be amputated. Mr. Gilbert is brother of Mrs. Wm. Warne, township of Hamilton.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE of the Kidneys, Diabetes and other Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, which you are being so frightened about, Hop Bitters is the only thing that will surely and permanently prevent and cure. All other pretended cures only relieve for a time and then make you many times worse. 34-2t

COUNCIL MEETING.

The Council met on Monday the 13th inst. Present,—his worship the Reeve, Messrs. McWilliams, Nelson and Urquhart.

The minutes of last regular meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication from Mr. E. Pearce, County Clerk, was received, stating that the sum of $367.50 was the amount that would be required from the municipality of Lakefield for county purposes.

The following accounts were presented and ordered to be paid :—

Geo. C. Chalmers, plank, etc..		$126 88
W. H. Casement, nails, etc...		23 57
Poussette & Roger.....		39 80
W. C. Sanders, sundries.....		26 88
John Cooper, carting.....		2 55
Fred. Barles, lumber.....		5 90
Isaac Watson, wages		2 62
T. Dunford	do	8 75
E. Payton	do	1 52
A. Morey	do	3 00

After some discussion regarding sidewalks and a Board of Health, the Council adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

RUN AWAY.

On Friday last while Mr. Jos. Ingram was driving home, his horse took fright near Mr. R. C. Strickland's and became unmanageable breaking the buggy and throwing out Mr. Ingram, who was some what bruised but not seriously injured. The horse slacked up near Mr. Jos. Jury's and was caught.

POISONED.

On Tuesday morning last Mr. Wm. McCantie, of Selwyn, took, probably by mistake, a large quantity of Paris green. Medical aid was summoned as soon as possible, but at time of writing he is still in a critical condition.

SCHOOL BOARD.

No quorum on Tuesday night last.

STONY LAKE.

Large numbers of both Americans and Canadians are daily passing through on their way to Stony Lake. It is much to be regretted, however that navigation is still being impeded by drives of logs coming down the river. A large party of Americans were detained near Young's Point the other night, some having to sleep in hay lofts, others not being able to get even that accommodation. When the Dominion Government took possession of the Lakefield dam and also Young's, the public were promised a better state of things, and assured that the navigation in the future would not be blocked up by a few individuals who wholly ignore the interests of the public. Next Tuesday the regatta of the A.C.A begins and continues on Wednesday and Thursday.

Some One Said.

"One should not know they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

Regulate all this internal trouble. Regain pure, enjoyable, jubilant health with that grand prescription, ZOPESA. At least try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 21-tf

EMIGRANTS.

A number of emigrants, just out from Ireland, arrived in this village on Thursday last. They were under the charge of the Rev. Father Quirk, of this parish, who spared neither trouble nor expense in looking after their comfort and welfare here. All had secured comfortable homes on the evening of their arrival. Mr. Wm. McCarthy, of this village, Mr. D. Hurley and Mr. Dennis Kelly, of Asphodal, each taking a family to work on his farm. These emigrants were all healthy and able-bodied, and seemed quite able and willing to enter upon any respectable employment that would give them a name and a place in our prosperous Dominion. They complained bitterly of the treatment they had received at the emigrant sheds in Toronto, and stated that they had nothing to eat or drink since 4 o'clock on the same Thursday morning they left that city.

SWEDES,

A batch of about twenty Swedes took up their quarters in our village last week. They were a contingent of those navvies who met with the Yankee sharper near Niagara a short time ago, and were brought up here to work on the Ontario & Quebec Railway, but on arriving here it was found that their occupation was gone, as other men were engaged on the works intended for them. They took their disappointment calmly as far as their disposition could be understood by those who could not make out the gibberish they utter. However they seemed determind to make it pretty lively for the sub-contractor who employed them if their claims were not satisfactorily adjusted. This must have been done as the party left here on Saturday morning for Peterborough.

ELECTION.

An election took place on Wednesday of last week to supply a vacancy in our Village Council. There were only two candidates in the field, Mr. Dennis Mahoney and Mr. Robert Stewart, the former being elected by 13 votes, 35 being for Mahoney and 22 for Stewart, on 57 votes being polled in a municipality having over four times that number, and only for a little drumming up being done there would not even so many of the "free and independent" have recorded their votes. So little interest was taken in the election that few even cared so much as to talk about it. [This correspondence arrived to late for last issue.]

Who is to Blame?

When a disastrous fire such as that which occurred on last Friday night takes place, under such favorable circumstances for its speedy extinguishment, it is only natural to enquire as to where the blame should lie. It is disgraceful and disheartening that, with a well-equipped fire brigade, with a double system of good fire extinguishing appliances, each efficient in itself, within a stone's cast of the fire hall—within a less distance of two hydrants—there should have been four buildings, containing busy industrial establishments, utterly destroyed by fire. It is plainly enough evident that the evil was caused by delay in getting the necessary fire pressure on the water works mains. When the pressure was put on it was plain to all that the stream from the hydrant was a powerful and effective one. For some reason or other there was also delay in getting the steamer to work. The water works fire pressure was not put on, because there was no means of communicating with the pump house from the fire hall. One party asserts that it is the duty of the water works company to supply the water at the hydrants—to have it always ready under adequate fire pressure. The water works company contend that their part of the contract (if there is any contract) is filled when they supply water under fire pressure when notified. It should not be hard to overcome such a miserable little misunderstanding. Is the town to be burnt down while a petty squabble about a direct line of telephonic communication goes on? Let the matter at once be decided. Either the Town Council or the water works company, by gross negligence, is responsible for the unnecessary and avoidable—under easily arranged conditions—destruction of property that took place on Friday night. Let the question of notifying the water works company of the need of fire pressure be settled without delay. If it is found that it is the duty of the company to keep the hydrants full to the throat at fire pressure, let that be done, and we shall know what to depend on. If it is the duty of the town to provide means to notify the water works company when fire pressure is required, let it be done. There must be no misunderstanding. There is somebody to blame, and no time should be lost in finding out who that is. For the last half dozen fires the management of their extinguishment has been a disastrous muddle, that has resulted in the loss unnecessarily of thousands of dollars of property. The question of blame should be settled without delay, and if our town fathers could make up their minds to forego personal bickerings and profitless palaver for once, and devote one night at least, to a serious consideration of the town's interests, the blame could be fixed, and such measures taken as would make it unnecessary after a fire, in the future, to enquire, who is to blame?

Gravenhurst-Callender Link.

The following significant poragraph we take from the Globe:

"The Ottawa Citizen, the home organ of Sir John Macdonald, comes to hand with an article on the subject of the Gravenhurst and Callander link. The mask is at last thrown off, and the proposition is coolly made that the subsidy of $12,000 per mile for this purely Ontario link should be given by the Dominion Government to the Canada Pacific. It seems clear that this has been the game of the Premier and certain of his colleagues from the first, although the treachery to Ontario has been hitherto veiled by a pretence of giving the bonus to the Northern Railway. The offers of companies that cannot be controlled by the C. P. R. are ignored, and no attempt is made by the Government to organize a really independent company. Is the C. P. R. to be allowed to throttle Ontario as it has throttled Manitoba? No! We shall not give up our own territory just yet, to be made a preserve for a pampered corporation to drive the trade that naturally to Toronto and Hamilton routed by the Ottawa to Montreal."

The Ottawa Government seems determined to carry out its policy of ignoring in every respect the interests of the country and strengthening its hands by perpetuating a monopoly powerful enough to secure the retention in office of its creators and upholders. The monopolizing powers conferred by the Pacific Railway compact were, in all conscience, extensive enough to threaten the prosperity of the country and subjugate it to the grasping greed of a politico-commercial combination such as history has rarely seen. But the Government seems determined to strengthen its influence in every way. The monstrous injustice of assuming control of local railroads built with local capital, has a fitting complement in the cool proposal to hand over the Government subsidy of $12,000 per mile to a corporation that has already received nearly half of the country for building the Canadian Pacific Railway. We have before pointed out the importance to the Midland District, and in fact to all Ontario, of having the Gravenhurst-Callender link an independent line. The move is apparently another in the series of schemes hatched by the Dominion Government to subjugate and humiliate Ontario by way of punishment for her loyalty to Reform principles. The Syndicate has the North-West under its feet, and Ontario is to be placed, if possible, in the same degrading position. It is time for the people of this Province, irrespective of party, to repudiate and resent these attempts to belittle and injure Ontario. In face of the undisguised and combined hostility of Quebec, Manitoba and the Dominion Government, against this Province, it is the duty of Ontario to stand firm. It is time for Conservative politicians, who have hitherto worked and played into the hands of the enemies of this Province, to drop politics and act according to the dictates of patriotism.

Editorial Notes.

Speaking of the duty on coal the Cobourg World asks why M cCallum, Tory M.P. for Monck, secured a rebate of the duty on the coal used by his tugs, if the consumer, as the N. P. organs claim, did not pay the duty.

The West Simcoe election has been voided and Mr. Philps, member elect, unseated. There was no proof that a single vote was influenced, but the judges taking a stringent view of the election law, thought there was room for inference that meals furnished voters free of charge, might have been corrupt influence, and the respondent was unseated.

Officials of the Bank of Ottawa have returned home from Winnipeg, after a thorough business inspection of the business of the bank in the Prairie Province. They are full of hope of a future of prosperity of the country, and things appear to be settling down to a sound basis. The reaction from the inflation was only natural, and it is now probable that the improvement that has apparently set in will, while being of a less striking nature, tend to be more permanent.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has in its contract an exceedingly "fat take." The line of 674 miles from Oak Lake to Calgary is completed at a cost of ten million dollars. But the Company have received for building this line from the paternal Government of Canada, which pretends to be the people's protectors, land to the value of over forty million dollars, and six millions seven hundred and forty thousand dollars in cash. Their profit on the transaction at these figures is therefore in the neighborhood of thirty millions of dollars. With such a "bargain" as this it would be thought that the company would not be so anxious about a monopoly that will ensure a tremendous profit in the working of the line; but they are; and they are bound, and the Government will help them, so long as the people allow it, to burn the public candle at both ends. The people will soon begin to feelingly appreciate the patriotism of those Tory representatives who insisted on giving such extravagantly favorable terms to the company, when another company was willing to build the road for a figure that would have saved the country millions of dollars of taxation.

MORAL TRAINING OF SCHOOL PUPILS.

At the recent congress of Ontario teachers the committee charged with reporting on the subject sent in the following report in reference to the moral training of children in the public schools:

(1) That in the opinion of your committee the teacher, as representing the parent, is responsible for the moral as well as the intellectual training of the pupils under his charge. Carried.

(2) That all systematic moral training in the schools of Ontario should be based upon the Christian religion as set forth in the Bible. Carried.

(3) That the reading of the selected portions of scripture as a part of the regular daily exercises in all our schools would be a material aid to teachers in the discharge of their duties in regard to such moral training.

(4) That we reaffirm the opinion expressed last year to the effect "that anyone who cannot reverently, humbly and lovingly read the Word of God is not fit to be a teacher."

(5) That the Education Department be requested to secure the preparation of readings for the schools under its charge. This clause originated in a long dispute. An amendment was moved as follows: "That the teachers be left free to choose what portion of the scriptures they shall read." The amendment was lost.

(6) That the use of such selections be made obligatory in all schools unless the board of teachers in towns and cities and the school meeting in rural sections decide to the contrary. Mr. Hughes moved that this clause be expunged. Carried.

(7) That in the opinion of this committee more might be done by the ministers of the gospel of the various denominations in the way of awakening public interest in this question, especially amongst the members of their own congregations. The clause was lost and the report was carried as amended.

WHERE'S THE REVOLVER?

HOW A SARNIA GIRL CAUSED A PARTY OF BURGLARS TO MAKE A HASTY EXIT.

Mrs. and Miss Sinclair, wife and daughter of the principal of the High School, Sarnia, were left alone in the family residence Sunday night. About midnight Mrs. Sinclair was aroused by the noise of a window rattling. Thinking that there was a storm coming up she went into her daughter's room to see if the windows were shut, and found one of them open. Arousing Miss Sinclair she informed her of the fact when that young lady exclaimed: "Mother, there are burglars in the house! Where's the revolver?" Miss Sinclair got up and procuring the weapon went to the window, and in the darkness could just see the form of a man below entering the parlor window. She immediately fired, when the air was filled with the most horrible yells. Miss Sinclair dressed, and putting the revolver in her pocket went out and procured help of some of the neighbors. On investigation it was found that a large quantity of silver plate and other articles had been taken out and left on the lawn. Blood was also found in little pools but nobody could be seen around. No arrest s have yet been made, although suspicion points pretty clearly to several persons. Miss Sinclair has won great credit for the brave manner in which she acted.

CURED AT THE SHRINE.

WONDERFUL MIRACLES PERFORMED AMONG THE ST. ANNE PILGRIMS.

Three additional miracles among the 1,200 pilgrims to St. Anne de Beaupre from Ottawa, who returned to Montreal, are reported. A lady who was asked about her cure said:—"My name is Mrs Michael Prudhomme. I am 49 years of age, and reside at Hull. For eight years I have been suffering greatly from ulcers on my left leg and foot, except at very rare intervals. I have been unable during that time to use my foot; had to use crutches to walk. Hearing of the pilgrimage, I decided to go and implore Ste. Anne. When I arrived at Montreal on Monday I had to take a carriage to go to the boat, and again upon arriving at Ste. Anne's yesterday I had to be conveyed to the church in a vehicle. In the church they placed me at a short distance from the altar railing, and when the moment for communion came I felt that I could go and receive the sacrament without using my crutches. I did so accordingly, and when Mass was over I could walk out of the church alone. I left my crutches in the sanctuary and have been able to walk ever since. I don't consider myself perfectly healed yet, for my ulcers are still there and my foot is swollen, but I can walk, which was impossible for me to do before I certainly consider my case a miracle, and cannot be too thankful to Ste. Anne for her mercy.

Two other cases fully as strange, of an elderly man and a little girl, both of whom left their crutches behind, were related also. The reverend father who had the oversight of the pilgrims verified the statements made.

THE FOLLY OF ADVERTISING.

Some people possess more money than sense. The latest example is Wannamaker the Philadelphia merchant who threw away $200,000 in advertising last year and only pocketed a profit of a million on the transaction. Then there is Barnum. That foolish old man hires a lot of men at high salaries every year to do nothing but go around the country spending his money in advertising and the consequence is that he cannot be with his circus, but has to stay at home or up in the White Mountains counting the money that is sent to him. Such people bring a lot of trouble on themselves by advertising.

THE GLADSTONE LAND ACT.

One year's operation of the Gladstone land act, which has been so much derided by some Irishmen, has kept in the pockets of the Irish farmers $20,000,000. When this act is fully carried out, it will effect a saving yearly to these farmers of full one-fourth of the Irish rental, and will, it is believed, give them an equity in their farms equal to half the fee simple value.

We regret, says the Cobourg World, that Mr. George Greenwood, proprietor of the Shelter Valley Woollen Mills, has failed with liabilities estimated at over $20,000. The unfortunate employees, who are thus deprived of wages long due and thrown out of employment besides, have our hearty sympathy,—though that is a very poor recompense for services long and faithfully performed. We understand over-production, resulting in a glut of the market, is the principal cause of the insolvency. It will be remembered this is one of the enterprises which we were repeatedly told the N. THE WHEAT CROP OF THE PROVINCE.

The reports on the wheat crop of the Province, made to the Ontario Bureau of Industries on the 1st of August, are not wholly satisfactory. They show that as regards both quantity and quality much of it is inferior to last year's crop—that, in fact, its market value at present quotations must be less by several millions of dollars. But it should be borne in mind that last year's crop was an extraordinary one, and consequently that comparison with it as the standard cannot be accepted as fair. We have not yet sufficient data to ascertain confidently what an average wheat crop in Ontario is. For this purpose it is necessary to obtain returns for a series of successive years, giving as accurately as possible the acreage and the produce for each year. The present harvest is probably below an average over the whole Province, but no one can state positively whether it is or not. Last year, according to the statistics collected by the Bureau, the area under wheat was 1,775,337 acres, the produce 40,921,201 bushels, and the average yield per acre 23 bushels. This year the area is 1,691,603 acres, the produce (as estimated by correspondents) 27,398,393 bushels, and the average yield per acre 16 bushels. For the two years the average would therefore be 19.7 bushels per acre. It is possible, however, that the results of the threshing season may modify to some extent the figures for this year. The uneven character of the crop makes it difficult to estimate the yield of fall wheat, and spring wheat is liable to be affected by rust and the attacks of insects.

A New Book of Deuteronomy.

A Mr. Shapira, of Jerusalem, book seller and dealer in antiquities, has just deposited in the British Museum fifteen slips of black sheepskin leather, on which are written in characters similar to those on the celebrated Moabite stone, portions of the book of Deuteronomy, differing materially from the received version. The dates of the slips is the ninth century before Christ, or sixteen centuries older than any authentic manuscript of any part of the Old Testament. Mr. Shapira bought them from an Arab, and he asks for them $5,000,000 from the British Museum. If genuine, the interest and importance of the discovery cannot be overrated; and, so far as variations in the sacred text are concerned, there is promise of one of the greatest controversies that scholars have ever entered upon.

THE PRESS EXCURSION.

Province of Quebec.

Down the St. Lawrence—Cape Eternity—Fine description of the Sublime Grandeur of the Saguenay.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Two weeks ago the members of the Ontario Press Association started on their annual tour. The trip was one that will long be remembered by those who availed themselves of the privilege of visiting the Province of Quebec. In the cities of Montreal and and Quebec the civic representatives spared neither trouble nor expense to make the visitors most welcome. Carriage drives and banquets were the order of the day. The majority of the press representatives had never been east of the old city of Quebec. In fact very few had even been there. To many in Ontario, Quebec is regarded as the jumpingoff place in Lower Canada. Such, however, is not the case. No place in the American continent

OFFERS GREATER ATTRACTIONS

to the observing tourist that that portion of Quebec lying east of the ancient capital. The press party boarded one of the large gulf steamers and sailed down the mighty St. Lawrence. The scenery was grand and the air was invigorating. From early in the morning until the sun disappeared, tinging the clouds in the western horizon with gold, the steamer sailed on, and the natural grandeur that met the eye never grew monotonous. Murray Bay and River De Loup were passed while it was yet day light. Tadousac, at the mouth of the Saguenay, was reached shortly after dark. It was night upon the River of Death, as the Saguenay is best known in Lower Canada; the faint light from the first quarter's moon shed a weird glow over the scene. Those who remained on deck could only see the dark outline of frowning mountains on either side as the vessel plowed its way through the UNFATHOMABLE WATERS.

The desire then was to see the sun rise upon such a scene. The faintest glimmer of day light found many on deck. The air was cold and bracing. Overcoats and shawls were in requisition. Enquiries elicited the intelligence that the steamer was one hundred miles from the St. Lawrence. Ha Ha Bay could be seen in the distance as a faint gleam of the coming day appeared over the eastern mountains. The summits of those high hills were crested with gold while the channel of the river still looked dark and cold as night. Oh, for the pencil of an artist to do justice to such a sight! The light grew brighter as the sun appeared and the scene was changed only to become more impressive and grand.

Evidences of enterprise and civilization were met as the steamer neared Chicoutimi in the form of foreign vessels loaded with lumber from the Chicoutimi mills. The town was reached and it was a surprise to all. A magnificent church, the Bishop's palace and extensive college buildings, any one of which would have been a credit to a metropolitan city, faced the in the vicinity. We will not weary our readers with a detailed description of the reception that was accorded the press association there—a reception that was equally hearty to the representatives of both church and state.

A drive of twenty-five miles brought the party to Ha-Ha Bay, where the steamer was again boarded. A considerable portion of the Saguenay that was passed in the night on the up trip was now to be seen before darkness would hide its grandeur from view. There was nothing monotonous about those lonely mountains, towering on either side of the comparatively narrow but unfathomable stream from five to twelve hundred feet high. For a hundred miles scarcely a sign of life can be seen. The mountain and rocks are there in their primeval grandeur, their loneliness only disturbed by an occasional cascade wending its way down its well worn channel to the dark waters beneath. No hamlet graces a hill top, and, it is said, even wild animals give these lonely crags a wide berth. One's eyes wild sight. It was yet day light when the steamer neared Cape Trinity and Cape Eternity. A sudden bend in the river, and without warning the view of these tremendous rocks burst upon the passengers who had crowded upon the main deck. Exclamations of awe and surprise were heard on all sides. The vessel glided slowly beneath the shadow of those frowning peaks, hovering in their grandeur nineteen hundred feet above the water, and as perpendicular as a mason's plumb. Away up near the top of one of the summits stood a massive cross, and a few hundred feet lower down than the cross, stood the figure of a madonna twenty-seven feet in height, but yet apparently no larger than a human figure. Suddenly the awful stillness was broken by the band playing in muffled tones the national anthem. Almost unconsciously every head was uncovered and every voice was raised in the chorus. As the steamer turned into the little bay, surrounded by those massive clear-cut, richly colored rocks the concluding words,

NEVER TIRE OF THAT STRANGE,

"GOD SAVE OUR QUEEN,"

were sung, and five or six seconds afterwards were returned again in a distinct echo. The vessel was as if anchored within a few feet of the rocks. The sun had gone down in the west. Between two of the peaks the new moon could be distinctly seen. Above nearly two thousand feet to the summit—below a line of two thousand feet had failed to reach the bottom. It was no wonder that the passengers experienced a diminutive feeling creeping around them. They were compelled to realize what tiny creatures they are in the great world of nature. A shriek of the steam whistle with its echo long after informed those in deep reverie that the boat was moving from the awe-inspired spot. In a few moments the deck was almost clear, the passengers apparently desiring that the impressive sights that had just been witnessed should not be displaced in their minds by any others of a less interesting character. A couple of tourists on board intimated to the writer that they had visited all the famous scenes in Europe, but that their eyes as was visible at every bend of the Saguenay river. It was midnight when the St. Lawrence was reached. Of the stay at Cacouna, and the pleasure that was experienced in meeting Sir John Macdonald and Sir Francis Hincks, together with a few notes in relation to the knowledge that was gained of the habits of the people of Quebec, more may be said in another issue.

HAD NEVER BEHELD SUCH GRANDEUR

LACROSSE TOURNAMENT.

Triple Trial of Skill Between the Knights of the "Cretae."

Sprained Nerve Succumbs to Superior Brawn—Peterborough Pitifully But Firmly Refuses to Yield the Championship Medal to Orillia—The Visitors Vanquished in Three Straight Games—The Conquest of the Cretes.

The lacrosse tournament which took place last Thursday was the sporting event of the season, and was the most successful day's lacrosse ever played in this district. Nothing happened to mar the smoothness and pleasure of the day's proceedings.

JOUST OF THE JUVENILES.

The first event to come off was the spirited contest between the Cretes, a town club of juvenile, and the juvenile club from Norwood. The Cretes was composed of J. Phelan, goal; F. Metherall, point; D. Parnell, cover point; F. Larone, R. Duncan, H. Dickson, (centre,) G. Gibbs and Frank McNaughton, field; D. Canning, J. Harvey, home; W. Rudkins, field captain.

The Norwoods were composed of J. McKelvey, goal; W. Douglas, point; F. Stevenson, cover point; W. Ackerman, R. Rahal, F. Stevenson, A. Robertson and W. Carr, field; W. Henderson, C. Brennan, home; Fred Brenan, field captain.

The little fellows played a rattling game, and a good many sharp plays were made that would win applause from an adult team. Canning collared the first and second game for the Cretes, putting the ball neatly through. Carr took the third game, the first for the Norwoods, and Frank McNaughton turned the tide to victory for the Cretes by shooting the sphere between the stakes.

THE AFTERNOON'S PLAY.

The Orillia and Beaverton teams arrived with about 700 excursionists at noon. At 2 o'clock about fifty lacrosseists formed a procession, and headed by the Fire Brigade Band marched to the grounds when play at once began between

BEAVERTON AND NORWOOD.

The teams were as follows:—

Norwoods.—F. McCrae, goal; P. Slattery, point; C. Lahrun, cover point; F. Brennan, W. Welsh, E. Rogers, R. Patterson, (centre), J. Atkinson, J. McDougall and A. Robertson, field; J. Howden and J. McKelvie, home; J. A. Harper field captain.

Beaverton.—F. McCrae, goal; D. McKinnon, point; K. Davidson, cover point; S. Weeks, D. McMillan, P. McMillan, F. Burchard, (centre,) J. Burchard, M. Cameron and M. Plank, field; A. Cameron and J. McLean, home; L. Cameron, field captain.

The facing of the ball was followed by lively play. The advantage seemed to be evenly divided, but at the end of eight minutes Burchard, by a lucky shot, got the sphere between the Norwood flags thus securing first game.

Instead of disheartening, this seemed to put fresh spirit into the Norwoods, and a much harder fight was begun and some beautiful play shown, Welsh, of the Norwoods making some fine running and dodging. Fifteen minutes after the face McKelvie received the rubber from Robertson, who ran it through, making the record, "game and."

The third game was a prolonged tussle of forty minutes. After varying success, McLean, of the Beavertons, put the sphere between the stakes.

The fourth and last game lasted only one minute, when McLean again secured the ball, and putting it through won the third game and the match for Beaverton.

The Norwoods made most creditable play for a new team, the club having been only organized three months with completely raw material. With more practice they will make dangerous competitors.

The grounds were next cleared for the between Peterborough and Orillia, for the Central Ontario district championship medal. By this time there were over 1,500 spectators present, who watched the struggle with interest and readily appreciated and applauded the frequent exhibitions of good play the game afforded.

CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST

The teams were drawn up for inspection as follows:

PETERBOROUGH.—Jos. Giroux, goal; W. A. Sanderson, point; M. Tierney, cover point; J. Reynolds, P. Welsh and M. Halpin, field; J. Sheehey, centre field; A. Yelland, R. H. Fortye and C. Rutherford, field; W. Rudkins and G. Giroux, home.

ORILLIA.—D. Brecken, goal; G. H. Armstrong, point; J. Henderson, cover point; J. B. Tudhope, J. E. Gordon, G. Madden, E. C. Moore (centre), R. H. Jupp (replacing R. Gunn) and E. Bingham, field; G. A. Tudhope and J. McCleary, home.

The game opened with the facing by Sheehy and Moore. Of course, Sheehy, as he invariably does, got the ball, which at once threatened Orillia's flags, but it was repelled, and then began one of the longest continuous fights the field ever witnessed. A good part of the hour which the game lasted was sharp, lively lacrosse. The Orillias, however, felt the necessity of playing chiefly on the defensive, although good chances by the goalkeeper might on [illegible] when their attention was, momentarily, by the fate of the game, warranted in not being concentrated on their own goal. Peterborough's defence had little chance, [illegible] but they were [illegible] yet [illegible] they were on hand, and when the ball was uncomfortably near Peterborough's poles, which was only once or twice, Joe Giroux showed himself there for "business." The playing of Sheehy and Yelland was decidedly brilliant, and their clever [illegible] dodging, [illegible] every [illegible] ment's play [illegible] the [illegible] of applause, [illegible] [illegible] self, while Tierney's long throws from cover point kept the battle raging round the stakes of the enemy, and there were two or three shaves so close that game was called but not allowed. After an hour's play, with varying success, of which, however, the home team had altogether the lion's share, Rutherford, who had done some good work at his end, after sixty minutes play, got his rawhide under the rubber and conducted the caoutchouc to the Orillias flags, through which it passed, thus winning the first game for Peterborough.

The second game was of the briefest possible duration, perhaps a quarter of a minute elapsing from the time the centres knelt for the face, and the winning shot. Sheehey's luck secured the sphere and sent it Orilliaward. George Giroux picked it up to pass it on to Rutherford, who stopped what had was there for by forwarding it to the flags, through which it passed, thus scoring second game for Peterborough.

The third game was a brief but lively one. Sheehey's luck again secured the ball and Orillia's pins were again in danger, but the ball went up field, where Halpin lay in wait, and he passed it back again, when a lively scrimmage took place, out of which George Giroux rescued the ball and, making a fine shot on goal—whose best praise is its success—thus won the continued custody of the championship for the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, and the third straight game, in three minutes.

The contest was marked by great good nature; although there was some lively slashing and some vigorous body checking, good temper prevailed throughout.

The home club, as a club, never played more splendidly, while the visitors, though making a gallant struggle, were fighting against odds, for they were evidently over-matched from the outset.

The lacrosse tournament of last Thursday was a continuous and unqualified success.

CHIEF ENGINEER MELLEVILLE AND HIS SUIT AT LAW.

Since the issuing of this journal on July 25th, facts and circumstances impressively affecting the matter set forth by statement under the heading of "Voided Abodes" have come to our keeping; while, better still, irrefragable proof of correctness relative to infinitely more than was expressed through prose or versification published under the given heading is now at our command in substantiating strength and clearness. Better than this, placed at our services (if needed) are the asseverative declarations of hundreds upon land, or as shipmates intimate with Melville, showing that saving, or apart from, the hectoring blusterings and scurrilous aspersions of opposing counsel fighting on behalf of a blemish upon her sex, most desperately borne down by pointed and damnatory testimony to her worthlessness, not a shade of, or tinge of, mal-repute rests on the brilliant and unsullied character of the heroic and honest Archie adventurer, despite of the earnestly pushed attacks of his brow-beating aggressors. The stenographic notes, secured at his cost, for ultimate utilization in the U. S. Supreme Court, as viewed by us underequitable scrutiny (as it grieves us to say) by contrast with the substance of a very diluted concession to equity, convinces us by the exhibit of what dims and abuses the sacred functions and province of an elected judge may be rendered subsidiary on subject and much too clearly to be all doubted as in this case, of its results betray the unwholesome truth that the decisions judicial can be both affected and prostituted for achieving party purpose. The anticipated issue of an elective contest much too certainly becomes elemental in determining who is to represent and operate, in a so called free and Christian land, as that "Justicia" whom the no less conscientious if classic pagans reverentially deferred to. We on this side of the discriminative line between our estimable kinsmen and ourselves somehow feel to be all the more jubilantly thankful that judicial appointments here amongst us benighted serfs need not, can not be sportively tampered with or rendered shuttle cock mediums of party purposes. Farther than this we proudly assert or challenge to the proof that through this land's extent a similar, or even at all analgous decision has never been known as this given at Media Court House, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, in re Melville (pater) versus Melville (mater), whereby the offended party is doomed to bearing the pecuniary penalty of a wife's flagrancy, and is despoiled of his paternal immunities and property as owner of his offspring. CONFIDENTIAL.

Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBEBBIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.

Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $2 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

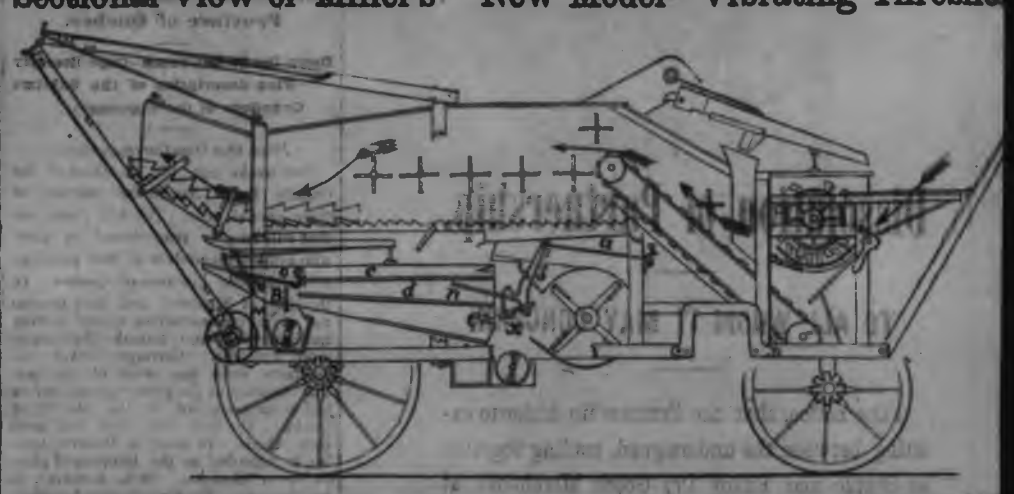
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1882.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR.—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR.—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It threshs the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORA, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR.—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleury. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other [illegible] I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds machines, and have been threshing [illegible] for the past eighteen years, and the "[illegible] Model is the best one I have ever [illegible] used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHER[illegible]

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 13th, 18[illegible]

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR.—I thought I would write to [illegible] and tell you how I got along with the "[illegible] Model" Thresher I got of you last season. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given [illegible] satisfaction wherever I have [illegible] could not begin to thresh for all who want me, and could have had jobs enough for [illegible] machines if I had had them. The farmers whom I have threshed for say that the "[illegible] Model" is the only perfect machine they ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERR[illegible]

SPROULE'S STUDIO

The Class of work done there is equal to that turned out in the largest cities, which has been testified to again and again. Every portion of material is the very best procurable. Parties in want of first-class work either for private distribution, or to send to friends at a distance, should see that the pictures they send should not be discreditable to them. SPROULE'S PICTURES are noted for their beauty and finish, and wherever they have been sent, have elicted the highest praise. The Studio is refitted this Spring again, and everything is of the latest and newest.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervousness, Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only one or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

NEW ATLANTIC STEAMERS.

The Cunard Company have contracted with John Elder & Co., Glasgow, for two splendid Clyde-built steamships of 8,000 tons and 13,000 horse-power each, with a guaranteed speed of 19 knots per hour. These vessels are for the service between Liverpool and New York, and their dimensions will be—length 500 feet; beam, 57 feet; depth 40 feet. The Cunarders are bound to hold the front rank in every way.

Useless Fright

To worry about any Liver, Kidney or Urinary Trouble, especially Brights Disease or Diabetes, as Hop Bitters never fails of a cure where a cure is possible. We know this. 34-2t.

Customs receipts of the United States for the first fourteen days of the present month decreased $1,927,000, and the internal revenue increased $53,000.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of wild Strawberry will never fail you when taken to cure Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach, or any form of Summer Complaint. Relief is almost instantaneous; a few doses cure when other remedies fail. 34-2t

Leading hotel-keepers in Montreal intend testing the validity of the Quebec License Act of 1878, eminent legal men say, with good prospects of success.

If you are broken down in constitution and wasting away by sickness, dissipation, too great nervous taxation, or suffer from any chronic disease, do not abandon hope until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. What it is doing daily towards restoring others, it might do for you. 34-2t

BE ADVISED in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as simple backache now, to run into a disease of the Kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. DR. Redmond, the National League representative in Australia, denies that his mission has failed, and expects to send five hundred pounds to Ireland every week.

W. J. Guppy, druggist, of Newbury, writes:—"Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is just the thing for Summer Sickness. I sold out my stock three times last summer. There was a good demand for it." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is infalliable for Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach and Bowel complaint. 34-2t

For the first seven months of 1883 there was an increase of fifty-eight million francs in the imports into France, and a decrease of fifty million francs in the exports.

 "Many silly people despise the precious, not understanding it." But no one despises Kidney-Wort after having given it a trial. Those who have used it agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting. Don't take pills, and other mercurials that poison the system, but by using Kidney-Wort restore the natural action of all the organs.

It is reported that Mr. McShane, M.P. P., of Montreal, has entered into a contract with the French Government to ship fifteen thousand head of Canadian cattle to France.

It must be evident to many invalids who have been taking strychnine and alcoholic preparations for old lingering complaints, who still find themselves in the same state of chronic debility as before using them with increased nervous prostration from over-stimulation that it is not sound nor judicious medication. A more physiological restorative method is secured by Wheeler's Phosphates and Calisaya, agents of nutrition supply, which the food elements of vital force.

Give all the stock of the farm at this season plenty of fresh water. Do not forget that poultry requiries the same care.

...ERS AND EXAMINATIONS.

Mr. F. C. Powell, of Kincardine, read a paper on "Examinations and Examiners," at the late meeting of the Ontario Teachers' Association.

The main ideas of the paper are stated in the following propositions:—

(1.) The teacher's knowledge of the candidates, should in some way be a factor in deciding the candidate's standing at examinations.

(2.) The dissatisfied candidates who appeal against the finding of examiners, should be allowed to appear in person before the central committee.

(3.) The persons who prepare the examination papers, should read and value the answers.

(4.) The presiding examiners should always be teachers or inspectors engaged in active service.

(5.) Every examination should have a fee attached to defray expenses and discourage unprepared candidates.

(6.) The maximum value and passing percentage in every subject should be based upon the difficulty and importance of the subject.

(7.) The examination papers should be confined to the programme and fairly cover it.

(8.) Persons prevented by sickness from attending the examinations should have another trial before the central committee.

FARM BREVITIES.

It is early cut clover that makes the best second crop.

Give pigs a grass run if you can. It will do them great good.

New wheat, rye and oats are now being received.

Deep, rich soils and top dressing are remedies for drought.

Bagging grapes has numerous advocates among the best farmers and fruit growers.

Do not forget that all kinds of stock enjoy a relish of salt and that it is beneficial to them.

Look out for the larvæ of the peach borer. In a word, prevent egg-laying during this month and next.

Be careful about cooling off when heated by exercise; more serious results follow from lack of care in this respect than from the heat.

The practical farmer advises the growing of two crops of buckwheat in succession as a means of exterminating vine worms. He argues that they will not eat the buckwheat and are starved to death.

Correspondent New York World: My plan is to sow rye for pasture in August or even the first of September. I sow thickly say three bushels per acre, upon good soil. The sheep can be turned out on the crop in December and at intervals from that time on until April when it may be ploughed down for a spring crop."

MR. GOODERHAM'S OFFER.

Wr. Wm. Gooderham of Toronto offers to give the United Methodist Church a site worth $50,000 if a central college be erected there upon and colleges at Belleville and Cobourg closed. This is a grand opportunity for Methodists to make a new departure in their educational work. Toronto without doubt offers facilities for education which no other Candian city possesses, and these combined with Mr. Gooderham's magnificent offer ought to be an inducement sufficient for the transfer of their educational work. We believe the Methodist body would do better than even it is now doing by leaving university work to the state institution and confining its energies to theology.—Canadian Baptist.

Don't Doubt It.

Failure is not always followed by failure, and although you may have tried remedies repeatedly without benefit, don't doubt that you will find the right thing yet. PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR is a positive remedy for corns, and once used at once cured. This fact has been vouched for by thousands who have used it. Sold by druggists. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Proprietors.

A Fair Exchange.

Will you exchange a chronic case of Dyspepsia, or agree to break up a Bilious Temperament—to give your torpid Liver activity, and thus strengthen your Digestion, regain energy, comfort, health and spirits, all for 75c? A single bottle of ZOPESA will do this. A few doses surprises those who try Zopesa. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia in their many forms Zopesa is a Panacea, and is warranted to cure them. It acts speedily and pleasantly. Try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 31-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

HER FACE WAS FAMILIAR.

Somebody at my elbow tells an amusing story, which I jot down. A Newspaperman last winter entered a Boston horse car, and seeing a familiar face, bowed politely, but received no token of recognition. He apologized, saying, "It is true I cannot call you by name, but I mistook you for an acquaintance. Your face is perfectly familiar to me." "Very likely," the lady blandly replied; "I am Lydia Pinkham."

A Bold Burglary.

On Sunday evening a bold robbery took place at Mr. J. L. Hughes' residence, Downie street. The family were all at church except Mrs. Hughes, who was sitting on the front verandah. Mr. Hughes had left his coat, containing his pocketbook, hanging in the kitchen, which opens on Park street. The thief easily found admittance, the house being left open on account of the warm weather. The sum of twelve dollars was taken from the pocketbook, a ten dollar bill in another compartment of it having been overlooked. The theft was a bold one, and there is no trace of the robber.

Honoring Peterborough.

It is pleasant to note that natives of Peterborough when abroad almost always reflect credit on their native home. We observe from a Rochester journal that Prof. Robert Montgomery, of Smith, has won laurels as a wrestler in the "Flower City." In a wrestling contest with Peter Kearns, a never before defeated wrestler, the Professor came off an easy victor. The match took place on Thursday last, and Prof. Montgomery is to be congratulated upon the handsome manner in which he upheld the honor of Peterborough, and held down the never before defeated Peter Kearns. The stakes were $100 a side, falls, best three out of five, "catch as catch can," and "collar and elbow."

Serious Shooting Accident.

On Tuesday a serious shooting accident happened to Thomas Howden, a son of Mr. James Howden, a lad aged about sixteen years. He was in a ducking boat on the river near Cataphel town with other young men named Mitchell. It appears that he was reclining in the boat alongside his gun when by some movement of his foot the gun went off, sending its charge of shot in the young man's face. The charge went in a glancing direction, blowing away the fleshy part of the lips, the flesh of the upper jaw, the nose and the left eye, and fracturing the skull in the forehead and loosening several teeth. Though badly and seriously wounded his attending surgeons have hopes of his recovery.

Obituary.

We regret to have to announce the death of Mr. R. J. Stevenson, which took place at the family residence, Water street, on Sunday night. Deceased went to reside in Winnipeg about eighteen months ago. Recently he contracted a severe cold, which attacked his lungs. Despairing of any improvement in Winnipeg he returned home about two months ago. But the most skilful medical assistance and the tenderest nursing and utmost care, proved of no further avail than to smooth his pathway to the dark valley of the shadow of death, which he entered last Sunday night, passing peacefully from the Sabbath on earth to the everlasting Sabbath of the world to come. Deceased was till his removal to Winnipeg a resident of Peterborough, and in his wide circle of friends here, his death at so early an age will be thought of with deep regret.

The Belleville Excursion.

The public should take particular note of the grand excursion from Peterborough to Belleville on Wednesday, Sept. 5th. Besides the pleasures of the visit to the beautiful City of the Bay, the date of the excursion has been so arranged that it falls on the day which will witness the union of the different branches of the Methodist church in Canada. All the Methodist bodies have pronounced by a large majority in favor of the union, and the people of Peterborough will be sure to take advantage of an opportunity to see the ceremonies of the final union of Methodism. The train is a special fast one, leaving Peterborough at 7.30 and arriving in Belleville at 11 o'clock. Fare and return only $1.00. Tickets good for six days.

Important to Sportsmen.

We had the pleasure of looking over the splendid stock of fire arms of Mr. Geo. Allen, Hunter street. Mr. Allen has just received from England, Belgium and the United States a large stock of the latest and most improved styles of sporting arms, including breech-loading shot guns and rifles, single and double barrel shot guns at prices ranging from $60 to $16. Also a cheap but first class lot of muzzle loading shot guns, double barrel, from $9.50 upward, and a fine lot of single barrel shot guns from $6.50 upward. His stock is imported direct to his order and the finest guns made can be got at the cheapest figures. Mr. Allen has the best stock ever brought in town, and the most particular sportsman can find a gun to suit in Mr. Allen's fine stock. He also keeps a grand stock of revolvers and all kinds of sportsman's supplies in the way of firearms. Any one needing a first class "shooting iron" should call on Mr. Allen. Read his advertisement and call at his shop, south off Hunter street, near the iron bridge.

New Process Flour.

John Delaney, Jr., of the Mills Grocery (George street north) has arranged with Mr. Hilliard, for a constant supply of his New Process Flour made by the patent roller process, the latest improvement in milling, which he will sell at his grocery, where also can be had all kinds of groceries fresh and good and as cheap as any in town, as he buys direct from the best wholesale houses. 34-2t

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

A Fraud Decoration.

Among the amusing incidents of the present camping season on the back lakes, was the presentation of a gorgeous silver medal to a Napanee gentleman, a member of the "Syndicate Camp" at Boschink, one of the completest in its equipment of bed, board and larder on the lakes. Two years ago the members of the same party, all young and ambitious benedicts, while around the camp fire, fell to canvassing their future chances of additional twigs on the family tree, and it was agreed that the first one who should be blessed with an additional "olive plant round about his table" should receive a complete wardrobe for the youngster from each member of the company. The incident was forgotten for two camping seasons; but, this year it was decided to present a medal instead to the fortunate father, the Napanee gentleman. Accordingly a fine silver medal was struck, having emblazoned on it a legend indicating the circumstances, and on his arrival to the camp the proud parent was duly invested with the decoration, with all the ceremonies and solemnities incident to the jolly composition of the camp. The glittering medallion was fastened to the breast of the proud recipient, who wore it with a most justifiable pride.

"The Best of the Season."

The annual excursion of the Forester's promises to be the grandest and most enjoyable one of the season. The members of Courts "Peterborough" and "Little John" have combined to hold their excursion to Orillia and the far famed Couchiching Park, one of the finest pic-nic grounds in Ontario, on Thursday, August 30th, 1883. The excursion will go by special train, first class coaches and smoking cars attached, leaving Peterborough at 7.30, Fraserville, 7.45, and Millbrook, 8. The train will reach Couchiching at 11 o'clock, and returning will leave Orillia at 5.30 and arrive home at 9 o'clock. The completest arrangements have been made for the comfort of excursionists. Their baskets will be taken in charge at the Midland station, placed in a separate car and be delivered to the owners at the pic-nic grounds. The Fire Brigade Band will accompany the excursion and a Quadrille Band will attend to supply music for dancing. Besides there will be sports and games to add to the interest of the occasion. Tickets will be good to return for three days, allowing persons, so wishing, to visit friends or engage in fishing, etc., etc. The route, the arrangements and the liberal fare will tend to make the Foresters' the most successful excursion of the season. Tickets may be had of the committee or of any of the Railway agents. Two members of the committee went to Orillia yesterday to complete all arrangements and provide in the fullest manner for the comfort and enjoyment of excursionists.

On Wednesday of last week a daughter of Mr. Taylor, of Mr. Peter Hamilton's foundry, had her collar bone broken, and was otherwise injured by a runaway accident.

Port Hope, Lindsay and other small-bore boroughs are exceedingly jealous of the immense manner in which Peterborough leads them, and are greatly inclined to call us egotistical, etc.

The Port Hope papers are grumbling about the dilapidated condition of their street walks. When a man can't walk a plank he naturally blames the pavements for being "out of plumb."

The Church of England Temperance Society is constantly receiving fresh accessions of members. There will be an important meeting next Tuesday night, when Mr. Hoyles, of Toronto, will address the meeting.

School teaching must be a harder worked trade than journalism. It takes a school teacher a two month's holiday to recuperate, while an editor restores his exhausted vital and mental energies by a half fare excursion lasting half-a-day.

A GOOD ONE ON VANDERBILT.

The Vanderbilt family are regaled over the following anecdote: At Saratoga on one occasion, when sitting on the piazza of the Congress hall, a somewhat overdressed lady approched and claimed his acquaintance. The commodore rose and talked affably with her while his wife and daughter sniffed the air with scorn. "Father," said the young lady, as the commodore resumed his seat, "didn't you remember that vulgar Mrs. B. as the woman who used to sell poultry to us at home?"

"Certainly," responded the old gentleman promptly, "and I remember your mother when she used to sell root beer at 3 cents a glass over in Jersey when I went up from Staten Island peddling oysters in my boat." This is vouched for by a gentleman who heard the conversation.

The agricultural statistics for Ireland for the last year, which are now published in the Parliamentary Blue Book, are interesting. Of the 4,787,528 acres given as under bog waste, water, &c, 1,818,487 acres were bog and marsh, 2,095,812 acres barren mountain land 21,860 acres, and water, roads, fences, &c, 2,880. The number of separate holdings is 74,207, being 3,532 less than in the previous year. The returns of live stock show a decrease of 9,889 horses, an increase of 58 mules, an increase of 30,616 cattle, decrease of 184,430 sheep, an increase of 234,298 pigs a decrease of 2,806 goats, and an increase of 26,670 in poultry.

Last Words on a Delightful Subject.

Kindness Everywhere Shown to the Party—The Jolly Sir John Semper Idem—Lorne and Louise as Hosts—The Octogenarian Sir Francis Hincks—Fen Pictures of our Franco-Canadian Brethren—Their Habits, Customs and Characteristics.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The attention that was shown to the representatives of the Ontario Press Association during the recent trip to the Province of Quebec, will long exist as a pleasant recollection to those who availed themselves of the opportunity of becoming acquainted by personal observation with that province. The railway companies, represented by the prominent officials, were foremost in tendering courtesies to the Association. Mr. Stephenson, of the Grand Trunk; Mr. Hibbard, of the Canada Pacific; Mr. Macdonald of the Intercolonial; and Mr. Linsley, of the Canada Atlantic, could not have been more attentive. The Canada Atlantic is the

NEW ROUTE FROM MONTREAL

to Ottawa—114 miles—and the distance is now covered in the remarkable time of two hours and twenty-nine minutes, being the most rapid regular travelling in Canada. It is said that the important changes on the Grand Trunk, lately effected in the running of fast trains between Montreal and Toronto, are due largely to suggestions that emanated from the General Manager of the Canada Atlantic Railway, the Mr. Linsley referred to above. The members of the Association feel deeply indebted to the representatives of these corporations for the favorable opportunity thus offered of visiting Lower Canada. There were nothing but pleasant incidents connected with the trip, and much valuable information was gained.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD WAS MET

at River de Loup. The old war-horse fairly excelled his usual self in affability and attention. While the procession of carriages, containing the members of the Press Association, was passing his summer residence he stood at the gate and doffed his hat or waved a friendly recognition to every visitor. At the municipal banquet Sir John put in an early appearance. He embraced the occasion there to deliver one of his most happy non-political-strongly-political-speeches. He told the people of River de Loup that he found the air of that section of the province more invigorating than any of the famous watering places on the continent of Europe. Amid much natural enthusiasm he informed his hearers that he was a large property holder there. He took occasion to impress the fact upon them that he was a Conservative, a regular old and not only that, but he capped the climax, by proving through some round about genealogy, that he was not only a Frenchman, but a French Canadian. Those of the party who had previously heard the wily old politician inform the electors of western Ontario that he was either a Scotchman or an Irishman, as the leanings of his erstwhile hearers required, supplemented also with the declaration that he was really at heart a Liberal, could not but accept the honorable gentleman's River de Loup utterances with more than the proverbial grain of salt. But Sir John's speech was not for the benefit of the Ontario press party, but for his own benefit among the people of that constituency. Sir John and Lady Macdonald came to the station to bid the party farewell, and none on the platform were more enthusiastic in kindly greetings as the train moved off than the Premier of the Dominion and his amiable lady.

DYED-IN-THE-WOOL TORY,

THREE DAYS WERE SPENT in the ancient and historic city of Quebec. The place is a marvel. It really is Europe of the seventeenth century flourishing in America. The habits and customs of the people are largely as they must have been before Wolfe's memorable conquest. But loyalty to the British Crown rules supreme. The French people regard with pride the history which tells them that the white flag of France floated over that Citadel from 1608 to 1759. But they have nothing in common with the French of to-day. They are monarchical to the core, and are prepared to live and die for England's glory. They rejoice in the fact that their city of Quebec was ancient when the western metropolis' was but an infant in the lap of time.

QUEBEC HAS MANY ATTRACTIONS

for the observing tourist. The plains of Abraham, where the mingling of the blood of Wolfe and Montcalm caused the growth of a powerful British sentiment among a foreign people—the Citadel, with its impregnable fortress and frowning batteries—those quaint narrow streets that have to be visited to be comprehended—those ecclesiastical edifices unequalled for age or solidity on the continent—the grand natural scenery to be observed at every point—the extensive docks and shipping—the massive architectural pile known as Laval University, with it historical antiquities, grand picture gallery, the most valuable museum on the continent, and a library of 70,000 volumes, exceeding by 10,000 the Federal Parliament library at Ottawa—and other points of interest too numerous to mention. Before the party reached Quebec an intimation was received from the

VICE-REGAL RESIDENCE

at the Citadel, that His Excellency the Governor-General and the Princess Louise would be pleased to grant a reception to the members of the Association. It is needless to say that such a gracious invitation, to visit the residence of Lord Lorne and his royal lady, was accepted. Although the party reached the Citadel an hour later than the appointed time the Governor-General and Princess were found in the reception room. The presentation did not partake of that formal character so frequently seen at the annual drawing-room in the Senate Chamber at Ottawa, The A.D.C. in waiting received each one's card as the lady or gentleman came forward, and a hearty grasp from Lord Lorne and the Princess made each feel that the

WELCOME WAS UNRESERVED AND GENUINE.

One of the party had failed to provide himself with the necessary paste-board, and not only presented his card of advertising rates to the A.D.C., but to the Princess as well. About the only use that Her Royal Highness may ever have for noting the advertising rates of our western contemporary, perchance may be in connection with a fifty cent brilliet. If such a contingency should ever arise, the announcement will be cheerfully made in every Ontario journal without charge. The Quebec friends were bid farewell on Monday evening. The hope was expressed on all sides that it might not prove farewell but au revoir. No words could fittingly express the regret that was experienced in parting with those who had been so unremitting in their attention to the Ontario party. Mr. Lavasseur and Dr. Dione are especially deserving of mention, they being respectively President and Secretary of the Quebec Press Association. Tuesday morning found the party again in Montreal, the guests of the Corporation and Harbor Board. It was then that

SIR FRANCIS HINCKS WAS MET.

The old veteran of over eighty years came down to the Windsor House to see his confreres from Ontario. It was a pleasure to hear him talk about the Boundary Question, as he described with such clearness the reasons that led to the decision of the distinguished arbitrators. He laid bare the fallacy that the arbitrators were doubtful about the western boundary. He said that while there might be doubts about the northern boundary being correctly decided, there were none about the western—the question now in dispute. The arbitrators believed that they had proved the true legal western boundary, and he trusted that he would live to see the day when Ontario would be in of the Territory. An extended drive of several hours through the city and suburbs, a sail in the harbor and a lunch on board, presided over by the well-known Mayor, Hon. J. L. Beaudry, brought the day to a close, and the Ontario Press Association excursion of 1883, one of the most pleasant in its history, came to a conclusion.

PEACEABLE POSSESSION

OF THE CHARACTER OF THE PEOPLE of Lower Canada much could be written. A good opportunity was afforded during the drives through the rural settlements east of Quebec to study the population. Abundant evidence was observable that the habitants are a quiet, industrious, fruitful race. They are easily satisfied; are happy when working, early and late; and every home seemed blessed with the presence of a large family of little ones. Of their piety there cannot be any doubt—the smallest hamlets being provided with the presence of a PARISH PRIEST AND A COMMODIOUS CHURCH.

In educational matters the church of Quebec is not backward—even in the rear settlements there being found immense seminaries or seats of learning, where education is dispensed for a very low tuition fee. That they are a moral and religious people there cannot be the slightest doubt. One more thought and this sketch will be drawn to a conclusion. It was particularly noticeable that in every parish there were

SEVERAL BORN ORATORS,

and that, too, among the younger members of the community. The easy flow of language, rounded periods graceful eloquence and soul-stirring impetuosity, charmed the hearts of the visitors. The members of the Press Association learned much in the few days' tour through the old Province of Lower Canada. The information thus gained cannot but be of great service to them in the future. They all learned that the French of Quebec are not foreigners, but brothers, helping to build up this great Confederation.

THE PUMP FOR DEEP WELLS.

The following letter which we have received speaks for itself:—

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

Sir,—Would you kindly permit me through your columns to testify to the very satisfactory manner in which Mr. Henry Owens, the well known pump manufacturer of your town put in a pump for me in a well 90 feet deep. The pump is one of his new improved cone pumps specially fitted for deep wells, and from the satisfactory manner in which it works I have no hesitation in recommending this make to all in need of a pump for deep wells. For ease in work, its non-liability to getting out of order, and general utility I have never seen any pump to equal it. Those requiring one cannot do better than order from him.

Thanking you for inserting this,
I am yours truly,
CHARLES MILLS.

RAILROADERS' HOLIDAY.

Second Annual Outing of the M. R. Employees.

Hutton's Grove, Lindsay, Holds a Holiday Host—The Prize Winners in the Sports—A Delightful Day's Pleasure.

The second annual excursion of the Midland Railway employees to Hutton's Grove, Lindsay, last Saturday was on a gigantic scale of enjoyment and success. The Peterborough party, embracing the Lakefield contingent, left the station here, accompanied by the Fire Brigade Band about half past eight, in eight crowded coaches and on reaching Millbrook, was joined by the Port Hope detachment. The trains were united and three engines took along the immense train consisting of 26 coaches, stretching over a quarter of a mile. There must have been nearly two thousand persons in this train, which received additions at Bethany and Omemee. Good time was made to Lindsay, but here a delay of over an hour made it twelve o'clock before the train reached Hutton's Grove. The party disembarked, and, preceded by the band, and burdened with baskets, marched through the winding aisles of the primeval forest to the grove proper, which is a delightful spot. Here were found the Midland route party and a few from the Victoria and other divisions, fairly well through dinner. The latest arrivals made lunch arrangements at once, and mother earth that had yielded the food, furnished a wide-spread board, upholstered with fresh green grass and the over arching shelter of leafy trees. Acres were covered with the picnic spreads, and as far as the eye or ear could reach could be seen the happy groups around the sylvan tables—could be heard the happy laugh and the clatter of cutlery and crockery.

Dinner despatched, the committee who had made and carried out the arrangements with great care, brought on the well contested

THE DANCING.

In the keenly contested dancing contest, Messrs. W. H. Morris and James Young, Peterborough, acted as judges and awarded the following prizes:—

Waltz—Mr. W. J. & Miss Maggie Foster.
Schottische—Mr. Curran & Miss Scott.
Irish Jig—Mr. J. Driscoll & Mrs. J. Mercer.
Best Lady Step Dancer—Mrs. B. Kelly.
Hornpipe—Miss Mary Meagher.

The following Peterborough gentlemen contributed to the prizes, which were very handsome:—Messrs. J. McAleer, J. McKee, W. H. Wrighton, McKee & Davidson, Macfarlane Wilson, A. McNeil, B. Shortly, W. W. Johnson & Co., M. Miller, T. Menzies, W. Green, J. R. Strraton, Foot & McWhinnie, H. LeBrun, Town Clock Grocery, B. Morrow, H. Rush and J. Brundrett.

The games concluded, the presentation of prizes was prefaced by the reading of the following telegram:—

"PETERBOROUGH, Aug. 25.

"I regret very much that I am unavoidably prevented from being at the pic-nic today. I had fully intended being there, but other pressing engagements deprive me of the pleasure. I wish you all a very pleasant day.

"GEO. A. COX."

The rousing cheers with which this was received testified to the popularity of the President.

The other trains took precedence, and it was after seven o'clock when the main train left the grounds. The only bad feature of the day was the crowded state of the train and the vexatious delay caused by part of the train breaking loose and the having to go back four miles for it. The train was divided at Millbrook, and the home detachment reached town exactly at 12 o'clock.

The promoters and those present are to be congratulated on the marked success of the excursion. Everybody arrived home safe, which, considering the immense crowd speaks well for the train management.

CONTENTMENT.

With such a crowd of course there are some things bound to be overlooked, and slight accidents will happen.

A cow was run down by the excursion train on the way down, and its safe to say that after that train passed over her, there was not enough meat left on her bones to make a sandwich.

A girl fell between two cars but was caught by the skirts in time to save her from a horrible death.

The band had cause for complaint—the meagre meals provided for them not being such as to put much music in their souls.

THE MINNESOTA CYCLONE.

Dreadful Destruction and Horrible Havoc.

Lamentable Loss of Human Life—Terrible Scenes—Houses Swept Away Like Chaff—Crops Utterly Ruined.

On Tuesday last a terrible cyclone happened at Minneapolis. Full details show that it was a frightful visitation. When the full force of the cyclone was felt, what was once a well populated portion of the city was a scene of ruin. Its main course was through lower town, but its force was felt more or less in all parts of the city, and its freaks were wonderful. It demolished well-built structures on Broadway, doing no harm to adjacent buildings beyond overturning chimneys and stripping coverings from the roofs. Hundreds of trees were torn down, rendering many streets impassable. Some of the trees were stripped bare, even the bark being torn off.

A WHOLE SECTION DEVASTATED.

A portion of the city north of the railroad called lower town received the most damage. Not a house is uninjured, and not twenty are standing. It looks at a distance as if there had never been a building in that portion, while in other sections the remains of the houses show the terribly destructive force of the wind. As soon as the cyclone had passed, and people in the more favored portion began to learn of the damage, they went to lower town to render assistance, many working all night.

A SCENE OF APPALLING HORROR.

While all knew the destruction had been fearful, no idea of its extent could be obtained until next morning, when its horrors were appalling. Commencing at J. R. Cook's house, on the St. Paul road, which was entirely demolished, the cyclone took Mr. Leland's residence, barn and outbuildings, not leaving a stick standing, thence sweeping through lower town. It seems as though a terrific flood had swept over this section. In many places where there had been residences scarcely a board was left. The grass was filled with dirt and sand, as if a muddy stream had poured over it. Ten business blocks were unroofed, and 200 houses damaged. The total loss will be $400,000. Twenty-six persons were killed, and fifty-one wounded, many of them fatally.

THE STORM THREE MILES WIDE.

The cyclone started near Owatonna. It varied in width from one to three miles, and did not skip as usual, but swept everything clear. Houses, barns and crops all gone as far as heard from. About six persons were killed outside Rochester. The loss to crops will be $300,000.

A CLEAN SWEEP OF CROPS AND BUILDINGS.

North of Viola the cyclone swept crops and buildings clean. Along the railway people saw the clouds rolling over with a roaring noise.

A WOMAN BLOWN AWAY.

The crops in the path of the cyclone two mile south of Dodge Centre were destroyed, and heavy damage was done to buildings. A man and wife working in the field saw the storm and clung to each other. He was knocked senseless, and she was blown some distance and horribly mutilated, her arm being twisted off. A number of others were injured.

ACCOUNT OF AN EYE-WITNESS.

An eye-witness says at seven o'clock Tuesday evening he reached Rochester, Minn. The entire north part of the place from the Chicago and North-Western track is a confused mass of debris. Scarce a house is standing; the few which were had been shattered as by an earthquake. The affrighted survivors were rescuing the injured and the dead. Before midnight twenty-three corpses lay in the hotel, pitiable figures, some mangled out of human resemblance. Nearly all were injured about the head and face, and appeared as though they had been dragged in the earth. Forty were wounded. It was thought twenty remained in the ruins. The portion of the city swept by the cyclone included generally the poorer dwellings. The storm appeared to have formed about 18 miles north-west of Rochester, gathering violence as it progressed. A lowering, dun-colored, funnel shaped cloud was seen approaching, and in a few moments the slaughter was accomplished. There was no time to escape. The place where the dead lay was indescribably sad. Mothers wildly searching for children, while homeless wives were found whom the tempest had orphaned. One child was the only survivor of a family of seven. The passengers of the train were not aware of the cyclone until their attention was directed to it by feather beds and wearing apparel lodged against the barbed wire fences.

A GENEROUS GIFT.

The Hon. Donald A. Smith has donated the sum of $50,000 to McGill University, Montreal, for the purpose of endowing a medical chair. This is not by any means the first display of generosity to public institutions Mr. Smith has made. He is proverbially liberal in granting aid to worthy objects in the cities between which he spends his time, and if his donations have not heretofore attracted much notice it is probably because, in deference to his own wish, they have not been publicly pronounced.

West Lambton Election Trial.

The Tories entered the petition against the return of Hon. T. B. Pardee for West Lambton, with a great flourish of trumpets, and it was impressed upon the public that the hon. gentleman's election was so corruptly secured that there would not be the slightest difficulty in unseating him, not to speak of his disqualification. It appears, however, that the protest was entered, not on the strength of any evidence of corrupt practice, but merely to embarrass the Government by an implied impeachment of the integrity of one of its members. On Wednesday last the petition was dismissed, and consequently Hon. Mr. Pardee retains his seat. So large a majority as his, 370, precluded the idea of the possibility of its being a purchased one. In connection, the opinion of the learned judges will be of interest. In dismissing the petition Justice Burton said :—

"The petition is dismissed, and I am sure my learned brother agrees with me in thinking it must be very gratifying to all parties concerned that the evidence discloses that this election has been so fairly and purely carried on. If the contest in this county offers an illustration of the way in which the elections have been conducted generally, I think the whole country is to be congratulated on the very beneficial results which have followed recent legislation. * * * The result of this trial is that the whole of the charges from first to last fall to the ground. * * * I think, as far as appears from the evidence, there was an entire absence of corrupt practices in this election."

Mr. Justice Galt added :—"I agree in every observation made by my learned brother. I do not think there is any evidence of corrupt practice at all. The petition must be dismissed with costs."

The Colonies and the Empire.

When one considers how mere a speck Great Britain and Ireland territorially occupy in the composition of the British Empire, the overwhelming importance of the colonies becomes most apparent. Therefore, we are pleased to be able to lay before our readers, in another column, the full text of Lord Dufferin's eloquent speech delivered at a banquet recently extended him by the United Empire Club. Lord Dufferin's intimate association and intelligent acquaintance with colonial concerns makes his words worthy of the highest respect. His peculiar interest in and friendship for Canada, not only while he was our ruler, but never lost sight of in the midst of the higher responsibilities to which his great talents called him, place especial value upon the kind words he said respecting us in his late speech. Lord Dufferin's remarks have the true tone of liberal statesmanship, when he emphasizes the importance of the colonies in the composition of the empire. The spirit of Toryism in England has fought foot to foot for centuries against enlarged liberties for the people. The evil results of the application of the same spirit to the colonies, notably at the time of the secession of the American colonies, has taught the English people a lesson which, as Lord Dufferin remarks, will restrain them from allowing "their Government to repeat the error which resulted in the separation of the United States." The "manifest destiny" of the English speaking race to be the predominant controlling and civilizing power of the earth is an undoubted fact. Our late Governor-General does not paint too roseate a picture when he asserts that before the close of the next century the population of Canada will reach forty millions, and other colonies will more than double these figures. What a tremendous influence such a community of free, commercially aggressive, morally progressive people will exert for good upon the world. For the solidification, so to speak, of this influence, for its perpetuation, the continued union of the Mother Country and its colonies is essential. One is dependent on the other. Britain is the fountain head of constitutional freedom, and religious equality, the home of the industrial and kindly arts, the cradle of literature, science and philosophy, the unique exemplar of all that is greatest, grandest and most ennobling in the highest civilization. And the colonies possess a limitless receptivity of area for her surplus population and an all-capacious field for the expansion and development of all these resources. Great Britain is the garner; the colonies are the virgin soil, ready for the seed. This condition of mutual dependence, fostered by the intelligent care and solicitude of such statesmen as Lord Dufferin, will continue unbroken if the rulers of both colonies and the empire (in its insular sense) act wisely and with due regard for their respective interests, which, while being mutual in many, are diverse in detail. Without the colonies there is no empire; and without the great central power the colonies would degenerate into half-developed nationalities, or, which is more probable, be absorbed into some greater power. But there is little danger of disruption of the tie. Common interest, common language, common sentiment, common commercial advantages, all call for the maintenance of the integrity of the filial bond between the colonies and the mother land; or, as Lord Dufferin, in the closing sentences of his speech, so eloquently puts it:

"And yet these great communities of noble, high-spirited, industrious Englishmen (in the colonies) if only they are properly dealt with, and if only their feelings and just exigencies are duly considered, will never have a brighter ambition than to be allowed to continue co-heirs with England in her illustrious career, associated with her in her gigantic empire and sharers in her fortunes, whether they be for good or evil, until the end of time."

Notes of the Day.

The Salvation Army has a tremendous influence. A Belleville medical student, pursuing his studies at Kingston, has been enrolled in the ranks.

The Pusey Memorial Fund has proved a success. The sum of £25,000 has already been contributed, and the committee who have the matter in hand hope to raise at least £50,000.

The Mayor of Toronto has received an official notification that the Governor-General and the Princess Louise will visit that city on the 12th of September and will spend two days there.

Another victory has been scored by the Irish Home Rule party. The election in Sligo County resulted in the return of Lynch, Home Ruler, by 1,596, against O'Hara, Conservative, 1,020 votes.

It is said that Stuart Cumberland has cleared $25,000 by his "mind reading" performances in the United States and Canada. The American continent is a prolific harvest field for English lecturers and actors.

A very curious advertising dodge was adopted by the Canada Pacific Railway Company and the North-West Land Company. They sent an immense quantity of immigration literature home to Britain, which was distributed by the Canadian Lacrosse team. Much interest has been awakened through this means of information, and doubtless these companies will be more than repaid for their industrious ingenuity.

According to the report of the British Postmaster-General the number of letters delivered during the year which it covers was 1,280,636,200; number of post-cards, 144,016,400; number of newspapers, 140,682,600; packages, etc., 288,206,400. The revenue of the Department for the year reached £9,431,812. During the year the number of depositors in the Post-Office Saving Bank increased by 250,000, making a total of nearly £3,000,000. The aggregate deposits amount to £39,000,000.

During the year which ended on the 20th of June the following pensions were granted out of the British Civil List :—Mr. Samuel R. Gardiner, £150, in recognition of valuable contributions to the history of England; Mrs. Emma Robinson, £80, in recognition of the services of her husband, the late Canon Robinson, in the cause of public education; Mr. John Hullah, £150, in recognition of his services in the advancement of musical education; Mr. David Wingate, £50, in consideration of his merit as a poet, and of his narrow means of subsistence; Mrs. Alma Hass, £80, in recognition of the position of her husband, Dr. Hass, as an Oriental scholar, and of his important services in the British Museum; Mrs. Augusta M. E. Palmer, £200, in recognition of the services of her late husband, Professor Palmer, and in view of all the circumstances of the case; Prince Lucien Louis Bonaparte, £250, in consideration of his services to literature and learning; Anna Maria Lady Palliser, £150 in recognition of the valuable services of her late husband, Sir William Palliser, in the improvement of the manufacture of projectiles and rifle ordnance; and Mrs. H. S. Russell, £90, in consideration of the high position held by her late husband as a naval architect.

WHAT ARE SCRATCHES?

For horses that are troubled with the disease called scratches Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment proves a sure cure, as witness the following: "Last April, during the wet season, both of my horses were terribly bad with scratches. They were both quite lame and gradually growing worse. I tried various horse liniments but all of no avail, until a friend recommended highly Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. I bought a bottle and my horses were well in two days. I never saw its equal for horse flesh."

GRINDING THE GOLDEN GRAIN!

The Latest Triumph at the Blythe Mills.

Mr. Hilliard's Improvement—Gain in Quantity and Quality—How it is Done—A Ton of Flour in Twenty-Four Hours.

Improvement in its onward march is relentless and void of gratitude. No matter what mechanical appliance, no matter how long it has served the world or how efficiently, when a modern improvement presents its claims, the superseded appliance must retire. The mill stone is venerable for its antiquity. Before history found a record the millstone in some form served the human race by preparing the golden grain for its use, but modern invention and improvement supplied something better, and now

THE MILL STONE MUST GO.

The gradual reduction system of making flour is so vast an improvement in the quantity of flour produced from a given quantity of wheat, and also in the quality of the product, that it is rapidly superseding the old and time-honored, though comparatively crude mill stone process.

Regarding the new system in the light of a necessity to a live business man, Mr. George Hilliard, proprietor of the Blythe flouring mills, has adopted the and has had it in successful operation ten days, and the experiment is no longer an experiment but an assured and gratifying success.

Before indicating in what the new style consists, it may be as well to point out that the new preparatory machinery, with which Blythe Mills is supplied is in keeping with the improved mechanism of the mills. This consists principally of a compound separator, in which the loose particles of foreign matter, which escape the most conscientious fanning mills, are entirely removed from the wheat. From this the grain passes to a combined brush and scouring machine, in which the berry is polished and every particle of fuzz or adhering bits of the blossom removed, as well as the blue deposit that is found in the crease on one side of the berry, and which spoils the colour and impairs the quality of the flour.

The rollers consist of a system of corrugated iron cylinders in three sets. The cleaned wheat passes through the first in which it is but slightly bruised or broken, not ground. It is then carried on by suitable machinery to another pair of rolls more closely set and is still further crushed, and finally to the last of the three sets, when it is still more closely "reduced." As the crushed grain falls from the "breaks," as they are technically called, it drops on finely perforated zinc screens, which allow the finer portions to go through as the crushed grain passes between each set of corrugated rollers in succession. What passes through the zinc screens is conveyed to the bolt reels in the second story, where the meal is bolted and the product is the which goes direct to the patent packers, which are adjustable to the packing of a 200 lb. barrel, or a quarter of a hundred paper sack.

The germ middlings, that is, the coarsest of the middlings which pass from the tail of the belts are conveyed back to the smooth chilled iron rollers and are submitted to another crushing, after which they are carried to the bolts and the resulting product goes along with the strong baker's flour.

THE PATENT FLOUR

is made entirely from middlings. The middlings that result from the bolting of first crushings of the wheat (except the germ middlings before mentioned) pass over a purifier, a screen covered with fine silk gauze, where a suction of air lifts all the fibres of the middlings, and the middlings thus prepared pass through and are conveyed back to the stone rolls, which are composed of cylinders of a close grained Georgia stone, a little larger in diameter but shorter than the chilled iron rolls. From these the super-crushed middlings pass to the patent flour bolts where they become patent flour and pass to the patent flour packers similar to the others spoken of. About 25 per cent of the flour produced by this process is the patent flour which is the ever made. Under the old system it was the aim to make as few middlings as possible, but under the patent process, in which the middlings produce the finest of the flour, the object is to make the greatest amount of middlings.

FINEST PASTRY FLOUR

From the tail of the patent flour bolt another quality of middlings passes over, and this is again manipulated, and the resulting flour goes with the aforesaid strong baker's flour.

Thus it will be seen that this system results in the least possible waste, every portion almost of the wheat being utilized for the production of flour. But is yet to yield its share. The bran resulting from the first crushings of the grain—that portion which does not pass through the zinc screens, of course holds a considerable quantity of valuable flour, and is again passed through two corrugated iron rollers; from these it is carried to the bolts, and the resulting flour goes to mix with the strong bakers. There is, however, a little flour still clinging to the bran, and this must not be wasted. To save it the bran is conveyed from the tail of the bolt reels to the which consists of a hollow cylinder of wire screen enclosed in a casing. Inside the screen which is stationary revolves a shaft from which project five arms or spokes armed with brushes, which revolve at the rate of 300 times a minute. The bran as it falls into the cylinder of the bran duster is brushed against the close meshes of the screen and the whole of the flour is brushed out. This is bolted and goes also with the strong bakers flour, and the bran or polished wheat skins is also conveyed away and it is about as good an article of food for a beast as so many fish scales.

THE BRAN

Thus it will be seen that by this process there is almost absolutely no waste of any portion of the wheat. The new system does away with mill stones, as popularly understood entirely, and there is no loss of time and the use of ponderous machinery to hoist out the mill stones and ruin a miller's health by picking them. In Blythe mills, however, one stone is retained for the accommodation of the public to do custom chopping for feed.

The mill is in charge of Mr. Joseph Hughes, head miller, who has been [illegible] in other establishments of the kind.

The cost of the alterations and improvements to the Blythe mills is about $3,000, and there is no doubt the public will, by liberal patronage, show their appreciation of Mr. Hilliard's enterprise in providing the latest improved machinery for the production of the best flour that can be made.

THE FIDELITY OF THE DOG.

A remarkable instance of the fidelity and sagacity of the dog lately happened at Milford Haven, England. Two men named Davies and Taylor were out in a boat which was swamped. The former of these was the owner of a dog, and while the men were struggling in the water the animal caught hold of Taylor with the object of supporting him; finding, however, that it was not his master to whom he was rendering assistance, he relinquished his grasp and went to the aid of Davies, his master, supporting him until he was rescued by a passing steamer, the other man being drowned.

THE IRISH RACE.

WHAT LORD WOLSELEY SAYS OF THE IRISH PEOPLE.

Lord Wolseley was entertained at a banquet recently in the Rotunda, Dublin, Viscount Gough presiding, with the Lord Lieutenant on his right, and Lord Wolseley on his left. There were present several generals and officers who shared in Lord Wolseley's campaign, most of the Irish judges the members of Parliament for the city and university of Dublin, the principal members of the learned professions, and the leading citizens. In proposing "Prosperity to Ireland," Mr. Gibson referred to the self-denial of Earl Spencer in taking up its government at such a critical period. Earl Spencer, in reply, said the country had in a great measure emerged from the difficulties which of late had surrounded it. His aim was to bind it firmly and cordially with England. Lord Wolseley, in responding to the toast to his health said: During the course of a long career as a soldier, it has been my constant practice, and, I may also add, that to me it has been a great pleasure, at all times to study the character of the men that I have been brought into contact with, and especially the distinctive characteristics that mark out Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen. In contemplating the different characteristics of these three races, each one of which has its distinctive virtues, it has always occurred to me, in reference to Irishmen, in whom naturally, I take great interest, that in order to develop what is really best in an Irishman it is almost necessary that he should leave this small but great island of ours—(hear)—and go abroad to seek his fortune. (Hear.) I have always thought that the Irishman who stays at home stays rather to talk and talk of politics and dream dreams, perhaps as wild as the wildest fables you read of in Eastern history, while the Irishman who goes abroad to England or to any of the colonies goes abroad to work. (Cheers.) He associates there very quietly with other people and works side by side with other races, and he knows that hard work alone meets with success—(cheers)—and what but hard work and hard work alone can bring prosperity to a nation? (Cheers.) Take Irishmen away from this country, away from the baneful and injurious influences by which sometimes they are surrounded here—take them away from the arena of political life and turmoil and bring them to our colonies, or even to England, or any shore across the Channel, and you find that they work hard like others, that they soon develop those qualities of energy, determination and industry that have given success to so many millions of her Majesty's subjects in all parts of the world (Cheers.) With the talent that God has given us, and with a fair field, Irishmen will compete favorably with those who are our neighbors. (Cheers.) The man who would restrict Irishmen to their own country is no patriot. (Cheers.) They want a wider field for their energies and enterprise, and that they can only have by remaining part and parcel of the British Empire. (Cheers.) It is for that reason, I believe, there are so many thousands, aye, so many millions of Irishmen in the country who feel like myself, determined, and really determined, that they will shed their last drop of blood sooner than see the bonds that unite us to England ever severed—(cheers)—or in any way weakened or dissolved. (Cheers.) Success, my lords and gentlemen, we have been always told, breeds enemies in the same way that the sun breeds flies. I have been what is termed a successful man, and I am no exception to that rule. I in my turn have had my enemies—my share of them—I think too many of them. Many stories have been propagated by them, which are wholly and entirely untrue; but of all the unfair stories, the foulest stories ever invented about me, the greatest untruth started against me, is that which has been started by some people recently, that I am anti-Irish in my feelings, and that my sympathies are not with the Irish people. That calumny I repudiate with all the strength that is within me. (Hear, hear.) I decline most emphatically and most positively to be dissociated in any way whatever from the land of my birth. (Hear, hear.) I decline to be dissociated or disconnected in any way whatever from those gallant Irish soldiers with whom I have spent so many years of my life—those gallant Irish soldiers whom I have always found during my career—and it has been, as I have said before, a varied one—always ready and prompt, willing and anxious, to take their share of danger when danger was to be undergone. I should be a craven if for no other reason—I should not be worthy of the uniform or worthy of the position I hold in the army, if I should wish to be dissociated in any way whatever from, not the Ireland of politics, but the Ireland of chivalry and courage. It is not necessary for me to tell you that during the recent war in Egypt I had a considerable number of Irish soldiers with me in the army, and I can only say that there were no men with whom I had the honor of being associated that did their work better. They were always willing to undertake any difficult service without grumbling or making any difficulty about it, and I have been so impressed with the manner in which these Irish soldiers did their work that, should it be my good fortune at any future time to be entrusted with the command of an army, I hope and trust most sincerely that there will be in that army an Irish brigade commanded by an Irish brigadier. (Loud cheers.) In the many campaigns in which I have in past life been engaged, I have almost invariably found a Scotch brigade, and I cannot see any just reason why a British army fighting under a flag that contains the Cross of St. George and St. Andrew and St. Patrick should not have an Irish brigade as well as a Scotch and English brigade, and whenever that Irish brigade was to take the field under any general in whom it may have confidence, that force will prove worthy of the country from whence it came, and worthy of the Sovereign whose uniform it wears. (Cheers.)

PREHISTORIC REMAINS.

The railway contractor's men near Nepigon happened recently to run the line through the grave of an Indian who was probably in his lifetime a chief. The antiquity of the remains is shown by the articles found in the tomb—a pair of scissors, a spear head, and a round bar which appears to have been used as a drill. These implements are all made of copper, which is tempered to a high degree of hardness. The bar, notwithstanding its long interment, rings like a piece of steel when struck, and very little impression can be made on it with a knife. In spite of their age the bones of the Indians still appeared in the usual form, but on exposure to the air they at once mouldered into dust. In all probability the Indian belonged to the race known amongst archæologists as "Mound-builders," traces of whom have been found over a large area to the south of the lakes. That they were well acquainted with the use of copper is shown by implements found in their mounds, and also by traces of their modes of raising the metal from its place in the earth.

ONLY A PRINTER.

Often we hear the remark: "Oh, he's only a poor printer." Yes, and often he of whom the remark is made is far richer than the one who makes it. It is not all of life to live for the paltry gold which fills up the coffers of the rich. Riches do not always bring downy couches or sweet sleep and pleasant dreams. He who possesses a well stored mind with contentment, and and a peaceful one, is rich indeed.

"He's only a printer." Such was the remark of the aristocracy—the codfish aristocracy. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What is Prince Frederic William, married to the Princess Royal of England? He, too, is only a printer. Who was William Caxton, one of the fathers of literature? He was only a printer. Who were George Brown, William Lyon Mackenzie, N. P. Willis, J. Gales, C. Richardson, Horace Greely, Bayard Taylor, Chas. Dickens, Thiers, Jerrold, George D. Prentice, Bishop Kavanagh, and Senators Dix and Cameron? They were only printers. What was Benjamin Franklin? He was only a printer. Everybody cannot afford to be a printer—brains are necessary.

THE REAL BOY.

I once saw a boy going down the street singing at the top of his lungs, "Dare to be right, dare to be true!" singing it so loud that he woke up all the babies on the block and set every lost dog in the ward to barking, and as he smashed a window, broke a chicken's leg with a stone, "sassed" a market woman, shot a farmer in the eye with a "nigger-shooter," hit a dog a crack with a shinny-club that made poor Carlo howl till his back ached, pulled a picket of a fence, slapped a little boy and took his cookey away from him. He disappeared inside the school room, and abouve all other voices I could hear his soulful shriek in the morning song, "Oh, how I love my teacher dear!" and within 15 minutes he inked a boy's nose, put two bent pins where they would do the most harm, salted a claim of shoemaker's wax on the teacher's chair, scratched his name on his desk with a pin, ate an apple and fired the core into the ear of the good boy with a thin neck who was never absent or tardy.

NOT BORN TO BE DROWNED

A DOG TAKES A TRIP OVER NIAGARA FALLS AND COMES OUT ALL RIGHT.

Mr. G. Chorman, says the Niagara Falls Gazette, has had in his possession for a time a dog which, although by no means vicious, had become addicted to barking at teams and pedestrains as they come along the street, much to the annoyance of its owner, who had tried to break him off the habit. Failing in his teachings, Mr. Chorman decided to put the dog out of the way, and, thinking a trip over the falls most effectual, proceeded early Sunday morning, with the assistance of one of his employees, to drop him into the river from the centre of Goat Island Bridge. Bidding doggy good-by as he floated down the rapids, he returned home; but doggy would not have it that way. During the afternoon a stranger, walking across the new suspension bridge, observed a dog under the bank, and notified the gate-keeper at the American end of the bridge, who, with a glass, recognized the dog, and, knowing that he had been sent over the falls notified Mr. Chorman that the dog was below the bank. Later in the day Mr. Chorman went down the inclined railroad but could not find the animal; but early yesterday morning his son went down and soon discovered the dog, who seemed as frisky as though nothing had happened. All at once he has become the hero of the hour, and will now be allowed remain and live out the full measure of his days.

"SAVE HER; SHE IS MY WIFE."

Natural affection is a beautiful thing and every fresh exhibition of its tenderness affects us to tears. A wife—possibly an old wife—on a certain occasion fell overboard. The husband rushed frantically about the deck, literally tearing his hair out by the handful and crying in the most beseeching tones, 'For Heaven's sake save her, save her; she is my wife.' The noble sailors thought of their own sweethearts and ran all risk, and last brought the poor woman into the cabin of the swooning husband. The look of gratitude he gave them fully repaid them for all their efforts. Then, recovering his equanimity he thrust his hand into his wife's wet pocket, pulled out a somwhat plethoric purse, and with infinite relief, said:—'Old woman, the next time you tumble overboard just leave that purse behind, will you? You scared me almost to death.'

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. PETERBOROUGH, AUG. 30, 1883.

The Muskoka Election Trial.

The trial of the election petition against the return of Mr. Fauquier in Muskoka began last week, and furnishes startling developments of the way in which the Dominion Government took charge of an Ontario riding through their henchmen, well provided with money and whiskey. There were over 150 charges of bribery and corruption, and 200 involving parties, not voters, who voted in the unorganized districts. These were under command of John Shields, of—everywhere, where there is dirty work to do for the Dominion Government,—Big Push Wilkinson, now of Peterborough, Gum Swamp Anderson, of North York, Roddy Pringle, of Cobourg, and last, but not least, H. H. Smith, of Peterborough. Chantler and Perry, saw-miller and postmaster respectively, of Bracebridge, were the first of the bribery brigade. They paid out $17 to one Rowley to vote for the "right man, Fauquier." The Dominion Government brigade was well provided with ammunition. They went to Sibbett's hotel, Bracebridge, with trunks filled with whiskey. Shields engaged most of the hotel during the election, and prominent Conservatives brought the voters there to "interview" him. Mr. H. H. Smith came to the hotel a day or two after Shields, "on business of public importance," and paid the bills. Mr. Fauquier paid visits to the hotel, being a long time closetted with Shields. When the parties spread out to different parts of the riding they took their trunks of whiskey with them, to be used as argument, in influencing the electors. Mr. Shield's did not bring his money in specie. Mr. Roper, Manager of the Muskoka Banking Company, cashed a $1,000 cheque for him. The cheque was endorsed by H. H. Smith or Big Push Wilkinson, the witness not being certain which. Richard Mills, one of the witnesses, combined the offices of assessor and Tory canvasser, and used all the influence he could to elect Mr. Fauquier. He had also the honor of an introduction to both Mr. Shields and Mr. Shield' trunk full of whiskey. He was one of the parties that agreed to take sleigh loads of bogus votes to the unorganized districts, and to tell them that all their expenses would be paid. There were a dozen sleigh loads, nine or ten men in each load. One Cosgrave, of Toronto, and Big Push Wilkinson, fed and whiskeyed the gang en route. After the voting Mills paid out $8 to one man, and spent $2 in treating. The evidence showed how anxious the Dominion Government was to have their servants help the election along, Mr. Cahill, of this town, Inspector of Weights and Measures, having been sent up to act as scrutineer for Fauquier, at Huntsville; but Mr. "McIntyre" did not turn up in the trial, though on hand. Robert Nichol, an agent of Fauquier, made one Mason's wife a present of $2 worth of groceries in consideration of her husband's vote. Chantler, another agent of Fauquier's, paid a man Beatty for his vote, with very little secrecy. Burk, another missionary, had got men with bogus votes to come down from the Pacific Railway works at Callendar. He also gave corroborative evidence of the trunks filled with whiskey. Mr. Fauquier, when put on the stand, denied having any knowledge of Shields or his gang, in connection with the election, though it was proven that he was closetted with whiskey-box Shields for hours at Bracebridge. Gum Swamp Anderson was exceedingly zealous. He gave one Cameron $10 to take up some bogus voters to an unorganised district—to pay expenses and treating; when that was done Anderson promised him more money. Anderson proved a true prophet; he told Cameron that Fauquier was to be put in at this election if money could do it, and money did do it. Sundry other teams were hired to carry bogus voters, some getting as much as $15. The sleighs were well provided with whiskey, but of such poor quality that it froze on the road and had to be thawed out. Anderson paid the hire of the teams.

Such, at only the beginning of the trial, are some of the means employed to turn a Reform majority of 400 in Muskoka into a minority of 200. Through all the proceedings of the trial the hands of the Dominion Government, through their understrappers, are apparent; and there is an immense amount of corruption yet to unearth. The witnesses who know most of the dirty work are sent out of the way. Chantler has fled to the States; Perry is in hiding somewhere; Whiskey Shields is in Manitoba, directing the attacks against the purity of the franchise in Algoma; H. H. Smith is off to England on business of "public importance," and consequently at the people's expense, and Rod Pringle is keeping him company. Besides, a host of minor dirty-workers are in hiding. What a picture would be unfolded if these parties were got into the witness box! Never was there such a degrading exhibition of rottenness and corruption at an election contest as that developed by the election trial, and the worst cannot be known, and there is more to come.

By a decision already given in the case by the learned judges, Justices Patterson and Ferguson, it seems certain that the election will be voided. They have decided that the votes of those who were not on the voters' lists in their own localities, and who were shipped to the unorganized districts, were illegal, and they will, of course, be struck off on a scrutiny. Their Lordships' decision in the matter of agency is another important point. Anderson has been declared an agent of Fauquier's at this election. If he is so declared, then Shields, Pringle, H. H. Smith, Wilkinson and Madill, the rejected of North Ontario, will also be put down as agents; and as it has been proved that Anderson did enough dirty work to last a political malefactor a lifetime, the combined depravity of even the outside brigade will be a terrible total.

No other result was to be expected than the decision of the Court that Mr. Fauquier, the candidate and protege of the Dominion Government, elected by Government funds, and by the corrupt acts of Dominion public servants, should be declared unseated. This decision will be a "body blow" to the corruptionists: The candidate unseated and the costs assessed against him; the cross petition entered against Mr. Bettes dismissed with costs; the case of the delectable gang, Shields, Anderson, Smith, Pringle and Wilkinson, under consideration of the judges to have them declared guilty of corrupt practices, and the respondent, Mr. Fauquier, himself in the hands of the judges, who are considering the question of his disqualification. It is not probable that there has ever been an election investigated which, at the very outset, showed such a net-work of villainously corrupt practice as that just concluded in Bracebridge. It is no wonder that the judges were satisfied—disgusted would seem to be a better word—as to the corrupt practices when they heard only a few out of the 350 charges contained in the bill of particulars. The brigade, so largely represented in this county,—Messrs. Shields, Anderson, Smith, Wilkinson and others—must feel mightily humiliated that they have not only been compelled to skulk in hiding for months in vain, but that all their dirty work, that has irretrievably blackened for life their political characters, has been also labour lost, and that the black shadow of disqualification is hanging over them with only the tender mercy of the Court of Appeal between them and its fall.

Editorial Notes.

The unseated and still seatless premier of Quebec, Mr. Mousseau, has at last mustered courage enough to address the electors of Jacques Cartier. His is a most decided example of political cowardice.

Sir John expected to gain a Tory victory in Ontario by the use of public money, cribbed more or less directly, and watered whiskey. But he will learn that Ontario is the wrong material to be bullied or bought.

The result of the Muskoka election petition trial will be perhaps a warning to Sir John, H. H. Smith, Shields, Anderson, "McIntyre," Cahill, et al, that interference in the coming election in Algoma, will meet with similar results.

Conservatives, reflect: Can candidates elected in Ontario constituencies by Sir John's and the Dominion Government's influence—by their bribery and corruption, be trusted to watch over the interests of this Province, honestly and faithfully?

An appeal is to be entered against the decision of the Election Court unseating Mr. Phelps, the Reform candidate. At any rate there is good reason to believe that if Mr. Phelps goes back to the riding for re-election, there will be no difficulty in returning him by a large majority.

The cotton boom is collapsing. The artificial back-bone supplied by the N. P. is pegging out quite as was to be expected. Over-production has followed excessive competition, and now we have combination to keep life in the industry. The cotton weavers of Montreal have had a meeting, and a combination is to be made to come to some arrangement to increase the price of cotton goods by shortening the production. That, of course, means that hundreds of operatives, that the N. P. was to keep forever employed at high wages, will be thrown out of employment, and that the career of cheap cottons is coming to to a close. Let the operatives be discharged and die of of hunger, so long as the cotton lords can combine to keep up their enormous profits.

RAT PORTAGE MATTERS.

Recent advices from this village show that the Ontario Government have established legitimate and permanent municipal institutions. On Wednesday morning the following as reeve and councillors were elected under the Ontario jurisdiction by acclamation;—Reeve, F. Holmes, lumber merchant. Councillors—W. L. Baker, general merchant; C. W. Chadwick, hardware merchant; Frank Stubbs, contractor; A. D. McDonald, baker and confectioner. The meeting was large, enthusiastic, and there was no show of opposition.

The bogus municipal council of the Manitoba side is a lamentable burlesque, and a report of the proceedings reads more like a description by Mark Twain or Bret Harte of western plain life incidents than the serious deliberations of a municipal body. The "proceedings" developed the fact that there was not a cent of money in the municipal treasury of the Manitoba concern, and the village solicitor, Brydon's demand for rent of the jail was refused by the "Mayor" in the following terms:—

"I tell you, Brydon its no use worrying us when we haven't got any money. The only chance we ever had to get any was on the licenses, and the Manitoba Commissioner came and beat us out of that. He gave out the licenses, and took the money he collected off to Winnipeg, without even giving us a show to get our share."

Mr. Brydon made one more attempt to press his claim.

His "Worship"—You are too late, Brydon. We're considering the by-laws now. Here, Gad, take the chair, and before the village solicitor could protest Councillor Gadbois had taken the chair, and the Council was in Committee of the Whole to pass through its various readings a by-law to appoint Wideman tax collector for the city.

Councillor Gadbois—Here Brydon, see if that by-law is all-right.

The Village Solicitor—I'd like to see some fees in connection with my office.

Councillor Gadbois—There you go again; you're always kicking about your fees. I've never seen you earn any fees since you were appointed. I said, 'Look over that by-law." I didn't ask you to kick about money.

The by-law was favorably reported upon by the city solicitor and passed through its various stages, after which the Mayor resumed his seat and the Council adjourned.

THE ACCUSED ACQUITTED.

Redding and McDonald, the Ontario constables, were charged before the Manitoba Magistrate, Brereton, with the false arrest of Macmaster, the Manitoba constable. Both were honorably acquitted, it being proven beyond a doubt that Macmaster was drunk and fighting when arrested. A special effort was made to convict McDonald, counsel having been brought from Winnipeg to assist Mr. Fitzgerald in the prosecution. Mr. Apjohn defended the accused.

That line of Fancy Brocade Dress Goods that Turnbull is selling at 15c a yard, makes pretty School Dresses.

SIR TUPPER AND THE "TIMES."

CAN THE HIGH COMMISSIONER CLEAR HIS SKIRTS?

A short time ago a sketch of Sir Chas. Tupper's career appeared in the New York Times and was copied into some of the Canadian newspapers. The sketch contained many statements seriously affecting the private character of Sir Charles—some bearing upon his early history and others referring to more recent scandals with which his name has been associated. The organs of the Government characterize these statements as "slanders," and their authors as "ruffians," but all the same this method of dealing with the accusations does not establish the innocence of Sir Charles, and it would be well for the reputation of one who occupies such an exalted position as Canada's High Commissioner at the Court of St. James, if some means could be devised to clear his skirts. Some of the offences attributed to Sir Charles are of quite recent date, and affect not only his moral character but his integrity as Minister of Railways and if they were unfounded it would not be difficult to acquit Sir Charles, whose name was undoubtedly freely used during the late session in Ottawa in connection with one of the charges preferred against him in the article referred to. It can be remembered how the late Hon. George Brown dealt with a scandal and its author, and the same course is undoubtedly open to Sir Charles if he cares anything for his reputation. Sir Charles might include the Carillon dam charges, made by that good Tory sheet the Montreal Gazette, and have Tory mud cleaned from his immactalate skirts by the same process.

Business Failures and the N. P.

In his Budget Speech last session Sir Leonard Tilley said that Canada was in a more prosperious condition than she had ever been before. He also predicted seven years of glorious good times as in store for his countrymen. But the unfeeling mercantile agencies refuse to prove Sir Leonard in the right. On the contrary, Sir Leonard, on his return from England, on Saturday, found prevaling a state of affairs which he will find difficult to explain away. The following is the unpleasant record of failures since last June as compared with a corresponding period of 1882:—

FAILURES IN CANADA.

In the period given the failures this year are shown by the figures to be 211 more than those of last year, an increase of 163 per cent. This will be proof positive to Government supporters that the whole trading community has entered a political combination with the malignant Grits to oust the present Ministry.

TORY MOVEMENT TO CAPTURE ALGOMA.

The Globe's Ottawa corresponent telegraphs: For some days past there has been what is called a grand movement on foot in the inner circles of the Government to capture Algoma for the Tories. The chief weapon that the party propose to use is cash. A check for $40,000 passed through the Finance Department the other day under circumstances which suggest that there will be demands for another "re-measurement and re-classification" to follow. Mr. J. J. Macdonald, one of the partners in Manning, Shields & Macdonald, arrived at Ottawa a few days ago, and after staying one day proceeded to Riviere du Loup to see Sir John in reference to the proper steps to be taken in the interests of the Tory party during the Algoma election. When Mr. J. J. Macdonald was in Toronto he received a bogus message from Ottawa signed "Shields, "while everybody who knew anything was conversant with the fact that the latter was busy assisting Norquay at Rat Portage at the time. However, Macdonald stole away rather quietly to see the Premier, and it is now said that everything has been arranged, Shields to lead the crowd and have charge of the campaign fund. It is understood that J. J. Macdonald will leave for the west tomorrow or next day, and a conference will be held at Rat Portage on or about August 12, when the programme will be complete.

A hospital professor was making an amputation in the presence of his students; meanwhile the patient groaned and sobbed. Irritated at hearing so much groaning, the professor said to the patient: "Do me the favor to be quiet, for we can't hear ourselves talk. There are 100 persons here at least, and you are the only one who is making any fuss."

SPEAKING

FOR MYSELF.

The announcement of the Dissolution of Partnership you have all read. It has been before your eyes for the last month. That I am now carrying on the business by and for myself should be fully known. No doubt it is.

I wish to thank those who have bought from the firm in the past. I wish to ask that the same preference shall be shown myself in the future. Rest satisfied that I shall endeavor to merit your custom. My aim and effort will be to foresee the run of trade and to keep up a stock every week alike—one worth buying from. If such goods as are in demand are not to be found at my counters, somebody's at fault. And everything shall be bought at such a nimble purchase, that the prices to you, to all, will be fractional.

BY WAY OF REMINDER

that at the end of a season is a good time to buy, I will say that a small balance of Summer Goods are yet unsold. These will be rattled out—they're well worth buying—at a reduction from early prices. You will find these goods so displayed that you can run your eyes over them quickly. Secure these while they are going, and the advantage is wholly on the side of the buyer.

YOU ARE NOT LIKELY

to find a store where you will be better or more pleasantly served than mine. The harder you are to please the better for the stock. Then you'll appreciate a really well filled preparation. Look in at any rate. Who makes lookers more welcome? It shows up the goods, and of course, with the goods the prices.

Opened Out a Large Portion of NEW FALL GOODS.

ONTARIO'S FOOD SUPPLY.

The August Report of the Bureau of Industries.

A Late Harvest But a Generally Good Crop—Hay and Clover the Largest Ever Known—The Provincial Dairy Interest.

Mr. A. Blue of the Ontario Bureau of Industries furnishes the following interesting synopsis of the condition of Ontario's food supply:—

The area under wheat this year is 1,676,545 acres; the estimated produce 26,759,439 bushels, and the average yield per acre 15·6 bushels, but later returns will probably reduce this estimate. Last year the area under wheat was 1,775,377 acres; the product 4,921,201 bushels, and the average yield per acre 23 bushels. The total area of fall wheat sown, as returned by township assessors for this year, was 1,178,299 acres, of which 88,734 are reported as having been ploughed up or resown. The breadth of spring wheat sown is nearly the same as last year.

The return made by the farmers on June 15 showed that they had in reserve at that date 5,453,485 bushels of old wheat, or fully six months' supply for the whole province. The quantity held by millers and stored in warehouses has not been ascertained but it is not large.

The area of barley is less than last year by 91,000 acres and the estimated produce by 3,670,000 bushels. In the western counties of the province it was injured by the excessive rainfall of June and the first half of July, and the bulk of it is not a good sample. In the counties of York, Durham, Northumberland and Prince Edward a large acreage has been reaped and housed in excellent condition.

The acreage under oats is larger this year than last year, and the crop is reported to be an excellent one in all parts of the province. Like other cereals, it is about two weeks later than usual in ripening. The estimated product is 5,626,000 bushels more than last year, and the average yield is nearly 40 bushels per acre.

Rye is only moderately good. The winter variety fared better than fall wheat, but the spring rye was injured by rains and the stand was light.

Peas has been a good crop in the northern and northeastern counties, but in the west midland and Lake Erie counties it was scalded or drowned out by the rains. The area is somewhat less than last year, but the estimated produce is 775,000 bushels more.

The following table shows the area and produce of those staple crops of the province for 1882 and 1883.

1883.	Acres.	Bushels.
Fall Wheat	1,088,455	16,522,339
Spring Wheat	587,099	10,237,080
Barley	757,622	20,813,495
Oats	1,421,429	55,724,044
Rye	188,438	3,577,774
Peas	543,713	11,712,338
Total	4,587,847	118,393,091

1882.	Acres.	Bushels.
Fall Wheat	1,188,599	31,255,902
Spring Wheat	588,817	9,655,999
Barley	848,617	24,394,407
Oats	1,375,415	50,067,997
Rye	189,031	3,549,808
Peas	557,157	10,043,355
Total	4,744,557	129,796,853

Corn was planted late, and the wet weather of June and July did great injury to it. In some sections of the Lake Erie counties, where this crop is chiefly grown, it was drowned out by the heavy rains, and excepting on high lands its condition at the beginning of the month was generally very poor. The area of growing crop has doubtless been considerably reduced by the unfaverable weather. The bean crop is in a more hopetul condition, as also is buckwheat. The total area under corn, beans and buckwheat is shown by the tables to be 313,013 acres, against 276,297 acres last year.

The crop of hay and clover is doubtless the largest ever grown in the country, and the bulk of it has been well cured and safely housed. The area was 2,359,521 acres and the estimated produce 2,090,626 tons, against 1,825,890 acres and 2,090,626 tons last year. It will be remembered that last year the clover was almost completely ruined by winter exposure and spring frosts which fully accounts for the smaller area and the lighter yield as compared with this year. The second crop of clover was making fine growth at the beginning of the month, but more recent information gives ground to the fear that in many localities the seed will be destroyed by the midge. This new pest is rapidly extending to all parts of the province.

Roots made slow progress in the early part of the season in consequence of the excess of rainfall, but the reports show that in the last half of July they made rapid and healthy growth. The chief difficulty experienced was to keep the weeds in check. The area under potatoes is 167,302 acres, against 160,700 last year; and under carrots, mangolds and turnips 127,193 acres, against 104,569 last year.

The fruit crop is to a large extent a failure in all parts of the province. With the exception of plums and small fruit, there will hardly be sufficient for home consumption. The trees are however in a healthy state generally, and have made a fine growth of young wood. Black knot is rapidly killing the cherry trees, and in some districts the plum trees also. The total area under orchard and garden this year as collected by township assessors, is 200,846 acres. Last year's return, which was in part estimated, was 213,846 acres.

The area of cleared or improved land in the Province this year is 10,587,688 acres, of which 7,745,627 acres are under field crops and orchard and garden. Last year the area of cleared land was 10,172,712 acres, of which 7,326,859 acres were under crops and orchard and garden. It thus appears that, without taking account of flax and tobacco, 27 per cent of the improved land is in pasture or fallow this year, against 28 per cent last year.

A return of the dairy butter produce of last year shows that the quantity made was 33,442,123 lbs.; but a large number of farmers are unable to fill the schedule under this head, and it is probable that the quantity given does not represent more than seventy per cent of the actual production, possibly not so much. There are in the province this year 20 creameries, or 13 more than last year. The produce of 17 of these from the opening of the season to July 31 was 250,996 lbs, of which 217,855 lbs. sold for $48,146. The number of cheese factories is 628, which is 151 more than the number reported to the Bureau of industries last year. The produce of 262 factories that have made returns for the same period as the creameries was 10,833,507 lbs., and of this quantity 8,431,372 lbs, were sold, realizing the sum of $903,310. The quantity of cheese on hand at the 262 factories on August 1 was 2,402,135 lbs.

Railway and Canal Notes.

The Hastings Star:—"Two trains of timber of twelve cars each have been daily passing through here going east during the past week. It comes from Lakefield, and there still remains sufficient to keep the trains busy for two weeks more."

The mason work for the railway bridge at Lindsay is nearly finished, and the material for the iron bridge is being shipped from Toronto. Contractors are at work this week, and by the middle of September at latest trains will be running over the bridge.

The Grand Trunk authorities have decided to proceed with the construction of the new freight shed at Little York, east of Toronto. It is proposed to lay down fifty miles of siding, a round-house will be built to hold thirty-five locomotives, and car-sheds erected on a large scale. The works, which will cost about $160,000, will be completed before the cold weather sets in. This will materially lessen the danger at the Esplanade crossing. A passenger station, to be called York, will be opened there in a few days, and a number of railway hands will leave for Toronto to reside there.

The Napanee Express states that Mr. Geo. A. Cox and and Mr. E. Rathbun have become large shareholders in the Napanee and Tamworth railway, and that operations on an extensive scale for the completion of the road will be commenced at once. The officers are as follows:—Alex. Henry, President; Geo. A. Cox, Vice-President; E. W. Rathbun, General Manager; W. S. Williams, Secretary; F. S. Rathbun, Treasurer. On Wednesday John Bell, Q.C., Belleville, solicitor for the Grand Trunk; G. A. Cox, president of the Midland R.R., and E. W. Rathbun, of Deseronto, were in Napanee, making final arrangements for the transfer of the Napanee and Tamworth R.R. to the new company. It is calculated apparently to make the new line a continuation of the Deseronto branch of the Grand Trunk. In this event the termini will be Deseronto and Tamworth, and Napanee will be put as a junction way station. A prominent railroader says Deseronto is growing very fast and in time will be larger and of greater business importance than Napanee.

The Lindsay Post says:—"Work on the Trent Valley Canal locks at Buckhorn is going on with the greatest activity, a force of over fifty men being employed. The lock cutting is on the north side of the dam and then through the disused mill property on that side of the river. The cutting has been done for about the capacity of the lock proper, although an additional distance will have to be excavated to allow of passage. The work is carried on night and day, the bulk of the drilling with a powerful steam rock drill being done after nightfall. As fast as the holes are drilled they are charged with dynamite and fired about five oclock, leaving the debris to be handled by the day laborers upon coming to work. Six portable steam engines are employed, furnishing power for several derricks, steam for the drills and for a powerful pump which clears the excavation of water. The banks of the cutting are lined with derricks, by which the rock is handled. Loose earth and small fragments of rocks are loaded on to the trucks of a narrow guage tramway and hauled off to be dumped in the edge of the river below the dam. The laborers employed are mostly Italians, and they are pushed to the utmost exertion by the contractors. At the present rate of progress the cutting will be finished before the beginning of another winter and ready for the masonry."

A QUININE CANINE.

A lady was travelling in a stage-coach with a troublesome barking dog in her lap. A gentleman, a fellow-passenger, complained of the annoyance.

"Dear me, sir!" exclaimed the lady, with an air of astonishment, "I wonder you complain of my dog—everybody admires it; it is a real Peruvian."

"I don't complain of your Peruvian dog, madam," replied he, "but I wish he would give us less of his Peruvian bark."

DUFFERIN SPEAKS.

CANADA'S LATE GOVERNOR-GENERAL ON COLONIAL AFFAIRS.

At a banquet recently tendered him in London by the Empire Club, the Earl of Dufferin, who was loudly cheered, said:—My Lords and Gentlemen,—In rising to return my warmest thanks for the kind manner in which you have drunk my health, I cannot help asking myself with some anxiety what title I possess to the goodwill of my entertainers. Your chairman has been pleased to refer in very flattering terms to my public services, but I fear that the reason of your cordiality is further to seek than anything which can be found in his indulgent observations. (Cries of "No.") My hosts on the present occasion are the Empire Club, and I think I am not wrong in conjecturing that I am indebted for the signal honor which you have conferred upon me, not so much to my individual merits, as to the fact that for the last twelve years of my life I have been unremittingly occupied in promoting and maintaining the Imperial as distinguished from the domestic interests of our common country—(cheers)—in Canada, at St. Petersburg, at Constantinople, and in Egypt—I can conscientiously say that home politics with all their irritating associations, have faded from my view, and that my one thought by day and night has been to safeguard, to protect, and to extend the honor, the influence, and the commerce of England in relation to foreign countries, or else to draw still more closely together those ties of affectionate regard by which she is united to

ONE OF HER MOST POWERFUL, MOST LOYAL AND MOST DEVOTED COLONIES.

(Loud cheers.) Well then, gentlemen, under these circumstances, I think I may be pardoned if I have to look at England—this sceptred isle, this earth of majesty, this other Eden, this demi-paradise, this happy breed of men, this precious stone set in a silver sea—not as she displays herself in the recriminatory warfare of Parliamentary strife, or in the polemical declamation of the platform, but in an aspect softened by distance and regarded as the happy home of a noble and united people, whom it is an honor to serve, and for whose sake it would be a privilege to make the greatest sacrifices. (Loud cheers.) I do not say this in any spirit of selfish and vulgar Jingoism, although I must admit that by their profession ambassadors and colonial governors are bound to be a little Jingo. (Cheers.) I have come to regard England in the same light as she is regarded by those great communities who are carrying her laws, her liberties, her constitutional institutions, and her language into every portion of the world. Many of those most distinguished representatives are present here to-night, and to whom it is the special function of this club to extend the right hand of brotherhood and affection. (Cheers.)

ENGLAND'S RESPONSIBILITIES.

Gentlemen, I am well aware that many of our most influential thinkers are almost disposed to stand aghast at the accumulative responsibility and increasing calls upon our resources, entailed by England's imperial position. Certainly the outlook counsels both prudence, and, above all, preparation. After all, the lives of nations and individuals in many respects resemble each other, and each of us is aware that his burden of care, anxiety, and responsibility gathers weight and strength in proportion to the expansion of his faculties, the accumulation of his wealth, the energy of his endeavors, and the extension of his influence. Why, gentlemen, even the children that people our homes are so many hostages given to fortune, and the wives of our bosom—I say this beneath my breath—are very apt each of them to open a startling chapter of accidents—(a laugh) but what man of spirit ever turned his back upon the opportunity or refused to enter upon the tender obligations of a lovelit fireside from fear of increasing the responsibilities entailed by a fuller, ampler and more perfect existence? (Cheers.)

IMPERIAL DESTINY.

But, my lords and gentlemen, even did she desire it, I believe that the time is too late for England to seek to disinherit herself of that noble destiny with which I firmly believe she has been endowed. The same hidden hand which planted the tree of constitutional liberty within her borders, and thus called upon her to become the mother of parliaments, has sent forth her children to possess and fructify the waste places of the earth. How a desert in every direction has been turned into a paradise of plenty those who are present can best tell. I believe that, great as have been the changes which have already occurred, our children are destined to see even still more glorious accomplishments. One of the greatest statisticians of modern times, a man of singularly sober judgment, has calculated that ere the next century has reached its close the English speaking population of the globe will have exceeded one hundred millions of human beings.

THE FUTURE OF CANADA.

Of these, in all probability forty millions will be found in Canada alone, and an equal proportion along the coast of Africa and in our great Australian possessions. If these great communities are united in a common bond of interest, if they are co-ordinated and impelled by a common motive, what an enormous influence, as compared with that of any other nationality, whether for good or evil, whether considered from a moral or a material point of view, are they destined to exercise! (Cheers.) But, gentlemen, that they will remain Englishmen who can doubt? (Cheers.) The chops and change to an accelerated momentum of human progress forbid all accurate prediction. These enormous forces, operating over such a large space, defy all prescience and human wisdom to direct the currents of events; but subsisting, as all events, in continuance, that is to say those great assumptions will be deeply impressed by English ideas, by English literature, by English institutions, and by English habits and thought. (Cheers.) That this will long continue to be the case is, I am sure, the earnest wish of those whom I am addressing. (Cheers.)

A WARNING TO THE COLONIALS.

It is their desire that our statesmen should so conduct the relations of this country with their colonial dependencies as to cherish and maintain those affectionate ties by which they are so remarkably and distinctly bound to the Mother Country. One thing at all events is certain, that the people of England will never allow their Government to repeat the error which resulted in the separation of the United States. (Cheers.) Whatever may be our present relations with the great transatlantic Republic, it is certain that had it not been for the violent disruption that occurred those relations would now have been even more mutually advantageous. The catastrophe, unhappily, was brought about by the Ministry of the day being incapable of appreciating and understanding the force and direction of colonial sentiment. Now, I believe that statesmen can make no greater mistake than not to accurately comprehend the enormous part which sentiment plays in human affairs. (Hear, hear.)

THE INFLUENCE OF SENTIMENT.

A far greater number of the wars which have devastated the globe have been produced and generated by outraged sentiment that by the pursuit of material advantages. Even commerce itself—the most unsentimental and matter-of-fact of interests—is wont for long periods of time to follow in the track of custom, habit and sentiment. This was a fact which for a long time the English people failed to comprehend. They failed to comprehend the desire which the colonies had to have their kinship recognized. Happily, however, the increased facilities of communication and the necessities and exigencies of trade have changed all this, and I believe that now there is not a man in England who does not understand, and to whose imagination it has not been forcibly brought home, that beyond the circuit of the narrow seas which confine this island are vast territories, inhabited by powerful communities who are actuated by ideas similar to his own, who are proud to own allegiance to Queen Victoria, whose material resources are greater than those possessed by his own country, and whose ultimate power may, perhaps, exceed the power of Great Britain.

COLONIAL LOYALTY.

And yet, those great communities of noble, high-spirited, industrious Britons, if only they are properly dealt with, and if only their feelings and just exigencies are duly considered, will never have a higher ambition than to be allowed to continue as co-heirs with England in her illustrious career—(cheers)—associated with her in her gigantic empire, and sharers in her fortunes, whether they be for good or evil, until the end of time. (Cheers.) Gentlemen, such are the sentiments and opinions which I believe this club has been founded to encourage and propagate, and I felt that in rising to return thanks for the great and signal honor which you have done me, and for which really I cannot find words sufficient to thank you, I could not do so in a more acceptable manner than by telling you with what enthusiasm and with what sincerity of conviction I myself subscribe to these sentiments. (Loud cheers.)

COPPERHEAD CREED.

(London Advertiser.)

A Copperhead in the United States was a Northern man who took sides against the North and wished the South success in the contest. A Copperhead in Canada is an Ontario politician who takes sides against his own Province, and who does what he can to help her enemies. The creed of the Copperheads is that Ontario has no claim upon Rat Portage; that her magistrates have no right to administer justice there; that her police have no right to preserve the peace there, and that her enemies ought to succeed there; that Manitoba ought to claim the country; that Mr. Norquay ought to arrest Ontario officials; that he ought to carry them off to Winnipeg and imprison them; that he ought to be encouraged in these raids; that he ought to use force against the authority of Ontario; that he ought to be encouraged to employ force against Ontario authority upon every opportunity that offers; that the Copperhead press should encourage him in the use of force; and that the Ontario Government should be warned that if they act in a similar way they will be responsible for the consequences. Their duty is to submit; that Mr. Norquay should be encouraged as Mr. Riel was encouraged; that he should have the Dominion police to back him, if necessary. This is the Copperhead creed, and it is a creed of traitors.

ORANGEISM AND TYRANNY.

The resolution passed by the Executive of the Royal Orange Brotherhood is really an emphatic protest against tyranny. They say in effect that when a man joins the Orange Order he is no longer his own master—that he voluntarily surrenders the right to think and act according to the dictates of his own judgment—that he places his mind and his conscience and his liberty of action in the hands of the organization—in a word, that the moment he becomes an Orangeman he ceases to be a free man. This is a most serious charge to bring against Orangeism, and it must be remembered that it is not brought by the enemies of the Order or its traducers, but by Orangemen themselves. It would be well for Orangemen to look closely into this matter, and to find out whether or not they are really free men. Does the Order require them to sacrifice rights—freedom of thought, freedom of speech and freedom of action—which other British subjects exercise without question, and rights which were purchased by the life's work and life's blood of thousands of British patriots?

A TRIO OF TRIPLETS.

A number of ladies of Philadelphia and New York spending the summer at Island Heights are actively engaged in raising donations of money and clothing for a Mrs. Johnson, residing in a small cottage at that place, who has just given birth to the third set of triplets. The latest arrivals are three chubby, crowing children, the very picture of health—and all girls. The only way that they are distinguished from each other is by their clothing, which some of the ladies had mischievously marked "Faith," "Hope" and "Charity."

Uxbridge vs. Peterborough.

Some Good Cricket—Fine Play of the Home Team—A Dose of Double Figures—The Match a Draw in Favour of the Home Eleven, "by a Large Majority."

There was some beautiful cricket on on the Ashburnham grounds on Wednesday of last week, on the occasion of the return match between the Uxbridge and the home club. A few more such games here and cricket would, in popularity, take its proper place as the finest sport extant. The visitors winning the throw, sent the home team to the bat, but the boys made rather a blue beginning. The crease was wet and treacherous, and everything seemed, to the first wielders of the willow, "greased for the occasion," and for a little time flying stumps were more plentiful than runs; the prognosis for a big score was decidedly unfavorable. The bowling was not very destructive, only two men being bowled. Cooper and R. M. Hamilton however collared the bowling and redeemed the innings, the former putting together 15 notches by fine, clean cricket, and the latter ten, while Max. Hamilton compassed the octave. Stratton, who is generally good for double digits, did not bat the first innings, arriving too late. Uxbridge, after luncheon, took the bat and topped the home team's score of 53 by two, of which Crosthwaite piled up very neatly 21. Peterborough then took the bat and opened up a lively bout of leather hunting, playing a magnificent innings, among which not a single round O was scored. Rutherford's 40, not out, Hartley's 17, Montgomery's and Stratton's 10 apiece and Leader's 8 were the chief tallies, and the last wicket fell for 131, leaving the visitors 128 to make. They started out well, but when stumps were drawn four of their best bats were laid up for 57, of which Dudley, of Napanee, who was, last summer, the best all-'round cricketer in the Napanee club, contributed a very pretty 23, not out. The match was drawn largely in favor of Peterborough. Below are the scores:

A little six-year-old girl, on Dearborn avenue, pleaded to have her hair left to grow long. Her mother told her if she would wear her hair short until she was fourteen years old she would make her a beautiful present. The mother added: "That is, if you and I both live until that time." Little Bertha pondered the proposition for a moment, and bravely said: "Ma, I am afraid I would not make a very pretty corpse with my hair short."

Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBESIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.

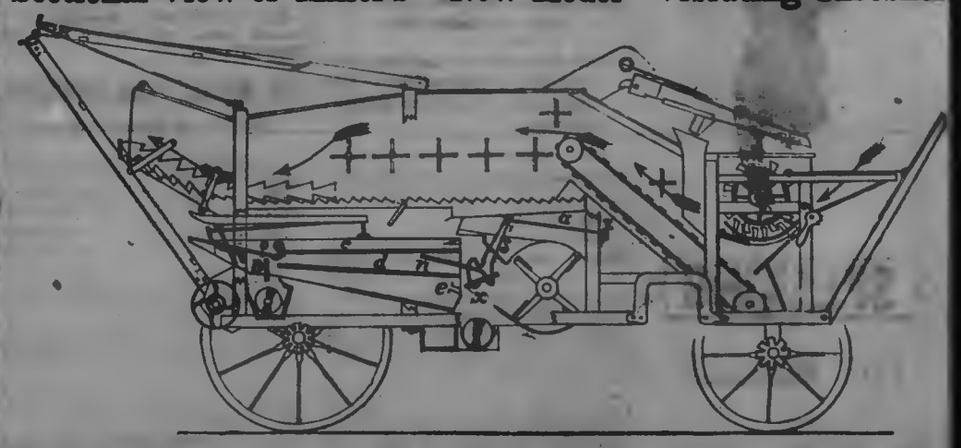
Sectional View of Miller's "New Model" Vibrating Thresher



MANUFACTURED BY THE JOS. HALL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, OSHAWA, ONT.

The Most Perfect Thresher! The Most Perfect Separator! The Most Perfect Cleaner ever offered to the public! The only True Grain Saver!

BLACK CREEK, Sept. 17th, 1883.

F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

DEAR SIR,—Talk about threshing! I have threshed and been around threshing machines the last fifteen years, and I have seen some good machines, but this "New Model" I got of you is ahead of any I ever saw in Canada. It is perfect in every respect. I never was as well satisfied with a machine as I am with this. I could say more, but think that this is sufficient.

Yours very truly,
HENRY M. WEAVER.

Descriptive Circulars, giving full information, sent free to all applicants.

PRINCE ALBERT, Dec. 18th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Port Perry Standard:

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the farmers of this vicinity to a new threshing machine made by the Jos. Hall Manufacturing Co., of Oshawa, called the New Model Vibrator. Mr. Jos. Vickery bought one of these machines, and threshed for me four days this winter, and gave me entire satisfaction. With the construction of the screens, vibrating motions and other attachments, I think it utterly impossible for any grain to be wasted, and am fully convinced, in my own mind, that it has saved me double the price of threshing in the saving of grain this season. It cleans the grain perfectly and threshes very rapidly. It is the most perfect thresher I have ever seen or used. It is a real grain saver.

Yours truly,
JOHN McDONALD.

ORR, January 9th, 1883.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post:

SIR,—A short time ago I purchased a new threshing machine called the New Model Vibrator, made at the Joseph Hall Works, in Oshawa, of their agent, Jas. Fleary. It is the only machine of the kind in this vicinity. I bought it upon a guarantee given me by the company that it would give me entire satisfaction. I have now thoroughly tested the machine, and am entirely satisfied with it as a thresher, a separator and a cleaner. It is easy on the team, threshes rapidly, not liable to choke in any kind of grain, separates the grain thoroughly from the straw and cleans it better than any other machine I have ever seen. I have seen all kinds of machines, and have been threshing for the past eighteen years, and the New Model is the best one I have ever seen, or used.

Yours truly,
THOMAS WETHERUP.

BLACK CREEK, Nov. 12th, 1883.

Mr. F. W. Glen:

DEAR SIR,—I thought I would write you and tell you how I got along with the "New Model" Thresher I got of you last summer. I will tell you the truth, and nothing but the truth,—the machine has given me perfect satisfaction wherever I have threshed. I could not begin to thresh for all who wanted me, and could have had jobs enough for two machines if I had had them. The farmers for whom I have threshed for say that the "New Model" is the only perfect machine they have ever had thresh for them.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH SHERK.

Be sure and examine the "New Model" before you purchase.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

DUMMER.

Mr. D. Kelly, of this township, sold his first shipment of cattle—a fine drove—last Saturday. They were shipped from Hastings.

HASTINGS.

Some two or three lady amateur botanists had a narrow escape from being poisoned one day last week. They were, it appears, searching for sarsaparilla roots, of which they procured a small quantity, and also a root closely resembling it, of which each of the ladies ate a small portion which produced an eruption on the skin similar to that produced by contact with poison ivy.

STIRLING.

Mrs. Adeline Kerr, of Stirling, a widow, when about to leave Belleville for the west was arrested by sheriff Hope, on a capias. It appears that the woman's husband died about a week ago and left no will. Her late husband's relatives put in a claim for one half the estate, as Mr. Kerr had no family. Mrs. Kerr disposed of the estate and—as she says—paid all outstanding accounts, which consumed the greater part of her cash. The relatives dispute this and cause the arrest. Mrs. Kerr was going to Michigan when taken in charge.

CAMPBELLFORD.

The Campbellford Herald is to take a week's holiday to remove into new premises and give the editor his holidays.

The employees of the G.T.R., at Belleville, held their annual pic-nic here last Tuesday. The two engines which drew the train were gaily decorated with evergreens and flags.

Campbellford defeated Trenton at cricket by three games to one.

A gentleman who resides in Belleville says the Herald's authority for saying that more whiskey is entered at that port for consumption that any other place of the size in the Province.

A scalding accident occurred at Burnbrae, says the Herald, to a little child of Mr. Peter Donald on Saturday last which resulted fatally. The little one had been taken to the Burnbrae school house which was being cleaned and renovated for the opening of school; and while its attention was called to other things, reached a pail of hot water used in scrubbing the floors, and this it over turned, receiving the burning contents. Dr. Byam was summoned, but the child was beyond human aid and died Sunday morning.

PORT HOPE.

Among a number of new machines recently brought from other shops on the Midland Railway to the one in this town is large and powerful steam hammer, which is capable of striking a blow of seven tons.

On Saturday morning last Cornelius Crosby, Esq., one of Port Hope's old and respected residents, breathed his last at his residence, Brown street. Mr. Crosby had been ill for some time, and his death was not unlooked for. He was born in the County of Waterford, Ireland, in the year 1821, and has been a resident of Port Hope 42 years.

On Saturday evening last, says the Times, in shunting cars around in the Midland yard, the brake on one of the cars was defective and not sufficiently strong, and the consequence was that a couple of cars went through the Midland elevator, smashing the doors in their progress and ran against the northern wall of Mr. King's elevator, breaking it in. An investigation will be had by the railway authorities.

Mr. J. B. Trayes, of Port Hope, while on the Press Excursion, was cited before the police court in the city of Montreal and put under bonds to answer a charge of criminal libel instituted by Mr. W. Ross, W.M. of Hiram's lodge of Masons. The alleged libel consists of certain quotations from the Grand Lodge report reflecting on Mr. Ross. Mr. Trayes has secured counsel and will fight the matter.

The township of Clarke was the scene of a desperate and deliberate suicide last week. A young man named Matthew Morrow, who is a bachelor and lives alone on a farm, took a rope from his bedstead, and going to a wood near by hanged himself. The suicide had climbed a tree which was without limbs for forty feet. He then tied his halter round a huge limb, and took a drop about ten feet which must have caused instant death. How he reached his position is a puzzle, as the neighbors who tried to cut the body down failed to climb the tree without the assistance of ladders. The young man, says the Port Hope Times is only 24 years of age, and was at one time confined in an insane asylum Another report says he leaves a wife and three children somewhere near Mill brook.

WHOLESALE MURDER IN ENGLAND

A FATHER DESTROYS HIS FOUR CHILDREN TO GET RID OF THEM.

A shocking crime was perpetrated at Courtney Place near St James street station Walthamstow, a father having drowned three of his children :—Charles, aged 3½ years; Herbert 2½ and Frederick, aged 16 months, and so seriously injured two others—twin boys only 7 days old—that one of them died shortly afterward, and the death of the second was hourly expected. The man's name is William Gouldstone, aged 43, employed by a firm in Lower Thames street, city. His wife was confined of twins, and she had a woman in the house to nurse her. One evening Gouldstone returned home rather earlier than usual. He seemed in a very bad mood, and said to the nurse that he wanted her out of the house while he had a chat with his wife concerning the medical expenses of the confinement. The woman went out of the house and just before going she heard the father ask for the boy Frederick. The woman was surprised a short time afterward at seeing the cistern running over, and on going to it she was horrified to discover the dead bodies of these children in it. At the moment she heard screaming in the room where Mrs. Gouldstone was in bed, and she knocked at the door, but was unable to gain entrance; she called for assistance and the door was burst open. Then it was found that the enraged father, after drowning his three eldest children, had struck the twin babies at their mother's breast with a hammer. The police were at once sent for and the man was taken into custody and conveyed to the Le Bridge road Police Station. When the nurse asked the prisoner what he was doing he said : "Never mind, I am happy now, and she is a single woman." No motive, says the London Globe, can be assigned for the murders, except one viz.: that the prisoner has on more than one occasion grumbled with his wife because she had children so quickly.

Some One Said.

"One should not know they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

Regulate all this internal trouble. Regain pure, enjoyable, jubilant health with that grand prescription, ZOPESA. At least try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 31-tf

A POLITE TELLER

A lady stood patiently before the receiving teller's window in a bank the other day, but no one took any notice of her till she attracted the attention of the money-taker by tapping with her parasol on the glass. "Why don't you pay attention to me?" she asked, petulantly. "I'm sorry, ma'am, but we don't pay anything here; next ticket, please," was the polite response.

There is no preparation before the people to-day that commands their confidence more, or meets with a better sale than does Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—the infallible remedy for all forms of Summer Complaint. 34-2t

A man that was demonstrating to a crowd that there was no such a thing as hydrophobia, was the first to climb up a barber's pole when a small yellow dog came rushing down the street.

"Murders are plenty," said Mr. Finnoodle, as he laid down the evening paper. "Yes," sighed Mrs. F., "people are being murdered now that have never been murdered before."

The political contest being over, the popular vote of the people is now cast in favor of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry—that matchless remedy for Cholera Morbus and all Summer Complaints. 34-2t

A benevolent man, who proves his wish to save time by throwing it away on foolish calculation, has discovered that in forty years a snuff-taker devoted twenty-four months to blowing his nose.

THE CINGALESE HAIR RENEWER is applied with a sponge or a brush, and it never fails in its good effects on the hair. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 35-8t

Standing before a clergyman who was about to marry him, a rustic was asked, "Wilt though have this woman, &c," The man stared in surprise and replied, "Ay, surely! Why, I cummed a-puppus!"

The most miserable mortal in existence is probably the confirmed dyspeptic. Burdock Blood Bitters cure Dyspepsia and all diseases of the Stomach, Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Do not trust our word simply, but address the proprietors for proof. 34-2t

"Sam," said a white man, "you are looking mighty pleasant—you're always looking pleasant." "It's because I's happy, boss." "Why, Sam, what have you got to make you happy?" "Boss, I's happy 'cause I's alive."

YEARS of suffering may be avoided by taking DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It was never known to fail in relieving at once, and effecting a complete cure of disease of the Kidneys. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

An absent-minded editor wrote a love letter and an editorial at the same time. The love letter he sent out to be set up in type by the printers, and a long editorial on tariff to his girl. There was fun at both ends.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of wild Strawberry will never fail you when taken to cure Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach, or any form of Summer Complaint. Relief is almost instantaneous; a few doses cure when other remedies fail. 34-2t

An exchange tells of "a young lady losing the sole of her slipper while enjoying the intoxicating whirl of the waltz." Of what profit was it to her if she had gained the whole whirl if she thereby lost her sole?

As the wintery frosts disappear before the rising sun, so do Kidney diseases leave the body when DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is faithfully taken according to directions. Ask your Druggist for it. J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

"I've got another," said the Prince of Wales to the Marquis of Lorne, "why is a preposition like a glass of beer?" "G've it up," said the Marquis. "Because you can't decline it," replied His Royal Highness." "Let's have something," remarked Lorne. And they had something.

If you are broken down in constitution and wasting away by sickness, dissipation, too great nervous taxation, or suffer from any chronic disease, do not abandon hope until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. What it is doing daily towards restoring others, it might do for you. 34-2t

A young gentleman was passing an examination in physics. He was asked, "What planets were known to the ancients?" "Well sir," he responded, "there were Venus, and Jupiter, and (after a pause) "I think the earth, but I'm not quite certain."

PLEASANT to the taste, and soothing to the Kidneys, is the universal expression of all who have used DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. A few doses relieve the pain, a few bottles complete the cure, and you are saved,. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

W. J. Guppy, druggist, of Newbury, writes:—"Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is just the thing for Summer Sickness. I sold out my stock three times last summer. There was a good demand for it." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is infalliable for Dysentery, Colic, Sick Stomach and Bowel complaint.

"What's them things, ma?" asked a little girl at the table the other day. "Why, those are Turkish prunes, my dear." "Where did they come from?" Her small brother looked up with an expression of disdain on his face, as he exclaimed, "Why, from turkeys of course."

SAVED, SAVED, SAVED, was the expression of a distinguished citizen of Des Moines, Iowa, as he stepped out of his front door after being confined to the house for a year. He had been given up to die by his Doctors, when a friend brought him a bottle of DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE, and in three months he was perfectly well. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

SEES WITH ITS WINGS.

There is a singular property with which the bat is endowed, too remarkable and curious to be passed altogether unnoticed The wings of these creatures consist of a delicate and nearly naked membrane of great size, considering the size of the body; but besides this, the nose is, in some varieties, furnished with a membranaceous foliation, and in others the external membranaceous ears are greatly developed. These membraneous tissues have their sensibility so high that something like a new sense is thereby developed, as if in the aid of the sense of sight. The modified impressions which the air is quiescence or in motion, however light, communicates, the tremulous jar of its currents, its temperature, the indescribable conditions of such portions of air as are in contact with different bodies, are all apparently appreciated by the bat. If the eyes of the bat be covered up, or if it be cruelly deprived of sight, it will pursue its course about a room with a thousand obstacles in its way, avoiding them all, neither dashing against a wall nor touching the slightest thing but threading its way with the utmost precision and quickness, and passing adroitly through apertures or interspaces of threads placed purposely across the apartment. This endowment, which almost exceeds belief, has been abundantly demonstrated.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

An old man was arraigned before an Arkansas court for some trifling offence and among the witnesses was an old woman who, in giving her testimony made such efforts to shield the old man that the judge asked:

"Madam, have you known this man very long?"

"Yes, sir," the old woman replied. "I have known him a very long time. When I was a young girl this man used to visit me. In fact, Judge, we were sweethearts," and she twisted her apron and looked down.

"Ah, I see!" the Judge replied, "used to be sweethearts, and think so much of each other now because you did not marry each other then?"

"You are mistaken, Judge, for we did marry each then, and are husband and wife now."

"Indeed," the Judge exclaimed, "this is a remarkable case. Liberate the old fellow, Mr. officer."

HE GUESSED HE GOT HER.

"Presumption begins in ignorance and ends in ruin." On the other hand, the production of Kidney-Wort began with wise cautions and scientific research, and its use ends in restoring shattered constitutions and endowing men and women with health and happiness. "My tormented back," is the exclamation of more than one poor hardworking man and woman; do you know why it aches? It is because your kidneys are over tasked and need strengthening, and your system needs to be cleansed of bad humors. You need Kidney-Wort.

Hardly Enough Left to Pay for Training

"Well, Jack. I suppose your are training that tarrier pup yet I gave you last month?"

"Well, no, Jim; I'm afraid that dog will never amount to much."

"How's that?"

"Well, you see, I wanted to crop his tail; so I held him over a stump while brother Tom chopped; Tom, you know is a little cross-eyed, and he chopped a little too high up. The tail's all right but there's hardly enough of the dog left to pay for training it, as it were."

Gout and rheumatism are inflammations of the joints and muscles from blood poisoning by uric acid, the brick dust deposit found in the urine of dyspeptics, an error of nutrition from a failure of conversion of the nitrogenized or tissue food into healthy blood. There is no specific cure, the aim being to secure digestion and assimilation, and arrest the formation of the blood poison. Wheeler's Phosphates and Calisaya being the best remedy we have for stomach troubles, it is at once evident why it has proved of so great value in these diseases

A Bad Fall.

Mr. T. Munro, late of Munro & Alexander, had a rude welcome in Belleville, in one way. His little three-year old son fell to the walk from the third story of the Dafoe House last Saturday. The child was badly shaken up, but will recover from his injuries.

Mr. Matheson, principal of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville, will on Wednesday, Sept. 12th, gather his pupils for the coming term in the institute. Lacrosse.

A game of lacrosse was played in Ashburnham on Tuesday between the Cretes and the Clippers for the Sanderson Championship trophy. The Cretes, though much under the size of the clippers, easily defeated them, by fine, sharp play, in three straight games. The Cretes put a gamly little dozen in the field, and it takes a live team to "get away with them."

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Blythe Mills.

In our notice of the improvements in these mills, found on our inside pages, a clerical error makes the sub-heading read "a ton," instead of "twelve tons every 24 hours."

C. of H. Temperance Society.

At the meeting of this society held on Tuesday evening there was unfortunately a small attendance. Rev. Mr. Beck delivered a most excellent and practical address, and Mr. Hoyles, of Toronto, followed with an interesting speech on the subject of the temperance movement, as identified with the Church.

Sheep Destroying Dogs.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights of last week Messrs. J. Tindle, Thomas Young, John Young and Francis Frankish, near Bridgenorth, Smith, had a dozen good sheep killed by dogs, and others severely worried. John Delaney, Jr., Blythe Mills Grocery (George street north) has arranged with Mr. Hilliard, for a constant supply of his New Process Flour made by the patent roller process, the latest improvement in milling, which he will sell at his grocery, where also can be had all kinds of groceries fresh and good and as cheap as any in town, as he buys direct from the best wholesale houses. 34-2t

The Stony Lake Meet.

The Stony Lake Canoe meet is over, and was the most successful one yet held. The visitors were delighted with the site of the camp, the various committees made the most complete and judicious arrangements, and the visitors are loud in their praise of the hospitality of the Peterborough people. The campers have about all left, but a few linger yet. Ex-Commodore Edwards has worked grandly and successfully for the enjoyment of all. Col. H. C. Rogers was appointed Rear Commodore at the annual meeting, but the next place of meeting is not yet decided on.

A Savage Stab.

On Thursday last, George, a twelve year old son of Mr. John Campbell, classical master in the Collegiate Institute, together with several playmates was bathing in the river near the railway bridge at Mason's greenhouses. He sportively jumped on a saw log which a river driver was moving, when the latter pushed him off, and while he was in the water, savagely plunged his pike in the inside of the poor lad's thigh, making a ragged, lacerated wound about two inches deep and big enough to admit three of Dr. Fife's fingers, who dressed the lad's wounds. An inch higher and the pike would have cut the femoral artery, and nothing could have saved life at so great a distance from help. Information of the assault was laid before the authorities, but the brute has not been identified nor arrested.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

THE BIG STORM.

Norwood and vicinity was visited by a severe thunder and lightning storm on Wednesday evening of last week, considerable damage being done by it. Mr. Thomas O'Shea, of Asphodel, lost three head of cattle and one sheep, killed by lightning. The electric fluid entered the house of Mr. Thos. Ford—residing near Mr. O'Shea's,—tore up the carpet in one of the lower rooms and set fire to the straw on the floor, besides seriously stunning one of Mr. Ford's daughters. The severest sufferer by the storm was Mr. E. Cronk, residing about a mile east of this village. His barn was struck by lightning, and with its contents was soon a heap of ruins. He had just harvested the products of his farm. The contents of the barn were: 100 bushels of wheat, 100 of rye, 500 of barley, about 20 of old corn, 12 tons of hay, a new lumber wagon, cutter, buggy, double and single harness, and all his farming implements, with the exception of his reaper, which was left in the field. Mr. Cronk estimates his loss over $1,000, and is covered by an insurance of $1,050 in the Royal Insurance Company. The reflection of fires to the south of the village indicated that the lightning had also struck other places at the same time, not far distant from Norwood.

Those neat fitting Ladie's Lined Ulsters at Turnbull's are only $2.00 each.

Next month the American public will have postal notes. They will prove to be a great convenience, as the sender can trasmit any sum from one cent to five dollars. The New York Tribune illustrates the convenience of the new arrangement by stating that "a lady living out of town who wants to send $3 79 to a dry goods store in New York will hand that sum, and 3 cents fee, to the postmaster. He will give her an order with the figure three punched in the dollar column, the figure seven in the column of dimes, and the figure nine in the column of cents. This is simple and easy, and offers no chance for fraud."

FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Mr. Rutherford, chairman, presented the report of the committee, recommending the purchase of oil skin suits.

In regard to better communication between the Fire Hall and the pump house, the committee thought it the duty of the Water Works Company to furnish it, and also to keep a continual fire pressure in accordance with the by-law.

Mr. Rutherford moved in amendment to the report that the town put in means of communication with the pump house.

He said the by-law did not require the Water Company to furnish fire communication, and the people on George street were willing to pay for means of communication, which would cost only $30.

Mr. Sawers charged Mr. Rutherford with making the report contrary to the action agreed on by the committee, with which Mr. Davidson and Mr. Douglass agreed.

After some discussion, Mr. Rutherford, Chief Engineer, said it was hard to decide what was adequate fire pressure, the pressure needed would vary with the nature of the fire, and he thought there was need of means of regulating the pressure.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that the Fire, Water and Gas Committee be authorized to put up a telephone at once in the fire hall, for fire purposes

Mr. Cahill said that while the Council was paltering with the matter the whole town might be burned down and all for a paltry expenditure of $30. He did not believe there was one ratepayer who would object to the outlay.

After a good deal of discussion, in which it transpired that there was no agreement as to the hydrants signed with the Water Company, Mr. Rutherford withdrew his amendment to the report, and there was no action taken in the matter, except to refer the report back to the committee.

THE SUPPLY BILL.

Mr. Paterson introduced a by-law for levying a rate and assessment for the year 1883.

Mr. Sawers said he had seven resolutions to present, and as it was late he wished the Council to adjourn till to-morrow night, but the Council decided to attend to business, and the by-law, founded on the above estimates, was passed through its various stages and finally passed. The by-law imposes an addition of 5 per cent. on all taxes unpaid on the 15th of December.

The Clerk was empowered to employ a person to assist him in checking the roll.

The hour of 12.35 Tuesday morning having arrived; when Mr. Sawers rose to his feet with his bundle of resolutions and attempted to move a motion, the Council broke up incontinently and fled.

METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.

(Christian Guardian.)

The meeting of our General Conference in Belleville on the 29th inst., for the consideration of the Union question, is an event of great interest to our Church, as well as to Canadian Methodism generally. It is a crisis in Methodist history. On the spirit in which its deliberations are conducted, and the decisions adopted, a great deal depends. We hope that the discussions and deliberations may be conducted in a conciliatory spirit that shall promote harmony of action among ourselves. If the Union is carried out it is exceedingly desirable that our own Church should go into it, not as a divided Church, but with unity and harmony of action. It cannot be denied that there are considerable differences of opinion on some points. We trust that the exchange of thought in our General Conference will result in bringing those who hold these different views nearer together. It would be a calamity if parties should be developed in connection with a movement for the unity of Methodism, and be perpetuated in the future Church. Let our brethren who approve of all the provisions of the Basis treat with respect the convictions of those who deem some things unnecessary or undesirable. Let any who may have drifted into opposition to the Union, because of some things which they cannot approve, fully consider the obligations to go forward created by what has been already done, the desirability of preventing as early as possible the waste of labor and money caused by the present divisions, and the probability that whatever may be found undesirable in actual practice will be made right in the future. In any case, let no man be persecuted or stigmatized, because his views may not be the same as those of others. Those who differ most widely may be equally sincere. As long as the terms of Union are open questions every man has a right to the free expression of his convictions; when matters are finally settled, we should all loyally do our utmost to carry out the arrangements adopted successfully. In the meantime, we ask all our readers to unite in prayer to the Father of mercies, that he may give at this crisis, the grace and wisdom to adopt such a course as shall most effectually promote His glory and the prosperity of Methodism in Canada.

She Thought Her Beau was an Angel And Her Brother Proved It

Young Augustus Fitzdude is too great for anything. He parts his hair on the equator, he wears blue neckties.

He played in a base ball match the other day and accomplished the roundest of ducks' eggs.

Just, as he was returning to the stand after his unique feat of spooning the ball into the hands of the catcher, a sweet girl called out:

"Here comes Gus! Isn't he an angel?"

"Yes," her vulgar brother howled. "Just so. That accounts for his going out on a fly."

"WORSE AND WORSE, AND MORE OF IT."

Another Midnight Session—A Few Minutes Devoted to Actual Business—The Rest of the Time to Blowing, Bluster and Abuse—Complicated Confusion and Disgraceful Disturbance—A Big Crowd Enjoys the "Circus"—A Flash in the Pan—Breaking up in Disorder.

The Town Council met on Monday evening Sept. 3rd, acting Mayor Menzies in the Chair and the following members present: Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, McNaughton, Kelly, Paterson, Sawers, Yelland Rutherford, Denne and Hartley.

The minutes of last meeting were read and on motion to adopt them, Mr. Sawers objected that they were not correct, inasmuch as the by-law striking the rate was not read a third time.

On appeal to the Clerk the latter said that the by-law had been so read.

The Council voted for the adoption of the minutes, Mr. McNaughton and Mr. Sawers only voting nay.

QUESTION OF PRECEDENCE.

On the order of communications being called,

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the mover of this resolution be allowed, before the orders of the day are taken up, to have his resolution, moved at the meeting held on July 30th, respecting town officers' bonds and auditors' report, considered.

Mr. Sawers said his resolution involved an important issue, and he had been shut off so often that it was time the matter should receive attention.

The motion was voted down, Mr. Sawers and Mr. McNaughton only voting in its favor.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received from John Carnegie, secretary of Town Trust Commission, respecting the amount ready to be be placed to the credit of the town—Finance Committee.

From Wm. Croft, asking for earth from the streets to fill in his lot on Reid street.—Street and bridge committee to act.

From the same, asking a crossing on Reid street.—Similarly referred.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were disposed of:—

W. E. Kelly, lumber	$1,896 30
J. R. Stratton, printing	100 50
A. Williams, culvert (paid)	7 00
T. Beavis freight (paid)	1 66
Gas Company	480 00
R. Pidgeon, food for tramps etc	4 75

Of the above accounts those so marked were paid, and the others referred to appropriate committees.

On considering the item for lumber it transpired that there had been no reliable measurement nor check on the lumber delivered.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Paterson presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the payment of the following accounts:—

J. Young	$ 75
J. E. McIntyre	6 60
J. W. Flavelle (to be certified)	5 60
W. H. Law	10 00
H. Best	5 15
Ormond & Walsh (to be certified	1 20
A. Comstock (to be certified)	49 25
R. N. Adams (to be certified)	7 50

Messrs. Fairweather & Co's account and that of the Times was left over for further consideration.

Mr. Patterson said the account of the Times printing company was $60, but the account, taxed according to the contract was reduced to $46.15. The reduced amount was according to contract, and he moved that the report be amended accordingly.

Mr. Sawers criticised the account of the Times printing company; he said it was an outrageous charge, although advertising space to the amount of the bill had been filled. He also stated that the account of the EXAMINER, for printing voters' lists $225 was exorbitant. This being disputed, the account was turned up, and it proved to be only $114, or $111 less than that indicated by Mr. Sawers' clap-trap, catch-vote assertion.

Mr. Hartley said the printer was not to blame. No directions were given to the Times, and the printer exercised his discretion, and he should be paid.

The report, as amended respecting the Times' account, was adopted.

STREET OPENING.

Mr. Paterson presented the report of the special committee, respecting the request of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., which recommended that the petition be granted, and that the company be granted 46 feet on Murray street, north side from Reid to Downey, the company to grade the remainder (20 feet) of the street and make it passable, and that the town solicitor prepare a by-law to be passed by the Council, and also a memorial to the Local Legislature for an Act of Parliament legalising the same, the costs to be paid by the company.

Mr. McNaughton said he believed in leasing a street but not in giving it away.

Mr. Paterson explained that the company's business was increasing so fast that they required a large extension of grounds, and they would not consent to make permanent improvements on a lease. Unless the company got the street it would have to consider the matter of seeking premises in some other town.

The matter was left over by consent.

FIRE WATER AND GAS.

Mr. Rutherford said the committee were unable to agree on any plan for communication between the waterworks company's pump house and the fire hall, and therefore there was nothing to report.

Mr. Cluxton being called on gave, from personal observations, an explanation of the mode of communication under similar circumstances in Toronto. In regard to a telephone, he would rather pay for it himself than see so much trouble about it. If a telephone should be erected it would be under the control of the Chief Engineer, as were the hydrants. The electric gong was used in Toronto, the first cost of each gong being about $30. He suggested that the Water Company put in a telephone and the town supply the electric gongs, which could be efficiently supplied for about $300.

TOWN PREMISES.

A by-law was introduced to give effect to the purchase of the Bank of Toronto buildings, and referred to the Finance Committee.

MR. SAWERS' INNINGS.

Moved by Mr. Sawers, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that this Council do now go into Committee of the Whole and inquire into the bonds given to the municipality by the several officials thereof.

Mr. Sawers read the law applying to the matter.

Mr. Davidson said the Treasurer's bonds were in Mayor Smith's hands, and he did not want to remain in committee till Mr. Smith's return.

Mr. Sawers asserted that the Treasurer's bonds were not in the safe of the firm of which the Mayor was a member.

Mr. J. J. Lundy, ex-Mayor, being called on, said that he handed over Mr. Macdonald's bonds to his successor, Mr. Mayor Smith.

Mr. Yelland inquired where the town had been defrauded, as Mr. Sawers insinuated.

Mr. Sawers specified the last street pay list, in which $2.75 had been paid, by an error in calculation, more than was due.

Mr. Macdonald, the Clerk, explained very clearly that there were unavoidable errors of computation in the pay lists, but the Street Inspector was personally responsible for any over payment, and in the 17 pay lists of the present year only two or three errors had been made, and these had been made right with the greatest possible promptitude.

Here ensued a long and informal talk on any subject that suggested itself to individual Councillors.

The motion to go into Committee of the Whole was carried, and Mr. Sawers was appointed to the chair, but he denounced the Mayor's action as a mean advantage, and he would take advantage of his rights and appoint Mr. Denne to the chair, which that gentleman assumed.

The Clerk read the by-laws appointing the Treasurer and Collector for 1882.

Mr. Sawers said that the appointment might be all right, but there was no evidence that the sureties were all right.

Mr. Denne said the bonds were binding as long as the sureties were solvent.

Mr. Menzies moved, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the matter of the Treasurer's bonds be referred to a special committee composed of Messrs. Cahill, Kelly, Hartley, Davidson, Rutherford and Sawers.

Mr. Cahill submitted a motion in reference to the Treasurer's bonds, similar to Mr. Menzie's, but after some discussion it was dropped.

MR. SAWERS' AMENDMENT.

Mr. Sawers moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the resolution adopting the report of the Finance Committee, recommending the allowance of the Treasurer's and Collector's accounts for 1882, be rescinded, and that the said report be not adopted; and that, inasmuch as the Auditors' have not reported on the accounts of the Treasurer as being either correct or incorrect, and have not reported thereon as they were directed to do by the by-lay appointing them, and have not submitted a proper statement of the town's liabilities; and, also, inasmuch as the Municipal Act directs that the said accounts shall be finally audited and allowed by the Council, it is resolved that the Council do, when it adjourns, adjourn until Thursday next at 10 o'clock a.m.; and go into Committee of the Whole and examine the statements submitted by the Auditors', and the Treasurer's and Collector's accounts for the said year.

MR. RUTHERFORD'S INNINGS.

Mr. Rutherford rose to his feet and moved the following resolution:—

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Denne,—That whereas a letter appeared in the Peterborough Review of the third ult., signed C. W. Sawers, which letter contained charges of a very grave character against certain councillors for the years 1882-83, and also against the Clerk and Treasurer, and as such charges have been made through a public newspaper, it is only fair to the ratepayers that the fullest investigation be made as to the truthfulness of such charges.

Be it therefore resolved that a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Cahill, Kelly and Hartley, be appointed to hear evidence on all the charges made, and also the committee have power to call in legal assistance if required, and should the conduct of either Councillors or the Treasurer conflict with the statute or their oath of office, then it will be their duty to resign their places and all connection with this corporation. But should C. W. Sawers fail to make good his case, then he will, in turn, and also without any further notice, vacate his seat at the Council Board.

Mr. Rutherford, in moving this resolution, said that the whole of the matters embraced in Mr. Sawers' motion had been settled and disposed of. He then referred to a letter over Mr. Sawers' name that appeared in the Review, and proceeded to deal with its statements, which he (Mr. R.) said embraced the vilest insinuations against members of the Council, accusing them of peculation, which was equivalent to calling the members thieves.

Here Mr. McNaughton arose and indignantly repudiated such language, and said it ought not to be allowed (laughter.)

Mr. Rutherford, continuing, said these were grave charges to come from a man of Mr. Sawers' municipal calibre, who sat in the Council, not as the representative of Ward No. 2, but as that of his nominator and seconder. His past career showed that he had aspired to the Council Board, but he had been defeated badly by a fish seller. (Laughter.) He did not disparage a fishmonger, for he considered a good fish seller a better man than a bogus lawyer. Mr. Rutherford said that the report of the auditors had its correctness vouched for by the oath of the auditors. The auditors were both capable, honest, respected and reliable men; they had examined the accounts, found them correct, and had taken oath to that effect. It was not to be expected that the Council should go through the accounts as the auditors had done—the law did not contemplate that. Mr. Sawers had made the assertion that the Treasurer was dishonest, but in the face of that he had the cheek to assure that official privately that he did not believe there was a single cent wrong. Mr. Sawers, who had complained so loudly of the action of the Finance Committee, was a member of that Committee; he had begged to be put on it—had thrust himself on it—and, yet, he made this outcry. The custom had always been to accept the auditors' report, and not Mr. Sawers' new style. The speaker denied Mr. Sawers' assertion that the Finance Committee had not examined the treasurer's accounts as in the auditors' report. The committee had examined them. Regarding the frivolous charge that Mr. McDonald drew up the report of the Finance Committee in a matter affecting himself, Mr. Rutherford explained that Mr. McDonald had simply engrossed the reports approved by the committee, by request, something nobody could object to. The gross exaggeration of Mr. Sawers' assertion, that $40,000 was involved by the auditors' report, was, as far as Mr. Paterson and the committee were concerned, shown by pointing out that the sum of only $14,000 was controllable by the committee. The balance, including administration of justice, school funds, etc., etc., was fixed beyond control of the committee. Thus did Mr. Sawers, the great legal luminary, try to blind the ratepayers and dishonestly distort facts to answer his factious and petty purposes. Referring to the letter, Mr. Rutherford said the EXAMINER'S assertion respecting Mr. Sawers' "violent speech" was correct. The speech was a violent and abusive one, and an insult to the Council Board. It abounded in the vilest insinuations. In regard to the foul charge in the letter, that half of the councillors were "using their positions to make money out of the town," the speaker asked who had made money? Mr. Sawers had confused the accounts of 1882 and '83, and commented on the former year's accounts when dealing with those of this year. Mr. Sawers' whole contention respecting "discreditable transactions" were susceptible of easy explanation. His charges, while referring to the accounts 'of 82, referred to the Council of '83. Mr. Davidson, a member elected by the people, was charged with "using his position to make money out of the town." How? The street inspector had simply bought nails for walks from Mr. Davidson's store. Was that wrong unless too high a price was charged, and there was not a shadow of proof of that? Mr. Yelland was similarly charged because the watering cart had been repaired at his shop. The cart broke down near there, and it was repaired by Mr. Yelland's son who sent in the bill, and that explained the bugbear of "sending in accounts under another name." Was there anything wrong in doing the work at his own shop unless the price was wrong? and that was not tried to be shown. Councillor Douglass was the next man slandered. He had sold a wagon to the town. Why? Because he (Mr. Rutherford) as chairman of the committee had to buy a wagon, and when he found he could get it from Mr. Douglass $10 less than from anybody else, he did so, and that is the way Mr. Douglass, according to the legal luminary, "used his position to make money out of the town." Mr. Sawers had made much of the speaker's connection with the fire hall contract, and had charged him with peculation. Why, Mr. Sawers was a member of the committee that approved the contract, and either moved or seconded the motion to give it to P. McNamara, and he (Mr. Rutherford) founded his report on that motion. Mr. McNamara's was the lowest tender, and the rate was very cheap. He (Mr. R) had no earthly interest in the contract. Mr. McNamara had asked him to do the carpenter work, and he at first demurred, but taking legal advice he found that he could do so and, he had done so, and he defied Mr. Sawers to say that the town had lost anything by him. Respecting the alleged "buncombe" resolutions, appointing Messrs. Sawers and McNaughton to audit the accounts, the speaker said the great legal luminary had of course been appointed, and also Mr. McNaughton, because he was so singularly capable and competent. It was not a "piece of buncombe." If Mr. Sawers was sincere he would have examined the accounts and reported on them, and the whole matter would have been settled. Mr. Sawers denied the EXAMINER'S charge that he spoke against time when every member of the Council knows to the contrary. Mr. Sawers claimed to be the economical member of the Council, yet his career of extravagance began at the first meeting of the Council, when he moved to codify the by-laws of the town—a matter involving $1,000 expense—a grand scheme in the exalted wisdom of a member elected by two ratepayers. He voted to add $100 to the salaries of the assessors; he was the prime mover in the purchase of the Bank of Toronto buildings at $4,040. That is what makes the taxes so high this year. It was his (Mr. Sawers') duty to investigate the matter, and he reported that the lease of the present premises had only one year to run, when the fact was, that it was two years, thus laying taxes on the people unnecessarily two years in advance. The Council was led to believe that the statement was correct, and voted for the purchase. Thus Mr. Sawers is responsible for high taxes this year. He wanted also to buy $1,000 worth of trees for the town, and tried to force six special constable on the town at a cost of $2,400 per year—all because some needy tramp one night asked a certain councillor if he "had any soap." He wanted to give a $200,000 bonus to the Ontario & Quebec Railway, and spend $3,000 on the market building. If this model "economist" had had his way he would have added $211,320 to the taxes of the town. Yet through him $4,720 have been added—equal to an extra two mills in the $, and there is no knowing where he would have landed the town if he hadn't been sat on. The speaker nor Councillors never paid any attention to Mr. Sawers till he found his way into the newspapers with his frivolous charges, of which he defied him to prove a single one. He didn't believe that a single cent went astray. Two or three years ago the Council resolved that no money could be paid except on the most stringent system of vouching—the cheques to be signed by the Mayor, Chairman of Finance Committee and Treasurer. Besides, the Treasurer only handled some three or four thousand dollars of the license fund, and as the amount received was known, it was hard for a cent to go wrong. The balance of the funds—the taxes—were deposited in the bank and could only be chequed out on properly vouched orders. He was sure Mr. Sawers could not prove a single charge; if he thought so it was time he set about it.

Mr. Sawers said that the amendment was intended to prevent examination of the Treasurer's accounts. Mr. Rutherford's motion was of no effect; it was out of order and he asked the Mayor's ruling.

Mr. Kelly asked if the Auditors had made a return to the Government.

The Clerk answered that they had, and produced the return, whose declaration was read as follows:

"We, the undersigned auditors, certify that we have examined the Treasurer's books for 1882, of the municipality of the town of Peterborough, and found them correct and in accordance with vouchers produced.

"Signed, { J. STRATTON, EDG. PEARSE, } Auditors."

Mr. Sawers reiterated that the law required the Council to make an audit.

Mr. Sawers invited the Councillors whom he had charged to make a speech, but none responded.

Mr. Yelland was willing to investigate Mr. Sawer's charges when there was some point in them indicated, and he asked what was wrong.

Mr Sawers—Have you read the law?

Mr. Yelland—I'm not a lawyer, and I'm glad of it; for the little law you know has only made a fool of you.

Mr. McNaughton didn't think that Mr. Sawers accused any Councillor of wrong doing. (Laughter.) He only wanted to go by law. He was not ashamed to say that he was uneducated—didn't know B from a bull's foot, and therefore when Mr. Denne put him on with Mr. Sawers to audit the accounts he knew he couldn't do it, and the motion was a fraud. Mr. Rutherford said the Toronto Bank premises was a grand investment, and if he denied it he lied aboveboard. (Laughter and cheers.) He detailed charges of extravagance against Mr. Rutherford in connection with "cow bells," fire stables, schools, etc.

Mr. Hartley said there was much talk, but little sense (it was now twelve o'clock); and if Mr. Sawers thought he (Mr. H.) was going to go over the Treasurer's accounts, item by item, he was greatly mistaken. Why should the Council do the work again when the Auditors had done it well before? Why spend time on useless labor?

Mr. Sawers said he was not ashamed of his letter in the Review—he was prepared to back it up. Mr. Rutherford's amendment was buncombe. The Treasurer's accounts were not legally audited, and he charged Messrs. Paterson and Rutherford with bringing in false reports. Mr. Rutherford's amendment was contrary to law. If Mr. Rutherford was sincere in his amendment he would amend it by inserting the County Judge instead of the committee.

Mr. Rutherford—I agree to that on condition that you (Mr. Sawers) pay the costs.

Mr. Sawers—I will pay the costs if I don't substantiate my charges.

Mr. Rutherford—I agree to that also.

His Worship therefore amended the amendment accordingly, with the proviso that Mr. Sawers was to pay all costs if he did not prove his case.

Mr. Sawers proceeded to speak in his usual style, when the Mayor interrupted him, to put the motion, intimating that this thing had gone on so, long enough. Amidst great uproar, Mr. Sawers claiming the floor, the Mayor declared the amendment carried.

Mr. Kelly moved an adjournment for a week——

Mr. Sawers—shouting—I'm not done speaking——

His Worship—Carried; adjourned for a week—"For a month," said another—"For a year," said another——

Mr. Sawers—Mr. Mayor you are not fit to sit in the seat you occupy. (Uproar.)

Mr. Rutherford—Sawers, you're a disgrace to the town!

The Councillors left their seats hurriedly, and there was an end to the most disorderly and least creditable meeting perhaps ever held in the chamber. Time, 12.30 a.m.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT. 6, 1883.

East York.

The petition to unseat Mr. Badgerow, member elect in the Local Legislature for East York, was, on Thursday last, dismissed with costs. Mr. Badgerow was elected last February by the large majority of 243; this riding is distinctly Liberal; the return of the present member was in no wise a surprise to anybody, in fact it was what everybody confidently expected, or fully feared, according as his political inclination regarded the result. Therefore, there was not the slightest need of any resort to bribery, and not the slightest fear of Mr. Badgerow or his friends that anything but the spontaneous and uncoerced choice of the electors would be necessary to secure his return. But the order, accompanied with the funds, —the $1,000 deposit in security for costs —was issued at Ottawa, and the underlings had to enter a protest, which was duly entered with the result of a flat failure. The only evidence of bribery would appear to be in connection with one or two of the witnesses put forward by the petitioner to prove his case. They were so evidently coached and so unreliable that their testimony was rejected by the judge with the greatest alacrity. The remarks of Mr. Justice Burton, in dismissing the petition with costs, are a valuable testimony to the purity with which the contest was conducted:—"It appears," he said, "as far as we can judge, that the election has been as fairly and purely conducted as any election could possibly be. Not a single charge that has been made has been sustained, and it was almost painful to see witnesses put into the box when it was clear that their evidence would not be believed by enlightened people. I am satisfied, and every one in the Court during the progress of the trial must have felt certain that the evidence of Strainer and other witnesses was totally unreliable. Apart from every other consideration, Mr. Badgerow must have been totally unfit to occupy any public position if he could have been guilty any such folly as was credited to him. I think Mr. Badgerow is to be congratulated for the manner in which the election was conducted, and the petition is dismissed with costs."

The Authors of the Iniquity.

One thing has been made clear by these election trials, and that is, that a regularly organized plan was entered into at Ottawa to carry certain constituencies in Ontario; that it was determined by Sir John A. Macdonald that force, money, whiskey or any other agency was to be used to capture these constituencies, and that half-a-dozen of the most unscrupulous and corrupt electioneering hacks in Ontario were employed to debauch the electorate. For some reason the arch-corruptionist himself came to the front, and, true to his history, he managed to demoralize several constituencies and ruin a few of his friends—that is, if men of the Shields brigade type can be ruined. Who planned this wholesale corruption and fraud in Muskoka? Fauquier, the Tory candidate, swears he knew nothing about it, that he never invited the notorious Shields or any of his brigade to come into the Riding, that he had no communication with them, though he admits that he went to the Head Centre's room once and had a drink with him. He swears that he never spoke about election matters with Shields or any of the brigade. Assuming that Fauquier tells the truth, the brigade then got their instructions, their corruption funds and their liquor direct from Ottawa—just what has been contended all along. The end is not yet. The next move will, perhaps, be to disqualify Fauquier and punish the leading members of the brigade. The foul nest has got a thorough stirring up.

The Methodist ministers of New England receive an average salary of $560 a year, the Baptists a trifle more, the Presbyterians $740, and the Episcopalians $900. The facts may possibly have something to do with the dearth of young men entering the ministry.

The Murray Canal.

It would appear that everything in Sir Charles Tupper's department of the Government is made subservient to purposes of political expediency. The selection of the shortest route for a canal, or the acceptance of the lowest tender on a contract, must not be made, if political reasons declare it otherwise. No matter how much of the public money is to be wasted, the interests of the party are to be considered first. The Onderdonk contract "business" is one case in point, and the Murray Canal route another, it would seem. A correspondent of the Trenton Courier puts it in this way:—

"Two bodies of water are to be connected; the connection can be made by a cut two miles long with most unexceptionable harbor facilities and advantages; yet a cut seven miles long, destitute, admittedly, of such facilities and advantages and in favor of which not a single reasonable argument has been adduced, is decided on, although urgently protested against by two bodies of professional men —most competent to form a correct opinion,—sailors and engineers."

But the public interest was not the paramount consideration in the selection of this route, nor in any other matter whore justice and economy come in contact with party interests. The correspondent continues:—

"There is every moral certainty that the selection of the seven mile route was a foregone conclusion. The general opinion is that it was dictated by personal feeling and the persuasion is daily sinking ing deeper and deeper into the public mind that to this personal feeling the interests of the country have been unmercifully sacrificed. Many months before the preliminary or explanatory report was sent in to the Government by their engineers, the decision ultimately made, and acted on most unfortunately, was everywhere in the neighborhood anticipated. The reason why cannot be here more particularly given than that it may be found in the secret instructions committed by the party in power to its officers.

"Is it not true that the professional and formal judgment of Mr. Page, Government engineer, was and is wholly adverse to the longer route, and that his reasons are on record under lock and key? * * * Why were not all the facts of the case made the subject of open Parliamentary discussion during last session? Its importance would have justified a motion for the appointment of a committee to inquire into it. The report of the committee would have satisfied the country. The country is entitled to the fullest scrutiny of all the particulars of the matter because of its great and wide-spread importance."

Editorial Notes.

Who furnished the $1,000 cheque that John Shields handed to the Secretary of the Conservative Association of Muskoka? Who paid for the whiskey, which, villainous as it was, froze at the thought of the dirty work the Dominion Government sent it out to do? It would be just like John Shields to buy the most watery whiskey possible, and charge it up to the Dominion Government as seven year old rye.

The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and yet Sir John has not fulfilled his promise of visiting the North-West this summer. Sir John has no burning desire to see how his ruinous land policy works in the North-West—he has no fancy to visit ruins. He has more fun at Riviere de Loup, and would rather stay there and fish for suckers and political capital than visit the North-West, where the disgusted settler would give him more truth than "taffy."

The Count de Chambord, known as Henry V. of France, died on Wednesday of last week. He was the head of the elder branch of the Bourbons and was born at Paris, Sept. 29, 1820. His birth was hailed with great joy by the adherents of his house, and he was called "The child of the Miracle." His life has been an eventful one, and was essentially that of a French political leader. His talents and his virtues were many, and had he been more given to diplomacy he might have succeeded in placing himself firmly on the French throne.

The Kingston election trial has been disposed of, and by consent, the petition against the return of Mr. Metcalfe withdrawn, or as the lawers put it no evidence was forthcoming. Much amusement seems to have been caused by the celebrated Dr. Stewart, who always figures conspicuously in Kingston politics. The Court considering that its rules would not permit a layman, who is not a petitioner, to address the judges, refused to allow the doctor to air his eloquence, and the result was that the proceedings quietly terminated. There are no costs allowed to either party.

When the scant stock of Tory arguments against the Ontario Government is exhausted, straight lying is not despised. The organs assert that the Ontario Government, after sending the Algoma election writ to Sheriff Clarke, took it from him when he showed a disposition to act fairly by both parties, and gave it to a good Grit, who, of course, would not act fairly. This is the falsehood. The truth is, that Sheriff Clarke, on account of ill health and the arduous duties of the office, asked, by letter to the Government, to be relieved; his request was acceded to, and Mr. Thompson, Clerk of Shuniah municipality, appointed. Of course Mr. Thompson is not a Jim Stevens, but he will make a good returning officer, nevertheless.

Governor Dewdney, the gubernatorial land grabber of Assiniboia, according to the Ottawa Free Press, entered Regina to attend a meeting of the Council the other day, as would some oriental potentate. Dressed in an elegant Windsor uniform, attended by an aide and escorted by sixteen mounted police, the Governor of the Northwest descended on the astonished inhabitants of the capital (Regina). When he arrived at the Chamber the bugler blew a flourish, and, as a gushing reporter says, "in the bright, pellucid air the men's trappings shone again." It would be to more purpose if Governor Dewdney would devote more pains and economy in administering affairs in the Northwest than introducing in the prairies such a costly and princely display.

Sir John Rose, Bart., ex-Finance Minister of Canada, has been appointed by the Prince of Wales Receiver-General of the Duchy of Cornwall. The officers of the duchy consist of a lord warden of the Stannaries, a vice warden, an attorney general, a receiver-general a keeper of the privy seal, an auditor, a secretary and a law clerk. The annual revenues are about £90,000, of which about £60,000 go to the Prince of Wales, who is also Duke of Cornwall. The duchy was erected in 1336, and was conferred by Edward III. upon his son, the Black Prince, since which time it has always been held by a Prince of Wales. Its revenues are derived from lands in Cornwall, Devon and Somerset. The emoluments of Sir John Rose's new office are not very great, but the position is looked upon as a very honorable one. His predecessor was General Right Honourable Sir W. T. Knollys.

ORANGE INCORPORATION.

How Sir John and Grand Master Bowell "Helped" it On.

(Globe Correspondence.)

Sir John Macdonald's organs are evidently alarmed at the attitude of the rank and file of the Orange Order, and Messrs. Bowell, White, Merrick, and others are sparing no effort to keep their followers well within the traces. The Reform papers are being soundly abused for daring to point out to the Orangemen the fact that they are being used as mere "hewers of wood and drawers of water" for Sir John Macdonald, who has more than once refused them legal recognition. When the Ontario Legislature passed the Orange Incorporation Bill Sir John advised the Governor-General to withhold his assent from it. Again last session Sir John refused to advise his followers to vote for the Bill, and allowed it to be defeated, though 140 members sat ready to do his bidding. It has been charged again and again that the Reform Ministry "disallowed" the Prince Edward Island Land Act of 1874. This, like the Orange Bill, was a measure reserved by the Lieutenant-Governor for the Governor-General's assent, which was withheld. Now, if Mr. Mackenzie vetoed the P. E. Island Land Bill, Sir John certainly vetoed the Orange Incorporation Bill passed by the Ontario Legislature. And his action was approved by Ex.-Grand Sovereign Bowell. Had Sir John allowed the Governor-General to assent to the Bill it would have become law at once, and the Orange Society would have obtained the coveted legal status. But the matter is quite clear Sir John's conduct proves that he does not desire that the Orange Society shall be incorporated. When the Bill was before Parliament last session a leading Tory ex-M.P. said he trusted it would not pass, because, unless the Orangemen had a grievance their Order would be of no service as a political engine. The Orange Bill was clearly within the competence of the Local Legislature, yet Sir John advised the Governor-General to withhold his assent from it! He could interfere with and thwart the powers of the Ontario Legislature to please Mr. Peter McLaren, but the Orange Order he did not consider entitled to even a much smaller consideration. And Mr. Bowell confesses that he was a party to the disallowance of the Orange Bill by Sir John Macdonald. The following from the Hansard report of Mr. Blake's speech on the disallowance question in the session of 1882 tells the whole story:

Mr. Blake—The hon. gentleman (Sir John Macdonald) persists in the argument that it is practically the same to decline to assent to a Bill and to disallow a complete Act. I think it would be news to a very large portion of the community in Ontario and throughout the Dominion to know that the First Minister had disallowed the Orange Bill. Did he practically or virtually disallow it? Did he do the same thing as disallow it? According to arguments advanced by his followers to-night he did. According to them it was just the same thing to refuse assent to this reserved bill as to disallow it. Was it the hon. Minister of Customs who settled this or the hon. First Minister? Has the former been supporting for five or six years, with all his vigour and energy, a man who did that most outrageous thing—in the opinion of that portion of the community—disallow the Orange Bill?

Mr. Bowell—What he did was with my consent and by my advice.

Surely it will not be pretended after this that Sir John Macdonald and Mr. Bowell are anxious for Orange incorporation. According to their own confessions they went out of their way to prevent an Orange Bill from becoming law. The Orange Incorporation Bill passed by the Ontario Legislature was disallowed by Sir John Macdonald on the advice of Mr. Bowell.

BARBARISM IN ASYLUMS.

When I was convalescent in the asylum I attended an evening card-party, given in one of the pleasantest wards, for the amusement of those patients that were well enough to appreciate and enjoy such an occasion. I met a lady, a patient, who had been in the asylum three years. Although I could see that she was somewhat flighty, yet in all other respects she was quite an intelligent person. She told me that she had left at home her daughter, an only child, about 14 years old, whom she had not seen in all that time. This lady's husband had virtually put her in prison, and had never taken the pains to call on her himself oftener than once a year, and had never allowed her daughter to visit her. Tears stood in the poor woman's eyes as she told me these things, and I had no reason to believe that she was deceiving either herself or me. And upon inquiry I found that her case was not an exceptional one. There are mothers confined in all our asylums, as there were in the institution where I was, who while they are insane enough to warrant their being put under restraint, are yet sufficiently intelligent to be sensible of their condition, and, like the lady I have alluded to, be overwhelmed by the thought that they are in a hopelessly helpless condition, and may be kept imprisoned thus for years, or even for life, away from their kindred and friends, and from the little ones for whom their hearts yearn with an intensity that no human being can appreciate, except some mother that has lost a child. This lady said she had known such patients, when talking about the little children from whom they had been separated, to sob and moan for hours at a time. But the law is inexorable. It says that the husband may confine his wife in an asylum, if he can prove that she is insane—and that is a very comprehensive word. In some States the certificates of two physicians will accomplish this purpose, and when once a patient is shut up in a ward, there is no deliverance that can be depended upon. But not only do the woman suffer in this way, for there are men whose affections are as keen and as strong as those of any woman, who long to be with their boys and girls, to see them growing to manhood and womanhood, but who know neither the day nor the hour when that longing shall be gratified.—"Insanity by One Who has been Insane, in Popular Science Monthly for September.

When Digestion of Albumenoids or tissue food is defective, the blood fails to furnish the proper nutriment for the muscles, functional activity is impaired, and muscular debility or a sense of, weariness constantly felt. This is soon apparent in the heart, the most faithful, hard-working muscle in the body, and we have heart starvation, or a weak heart, which is often mistaken for fatty degeneration or other organic disease. The feeble pulse, tendency to fainting, impaired brain power, want of resolution and despondency, are purely functional disturbances from insufficient blood supply, and radically curable by the use of WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA to restore nerve power and nutrition.

SCHOOLS AND CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The agency of schools in spreading contagious diseases is, unless carefully guarded against, a most fatally effective one. A Hamilton correspondent of the Mail thus writes on the subject:—

"In the discussion that followed the reading of Dr. Oldright's paper on "School Hygiene" before the Ontario Teachers' Association the statement was made that 'In this city (Hamilton) every medical officer in attending a case of contagious disease, reports it to the principal of the school of the locality, who, in consequence, is on his guard against children attending the school from the infected house.' The plan thus briefly stated was followed in the city until the act compelling the registration of all cases of contagious diseases came into active operation. During the past school year I received from the medical health officer of this city a complete report of all cases of contagious diseases, according as they were registered. The card of notification gives the street, number of the infected house, and the names of the school children living therein, together with the schools they attend. Care is then taken by masters and teachers that no pupils from these houses return to school until the danger of infection is past. It addition to the preventive measures just stated, the Board of Education requires each teacher of the public schools to keep a monthly record, in a form provided for that purpose, of all children who are absent sick, who are absent on account of the sickness of others, or who are coming from houses where sickness of any kind exists; in every case the nature of the disease is given. Since the adoption of this system our classes have been remarkably free from diseases of a contagious nature; the class room, at all events, has not been the means of spreading disease to any appreciable extent. The detection occasionally of a child attending school who had just recovered from measles or scarlet fever, and of others coming from houses where these diseases existed, rendered preventive measures necessary. The success which has attended the working of the plan is due largely to the hearty cooperation of the medical health officer, Dr. Rayall, and to a few of the members of the medical society of the city, who first suggested the system as a supplementary step in public sanitation.

A PARRY SOUND TORNADO.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY—THE BUSH LEVELED—LIVE STOCK KILLED.

A Scotia dispatch says: On Thursday last a terrible cyclone passed over the township of Perry, Parry Sound district. As viewed from Scotia it had the appearance of rolling smoke as it approached, accompanied by heavy peals of thunder and fearful lightning and rain. Traveling from Scotia in a southeasterly direction, it did very little damage around here, but as it advanced it gained in velocity until it reached what is called the Robert's settlement, 8th con, Perry. There the storm was something fearful, leveling the bush of everything but the underbrush The following casualties are reported from that district: Mr Roberts' barn blown away and hay destroyed; Mr. Bacon's barn blown down and the sheeting scattered and broken in splinters; Mr. J. Bradley had a steer's leg broken; John Wall's barn blown down and a valuable mare killed by falling timber; Charles Mashall's house unroofed and his barn blown inside out and a cow killed. Thence it traveled to Cyprus, uprooting P. Denham's house, shifting his large barn and twisting it out of shape, and killing two sheep. It leveled the bush and scattered the fences, taking even the bottom logs, lifting them for rods.

THE TEMPERANCE PROBLEM.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—Many I dare say of your readers have read of the celebrated motto which was placed upon a certain lighthouse. The words were, "Giving light and saving life." Keeping this motto in view I desire to address a few words to your readers on the practical duties we are each one of us called upon to discharge in the matter of temperance.

The temperance question is a subject which may seem to some of your readers very trite, although to most of them it must be very familiar. It has been frequently discussed both in the legislature and by the press—on the platform and in various other ways, and there is, in terms at least, a general agreement as to the desirableness of doing more than has already been done to assure a decided success to the cause.

I have recently addressed several letters on the subject to the newspapers of the city wherein I reside. The Globe has given them insertion in its columns, and it is probable they have come under the notice of many of your readers.

I have also received the assistance of the provincial press and, under a sense of the exceeding importance of the subject, and of the necessity as we advance toward any practical realization of it, for its being distinctly understood and rightly appreciated, the provincial press has willingly and most kindly inserted my contributions.

At the session of the Anglican Synod of the diocese of Toronto, held in June, 1882, a resolution was passed as follows: "That the several delegates of this "Synod, clerical and lay, adopt the prin- "ciple of the constitution of the Church "of England Temperance Society of the "Diocese of Toronto, approved by the "Synod, and pledge themselves to use "their utmost endeavors to establish "branch societies in their several "parishes."

At the last session of the Synod, held in June last, the Bishop thus addressed the delegates on the subject of this resolution. To quote his words: "I have no information," he said, "to what extent this pledge has been carried out in the country parishes. I fear to an extent that is scarcely appreciable. You will agree with me as regarding it as most deplorable, as a sure evidence of defective organization, when schemes of vast benefit are adopted by the Synod at one session only to lie forgotten and inoperative till the next session; mere plans on paper, however beautifully executed, that remain useless ornaments in the office, until energetic hands set to work and raise from them the superstructure of the noble and useful edifice. Much more is this deplorable where the neglected scheme is so urgently needed and withal so glorious a work as the laying hold by our Church, in her corporate capacity, as a duty inherent in her Christ-like mission, of the mighty task of grappling with the giant soul-destroying evil, which, perhaps, opposes more powerfully than any other the progress of Christ's kingdom amongst us—the sin of intemperance."

It has been well said that the need of a reformation in our social drinking customs should not be a question with any Christian, clerical or lay, and this being admitted it becomes the duty of each one of us to act at once.

As a total abstainer myself, I have therefore felt it my duty (and I regard it as a privilege also) to write upon the subject of intemperance and I am quite willing to bear the penalty of so doing.

To members of the Church of England I would say—Have you a Church Temperance Society organized in your parish? If not, set about the organization at once. Interview your clergyman and lay representatives, and have the organization set on foot, and members enrolled, and fortnightly meetings held without further delay. Look at what your Synod has pledged you. Reflect on what your Bishop has said on this subject.

Thereafter, and as soon as possible thereafter, start your Bands of Hope, that your little ones may early be inspired to the importance which attaches to the cause of temperance.

There are 102 parishes and missions of the Anglican Church in the Diocese of Toronto, and as yet I believe there are only fifteen branch associations of the Church of England Temperance Society in active work, and these, I may say, are chiefly in Toronto. It is a crying shame that there should be a single parish in this important diocese without such an association and its accompanying Band of Hope. I address myself to the parishes which are lukewarm in this great and important and glorious movement. I need hardly appeal to every man who attends his Church to consider well his duty in this particular. I need hardly say that no man would have any shadow of right to the title of a Christian, nay he would brand himself as an enemy to his race, if he did not join heart and soul in the wish to check intemperance. If that were all it would be an insult to the understandings of your readers to argue that the temperance movement has claims upon every living man in whose breast beats a human heart.

Well then we want life in this movement. We want public opinion with us, and we are now fast getting it, and to make public opinion stronger we need organization. We can apply the methods of the Church of England Temperance Society so successfully with our own communion, that with a little energy on the part of the clergy and the leading laymen, in a very short time, as has been proved by those societies or branches in active work, we can enlist the interest and help of nearly every member of the Church in the parish. We may not expect to do more than enlist the few at the start, but the many will soon come in.

I want to find that within two months in the Diocese of Toronto we shall have 102 Church Temperance Associations in active work—the organization can be accomplished. It requires a few willing ones to make the start. We desire in all humility of mind to put our hands to the plough, and for the sake of the good that is promoted, and the evil that is prevented thereby, we would lay all honor upon this beginning of a method for rolling away this "reproach" of intemperance from our people and our country.

To the members of other communions I would say, as individuals they have already done good work in the cause, but they, too, want organization. They have numberless christian workers throughout the land, and I rejoice to know that there are so many dealing with the question in what may be regarded as individual work. All honor to these laborers, but the work would assume a more practical, and I am satisfied more successful form, if every church of every denomination had its temperance association well organized and its Bands of Hope. And then why should not all these temperance associations and bands of hope in one grand convention assembled—for this Christ-like mission—aim at attaining a central rallying point to establish communications with all the associations—to stimulate lukewarm ones into action. Let the christanity of our cause be manifest in its great aim and tendency, which is to promote the glory of God in the highest, peace on earth and good will among men by removing that great social evil of intemperance, degrading to the national character, and the primary cause of most of the crimes which assail it. Let us therefore set about this work of organization at once and do all we can to remove the foul eclipse which passes over all that is best and brightest in our social life, and recall again our lighthouse motto, "Giving light and saving life."

I have already occupied too much of your space I fear on this subject of organization—as I regard it as the most important beginning—but if you will kindly accord me the permission, I will in a future letter address myself to the question of: The work to be done, and how it should be accomplished and why.

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
RICHARD SNELLING.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

The complete cure of a case of chronic rheumatism of fifteen years' standing, borders on the miraculous. Mr. D. W. Clarkson, Carlton Place, Ont., writes to Dr. Dow as follows: "I have been afflicted with chronic rheumatism for fifteen years and at times not able to rise out of my chair. I used three bottles of your Sturgeon Oil Liniment, and am now as well as ever and and can walk as well as ever I could."

A Run on a Drug Store.

Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at Taylor & McDonald's for a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons affected with Asthma, Bronchitis Hoarseness, Severe Coughs or any affection of the Throat and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at above Drug Store. A Fair Exchange.

Will you exchange a chronic case of Dyspepsia, or agree to break up a Bilious Temperament—to give your torpid Liver activity, and thus strengthen your Digestion, regain energy, comfort, health and spirits, all for 75c? A single bottle of ZOPESA will do this. A few doses surprises those who try Zopesa. For Biliousness and Dyspepsia in their many forms Zopesa is a Panacea, and is warranted to cure them. It acts speedily and pleasantly. Try a 10c sample of J. D. Tully's. 31-tf

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Send a three-cent stamp for a copy of their International News, published monthly at 173 Church st., Toronto. 15-tf

The Wild Strawberry leaf is a good antidote to the poison of the green apple and cucumber. In other words, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a sure cure for Colic Chorlera Morbus, Cramps Dysentery, and all Bowel Complaints so often caused by the irritating effects of unripe fruit. 36-2t

John Devoy, of New York charges O'Donovan with criminal carelessness for putting information endangering the lives and liberties of men in Ireland in the hands of McDermott and other suspects.

Evidence in the case of the Connollys, charged with conspiracy to murder, in Ireland shows that the conspiracy was the outcome of a plot to obtain possession of some property, and was not connected with Fenian designs.

The loss of life by the volcanic eruptions and subsequent rising of the sea in Java is now estimated as high as seventy-five thousand. On low lands where the waters have receded mangled corpses are lying by hundreds.

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidneys and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

Methodist Union.

The vote on the union question took place at Belleville on Monday and resulted in the adoption of the basis by a majority of 77—over a three-fourths vote. Methodist Union is now an accomplished fact, and the United General Conference is now in session settling the details.

Fauquier Unseated.

Corruption has been punished. Mr. Fauquier, the unseated Tory member for Muskoka, has been disqualfied for personally corrupt acts, and Mr. Bethune applied on Tuesday to the Court of Appeal for summonses against (among half-a-dozen others) Edward Phalen and H. H. Smith, of this town.

The Algoma Election.

The nomination of candidates for Algoma takes place to-morrow, Friday Sept, 7th, and the election will take place on the 27th. The candidates will be the late representative, Mr. R. A. Lyon and Mr. Plummer, of Sault Ste. Marie, the Dominion Government candidate. There is a marked difference in the qualifications and claims of the two candidates. Mr. Lyon is an old settler in the district, and is, therefore, well acquainted with the wants of the constituency he seeks to represent; he has shown his ability and willingness to serve the riding efficiently during his career as the member of Algoma since 1878. On the other hand Mr. Plummer is an untried and new man, a candidate of the party which seems determined to serve the political ends of the Ottawa Government, regardless of the interests of Ontario. If he enters the House he does not enter it as the representative of Algoma, an Ontario constituency, but as representative and tool of the Government at Ottawa. He is pledged to oppose the Mowat administration right or wrong, and he is also pledged to vote for handing over the territory now wrongfully claimed by Manitoba, to that province. He is prepared, in other words, to serve the interests, not of this province, but of the enemies of this province. Therefore, he cannot represent the unbiased public opinion of Algoma, nor, we trust, the opinion of the mass of respectable Conservatives. If elected, he will be elected by the corrupt assistance of the Ottawa oligarchy, and as the representative and tool of their centralising policy against the interests of this province. We may expect, of course, a repetition of the shameful scenes that were enacted by the missionaries of the Dominion Government in the debauching of the electorate of Muskoka, as known at the time and since proven at the recent trial of the election petition. Indeed, John Shields, the shameless, has been for weeks busy in and about Rat Portage. It would naturally be expected that the result of the Muskoka trial would deter him from practising the same game in Algoma. But it will not. Shield feels that his backers, Sir John Macdonald and the Government, will see him safe through. It is stated that J. J. Macdonald, of the firm of Manning, Shields & Macdonald, knows something of a call on Sir John Macdonald at River du Loup, the outcome of which is a check of $40,000 to be devoted to the promotion of the return of the Ottawa candidate in the Algoma election. If Mr. Lyon is defeated it will not be by the votes of the electors of Algoma, but by the money and corrupt influence emanating from Ottawa—and all the influence the Pacific Railway Syndicate can exercise. With these two powerful forces in active operation it may be that Mr. Lyon may be defeated, but that defeat at best will be only a temporary triumph for the enemies of Ontario. The judges of an election court cannot be bribed by Ottawa money, nor bulldosed by the hirelings of the Ottawa Government.

The Post Office Site.

Why all this delay in the selection of a site for the new Post Office in Peterborough? A Government official has inspected the various eligible sites, and certainly the matter of selection is not so difficult that it requires so long a time to make a choice. What our citizens want is to have the matter settled at once. While the Government is dwaddling with the matter to keep Government supporters in good humor, with a view, perhaps, of enlisting them in another bribery brigade to operate in Algoma as a similar one did in Muskoka, the interests of the town are liable to suffer. The sites for the new post office now offering are practically out of the real estate market. No good Tory—and such are the majority of the holders of sites—will sell to a private party for building purposes, so long as he has a chance of selling to the Government at fancy prices. Besides the property in the vicinity of the possible sites will be naturally enhanced in value by the building of the post office and owners hold it for obvious reason. Thus, to serve political ends the Government retard the progress of the town. It would be no matter of surprise if the post office building were not built at all. Sir Tilley will make a poor face at the next session over a deficit, and will make this as an excuse for delaying the matter, and keeping it before the riding as an election dodge, till it has again served as a bribe in favor of the Tory party. Let the matter be settled at once and let us know where the office is to be placed. Either this or leave the post office where it is. The present office answers the public well, and it would be better for the town to keep it where it is for years than have the matter of a site for a new one dangling before the people, and half a dozen of the best business building sites in town kept from being built upon, by being held (as also other property in the vicinity) for fancy prices. Can't even a little post office be built without jobbery and jewing?

Editorial Notes.

The petition against the return of Mr. Harcourt, member elect of Monck, was on Saturday withdrawn on the ground of inability of the petitioner to prove that the alleged corrupt practices were done by the respondent's agents. Costs are to be paid by petitioner, and thus another hiatus is made in the Ottawa protest fund without any corresponding advantage.

The Conservative journals seem to be confident that Mr. Plummer, the Tory figure-head, will be elected for Algoma. A great deal will depend on whether Sir John and Shields, Gum Swamp Anderson and Big Push, and $40,000, representing another "re-classification and re-measurement" of work on Section B, take a hand in debauching an Ontario constituency. If Plummer is elected it will be a la mode Fauquier.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, in a speech before the Greenock Chamber of Commerce recently, declared that the people of Canada would never consent to a separation of the British Colonies from England. He predicted that Canada would shortly adopt free trade, and asserted that the Canadians would give their last man and spend their last dollar to preserve the integrity of the British Empire.

It is reported, says the Beacon, that in order to pacify Senator Masson and keep him from assisting the kickers against the Mousseau party in Quebec, Sir John and Sir Hector have promised him the Lieut.-Governorship of Quebec on the expiration of the present incumbent's term. Mr. Mousseau has demanded that the Federal Government shall exert all its influence on his behalf. Sir John Macdonald will comply, and this will drive the whole Castor party, including Senators Bellerose, Trudel, Debouchervilla and others squarely into opposition, both in Local and Dominion politics.

It is probable that Sir Leonard Tilley will have to meet Parliament with a deficit at the next session. The customs receipts from the ports of Montreal and Toronto—the principal contributors to the customs revenue—it shows a falling off for August of, together, 17 per cent. This represents, as estimated by the Globe, a falling off of some three or four millions. And yet the public expenditure is going on at a lavish rate, public works, many of a purely political character—that is not absolutely necessary except for political purposes—are absorbing millions. There has been no retrenchment, no looking ahead for the hard times, that the dullest could not help knowing must come. With a failing revenue, the obligations to which the Government has committed the country will be a ruinous burden. Millions have been wrung from the people by unnecessary taxation, and the tremendous blunder has been committed of keeping the expenditure up to the abnormal income thus created. Though the power of paying taxes is failing, yet the burden of debt resulting from the reckless policy of the present Government is something that will stay with us.

THE EXAMINATIONS.

The result of the recent examinations in connection with our High School has elicited much favorable comment from the leading people of our village, and justly so too. At no previous examination have so many candidates received the minimum figures entitling them to the certificate they sought for, a result reflecting the highest credit upon Mr. Davidson, our very popular High School Principal. It must be remembered, too, that Mr. Davidson, during the terms of many of the candidates at this examination, had several changes of assistants, and for some time was without an assistant in his department, the whole work of the High School then devolving on him alone. It is worthy of remark, too, that while Peterborough Collegiate Institute succeeded in passing only one second-class certificate candidate, the Norwood High School creditably passed two. This happy result speaks volumes for the efficiency of the management of our High School, and it is to be hoped that will always maintain this very gratifying position.

A LIQUOR CASE.

A case of selling liquor on Sunday by one of our village tavern-keepers has been brought before a Magistrate's Court here twice; but both times the Inspector, Mr. Drain, though on both occasions he summoned a number of witnesses, failed to establish his case. He asked for a further adjournment of the case for a week, when he will likely procure the assistance of the County Attorney to bring some of the stubborn witnesses to a proper sense of their duty. One witness on Saturday last, for equivocating, was placed in durance vile for a while, but the confinement availed nothing towards eliciting a direct answer from him. Mr. Drain is to prosecute the case to his utmost, and try to put a stop to an evil which is too apparent upon our streets upon the Sabbath day.

RAILWAY WORK.

As far as grading is concerned railway work is coming to a close on the sections east and west of Norwood, and the navvies are beginning to make themselves scarce. A number of Italians left last week for Ottawa to work on the Gatineau Railway under the construction of Macdonnell, Bray & Jones, and a number of other navvies will follow their example shortly, as their occupation will be gone here. The "cattle guards" along a portion of the line are now in course of construction, under Mr. Jas. McLaughlan, of this village. Mr. Richardson, also of this place, has a considerable portion of the fencing done in this county. We hear that a construction train will soon be put on the road near Madoc, to work westward. However, the construction of the Ontario and Quebec is being pushed forward very vigorously, and some are quite sanguine that a train will be running between Toronto and Ottawa before the end of the year. It is to be hoped so; for no section of the country stands more in need of a railway than that which will be traversed by the Ontario and Quebec Railway.—[Held over from last issue.]

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

EXCURSION.

Lakefield was visited by an excursion party from Millbrook on Wednesday, the 29th July. There were six passenger coaches well filled. It took place under the auspices of the C. M. Church of Millbrook. The excursionists amused themselves by boating, fishing and sailing, and also by taking a look through our village. We understand they quite enjoyed themselves.

ACCIDENT.

A Mr. Anderson, of Lindsay, who was camping at Buckhorn, had a narrow escape on Friday morning last. While pushing his gun into his canoe he struck the hammer, causing it to go off. The charge entered the palm of his hand, and glanced off at the wrist. He came to Lakefield, had the injured member dressed, and went home by train. He was a cousin to the Miss Anderson who taught in our school.

EXCHANGE OF PROPERTY.

Mr. John Rodgers has bought the residence of Mrs. Blondell, on Queen street, where he is carrying on the livery business. He gives the residence where he is now living in part payment.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. J. Wallace, who has been on a trip west, has returned looking much better for his holiday. He is not enraptured with Manitoba nor the North-West, though he considers the soil fertile. They have had very little rain this summer, consequently crops are not looking exceedingly well and business seems to be pretty dull. His opinion seems to be that those who are comfortable in Ontario had better remain.

DEATH AT AN OLD AGE.

Mrs. Currith died a week ago last Wednesday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Baptie, Smith, and was buried in the Lakefield cemetery on the Friday following. She had reached the very advanced age of 97 years, completing nearly a century.

WEATHER NOTES.

During August, in Central Ontario, nothing of a particular character is worthy of note. Although other parts have had their storms and floods, we have escaped well. The temperature of the month has been very low, only averaging 59 degrees at sunrise and sunset. At no time did the heat exceed 90 degrees in the shade, while twice it went down to 44 degrees, namely, on the mornings of the 25th and 27th, with a very white frost on both occasions. On the morning of the 15th the thermometer stood at 40 degrees, but there was no white frost. Rain fell on 12 days,—six of which were thunder storms—to the depth of 2 70-100 inches. In no storm did the rain fall 1 inch during the 24 hours. August of '82 had an average temperature of 63 degrees, with 15 days of rain fall, to the depth of 2 23-100 inches. The past month has been slightly above the average in rain-fall, but considerably below in temperature.

An Ottawa despatch says:—Mr. S. E. Chapleau, the newly appointed Sheriff of the Northwest Territories, is still here. He says he is satisfied with his triumph over Tupper, and will draw his salary as Sheriff, but will not enter upon his duties or even go near his bailiwick till he feels inclined to do so. The Government, he says, dare not interfere with him again.

SPEAKING

FOR MYSELF.

The announcement of the Dissolution of Partnership you have all read. It has been before your eyes for the last month. That I am now carrying on the business by and for myself should be fully known. No doubt it is.

I wish to thank those who have bought from the firm in the past. I wish to ask that the same preference shall be shown myself in the future. Rest satisfied that I shall endeavor to merit your custom. My aim and effort will be to foresee the run of trade and to keep up a stock every week alike—one worth buying from. If such goods as are in demand are not to be found at my counters, somebody's at fault. And everything shall be bought at such a nimble purchase, that the prices to you, to all, will be fractional.

BY WAY OF REMINDER

that at the end of a season is a good time to buy, I will say that a small balance of Summer Goods are yet unsold. These will be rattled out—they're well worth buying—at a reduction from early prices. You will find these goods so displayed that you can run your eyes over them quickly. Secure these while they are going, and the advantage is wholly on the side of the buyer.

YOU ARE NOT LIKELY

to find a store where you will be better or more pleasantly served than mine. The harder you are to please the better for the stock. Then you'll appreciate a really well filled preparation. Look in at any rate. Who makes lookers more welcome? It shows up the goods, and of course, with the goods the prices.

PROGRESS OF PT. ARTHUR

The Silver Gate of the Golden Granary of Canada.

A Flourishing and Progressive Town at Thunder Bay—The Trade Done There—Its Present Position and Prospects.

The special correspondent of the Toronto World thus writes of Port Arthur—formerly called Prince Arthur's landing—and its importance and prospects:

"Which vessel will you sail by?" is the question asked me as I go to the office of the Beatty line to take my passage for this port. My answer is given with that promptitude and certitude that as a matter of course characterize any one having any 'connection with these columns. As usual also, I was right. The United Empire is the finest vessel on the lakes. I would here mention en passant that it is no relation to the institution of the same whose ghost now haunts the north side of King street. I had quite enough of that speculation. I would suggest for the honor of the ship that the Beattys should purchase this ghost and turn it into offices for their company.

We had a lovely sail over these inland seas. Surely the have some great destiny before them. Is it to bring the descendent of the Norsemen and their shipping into the heart of their new country, to carry to their eastern brethren the golden grain of the new world that providence has given to their crowded millions? It must be so, and right here where I now stand is the "silver gate" of this golden granary. This magnificent harbor is a fitting complement to the "unsalted seas" of which it forms a part.

BEAUTIFUL FOR SITUATION

beyond anything I have seen in Port Arthur. Terraces rising one above the other as a back ground, flat land below and on the right towards Fort William for business purposes, the most magnificent views, boating, fishing and the freshest of pure cool air for tourists. There is nothing wanting but what the hand of man is rapidly doing. I was here three years ago but the place then a little village, now a busy, active, commercial town is so changed that but for the surroundings I could not have known it. Its citizens are full of enterprise and energy. They have fought all difficulties and all combinations and now have placed Port Arthur (whose future was only a question of time) in a position which cannot now be assailed. With the great North-West at its back, water communication open to the whole world in front of it, with railways on either side building to connect it with the outer world, both east and west, during the winter months, with cheaper coal than in your city, with iron, silver and other mines close at hand, and timber and lumber for manufacturing purposes,

THERE SEEMS NOTHING TO STOP IT.

At present there are five docks in front of the town of a most substantial character, the last one built by Mr. Marks is the finest in the dominion, and is in fact, (being covered in and roofed with iron) an immense warehouse, with compartments for stuff to be shipped by rail to the principal towns in the North-West.

As remarked to me by a long-headed merchant this building probably shows how the wholesale trade, which must some day come here, is to be carried on. The vessels unload directly into the warehouse, and goods are stored and opened there and then reshipped on the cars on the other side of the warehouse dock with no expense of cartage, and that helps to cut down the profits in other cities. There are vessels loading and unloading at these docks all the time, and as I write there are three at anchor in the harbor awaiting their turn.

The best way to give your readers an idea of what is going on here is to mention the

ARRIVAL OF VESSELS

during the few days I remained at Port Arthur: Steamer Ontario, 100 passengers and 150 tons of freight; steamer Glenfinlas, from Montreal, 400 tons of freight; Steamer Argyle, with lumber for the C.P.R. dock and elevator; schooner Watson, 1175 tons of coal; steam barge S. F. Hodge, 100 tons of steel rails and 500 barrels cement; steamer Scotia of Montreal, 400 tons of general merchandise and 190 passengers; steam barge D. W. Powers of Buffalo, having in tow schooners Sunshine and Crossway, the D. W. Powers having 400 tons of steel rails, the Sunshine 660 tons of steel rails and the Crossway 750 tons of coal; steamer Magnet, general merchandise and 50 passengers; schooner S. F. Tindel from Cleveland, 990 tons of coal; United Empire of Sarnia, (steamer) general merchandise and 768 passengers; steamer Quebec of Sarnia, general merchandise and 98 passengers; tug Robb, having in tow the schooners Marquis and Bentley, with eight hundred tons of coal from Charlotte. The custom house reports that the duties collected at this port for the month of July last amounted to $132,000. I have no statistics to refer to but I fancy no others port in the dominion except Montreal or Toronto could show such a record.

Fortunately for this place there has as yet been no boom in real estate, but a large amount is changing hands at fair prices for business purposes.

A LARGE AMOUNT OF BUILDING

is going on and brick is now coming into use in place of the wooden structures with which all our towns begin with. There is a good opening here for business, all the stores, factories and hotels doing a rushing business at large profits. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that outsiders are looking to Port Arthur as a desirable place for investment in real estate in prospect of a healthy and legitimate rise in values. The population is at present, said to be over 3,000. Judging from its recent rate of progress it is reasonable to suppose that this will be doubled before a year is out.

Being about to take the night train for Winnipeg I will reserve further remarks about this place until my return. I am told to be ready to jump off as we go over the railway trestle works and to be careful to state that I am not an Ontario "special." If not "run in" by Mr. Norquay or Mr. Patullo you will probably hear from me again.

Friend of the family to the boy twins:—"I'm afraid you little fellows don't always agree. You fight each other sometimes, don't you?"

Twins—"Yeth, thir, thumtimes."

Friend—"Ah, I thought so; well, who whips?"

Twins—"Mamma whips!"

Peterborough's Flouring Mills.

An Expert's Opinion of Them.

The following article appears in the Milling World, published in Buffalo, respecting the grist mills of Peterborough:

"There is a fine water power in this town furnished by the Otonabee river, and on its banks, a course of nearly two miles, are to be found manufactories of a very varied description, the principal portion of the power being devoted to the manufacture of flour and lumber. The horse power now in use is near 1,200, and a great deal of power is undeveloped. The uppermost dam in this corporation furnishes power to drive saw mills, woollen mills and the flour mill of Geo. Hilliard. The last named place has just been converted into a gradual reduction concern, the Jas. Jones combined roller system being the style adopted. The closing up of this contract was entrusted to Mr. Richard Sibley, a practical miller and millwright. The Consolidated Purifier Co., of Toronto, furnished all the machinery, purifiers, bolting cloths, belting, &c. The capacity of this mill is 125 barrels per diem. Mr. J. L. Smith, a miller of large experience and possessing good administrative abilities, is the head miller. The flour now being turned out by this mill is the best in this locality, and the yields are all that can be desired. Following the stream down for a quarter of a mile we come to the mill of R. Hall, Esq. This is a five run mill doing very fine work on the old system of flat grinding. Three run of burrs grind the wheat and and run on middlings, the fifth one being for feed. There are two purifiers. Mr. John King is the head miller, and runs this mill as near perfection as is possible to be done under the old system of grinding. The writer has seldom seen such good work done on burrs, and the "jolly miller" who magages this concern is really and truly a "king" among burr dressers.

The next dam we come to is that belonging to the "Dickson estate," and furnishes power to drive saw mills, two woollen mills, and quite a number of wood working factories; also a three-run flour mill which is operated by Mr. Clegg. This little mill does a very good business and is pushed to its utmost capacity. Mr. R. S. Morgan is the head miller and is well up to his business. Mr. Hazlitt, the indefatigable manager of the Dickson estate, contemplates erecting a fine roller mill of from 300 to 400 barrels daily capacity. It is expected that the work connected with this enterprise will be commenced at an early date.

We now come to the Rogers dam, which furnishes power to the finest flour mill of them all. The former proprietor, the late Mr. Rogers, who came to such an untimely end by drowning during the spring freshet of this year, was a man of very advanced views as a miller and was justly esteemed for his sterling integrity and social qualities. His being so suddenly cut off in the vigor of early manhood has prevented a great many improvements which he intended to adopt during the present season. Still this mill does excellent work under the skillful management of Mr. E. Packenham, one of the most talented and advanced millers in Ontario. Mr. Packenham designed and located most of the machinery in this mill, and has a gradual reduction system peculiarly his own at work in this mill. The wheat is passed through an ample and effective cleaning process, next through a Jonathan Mills machine, where the crease impurities are scalped out. It is then broken on two run of stones and finally finished on corrugated rolls. The bolting and purifying in this mill is very elaborate, and in the hands of the skillful head miller, Mr. Packenham, is producing splendid results. The capacity of this mill is 250 barrels per day.

Henry Denne, Esq., owns and operates a very neat, compact steam mill in the centre of this busy little town. There are four run of burrs, with purifiers, &c., driven by a handsome Brown engine. Mr. Denne has been improving his mill this summer, Mr. R. C. Vinnette being the millwright. The Consolidated Purifier Co., of Toronto, supplied the additional machinery. Mr. John Duncan is the head miller, and is a genuine, whole-souled individual and a first-class miller."

POLITICAL NOTES.

It turns out that Mr. W. H. Fraser was absent from Canada six or seven months on his pleasure voyage to Europe instead of three months as formerly stated, and the only means the Customs Department had for inducing him to return was by stopping the supplies—i. e., refusing to honour his drafts for salary and expenses. The whole cost of his trip, however, will be defrayed from the Dominion Treasury, as Sir Leonard Tilley cannot abandon his gay and festive protege at this late day. Mr. Fraser, like a great many others, claims to share with Sir Leonard the paternity of the great N. P., and if cast adrift now he might give some facts respecting the origin of that measure which might not be pleasant for the Tory financial genius.

Some time ago, it will be remembered Mr. Chapleau, Secretary of State, purchased in NewYork a bronze statue, worth $300, as an office ornament. The bill of the statue was sent to the Government, but as the officials of the Finance Department demurred to its payment, it came before the Treasury Board, composed of Mr. Chapleau's colleagues, the Ministers of Finance, Customs, Justice and Inland Revenue. These gentleman, after due consideration, concluded that such an expensive ornament as that ordered by Mr. Chapleau ought not to be paid for out of the Public Treasury, whereupon the Secretary of State paid the bill himself and took the statue of his residence Sir Charles Tupper's band of brothers do not seem to be pulling very well together just now.

UNDER THE APPLE-TREE.

Shake, shake the branches!
Make the beauties drop!
Pity't is the reddest ones
Are always at the top!
Oh what a merry chime!
(Sing all together!)
Trip in time and ring a rhyme,
In the autumn weather.

Shake, shake the branches!
Gather every one,
Rosy-golden rogues they are:
Ripening in the sun!
Tommy holds his apron white.
(Sing all together!)
Fire bright will roast'em right'
In the autumn weather.

Shake, shake the branches!
Down, down they fall;
We're to have a bun apiece
If we gather all.
Now we're marching home again
(Sing all together!)
Let the rain fall amain—
We'll not mind the weather!

BELLEVILLE.

A man named Nathaniel Varmer, about 75 years of age, fell from a wagon loaded with shingles Friday morning in the second concession of Sidney, and was killed. He was found on the road at about half-past eleven, with his neck broken. He leaves a wife and family.

On Friday night while Alex. Smith, carter, was returning from work he placed his four-year old boy on his horse's back, and led the animal with a halter. The horse turned suddenly, and the boy fell off its back, striking on his temple. He died within a few minutes.

PORT HOPE.

The Guide says that on Saturday morning while making up the excursion train in the yard at Port Hope, George Thompson, a brakeman hailing from Orillia, got his hand crushed between the buffers.

On Tuesday last, a brakeman named John Pym, a resident of Port Hope, had the misfortune to fall off a box car at Waubaushene and have the wheels run over his arm. He was taken to Orillia, where he was attended by the best surgical aid and an amputation performed between the wrist and elbow. From the latest reports we learn he is as comfortable as can be expected.

BOBCAYGEON.

The last drive of logs has passed through. It contained about 25,000 logs, and belonged to J. M. Irwin.

The iron bridge has received its new coat of paint and looks bright and fresh again.

The farming community have had capital weather for the harvesting, and the push of the work is through. Threshing has commenced, and the yield is considered about an average.

As the rush of hotel visitors slackens, the camp parties increase. In the evening the camp fire can be seen at almost every nook and point along the lake shore. The duck shooting is reported to be the best for many years.

LINDSAY.

Arrangements for the Lindsay Centra are, says the Post, progressing finely in the hands of a capable and enterprising committee. The show promises to be a great success.

Three young men were served with a summon,s each on the complaint of disturbing the Salvation Army meetings.

There will be an excursion on Wednesday of next week from Port Perry to Lindsay of the Sons of England lodge. The excursion will be by steamer.

The Salvation Army and recruits in Lindsay purpose having an excursion to Toronto at an early date, to join in the grand coming demonstration in that city.

It is rumored, says the Warder, that the Lindsay paper mill has gone into liquidation and that the company intends going out of business. This will cause some loss to the business interests of Lindsay, especially to the farmers. It was at all events a good thing for Lindsay that the Council did not grant the new engine they desired the town should put in for their benefit.

COBOURG.

Fountain Hose Company carried off the second prize at the London tournament as the best uniformed company, and the second prize for their band.

In the championship base ball match for Eastern Ontario, played here on Wednesday, Cobourg succeeded in scoring only two runs.—one each by A. Hargraft and Douglas Armour—while Ottawa club scored 27.

On Wednesday night of last week a strange and very unpleasant experience happened to our respected townsman, Mr. W. H. Eyre, Registrar, and a portion of his family. They had left their camp at Presqu'ile in the afternoon, in Mr. Eyre's yacht; and after calling at Grafton set ont in good shape for Cobourg harbor. Just before reaching here, however, the wind increased to a gale, rendering it impossible for them to make the harbor, as well as very dangerous to carry their canvas. To prevent a capsize they were obliged to lower sail, and so drifted off into the lake, where, during all that night's rain and terrible storm, they were knocked about at the mercy of the waves. They could do nothing to help themselves, and suffered greatly from cold and wet, besides being in momentary danger of drowning. It was a night long to be remembered,—of a kind of which one is usually counted sufficient for an ordinary life-time. With the advent of day, and the lulling of the storm, they succeeded in reaching the wharf, thankful indeed for their escape from the dangers of the deep.

WHOLESALE HUMAN SLAUGHTER.

Volcanic Eruptions and Earthquakes.

75,000 Persons Killed—A Molten Sea of Lava with a bed of Solid Ice—Whole Towns Swept Away—Whole Islands Buried in the Sea.

On Sunday, August 25th, volcanic eruptions began in the island of Krokatoa, in the Strait of Sunda. Later on Sunday the disturbances had extended beneath the water of the strait, causing great waves and a rise of twenty degrees in the temperature of the sea. The disturbance was felt 500 miles away. Particulars of the volcanic eruption in Java show that it was even more disastrous than reported. On Sunday noon the disturbances were supposed to be at their height, but later in the day their violence increased, threatening destruction to the whole island. At midnight suddenly an enormous luminous cloud formed over the Kandag mountains, skirting the southeast coast, and gradually spread until it formed a lurid red canopy. Meanwhile the eruption increased. Streams of lava poured down into the valleys,

SWEEPING ALL BEFORE THEM.

In the midst of the molten sea of lava was a bed of solid ice, emitted from one of the craters, which was carried along and landed at the northeast corner of the island surrounded by a thick envelope of sand and scoriæ, which are non conductors of heat. It is supposed the ice formed the crust of some subterranean lake. At 2 o'clock on Monday morning the great cloud suddenly broke and vanished. At the same time frightful rumblings were heard, and the columns of fire and smoke over the southeast corner of the island ceased to ascend, while the craters in other parts seemed to OPEN THEIR FIERY THROATS STILL WIDER.

The hissing of the sea became deafening, and the waves ran up to an unprecedented height. When daylight came an enormous tract of land had disappeared fifty miles square. In this were the villages of Negery and Negery Babawang. The natives scattered sparsely through the forests and on the plains escaped death. The loss of life at these points must aggregate 15,000. The entire Kandang range of mountains extending 65 miles, has gone out of sight. The town of Kanerang, within 26 miles of Batavia, was swept away by a lava stream and half the population (1800) perished. At Speelywick red hot rocks set fire to the houses and swept away all the thickly settled portion of the town. Ten bazars belonging to Europeans were destroyed, but no lives are known to have been lost. The river Jacasare, on which Batavia is situated, was so dammed by lava and debris that its course is changed. Fegilini was almost totally destroyed and a large number of lives lost. The island of Onus, twenty-five miles east of Batavia, is inundated and the floating dock destroyed. Cavaye, Claps and Irommeters islands are out of sight. Baby and Cherica islands, of the north coast, lost the few houses and inhabitants upon them. In Batavia the loss has largely increased since former reports. The roof of the governor's house was crushed in by mud and three retainers were killed. The town bridge is destroyed, diamond pearl bastions damaged and Burran redoubt destroyed. In Cayamand, Malabar and Lion streets, the principal avenues, the damage is very great. Fort Datyog is entirely destroyed. The town of Fagual was severely shaken and few buildings were left. A violent shock was felt on the island of Sumatra on Monday. Middah island, ten miles off the Javanese coast, was almost wholly engulfed by the sea. The small island of Singkel has disappeared. It was uninhabited. The aggregate

LOSS OF LIFE IS 75,000.

A despatch from Batavia says the condition of the Strait of Sunda is dangerous, new islands having arisen and the coast line altered. The government is preparing to obtain new soundings. Sixteen volcanoes appeared between the site where the island of Krakotoa stood and the Sibisie Island. A portion of Bantam is an ashy desert.

Cattle are starving. The population is in despair. The Soengepan volcano split into five portions. Seven hundred and four bodies of victims have been buried in the district of Tanara and 300 in the village of Kramat.

THE LAND MONOPOLISTS,

ARISTOCRATIC POSSESSORS OF UNITED STATES LANDS—POWERS OF RAILWAYS.

A New York telegram says: Before the Senate Labor Committee to-day, Wm. Moody, of Brooklyn, testified that many foreign capitalists were purchasing vast tracts of land in the south and west. Hiram Deaton, of Philadelphia, owned over 4,000,000 acres in Florida and a corparation possessed 3,500,000 in Texas, English lords and Franch counts were dominating territory three times larger than Great Britain, and the system of wholesale farming had driven the American farmer from his homestead. Railroad despots had more power than the feudal monarchs of Europe, and were possessed of 258,000,000 acres—an area larger than Austria, Italy and Switzerland combined. The wage workers were crowding the cities The only remedy was the abolition of private property in land.

THAT BAND OF BROTHERS.

The following from the Ottawa correspondence of the Globe shows how the members of the Federal Cabinet might take a lesson from the birds that "in their little nests agree":—

"Some Tory organs affect to be shocked at the very suggestion of differences existing among the members of the Federal Ministry. At the Mousseau banquet in Ottawa last session Sir Charles Tupper declared, with his usual defiance of truth, that the members of the executive were a "band of brothers," while there were sitting around him colleagues and ex-colleagues who knew that the very reverse was the fact. Sir Hector Langevin had just refused to countenance the tribute to the just-unseated Mousseau, and Mr. Caron was also absent. Mr. Chapleau boasts that in 1880 he forced Mr. Mousseau into the Federal Ministry by a piece of sharp practice which only himself could have successfuly perpetrated; and Mr. Mousseau's standing grievance is that he was forced out of the Ministry without warning, in order that Mr. Chapleau might find shelter from the wrath of his followers in Quebec. Even Sir John Macdonald and his alter ego, Sir George Cartier, did not agree very well over the sale of the Pacific Railway charter to Sir Hugh Allan in 1873, though they were unanimous in desiring to get all the corruption money they could out of the great ship owner. On the 5th of February, 1873, ten years ago, Sir Hugh wrote Mr. McMullen, stating that "everything looks well up to the present, but I may tell you in strict confidence that there is a coolness between Sir John A. and Cartier, arising from the coquetting of the latter with Blake and Mackenzie to form an alliance and leave John A. out in the cold." Sir Hugh was certainly in a position to know all about the relations then existing between the two Ministers. Sir John had just repudiated an arrangement arrived at by Sir Hugh and Sir George Cartier, and a previous letter to Mr. McMullen from Sir Hugh contained the following:—"Sir George Cartier has been in town for some days and I have had several interviews with him. He says he always intended that the Government should form its own company, and would carry on the work under the orders of Government engineers, with money furnished by the Government. He says that he and Sir John A. made up their minds to this long ago, but did not tell any of their colleagues." That is the sort of "band of brothers" Sir John had in 1873, and no doubt his present colleagues are no improvement. He had then, as he has now, his Tupper, Tilley, Campbell and Pope, and no one will accuse him of being guided in the smallest degree by the opinions of such small fry as Messrs. Carling, Bowell, Costigan, or McLelan. Mr. Chapleau some time ago forwarded to the Premier his ultimatum in words something like the following:—"either Tupper or myself must go, and it is not going to be me."

A NEW DANGER FOR THE DUDE.

For many years conversation lozenges and bon-bon mottoes have formed the principal dude literature of the country. For him this field has been regarded as an especial literary preserve. But it would seem he is not to be allowed any longer this privilege. The hired girl has invaded his territory, and turned what in the past has been as harmless as a Sunday school paper into a trap for the dude himself. The Montreal Star describes the modus operandi, of setting the traps for a young æsthetic representative of the cloth in the town of Brockville. The hired girl of the house where the reverend gent was supplied with his daily hash became devoured with a consuming passion for the clerical dude, and hit upon the conversation lozenge as a vehicle by which she might communicate her tender passion for him. Accordingly when the youthful cleric sat down to his frugal meal he found his bread and butter covered with the lozenges, each one of which bore a legend suggestive of and indicating the tenderest sentiments. His astonished gaze roved over a desert of bread relieved at frequent intervals by sugary oases, on which were printed in red capitals, "Be mine;" "I love you;" "Just one kiss;" "Name the day," and so forth until his brain fairly whirled with such an accumulation of cloying epithets. Equal to the occasion, however, we are informed, the young man in return devoured the tender sentiments, thus, in a way, reciprocating the girlish love. But the denouement is a stern warning to "hired help" against making love with lozenges in the future. An irate mistress learning of the stratagem incontinently discharged its authoress.

PERSISTENT ADVERTISING.

Sewing Machine Journal.

The grand secret of advertising is repetition. Iteration and reiteration compel attention. An occasional advertisement is barely sufficient to keep it from falling into the great receptacle of utterly forgotten things. Constant, steady, persistent, habitual and ubiqitous advertising, keeping a certain fact before the eye of the public at all times and in all places, is one of the stepping stones to success in modern business—in fact, it is the stepping stone. Where there is so much vigorous opposition and sharp competition the purchasing public cannot possibly hear your invitation to come and buy unless you toot your advertising horn loudly and continuously. They cannot discover your whereabouts unless your advertising flag is always floating in the breeze. They cannot feel your attractive influence unless you make them feel it, by spreading it in all directions through the magnetic medium of the press. By continuous dropping in the same spot, a light drill will penetrate deeply into the hardest rock; whereas the scattering blows of the heaviest sledge will have scarcely any effect. The three P's of successful advertising are Persistent Perspicacious Persuasion.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Klectric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-tf

CONFIDENTIAL.

Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBEBINE COMBINATION REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adopted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.

Forwarded to any address on receipt of Price, $3 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c., or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality,—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

T. DOLAN & CO.

CLUXTON'S BLOCK,

CORNER GEORGE & HUNTER STS., PETERBORO'.

BESSIE AT HER CHURN.

Upon a porch whose lattice-work
Is green with clambering vines,
Where scarce a sunbeam dares to lurk,
Though bright the great sun shines,
Stands Bessie at her churn, her fair
White arms above her elbows bare.

And as her hands move up and down.
She hums a plaintive song;
Her little hands are plump and brown;
Her hair is dark and long,
And in a braid hangs down her back;
Her eyes are large and very black.

At times from off my book I steal
A furtive glance at her;
I know not what it is I feel:
My blood is all astir.
But her eyes wander far away
Where John and James are making hay.

I wonder which my rival is?
For one of them, I know,
Has found the joy that I shall miss,
Oh, that it were not so!
For I would give ten years of life
If black-eyed Bessie were my wife.

But, ah! she looks at me at last,
And smiles; my foolish doubts
Are over; all my fears are past.
But, see her red lip pouts!
Be still, my heart! My lips, be dumb!
She speaks—"Why don't the butter come?"

SUGGESTIONS ON BONNETS.

The Art Amateur gives the following suggestions upon bonnets as suited to different complexions: "With respect to the fair-haired type, a black bonnet with white feathers and white, pink or red flowers is suited to a fair complexion. A lustreless white bonnet does not suit a fair and rosy complexion, but bonnets of lace, muslin or crape suit all complexions. A white bonnet may be trimmed with white, pink, or, perferably, with blue flowers.

"A light blue bonnet is very suitable for the light-haired type; it may be trimmed with white flowers, and, in many cases, with yellow and orange, but not with pink or violet flowers.

"A green bonnet is advantageous to fair and rosy complexions. It may be trimmed with white flowers, but preferably with pink.

"A pink bonnet must not be too close to the skin; and if it is found that the hair does not produce sufficient separation, the distance from the bonnet may be increased by white, or, preferably, by green. A wreath of white flowers amid their leaves has a good effect.

"A light or deep red can only be recommended to diminish too warm a tint in the complexion. Never admit orange or yellow bonnets; nor violet, if avoidable.

"For the type with black hair:

"A black bonnet does not contrast so well with the black-haired type as with the light, yet it may produce a good effect, and receives with advantage trimmings of white, red, pink, orange and yellow.

"A white bonnet gives rise to the same remarks as were made concerning its use in the blonde type, except that for brunettes preference should be giving to trimmings of red, pink, orange and yellow, rather than blue. Bonnets of pink, red and cerise are suitable for brunettes when the hair separates the bonnet as much as possible from the complexion. With the red bonnet white feathers accord very well; with the pink, white flowers with abundance of leaves are effective.

"A yellow bonnet suits a brunette very well, and receives advantageously violet or blue trimmings; the hair must always interpose between the complexion and the head-dress.

"It is the same with bonnets of a broken orange, for which blue trimmings are suitable.

"A green bonnet suits fair and light rosy complexion; pink, red or white flowers are to be preferred.

"A blue bonnet is suitable only to a fair or light red complexion, nor can it be added to such as have a light tint or orange-brown. When it suits a brunette it may be advantageously trimmed with yellow or orange.

"A violet bonnet is unsuitable to every complexion, unless we interpose the hair and yellow trimmings between it and the skin.

"Whenever the color chosen for the bonnet does not realise the desired object, even when the complexion is separated from the head-dress by large masses of hair, it is advantageous to place between the latter and the bonnet certain accessories, such as ribbons, wreaths, or detached flowers, of a color complementary to that of the bonnet; the same color should also be placed on the outside of the bonnet.

A SCHOOLMARM'S SHARP-SHOOTING.

At intervals, when she was not engaged in teaching the young idea to shoot, Miss Faller, a school teacher at Grand Marais, Mich., has been teaching herself how to handle a Winchester rifle. Having attained a degree of skill which seemed to her sufficient, she induced Mr. Michael Berger, at whose house she is a boarder, to procure her just one shot at a deer. A favorable night was chosen, a small boat with a lantern in the bow and Miss Faller in the stern was rowed out upon a secluded lake, and presently a noble buck, attracted by the glare, sprang through the brushwood into the water. "Now's your time," said the gallant Michael. "Where shall I aim for?" gasped the girl. "Right behind the ear," was the answer. There was a moment's silence, then a flash, a sharp crack, and the buck was struggling upon the water, crimsoned with blood which flowed from the bullet hole "right behind the ear." The school teacher sank upon her knees in the boat, clasped her hands, raised her eyes to heaven and softly murmured: "Now let me only bag a bear and I be ready to die!"

MARRIED IN A GREAT HURRY.

"The quickest courtship on record," said one old resident, "was that of Dr. Nick McDowell who, driving along the street in his buggy one day, saw a beautiful girl standing at the window. He immediately stopped and hitched his horse, rang the bell, inquired the lady's name, was ushered into the parlor, announced his own name, said he was pleased with her appearance and wished to marry her at once. Nothing but the knowledge that she was acutally in the presence of the celebrated physician kept her from fainting. To her plea of surprise at this unexpected announcement he only replied, 'Now or never.' When she asked to take a week to consider, he said, I'm going down street to attend a critical case and have no time to spare right now."

"Give a day, then."

"I'll tell you what I'll do. When I am through with my professional visit I'll drive around and get a preacher. If you have made up your mind to marry me by that time, all right!' and he left her breathless and unable to articulate another word. When he returned they were quickly married."

A SWEET LITTLE LOVE STORY.

Dr. Wellman reports the cutest and sweetest little love story we have had from real life. Yesterday, as he was waiting at Parker, Dak., for the train, a country lass came in with her fellow in the farm wagon, locked in each other's arms. The young man lived in Iowa, and was on the eve of starting home. The train was ready, and onto the platform went his carpet bag. Another embrace and the train pulled out. The lover swung on, and the lassie waved him kisses. The train, going down grade, gained speed; the boy waved his handkerchief, but his heart was in his mouth. Off went the old satchel; off followed the lover, with heels in the air. Over and over went he, and at last lit in a mud-hole, rolled like a ball against the soft clay bank, and finally got on his feet and started to see his Dulcinea. She at the same time was making for him. They met and embraced regardless of mud and bruises. The Iowa lover was heard to remark: "Ducky, I will never leave until you are my wife." The Justice of the Peace was sent for, and the twain returned to the farm as one.

CONUNDRUMS.

Does a bicycler ride
For the sake of the ride,
Or ride for the sake of the show?

Does a girl give a kiss
For the sake of the kiss,
Or kiss for the bliss she bestows?

Does a man take a smile
For the sake of the smile,
Or smile to get rid of his woes?

VARIETIES.

CINGALESE, a name well and favorably known in connection with a hair Renewer that accomplishes even better results than is advertised, sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 35-8t

The right kind of a boy with a peashooter can take a man's mind off his business troubles and politics quicker than anything else in this bleak, cold world.

YEARS of suffering may be avoided by taking DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It was never known to fail in relieving at once, and effecting a complete cure of disease of the Kidneys. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

At a London bazar recently a lady handed round her baby to be kissed at sixpence each. If it were a girl baby we would have paid the price and taken a note due in sixteen years.

THE CINGALESE HAIR RENEWER is applied with a sponge or a brush, and it never fails in its good effects on the hair. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by J. D. Tully. 35-8t

Ralph Waldo Emerson said: "All healthy thing are sweet tempered." We differ with Ralph. Now we know a perfectly healthy red-headed woman who is—well, she just is and no mistake about it.

As the wintery frosts disappear before the rising sun, so do Kidney diseases leave the body when DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE is faithfully taken according to directions. Ask your Druggist for it. J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

Did you ever notice the warning "Wet Paint" posted on a door, that you didn't feel the matter with your finger just to find out whether it wasn't dry enough to take down the the sign? You probably never did. It would be contrary to human nature.

D. McCrimmon of Lancaster writes that he has suffered with inflammatory rheumatism more or less from childhood and had tried nearly all advertised remedies with but temporary effect. Burdock Blood Bitters have radically cured him, and he authorizes us to say so. 36-2t

Passenger (faintly): "C'lect fares—'fore we get across! I thought we——" Mate: "Beg y'r pardon, sir, but our orders is, in bad weather, to be pratic'lar careful to collect fares; 'cause in a gale like this 'ere, there's no knowing how soon we may all go to the bottom."

PLEASANT to the taste, and soothing to the Kidneys, is the universal expression of all who have used DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. A few doses relieve the pain, a few bottles complete the cure, and you are saved,. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

"I understand you to say that your charge of service would be light," compained the client, when his lawyer handed him a tremendous bill. "I believe I said my fee would be nominal," was the reply; "But——" "O, I see!" interrupted the client; "phenomenal."

A sure cure for summer complaints.—Procure from your druggist one 37½-cent bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawbeey and use it according to directions. It is infallible for Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Canker of the Stomach and Bowels and Cholera Infantum. 36-2t

We have heard hundreds of girls say they wouldn't marry the best man that ever lived, but have generally found that they would marry the best man who would have them.

SAVED, SAVED, SAVED, was the expression of a distinguished citzen of Des Moines, Iowa, as he stepped out of his front door after being confined to the house for a year. He had been given up to die by his Doctors, when a friend brought him a bottle of DR. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE, and in three months he was perfectly well. Sold by J. McKee, Peterborough. 35-8t

"Now, Johnny," said a school teacher, "what happened after the angel with the fiery sword drove Adam and Eve out of the garden of Eden." He knew it was something about the sweat of the brow, but this is the way Johnny put it: "They had to eat bread to make them sweat."

Of far more importance than the National Policy or the Irish Question is the question of restoring health when lost. The most suddenly fatal diseases incident to this season are the various forms of Bowel Complaint, for all of which Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is specific. 36-2t

A lady returning home later than usual, found her little girl three years old in bed. The latter was asked: "Lillie, have you said your prayers?" "Yes.' Whom did you say them to, Lillie?" "There wasn't nobody to say them to, so I said 'em to God."

Never undertake a long journey without a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in your travelling case, to guard against sudden attacks of Colic, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhœa, Sick Stomach, Sea Sickness, and troubles incident to change of climate, water, diet, etc. It is a ready and reliable relief. 36-2t

"Gum must go," are startling words uttered by a New Hampshire reformer. His flowery oratory sets forth that gum leads to tobacco. Who ever heard of school girls graduating from gum to tobacco? asks the Toronto World. Well, we have seen school girls smoking cigarettes. But the giddy things never graduated. They got sick in the process.

The great secret of beauty lies not in the enameller's or the tonsorial art, but it depends upon good health, a fair, brilliant complexion rendered so by pure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters purify the blood, cure Scrofula and all diseases of the Blood, Liver and kidneys. 25,000 bottles were sold during the last three months. 36-2t

These neat fitting Ladie's Lined Ulsters at Turnbull's are only $3.00 each.

A BARE-FOOTED GROOM.

There is a sheep farmer in West Virginia whose career illustrates the results of shrewdness, perseverance and freedom from debt. His story is told by a Virginian editor, who says that about twenty years ago a young fellow named Johnson, in the wilds of the Cheat Mountains in West Virginia, made up his mind to be married.

"But you have not a penny," remonstrated his friends.

"I have my hands. A man was given hands—one to work for himself, the other for his wife," he said.

On the day of the wedding Johnson appeared in a whole coat and trousers, but bare-footed.

"This is hardly decent," said the clergy-man. "I will lend you a pair of shoes."

"No," said Johnson; "when I can buy shoes, I will wear them—not before."

And he stood up to be married without any thought of his feet. The same stardy conduct showed itself in his future course. What he had not money to pay for he did without.

He hired himself to a farmer for a year's work. With the money he saved he bought a couple of acres of timber-land and a pair of sheep, built himself a hut and went to work on his ground.

His sheep increased. As time flew by he bought more; then he sold off the cheaper kinds and invested in Southdown and French Merino.

His neighbors tried by turns raising cattle, horses, or gave their attention to experimental farming.

Johnson having once found that sheep-raising in his district brought a handsome profit, stuck to it.

He had that shrewdness in seeing the best way, and that dogged persistence in following it, which are the surest elements of success.

Stock-buyers from the Eastern markets found that Johnson's fleeces were the finest and his mutton the sweetest on the Cheat.

He never allowed their reputation to fail—the end of which course is, the man who married barefooted is now worth a large property.

A STREAK OF HARD LUCK.

An Ithaca New York young man took a large dose of hard luck last Friday. He attempted to cross Cayuga Lake in a skiff, when he was capsized. In attempting to right the boat he caught his foot in a log and wrenched it, losing at the same time a shoe, a $20 watch, his hat and the boat. He finally reached the shore, and was hobbling across a field, when a bull started for him. Reaching a tree, he skipped up its trunk lively enough to escape the bull, but also lively enough to stir up a hornets' nest. The hornets objected, and he sprung to another limb, which broke, letting him fall on the ground, fracturing his wrist. With the broken branch he kept the bull at bay and managed to escape, but is now suffering with a heart trouble precipitated by the exciting adventures of his unlucky Friday.

Every Heart Knoweth its Own Sorrow

This statement appears to contain much truth. In some cases, however, it is the heart of the nasty little corn, which, though small, is capable of much feeling. This form of heartache is very common, and can be remedied. PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR gives peace to the throbbing corn. Don't forget that. Sold by druggists everywhere. N. C. "Magnificent promises sometimes end in paltry preformances." A Magnificent exception to this is found in Kidney-Wort which invariably preforms even more cures than it promises. Here is a single instance: "Mother has recovered," wrote an Illinois girl to her Eastern relatives. "She took bitters for along time but without any good. So when she heard of the virtues of Kidney-Wort she got a box and it has completely cured her liver complaint."

The home Lacrosse Club has accepted the challenge of the Maple Leaf Club, Kingston, to play for the Gildersleeve Cup, and the match will be played on the Ashburnham grounds, on Monday, September 17th. The struggle will be a close one, as this will be the last faint chance of the Kingston club to get the cup, and if the home club keep their hold it becomes their permanent property. See the game.

Silver Wedding.

On Saturday night last Mr. and Mrs. A. Rutherford celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. A large number of guests were entertained at their home. The Fire Brigade Band was present. The happy pair were the recipients of a large number of handsome presents, including a splendid one from their sons. The worthy alderman has served the town fifteen years, faithfully and ably, and all classes will congratulate him on the auspicious occasion just celebrated, and wish him many years of useful life, such as he has given the town in the past.

Health of the Town.

In the Sanitary Journal, (Toronto) for August, amongst the reports as to the health of Ontario, Dr. R. W. Bell reports the public health of Peterborough as "fairly good—much better than in the earlier parts of the year. No epidemics have prevailed for a long time. The ordinary cases of summer complaint are below the average."

A Watch-full Trio.

The other day three young men while boating on Little Lake had the misfortune or folly to upset. At once they were plunged in the water. The three seized and held aloft their watches while swimming, as though timing themselves in the race for life, as well as keeping the watery element from their tickers. All were safely brought to land.

Accident in North Monaghan.

On Friday last Mr. James Lillico, lot 8, 12th concession of North Monaghan was engaged in drawing wheat to his barn; the sheaves in front of the load gave way and Mr. Lillico fell in front of the load, the front wheel passing over his shoulder, breaking the collar bone and otherwise bruising the shoulder. Mr. J. J. Brealey summoned Dr. Kincaid, who gave the necessary surgical attention to his injuries.

The Excursion Season.

The excursion season has been a most lively and successful one. Not a single excursion attempted has been a failure this season. The Midland has had the lion's share of the excursion business, and excursion committees owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. A. White, general traffic manager, and other obliging officials of the road, who, while guarding the interests of the company, have done all in their power consistent with those interests to give easy terms and accommodating conditions to the promoters of excursions.

A Creditable Career.

At the the recent examinations at Osgoode Hall Mr. W. A. Stratton successfully passed his final examination as Solicitor and Barrister, and was admitted to the bar. He stood third on the list, a position he has occupied in all examinations of his college career. He graduated in University College, the youngest on the list, taking the degree of B.A., and subsequently the degree of L L.B. The last law examinations were very severe, one-third of the candidates being plucked.

Very Fine Vehicles.

While passing Mr. T. Fitzgerald's carriage establishment, Charlotte street, our reporter was compelled to admire the very beautiful stock of all kinds of buggies on hand and in course of manufacture, all finished and furnished in the most modern and elegant manner. A particularly fine vehicle is a phæton for Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, which is a model of beauty, style and luxuriant elegance, worthy of the reputation of the builder and position of the purchaser.

St. Luke's School.

Classes for the Michaelmas term of St. Luke's Private School for Boys, Ashburnham, begin on Thursday, Sept. 13th. We have had the pleasure of looking over the numerous testimonials as to ability and success as a teacher of Rev. E. Carus Wilson, who conducts the school, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw. The following among others, is a testimonial from Rev. P. R. Ogle, B.A., F.C.S., at St. Peter's College, Cambridge:—

"I have had the pleasure of the intimate acquaintance of Mr. Edward Carus-Wilson for many years. I believe him to be in every respect most suitable for educational work, and to be completely and thoroughly relied on. He is very gentlmanly, and well read; and, having travelled much, will bring to bear upon his pupils not only a thoroughly sound acquaintance with classics, mathematics, and foreign languages, but also that cultus of mind and manner so important in the education of boys. I believe his knowledge to be not only exentsive, but accurate, and all that could be wished in an instructor of youth. His manner with boys is extremely pleasant, and I fully believe he will exercise over them a powerful influence for good. His own moral and religious character is most excellent: and I can confidently assert that I have always found him a sincere and manly christian, and a sound and devout churchman. I feel sure of his success as headmaster of a school."

The Late Mrs. Peter Currith.

We are called on to record the death of one of the oldest inhabitants of Smith, in the person of Mrs. Peter Currith, who passed away at the residence of her grandson, Mr. James Baptie, lot 25, in the 5th concession of Smith, on Thursday morning last, at the ripe old age of 97 years. Deceased was born in Cumslang, a small village near Glasgow, Scotland, in 1786. Eight years ago her husband died, aged 87 years. In July, 1831, Mrs. Currith came to Canada, coming direct to Peterborough, and settling on Armour's Hill, Ashburnham. Afterwards the family moved to Stony Lake, then to North Monaghan, thence to Cartwright, finally settled down in Smith. Mrs. Currith was 63 years married and had two daughters, Mrs. John Baptie, whose husband died in 1860, and Mrs. John Hay. Mrs. Baptie is the only surviving member of the family. In religion Mrs. Currith was a Presbyterian, her husband having been precentor of the choir of the church in the 9th concession of Smith, since removed to the 12th concession. He also led the choir in Lakefield, after the church was erected there. The funeral of Mrs. Currith took place on Friday last, and a large cortege of friends and neighbors followed the body to the Lakefield cemetery, where it was laid to rest after nearly a century of active life. The deceased was highly respected and beloved in the wide circle of friends gathered in the course of so long and exemplary a life.

FETE OF THE FORESTERS.

Annual Outing of the Order.

To Couchiching Park and Orillia—Doing the Town—Over the Bay—The Cricket Match—An All-Around Success.

The leafy aisles of Sherwood Forest, in the palmiest days of Robin Hood and his "merrie men," never gave shelter to a jollier party than that which left the Midland Station on last Thursday morning, on the occasion of the annual excursion under the auspices of the Foresters of Courts Peterborough and Little John, and they, nor any other order, never had a more successful days outing in every respect.

At 8 o'clock a train consisting of nine coaches, well filled, with the commissariat van containing the baskets of the excursionists, steamed out of the Midland Station. A few more got on board at Fraserville, a few more at Millbrook, and on sped the train, which made such good time that Couchiching Park, a little this side of Orillia, was reached at noon. Here the 500 or 600 that composed the party separated, about half going on to Orillia, and the remainder got off at the Park gates and proceeded to COUCHICHING PARK.

This park, on the borders of the lake that gives it its name, is a most charming spot. A portion of the park is finely laid out in walks and drives, and the remainder is well-cleaned and shady, and with all the conveniences for enjoyment, such as the dancing pavilion, swings, etc., etc. A finer spot for a pic-nic could not be found. The proximity of the lake, while tempering the breezes to a refreshing coolness, affords ample opportunities for boating. The party that landed here, after dinner, enjoyed in genuine sylvan style, was over, diverted themselves by dancing to the excellent music furnished by the Peterborough orchestra, and those who did not dance found other delights of a less exciting, but equally satisfying, nature.

DOING THE TOWN.

Of the half of the excursion who went on to the pleasant little town of Orillia—a busy little burgh of about 3,000 souls—were the Band and the Cricket Club, the latter going up on invitation of the Orillia club. From the station to the hotel where they stopped—the Russell House—the band surprised and delighted the citizens by playing, en route, in their usually superb style. After dinner they also played several airs in an excellent manner, receiving the hearty applause of their hearers. Many of the visitors remained to do the town, the principal object of attraction—though not a pleasant one—being the Idiot Asylum. The officials treated the visitors with the greatest kindness and courtesy, and afforded them ample opportunity for beholding the many melancholy objects, for the amelioration of whose condition the Ontario Government has made wise and liberal provision.

OVER THE BAY.

It was hard to tell what proportion of the party was in town or what in the park, for two little steamers, the Carrie Ellen and Enterprise, under the obliging command of Captains Sandford Kerr and, respectively, made half hourly trips between the town and the park, and they were well patronized during the day, and added to the variety and enjoyment of the occasion.

THE CRICKET MATCH

was played during the afternoon and resulted, we are sorry to say, in the defeat of the home eleven. In their first innings Orillia made the splendid tally of 140, five men making double figures, the highest 43. Against this Peterborough was only able to total 95, Cooper and Hartley only securing double digits—21 and 13. It is asserted that there were only three or four Orillia men on their team, the remainder being from Port Hope, Barrie, Napanee, Waubaushene, Bracebridge, etc. However, the game was a most enjoyable one, and the home club took their drubbing, as well as the courteous hospitalities of the Orillia club, with good grace.

A FIVE O'CLOCK TEA,

partaken of on the grounds indicated the wind-up of the day's enjoyment, and all prepared to leave for home. The train left Orillia at 6 o'clock, and, stopping at the park, the remainder of the party embarked, and all were

OFF FOR HOME.

The home run was made in excellent time, everything going smoothly, and the party reached here shortly after ten o'clock.

That the excursion of the Foresters was a HUGE SUCCESS

the committee of management have themselves chiefly to blame. The arrangements were complete and were well carried out. To Mr. A. Rielly, chairman, and other members of the committee, the excursionists are greatly indebted. The courtesy and attention of Conductor Driscoll, who 'commanded' the train, also contributed largely to the general enjoyment. It is only fair to mention that the excellent time made was due to Mr. William Pilling, driver of engine 42. William thinks there is no engine like his pet, and the way she "snaked" along the train on Thursday, especially on the home stretch, justified his partiality. No. 42 and her driver combine safety and speed, care and despatch. The Superintendent, also, acted in a most obliging manner in arranging to keep the track clear for the excursion train, the only delay—and that hardly worth noting—being in waiting to cross the express at Lindsay. Mr. Thos. D. Moase, the caretaker of the park, was also remarkably kind and attentive. In fine, everything, arrangement, management, etc., combined to make the excursion not only the best of the Foresters, but one of the best that ever left the town.

A Neat and Pretty Foot.

No matter how gorgeously and richly arrayed a lady may be in other respects, it is all vain without the finishing touch which a neat, well-fitting pair of boots imparts. With these the Shakesperian adage is literally true, "All's well that ends well." Ladies who wish to appear in the neatest, most elegant and durable boots to be found in Peterborough, will find a complete and varied supply of fine kid boots for the summer at Foot & McWhinnie's. Be sure to call and inspect their stock before buying. 19-4t

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Regular Meeting.

Board met on Tuesday evening, Sept, 4th. Present, Mr. J. Stevenson, chairman, Messrs. Stratton, Wrighton Sawers, Keadry, Robinson. Rutherford, Weir McClelland, Cox, Burnham and Deane.

After routine,

INQUIRIES.

Mr. Ratherford asked the amount required for taxation this year in excess of last year?

Mr. Wrighton—Some $600 of $700; there was a large surplus last year, that made the rate lighter.

Mr Rutherford,—How much of that is due to increase of salaries of teachers?

Mr. Wrighton,—Very little; there was a falling off in fees, a decrease of government grant, and the cost of wood was much greater that the year before.

Mr. Rutherford said that he had been accused at the Town Council, through a member of this Board, there present, Mr. John Sawers, with being responsible for an increase of $2,000 in teacher's salaries, and he was glad to know that the increase of salaries accounted for so little of the increase of rate, which was only $790.

An account for the Metropolitan grocery, $5.40 was ordered to be paid when certified to.

Mr. Stratton moved, seconded by Mr. McClelland, that the report be adopted and a copy forwarded to the Town Council,—Carried.

SCHOOL SUPERVISION.

Dr. Burnham, chairman, presented the report of the Committee on School Supervision. The report stated that the Committee would recommend that the Board act in unison with the Ottawa Board and communicate with the Government in respect to introducing a temperance text book in schools. That with respect to the changes in the organization of the Institute, as suggested by the principal's letter, the Committee regret that owing to their not having received plan of the changes (although asked for) they are unable to report. In the matter of the new series of readers the Committee are unable to report at present, not having had an opportunity of examining the Royal Readers.

The report was adopted.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. Stratton presented his report as follows:

He had visited all the divisions of the public schools and found them fairly progressive.

The entrance examinations resulted in the passing of forty-five out of fifty candidates. Of these thirty were pupils of the public schools of the town. The large number of thirty successful candidates, spoke favorably of the teaching and the teacher who prepared them.

At the opening of the schools on Monday all the teachers were present. Miss Fair took Mr. Braden's place, and she was succeeded by Miss McLeod in the South Ward School. There is a large attendance in the schools, with one or two exceptions, which will probably be filled.

He found it necessary to remove some pupils from Miss Graham's room to Miss Johnston's, on account of overcrowding in the former.

The report was received.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. Wrighton, Chairman, presented the report of the Committee on School Property, reporting:—

That all the schools had been cleaned, and put in good repair, stove pipes, etc., cleaned. Mr. Tighe, caretaker, has done all the work at the central school, volunteering the cost of the work to the Board, and the thanks of the Board are due him for all the interest he has taken uniformly in keeping up the repairs of the school buildings and premises.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Chairman on behalf the Committee on Appointments, reported that during the holidays Mr. T. B. Braden had resigned and that Miss Fair, of the South Ward school, had been appointed to the position, and her place was supplied by Miss McLeod.

Mr. McClelland moved that the report be referred back to the Committee with instructions to appoint a male teacher.

After remarks by Messrs. McClelland, Stratton, Cox and Rutherford, Mr. Cox moved in amendment, that the report be referred back, with instructions to consider the matters involved, and report two months hence.

The amendment of Mr. Cox was agreed to.

THE BATTLE OF THE BOOKS.

On motion of Mr. Stratton, the representatives of Messrs Campbell and Son, Royal Readers, and W. J. Gage & Co., Canadian Readers, were heard.

Mr. Stratton, Inspector, said that in the West Ward School, especially, many of the pupils were without books, and he advised that the pupils continue with the old books till the 1st of January, with which the Board agreed.

The Board adjourned.

OUTRIGGER AND OAR.

The Two Mile Straightaway at Lake Chemong.

The event of the season in sporting matters is the coming boat race between Mr. J. E. McIntyre, of the Oriental, and Mr. J. Mercer. The latter has attained considerable local celebrity as an oarsman at holiday regattas, and has won several prizes. Mr. McIntyre pulling a tidy oar also, a match was arranged, which is to be pulled on Lake Chemong, vulgarly called Mud Lake, on September 10th. The course, which has been staked out, is two miles straightaway, and the prize is a handsome silver cup. Mr. E. B. Edwards, President of the Peterborough Boating Club, has been selected as referee, a graceful compliment, not only to his fairness and fitness for the position, but a well deserved tribute to his liberality in promoting aquatic sports of all kinds. The match has been on the tapis for a long time, and Messrs. J. Smith and Alex Elliott were instrumental in securing the cup, which is the "stakes."

The two men are physical counterparts. Mercer, who is about 19 years of age, is stout and muscular in appearance, and ordinarily troubles the scales with about 160 lbs, but he will row at ten lbs less. McIntyre is slender, and sinewy, without an ounce of waste meat, and is in excellent conditon. He is nearly ten years older than his opponent, and weighs about 135 lbs.

Both men are practising diligently. Mercer has made Fobert's Hotel, Bridgenorth, his headquarters, and remains on hand all the time. McIntyre drives out at six o'clock and takes a ten mile spin.

The race, which is to be pulled in lap-streak outriggers, excites a great deal of public interest in sporting circles. Already there are over $1,500 staked on the issue by the respective friends of the oarsmen. The bets are at even, neither man having a record to be depended on in calculating odds. A proposal is made to make Monday next a half holiday, which might be done, that being a dull business day. At any rate there will be an immense crowd assembled at Mud Lake at three o'clock next Monday.

TOWN COUNCIL AND HIGH TAXATION.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—In your report of the last meeting of the Town Council it is stated by Councillor Rutherford that the increase in taxation this year is due to my extravagance in the Council, of which he then proceeds to give instances.

Had Councillor R——'s misstatements been confined to the Council Chamber, where his want of veracity is thoroughly understood, and his statements taken at their true value, they would not have deserved this public notice from me, but the publicity given to his gross misstatements through your columns, induces me to make the following reply, which I must ask you to publish in the interests of fair play and for the benefit of those who might possibly give some credence to Mr. R——'s charges.

Charge No. 1, That I moved to codify (to use Mr. Rutherford's own word which he acknowledged at the time that he did not understand) the by-laws of the town at a cost of $1,000:

My resolution as taken from the Review's report of 17th January, reads as follows.

"Moved by Councillor Sawers, and seconded by Councillor Menzies, that the Clerk be instructed to give a list of all the by-laws passed by the Council; a statement of the names, occupations and duties of the officers of the town for 1883; a statement of the books both of account and reference used by the clerk and treasurer, and a statement of the bank arrangements as to deposit and discount."

Councillor R—— opposed this and it was lost.

Mr. Rutherford well knows that this would cost the town nothing as the work was to be done by the Town Clerk, and the $1,000 charge exists only in Mr. R——'s fevered imagination, fertile in such misrepresentations.

Charge No. 2.—Voted for $100 additional to assessors.

My recollection of this matter is that it was unanimously voted.—(Not reported.)

Charge No. 3.—Voted $20 extra to auditors.

If I am not mistaken Councillor Paterson moved, and Councillor Rutherford seconded the motion for this.—(Not reported.)

Charge No. 4.—Prime mover in the purchase of Bank of Toronto buildings, and responsible for high taxes this year.

What are the facts as taken from the Review's reports—March 27th, 1883.

Speaking of the fire stable Councillor Rutherford said:

"He believed it was contemplated for the town to purchase the old buildings known as the old bank of Toronto, which could be converted easily into a Council Chamber and city offices."

This was the first intimation I had about the purchase of these buildings.

After this meeting Councillor Cahill and I spoke of the matter and examined the premises together, and we came to the conclusion that it might be well for the Council to inquire into the matter.

Review's report of meeting April 10th.—speaking of the police cells Mr. Rutherford is reported as follows:—

"Councillor Rutherford said if the Council purchased the block known as the old Bank of Toronto building, the difficulty would be got over."

Later on at this meeting the following resolution was moved and carried:—

OFFICES FOR THE TOWN.

Councillor Sawers moved, seconded by Councillor Paterson, that it is desirable that the town should consider the propriety of purchasing the buildings erected on the town property on the corner of Water and Simcoe streets, and east of the engine house, and known as the Bank of Toronto buildings, for town offices, etc., and that the matter be referred to a special committee, composed of Councillors Paterson, Rutherford, Douglas, Dennes and Hartley, to report to this Council.

Councillor Rutherford said that he understood that there was a place in the building that could by slight alterations be made a good Council Chamber.

Review's report of meeting April 23rd:

"Councillor Sawers read the report of the special committee appointed on the purchase of the Toronto Bank buildings."

Here follows the report, recommending the purchase and showing that Mr. Stevenson would take debentures bearing interest at 5 per cent. running over 10 or 20 years.

The discussion on it was as follows:—

Councillor McNaughton asked if it was intended to pay for the building with next year's taxes?

Councillor Sawers said that the consideration of that question would be left to the Finance Committee.

Councillor Hartley said he had examined the building, and thought the engineer's report quite correct. It would cost in the neighborhood of $1,500 to make the alterations.

The Clerk, in reply to the Mayor, said that the present offices were leased until two years from next January.

Councillor Menzies moved that the report be referred to the Finance Committee to report.

Councillor Rutherford said that after a special committee had carefully investigated the matter, to refer it to the Finance Committee would be an unusual course.

Councillor McNaughton said that he wished to find out how the money was going to be raised.

Councillor Paterson said it was proposed to issue debentures.

Councillor Cahill said that that part of the question with which the Finance Committee had to deal was referred to it by the motion namely the financial question. A lock-up had to be provided anyway, and he knew of no place where it could be put up. With this building they would have a place for a lock-up, and they would have good town offices, which would cost them $300 a year, instead of over $600.

The amendment was lost and the report adopted.

Report of meeting 14th May.

Councillor Cahill read the following report of the Finance Committee:—

To the Town Council of Peterborough, Gentlemen:

Your Committee, to whom was refarred the matter of obtaining the money necessary to purchase the old bank of Toronto buildings, beg to report, and recommend that the Town Treasurer be authorized to pay to Mr. James Stevenson on the first of July next the sum of $1,500, part of the purchase money of the buildings, and that the town take over possession of said buildings on above date. We also beg to recommend that the Commissioners of the Town Trust be requested to hand over to the Town Treasurer any moneys now in their hands or hereafter to be received from the sale of land in the south reserve.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. PATERSON, JR., Chairman.

Report adopted. No discussion, although Councillor Rutherford present.

When this question came up in considering the estimates in the Finance Committee, I objected to the purchase money being put in until the title to the property was accepted (to this day this has not been done) and until legal advice had been obtained as to the power of the Council to ask the ratepayers for such a large sum of money for this purpose, and when the estimates were taken up by the Council I objected to putting them through without an examination, item by item, but they were hurried through holus bolus, Councillor McNaughton and myself alone voting against the estimates being passed.

I ask, Mr. Editor, on whose shoulders should the blame in this matter (if any) be placed? I think, certainly not all on mine Charge No. 5.—Of wishing to expend $1,000 for trees.

The following is my resolution—Review's report of meeting 23rd April:—

TREE PLANTING.

Councillor Sawers moved, seconded by Councillor Cahill, that it it is desirable that this Council should assist property owners and others in the planting of shade trees throughout the town, and it is resolved that Councillors Cahill, Paterson, Kelly, Yelland and Hartley be a special committee to obtain trees and to direct where they are to be planted, and for such other purposes with reference thereto as may seem proper.

Councillor Sawers said that the Ontario Legislature would give 25 cents for every tree living at the end of three years, and the trees would really cost nothing.

The motion was lost.

Another $1,000 figment of Mr. Rutherford's imagination!

Charge No. 6.—$2,400 for special constables.

This is my resolution.

SPECIAL CONSTABLES.

Councillor Sawers moved, seconded by Councillor Paterson, that the Committee on Appointments be instructed to appoint six special policemen to serve between 6 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Referred to Committee on Appointments, which committee has not met this year.

The above was moved on account of the town being full of railway navvies, and at the time, April 23, the ratepayers were much annoyed by them. Imagination again.

Charge No 7.—$200,000 to Ontario & Quebec Railway.

In discussing railway matters one evening I stated that we were getting, without any bonus, a railroad which rather than lose we would give a bonus of $200,000.

This is the most ridiculous charge of all as the Council never contemplated giving the railroad one cent. Imagination once more!

Charge No. 8.—$3,000 for market improvements.

As to this matter Councillor Paterson moved the following resolution:—

"Moved by Councillor Paterson, seconded by Councillor Sawers, that the Market Committee ask the Commissioners to improve our present market accommodation by extending the verandah around the market house, and a roof put up over the platform to cover the wagons, and any other needed improvements they may think to the advantage of the market.—Carried unanimously."

The commissioners agreed to do what ever the Council decided upon, and asked for plans.

The committee then obtained plans and laid them before the Council, but councillors Cahill and Rutherford were not satisfied with them so they moved an amendment to the adoption of the report as follows:—

"Moved by Councillor Cahill, seconded by councillor Rutherford, that the matter be left over until the next meeting of the Council, the committee to get plans drawn for extending the market building along Water street, and also that provision be made for a lock-up."

The amendment was carried.

As councillor Rutherford's plan was found to be much more expensive than the one recommended by the committee of which I am chairman, no further action was taken in the matter.

Councillor Rutherford's imagination must have been at work again here to transfer the extravagance from his own shoulders to mine.

I think that every candid ratepayer will allow that I have now sufficiently exposed, from outside evidence, the untruthful nature of Mr. Rutherford's charges against me, and I would ask you to allow me to say a few words respecting the town audit.

The impression has been sought to be made upon the ratepayers that in this matter I have been trying to force upon the Council an unnecessary and unprecedented task, and one involving an insinuation against the honesty of the town officials. I wish it to be distinctly understood that I do not for one moment say or insinuate that there is anything amiss in the accounts, but what I ask is merely and simply that the town business should be transacted as directed by the Municipal Act, and I think if councillors take upon themselves to spend the ratepayers' money, they should not grudge the short time necessary to see that the same has been put to proper uses.

With respect to the abusive language used by Councillor Rutherford towards me, I will only use that well known saying, "Abuse is no argument."

Thanking you Mr. Editor for giving me space in your paper for this letter,

I beg to remain,

Your obedient servant,

C. W. SAWERS.

A BOBCAYGEON BRIDAL.

MR. M. M. BOYD BECOMING A BENEDICT, AND MISS DEGRASSI A BECOMING BEATRICE.

An event of much interest in many circles was the marriage on Wednesday morning of Mr. M. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon, son of the recently deceased "lumber king," to Miss DeGrassi, the amiable and accomplished daughter of Dr. DeGrassi, of Lindsay. The Lindsay Post, by virtue of the town supplying the fair bride, kindly supplies the following particulars:—"The ceremony took place in St. Paul's church, which, despite the early hour, was thronged by friends, acquaintances and interested spectators. Rev. Rural Dean Allan, of Millbrook, assisted by Rev. S. Weston-Jones, Incumbent, were the officiating clergymen. The bride was attired in an elegant costume of white satin, with train, and was the admired of all beholders. Miss Bridgeman, a cousin of the bride, made a very pretty bridesmaid, in white muslin. The groom's best man was his younger brother, Mr. Willie Boyd. After the ceremony the guests, who were limited to relatives and intimate friends, repaired to the residence of Dr. DeGrassi, where a wedding breakfast was partaken of. The happy couple left by the ten o'clock train for the east, amid a shower of slippers, rice and warm congratulations. The wedding presents were numerous, costly and elegant. Among them we may mention a magnificent solid silver tilting ice pitcher and goblets, presented to Mr. Boyd by his employees. The valuable piece of plate was accompanied by a very flattering address. Mrs. Boyd also received at the same hands a beautiful silver fruit stand, also accompanied with an address. The gift of Dr. and Mrs. DeGrassi was a magnificent silver tea service. Edwards & Co., of Bobcaygeon, sent a very valuable ice water service. A large number of handsome gifts were included in those received from relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

Even sawdust is being utilised in heretofore unheard of ways: Pine sawdust, highly compressed, has been successfully used to make up centre frames of carriage wheels. It is said to be so solid that it will bear a pressure equal to 33 tons per square inch. As sawdust has also been used for partitions and bricks, its application to the production of complex carvings and mouldings does not seem to be far off.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT. 13, 1883.

Partizanship Punished.

The immense nature of the power—temporary though it be—that has been acquired by Sir John and the Tory party, has led the members of that party to the conclusion that, under the Chieftain's patronage, they are not responsible to the ordinary legal restrictions, so long as they can promote the interests of the party. But they are receiving a rude awakening. Mr. Fauquier's disqualification in Muskoka, and the proceedings, with an almost certainty fatal result, against his corrupt clique of co-workers, both tend to show that the Tories have rather overdone the thing, and that retribution is beginning to follow political crime. Now, judgment has fallen on one of the partizan returning officers of the Jim Stevens type, who serve the party under cover of their official position. One Roberts, a deputy returning officer in West Northumberland has been visited with the full penalty of the law—$200—for refusing to perform the obligations of his office required of him by the Act. At the recent election between Field and Mulholland, one Richard Skinner presented himself to vote for the Liberal candidate; and, because he declined to take an improper oath—one not adapted to his case—as presented by Roberts, he was refused a ballot. Mr. Garrett, the agent for Mr. Field at this booth, remonstrated; but Roberts, who was a strong Tory partizan and supporter of Mr. Mulholland, said he had his cue and threatened to kick the agent out. The action was brought for the penalty of $200 under the Election Act, and, the conviction being one of the first, if not the first, under the section, it creates no little interest. The case was tried at Cobourg last June by Judge Clark, without a jury; judgment was reserved, but His Honour gave his decision on Thursday against the partizan, partial and corrupt returning officer, inflicting the penalty of $200 and costs. This is a pretty round price to pay for assisting the Tory candidate, by an officer sworn to act impartially by both parties. It will perhaps be a lesson to all partizan returning officers, from Jim Stevens down, and serve to show them that in their zeal for the Tory party, which an honest man would lay aside when he took office, there are bounds beyond which the law will not permit them to pass. It is singular that it is only Tory returning officers that are thus tempted to break the law, four of them having been found acting in contravention of the law at the last Dominion election.

Medical False Modesty.

It has always been an universally accepted article in the unwritten code of medical ethics, that it is permitted to no regularly qualified physician to procure, seek to procure, or permit the public newspapers to record, a single word of praise as to his successful management of a case of surgery or medicine. Every newspaper man, who has performed the duties of reporter knows that physicians—some especially so—are disgustingly reticent upon matters of public interest connected with their practice, which the former very properly considers would make legitimate spoil for his pencil and note book. A terrible accident has happened—a prominent citizen has undergone an important surgical operation successfully. In this age newspapers gather and publish news on the assumption that what the public like to talk about, they like to read about. The public would like to read full particulars of the cases instanced. But no; such must not be the case. The physician is bound down by an absurd canon that it would be unprofessional to allow such publicity on a subject, which, considering his public relations, must be of public interest. At the recent meeting of the Dominion Medical Association held at Kingston the subject was discussed. Dr. Dupuis of that city made some sensible remarks on it. He held that newspaper publicity was a quicker way of informing the public of his (the physician's) exploits, than the passing of the information from mouth to mouth, subject to distortion, ignorance or malicious garbling. The matter, he said, would be told, and that was just what a physician wanted. He pointed out that lawyers were praised in the papers for their brilliant management of some cause celebre. The indifference of medical men to the advantages of publicity, is in many cases, a mere pretence—self-denying hypocrisy. If Dr. Scalpel skilfully saws off Farmer Stubble's leg, he burns at soul to have his skilful wielding of the knife put on record; and he needn't be ashamed of the feeling. It is only human nature, and its most vulnerable side at that. But there is a higher reason for publicity than these. In many cases it is a physician's duty to make known as publicly as possible some successful new mode of treatment or operation which his experience or observation has evolved, by which disease has been baffled. In such cases in the interests of similarly afflicted humanity it is his duty to publish as widely as possible the means employed so that his fellow physicians may avail themselves of it and spread to other afflicted houses the healing derived from the first doctor's discovery. Practically this absurd taciturnity is the very essence of quackery, which consists in some shrewd rascal stealing or hitting upon some remedy, getting it patented and thus selfishly reaping the benefit of it alone. In effect, the physician who, from a mistaken sense of professional pride, seeks to keep his professional triumphs from the most effective means of publicity in a similar manner, selfishly appropriates to himself the benefits of the discoveries which every educated and observing physician must make in a progressive science in which every step reveals some hitherto undiscovered fact. The world wants neither patent medicines nor patent doctors.

Notes of the Day.

The Postmaster-General of the United States is represented as enquiring into the postal telegraph system.

The sum of £1,500 was distributed among London, Dublin and Birmingham police connected with the discovery of the dynamite conspirators recently sentenced to various terms of imprisonment.

The Winnipeg Sun is afraid that Mormonism will develop in the North-West, as the result of the settling in the country of persons belonging to the iniquitous system. It thinks they should be carefully watched. Certainly it is not desirable that Mormonism should gain a footing in this country.

Mr. Vere Foster, the philanthropist, who lives in Belfast, Ireland, has spent £32,500 sterling of his own private fortune in assisting Irish girls to emigrate to the United States and to the British colonies. Nineteen thousand girls have been assisted by him. These girls have sent home to their friends the sum of £25,000.

In view of the fact that the fruit crop is so poor in Canada this year, it will be cheering news for householders to learn that Great Britain will require but light supplies of apples. At latest reports the outlook on the other side of the Atlantic was excellent. From all over North America, the report comes that the apple crop is a failure. Early samples are fair, but winter apples, in many localities, are scabby and badly dwarfed.

The annual products of the British American sea fisheries are set down at about $20,000,000. In France 80,875 sailors, manning 22,135 ships and smacks, are employed in fishing. The total products from the French fisheries, including the sum derived from the sale of oysters, amounts to about $35,000,000 per annum. The annual value of the takes of fish in Norwegian waters is a little over $15,000,000.

It is now nearly eighteen years since there was a widespread attack of cholera in Europe. In 1866 the pestilence carried off 10,584 lives in France, and 13,000 in Italy, but in the next year the epidemic in the latter country had 130,000 victims, and in England no fewer than 14,378, of which 5,596 cases were in London. No wonder that we, with our sad relation, too, of the period, seem scarcely alive to the possibility, not to talk of probability, of the visitation.

There are children working in the mills in New Jersey who don't know what State they live in or whether London is in New York. It is no wonder, therefore, that about a year ago a manufacturing company in Williamtie, Conn., gave notice that after the expiration of twelve months no employee would be retained in the mills who could not read or write. Evening schools were established. The few who neglected to learn to read and write, have received notice of their dismissal.

By the Trade and Navigation returns, it appears that the value of sewing machines exported in 1878 was double that of 1882. Also the exportation of the same article in 1874 was two-thirds greater than that of the latter year. This speaks louder than theoretical arguments on the question of the N. P., and shows that in the hard years under a revenue tariff, the export trade in sewing machines was greater than it is under the protective system.

Smuggling, according to the Buffalo Courier, is carried on in a novel manner between Canada and the United States. Goods are placed in boxes or barrels and towed across the river Niagara, and if any danger is apprehended the smuggler lets go his rope and there is no evidence against him. Kerosene oil is said to be brought over to Canada in this way in immense quantities. The duty is three dollars a barrel, and it is alleged a man can take over half a dozen in a day. The officers seem powerless to stop the practice.

The earthquake at Java is one of the greatest of which we have any record. So far 100,000 people are reported to have perished. An earthquake occurred in Sicily in 1693, which was described at the time by Father Kirpher, in which three hundred villages, and the city of Catania, with a population of 18,000, perished. The number of lives lost was at the time estimated at 100,000, but the physical changes in the earth's surface, in the vicinity of the earthquake of Catania, were very much less than those which resulted from the great earthquake in the vicinity of Java.

An officer of a school in Boston for the blind says that sightless persons may become the most expert piano tuners. Through its constant exercise the faculty of hearing becomes so acute that intervals in the scale of sounds, which are so slight as to be unnoticed by other persons, are readily detected by the blind. The slightest imperfection in unisons is discord to them. Their knowledge of the mechanism of pianos is obtained through the use of models and the dissection of old instruments. Besides, they are thoroughly taught in that branch of physics which treats of the nature of sound and the laws of its production and transmission.

THE TRUE INWARDNESS OF THE MUSKOKA CASE.

(Globe.)

We learn upon inquiry that what was brought to light in the Muskoka case was little more than a tithe of the evidence in the possession of the prosecution. The plan adopted was to show, by taking up special individual cases, the system that was pursued at the various centres from which the "operators" worked, and after showing the system, to take one by one the individual cases of bribery and other corrupt practices. In this way the system pursued at Gravenhurst, Bracebridge, and Huntsville, was shown, but when half way through the latter the respondent's solicitor and counsel threw up the sponge. As the judges intimated that there had been more than enough shown to unseat Mr. Fauquier, and his counsel offered all the costs on the charges not taken up, it was impossible for the prosecution to go on with the trial.

There remained to be shown the system of distribution of money and whiskey pursued by the notorious Captain Kirwan in and around Kearney whilst he posed as the editor of the True Witness and Irish Canadian and the special messenger of the Bishop of Montreal, the actions of the so-called Squiers, of Chicago, on the Parry Sound side of the District, the whisky and "insurance policies" that marked the track of Captain Burke and the whilom Huntley, the distribution through Ryde by Woodcock—alias McConkey, alias McDougall—of the money furnished by Anderson, the visit of C. P. R. navvies with residents of Ottawa, Renfrew and Pembroke, led by ex-Ald. McRae, of Ottawa, and his brother Hector, of Renfrew, to Nipissing and Commanda, the acts of H. H. Smith, of Peterborough, "Big-Push" Wilkinson, R. R. Pringle, of Cobourg, and his jockey Purser, John Shields himself; and the tricks of half a dozen lesser lights—euphoniously termed "cattle-buyers"—from those of Phelan, of Peterborough, and Winfield, of the Gum Swamp brigade, to the ridiculous ones of "Jack the Trapper," as his associates christen him. And, after the system pursued by each and all of those in distributing the money and the cargo of trunks full of whiskey supplied by the redoubtable Section B had been exposed, there still remained to be examined a series of individual corrupt practices of which the majority of them had been guilty. Whilst the number of charges of corrupt practices was 192, less than 30 were brought before the Court when the judges declared enough had been proven to unseat the respondent, and his counsel threw up the sponge.

Now, no one can doubt that it is highly in the interests of justice that the other 160 odd cases charged should be investigated. Were the Muskoka case a British one, immediately on such a system of bribery and corruption being disclosed in the Election Court a commission would be issued to some of the judges, ordering a full inquisitorial investigation in the interests of justice. That has again and again been done in Britain. The Dominion has the same power, and the Dominion Act provides for its exercise. But the issuing of such a commission is one of the prerogatives of the Crown, and these, it has been held, do not extend under the British North America Act to our Local Legislatures or Lieutenant-Governors. To meet this want as far as it can be met under the Constitution, the Legislature in 1876 constituted the Election Court of two Judges on the rota trying each a Court for the trial of illegal acts, and in a general way fixed the procedure. In the Stormont case this was acted upon, and again in the Lincoln case a fine was imposed, which was never paid owing to on penal provisions for enforcement of payment being in the Act. That was remedied, however, in 1879.

The method of procedure, is on an affidavit being filed charging any person not a party to the petition with having committed a corrupt practice or practices, for the judges to issue summonses ordering such persons to appear before them and evidence to be adduced as in an ordinary criminal trial. Indeed each clause of the affidavit is very much the same as an indictment. Because the subject-matter is quasi-criminal, and a new court, new procedure, and new work is established, if not new judges appointed, doubts have been thrown upon the constitutionality of the Act.

The matter will, we understand, be brought before the Court to-day, when, after the judgment has been delivered in the M[illegible]a case, summonses will be asked to the affidavit and on the evidence adduced at the trial against the most active of the Conservative agents. The granting of them lies in the discretion of the Court, as the Act uses the word "may" where the Dominion one uses "shall." As the interests of justice are at stake, it is to be hoped that the judges will in the exercise of their discretion see that such summonses are issued, though they are but imperfect means at the best. Nothing short of a Commission can be effectual in such a glaring case of systematic, open, and unblushing bribery and corruption as the Muskoka case has been proven to have been.

POLITICAL AND POLITICAL.

It is said that Mr. Domville, ex-M.P., for Kings, will contest Albert, N.B., should Mr. Wallace be unseated.

The candidates for Kent, N.B., are: Gordon Livingstone, Independent, and Buckerfield and Landry, government.

Ex-Judge Miller will be sworn in as Attorney-General in the Manitoba Government. Hon. Mr. Sutherland will be appointed Minister of Agriculture.

Lord and Lady Lansdowne, previous to their departure for Canada, will visit Ireland as the guests of the Duke of Abercorn. They will sail for Quebec on the 11th October.

The decision in Mr. Fauquier's case, says the Tory Ottawa Citizen, should prove a warning to candidates in future, and not only to candidates, but to all persons acting on their behalf.

At the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association Col. Gzowski attributed his retirement from the presidency of the Association to the illiberal spirit manifested by the Dominion Government.

Judge Cameron is to be elevated to the Court of Appeal, and Judge Ferguson is to fill his place in the Queen's Bench Division, while the vacancy thus created in the Chancery division will be filled by the appointment of Mr. W. P. Street, Q.C., of London.

John Shield's cheque for $1,000 to the Secretary of the Tory Association of Muskoka is a subject of interest to the public, and they are anxious for further explanation, which we trust Mr. Shields will have an opportunity to give. Where did Mr. Shields get his money, and how is it that he has become so generous a contributor to Tory elections?

What we want in Canada, says the Ottawa Free Press, is public spirit to "turn the rascals out." Liberals or Conservatives who go wrong; make a clean sweep of them. Then we will begin to have less government, more manly men coming to the front, the sneaks, hangers-on, corrupters, and those anxious to be corrupted driven out of recognition by all honorable men. Will our friend on Metcalfe street join with us in this crusade?

The latest map has been issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, showing their land locations. It appears the company have declined to accept any lands on the main line of their road west of Qu'Appelle, but have selected lands along the route surveyed by the late Government, in the Peace River district and Qu'Appelle Valley. Some lands have also been taken in the Turtle Mountain district. The Pacific Syndicate, in order to save distance and cost of construction, have been allowed to deflect their line to the southward over an alkaline plain, but they are careful to select their lands elsewhere, as their contract entitles them to do. Their action shows the wisdom of Mr. Mackenzie's proposal to construct the railway by the northern route.

Some One Said.

"One should not know they have a stomach," so far as feeling is concerned; but once the Liver becomes deranged "disasters come not singly." Everybody has Dyspepsia in some form, seven-tenths of all sickness is caused by too much bile—not enough bile—too much bile in the blood, not enough activity of the Liver, etc.

TRENTON.

A pic-nic held at Trenton on Thursday under the direction of Father Walsh, netted the handsome sum of $2,400.

BOBCAYGEON.

Master Herbert Trotter, son of Mr. Alex. Trotter, while in quest of butternuts, undertook to climb a large tree, and stepping on a rotten limb, some ten or fifteen feet from the ground, lost his hold and fell headlong on to a rock. The little fellow was carried home insensible, and though receiving every possible care, he died on Sunday morning.

COBOURG.

The run between Port Hope and Cobourg was recently made by Mr. J. E. Kennedy on his bicycle in 30 minutes.

The Hon. Sidney Smith, Q.C., has returned from his visit to the old country. We are glad to see him safely back, and pleased to observe that the trip appears to have a good effect on his health.

On Thursday last the Cobourg Cricket Club visited Port Hope and administered a severe drubbing to the team of that place, beating them in one innings, and one run to spare.

The following are names of those who furnish the coming camp with supplies: meat, R. J. Winch; bread, D. Wright; groceries, T. Battell; wood, G. Spence; forage, A. Pratt; straw, D. Rooney.

PORT HOPE.

On Thursday the corner stone of the new post office in Port Hope was laid with elaborate ceremonies by Sir Hector Langevin.

The Salvation Army contemplates an attack on Port Hope.

For a day's hard work, asserts the Port Hope Times, "Mr. John Boyd, of lot 12, 4th con., of Hope, takes the cake. On the 25th ult., he bound fifteen acres of heavy grain in nine hours, with a Dundas corn binder, one pair of horses doing the entire work. We pause to hear from those of our readers who can beat this." We "pause" also, we can't beat it either with a corn binder or a pen.

The shooting of the Port Hope Rifle Association is to be postponed till after the return from camp.

HASTINGS.

Father Quirk having obtained three months' leave of absence, his duties will be performed by the Rev. Father Conner of Fenelon Falls.

Dr. Richard Coughlin has commenced the practice of his profession in his native village, and has opened an office in Wallace's drug store.

On Sunday, the 2nd inst., His Lordship the Bishop of Toronto made a pastorial visit to the Anglican churches of Hastings and Alnwick, when confirmation services were held, there being 22 in the former Church and 26 in the latter. The services were very impressive and witnessed by a large number, completely filling the churches in both places. His Lordship is a fluent speaker and a thoroughly energetic man. During His Lordship's visit here he was the guest of Dr. O'Gorman at the Clarendon.

NORWOOD.

Our esteemed townsman, says the Register, Robt. Wilson, Esq., whom we mentioned some time ago as likely to be appointed a Justice of the Peace, received his commission last week, and is now a full fledged J. P. Mr. Wilson is in every way qualified for the position, and a better choice could not have been made.

The Methodists of this place hold their customary harvest home festival on Monday, the 17th inst. Every effort is being made to make it a success. On the preceding Sunday the services, both morning and evening, were conducted by the Rev. Thos. Manning, B.A., of Peterborough.

Mr. Roantree has recently made several important alterations and improvements in his grist mill on Colborne street, and is now in a better position than ever to meet the wants of his customers. Those of our readers who do not already patronize Mr. Roantree would do well to give him a trial. He never fails to give satisfaction.

Miss E. Roxburgh left here on Tuesday last for Toronto, where she proposes attending a ladies' college.

The editor of the Register suspends the publication of his paper for the next two weeks to enjoy his holidays with a comfortable unconsciousness of business affairs.

LINDSAY.

The Post chronicles with a good deal of exhilaration the fact that a new sidewalk has been built in that town.

Lindsay's cow bylaw has passed its first reading, but the other readings are wisely deferred till after the elections.

Five weddings in one day—last Wednesday—is the matrimonial record of Lindsay.

The town physician has been asked to hand in his report the next meeting of the council, showing the facts in connection with his office.

The council has voted a grant of $100 in aid of the fund to purchase a set of instruments for Lindsay brass band.

Arrangements are being perfected in connection with the Lindsay central fair to be held in Lindsay the first week in October. Entries are coming in rapidly and a large number from a distance are received daily. The membership is running up rapidly as will be seen from the fact that at the central fair held two years ago in Lindsay 247 members were registered all told. Up to date and with three weeks work yet to count on, the membership has advanced to over 250; so says the Post.

SMITH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

COUNCIL MEETING.

Council met pursuant to adjournment on Aug. 27th. All the members present, the Reeve in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. A by-law to levy a rate of three mills on the dollar for county purposes, and 1½ mills for township purposes, passed its several readings; also a by-law to levy the amounts required in the several school sections. The Reeve and Mr. Middleton were authorized to take legal advice to ascertain the powers of the Council in compelling the Midland Railway to improve and widen the road at the crossing on the 2nd con. line of Smith. On motion of Mr. Middleton, seconded by Mr. McIlmoyle, Wellington Boyce was voted the sum of $15 for support of John O'Neil for 11 weeks, while afflicted with a broken leg. Moved by Mr. Fitzgerald, seconded by Mr. Garbutt, that the following claims be paid:—James Brown, building culvert over R. D. No. 17, $10; Mrs. Moffatt, support of Geo. Parsons, 6 weeks, $12; Toker & Co., printing and stationery, $7.77; T. E. Bell, for gravel, $4.20; R. Anglesay, work on R. D. No. 9, $18.00; John Fairbairn, work on R. D. No. 59, $10; and that the Treasurer be and is hereby instructed to settle with James H. Mann and Thos. Millburn for gravel, and with James Sanderson, for building culvert over creek on R. D. No. 52.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Garbutt, seconded by Mr. McIlmoyle, that the sum of $10 be granted to Mrs. Clegg, as charity, and that the same be placed in the hands of Mr. S. McKibbon, to be expended as necessary. —Carried. The Council decided to examine the road on the Quarter Line, between lots 6 and 7, in the 2nd concession, on Saturday the 8th day of Sept. The Council then adjourned till Monday, the 3rd day of December next.

THE ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

John Ryan, contractor of the O. & Q. RR. line from Sharbot Lake to Perth, reports rapid progress all along the line. The rails will probably be laid to Sharbot Lake next week, and the ballasting trains be at once begun. The big sink hole near Moberly has been filled and trains can pass over it without fear. His idea is that these holes were originally small lakes, but debris from the hills and vegetable matter had collected and filled the lakes up, making them veritable bogs. The only way to secure a passage over them is to dump in earth and ultimately from a platform with timber. He had encountered many such bogs in New Brunswick. They were always to be found in sections of country made up of granite rocks. The bog just bridged is about 40 feet deep. —Whig.

POST-OFFICIAL RED TAPE.

When a citizen of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., wishes to send a letter to a friend in the opposite village on the Canadian side of the river, he directs it, prepays the postage and puts it in the Postoffice on the Canadian side, which is about one mile distant, the letter goes to Detroit through the United States mails, crosses from Detroit to Windsor, where it enters the Canadian mails, and is sent over Canadian routes back to the Sault, reaching the Canadian office there in about ten days from the time it started—ten days to go one mile. But when one is in a hurry he goes across the river himself and talks to the other fellow; he doesn't write.

Port Hopers on a "Bender,"

AND ALSO ON A ROCK.

Wrecked on Rice Lake—The Midland Railway to the Rescue—Pronounced in Peterborough—the D. H. Degree Delicately Conferred.

The annual civic lark of the municipal officers of Port Hope took place last Thursday. The raging waters of Rice Lake were the fluid selected to mix with it. The party which consisted of all the civic officials from the mayor down, and numbering about thirty persons, drove to Bewdley, and embarking on board the new steamer Beaver, steamed out for a trip round the lake. At Harwood, the party evidently fearing that their predatory proclivities—possessed by virtue of their municipal training—might lead to the infraction of the game laws, took the fishery inspector on board. About four miles from Hastings the steamer ran on a rock and stuck fast. The party was put on shore in punts, but still the steamer refused to stir. It was a nice affair—positions completely reversed—the steamer roosting on the rocks, the cargo cruising on the shore. They, however, managed to pass the time from noon to five o'clock very jollily, the party having a good supply of "Budge" with them. Among other diverting incidents an Indian with the chemical cognomen of Chief Potash, held a levee, and though he shook hands with the party he stoutly refused to sample their grog. He either had his doubts as to the quality of Port Hope whisky, or thought alcohol and an alkali in the shape of potash would be incompatible The nearest approach he made to "taking anything" in the shape of bug juice was the acceptance of a juice (jews) harp from the mayorial baron or the baronial mayor. At length the party took the overland route to Hastings where the train was waylaid and the waifs were brought to Peterborough, where they were hospitably entertained and sent on their way rejoicing, Mr. Cox, president of the Midland Railway, extending the most delicate of attentions with a gracefulness all his own. In grateful acknowledgement an address was drafted, and the council went in committee of the whole on the first reading of the address, Mayor Hugel in the chair. The committee rose—not elevated, however—and the council adjourned till next morning, when they took the train for home.

MARWOOD, THE HANGMAN, DEAD.

Marwood, the official hangman of England, is dead, having succumbed to an attack of inflammation of the bowels and jaundice. He has been ailing for some little time, though he has not missed officiating at any execution at which his services have been desired. He was noted as the advocate of the long drop, and though in one or two cases he nearly beheaded his victims, yet it is generally conceded that he was an improvement as a hangman over Calcraft, whom he succeeded. Owing to rumours that the Invincibles are responsible for Marwood's death, an inquest will be held. Marwood's appearance was quite at variance with his profession. He was in stature five feet eight inches, always dressed well, and looked to be a well-to-do-tradesman. He had dark, restless eyes, and a beetling brow, a high and expansive forehead. At one time he was a preacher, then he started a shoe shop, and being a great reader and of a genial disposition, he was very popular among those with whom he associated. With these persons Marwood was always ready to talk and laugh about his different hangings. One of his grim jokes was to suggest "one of the drops" as "a sure cure" for a friend who wanted to get rid of a bad cold. In the north of England the dread of him was so great that he was often refused admission to hotels by superstitious landlords. During the twelve years of his career as a hangman

HE HANGED NEARLY 400 PERSONS.

It is said that he was once asked if he would like his son to succeed him in the office of hangman. After a little hesitation he replied that if he were a good honest boy he would be content; but if were a scapegrace he would not like him to disgrace his calling.

The Reason Why

the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, 173 Church Street, Toronto, are making so many wonderful cures of catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma and consumption are: They have none but skilled and qualified medical men connected with the institute. They adhere strictly to their specialty and they use the spirometer invented by M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army, an instrument which conveys the medicines in the form of cold inhalations to the parts diseased, which is the only way these diseases can be cured. They are treating hundreds of patients every month, having twelve surgeons engaged in their work in Canada alone. Crops on Prince Edward Island are better than have been known for many years. Wheat and oats are particularly good. The potato crop promises well. Two new starch factories are being built, and a large manufacture of the article is expected this winter. The lobster fishery was not as large as the previous year, but prices are improving. Two new cheese factories have been built in Prince county this year.

The liquor dealers of Charlotte, N.B., being desirous of having the Scott Act repealed in so far as that county is concerned, have clubbed together and subscribed $1,000 toward this end.

ROANTREE'S GRIST MILLS, NORWOOD.

The subscriber having succeeded in the above Mills beyond his expectations, has been compelled to make large additions to his premises to meet the increasing demand of his numerous customers in Norwood and surrounding Townships, and would now respectfully intimate that he has completed arrangements to further increase the capacity of the mill, as well as to keep in supply all kinds of superior Baking Flour, Chop, and every description of Mill Feed, usually found in a well kept Gristing Mill.

Having engaged a miller of extensive practical experience in some of the best mills in the country, to manage the gristing department of his mill, he will now be in a position to give greater attention to the wants of his customers in all lines of his business.

Special attention will be given to every description of Gristing, and customers will not only be guaranteed the utmost satisfaction in all kinds of Gristing, but will be assured that all orders will be attended to with the utmost promptness, and farmers residing at a distance can have their Gristing done for them so as to be able to take it home with them.

Spacious Storehouses are now being constructed in connection with the mill for the storing of grain to accommodate all classes of his customers, and nothing will be left undone by him to secure a continuance of the extensive patronage he has received in the past, and hopes by strict attention to business, guaranteeing a superior class of Gristing and charging low rates commensurate with good work, to merit in the future confidence in the public generally.

PETEBBOROUGH, SEPT. 13, 1883.

Innocent Mr. Fauquier.

The evidence of the depth of corruption that characterized the election contest in Muskoka, although only a sixth of it is told, forms the most morally repulsive chapter in the history of Canadian politics. The Tory papers claim that Mr. Fauquier, disqualified for his personally corrupt acts, sinned ignorantly—that he aimed to conduct the contest purely. If this be so then the case is made worse. He was so environed by a net work of corrupt practices that he became infected in spite of his good intentions and committed corrupt acts enough, involuntarily, to disqualify him. The learned judges, however, in giving their judgment, did not entertain so high an opinion of Mr. Fauquier's innocence. In recapitulating their judgment, Justices Patterson and Ferguson said:

"We are disposed to believe that the respondent was desirous, and that he endeavoured to avoid personally committing illegal or corrupt practices, and even to avoid actual knowledge of their commission by others acting in his support; but we are not satisfied that he was ignorant that such practices were likely to be committed by persons acting on his behalf in the conduct of the election; and finding that such corrupt practices did prevail, and as there is reason to believe did extensively prevail at the election, and amongst those who supported the respondent, we are unable to say that the evidence shows the respondent to have honestly desired and in good faith endeavoured, as far as he could, to have the election conducted according to law."

No; the childlike and bland Mr. Fauquier fails to make any one believe that, while Shields, Anderson, Kirwin, H. H. Smith, Phelan, Pringle, "Big Push," "Jack the Trapper," Roper and Chattler, all in intimate and recognized communication with the Conservative Association, with the candidate's friends and agents, with their thousand dollar checks, trunks full of whiskey, direct bribes to voters, presents to voters' wives, and a thousand and one undiscovered corrupt schemes,—after all these Mr. Fauquier must not ask us to believe that he did not endorse their acts and consent, if in the most passive manner, to profit by them. Besides, the half was not told—out of the one hundred and ninety-two charges less than a sixth were ventilated on oath. If, in the face of all the damaging facts brought out, and of all that remained to be told, Mr. Fauquier, working hand and glove with these perpetrators of corrupt acts, was ignorant of them, he is more unfit than the judges declared him to be to represent Muskoka—he would be an utter idiot—disqualified by nature, not by an Election Court.

Appropriating the Spoils.

The paternal nature of the Dominion Government—their tender and mother-like solicitude for "the people" have been sung by their admirers ad nauseam; but it is only an abiding sham—which has the semblance of existence only at election times. Their chief fondness for the people arises out of their usefulness as objects of impost—individuals useful only for paying grinding rates of taxation to produce, in great part, funds to lavish on political favorites, and expend on public works of hypothetical importance for the purpose of promoting the party interest of the Government. A case in point is the extravagance of the Minister of Militia's department. An Ottawa despatch in referring to his new fangled infantry schools says:—

"Mr. Caron, when introducing his scheme, said each school would be managed by a captain and one or two subalterns. To these he now adds a "commandant" for each school, who will have the rank of Lieut.-Colonel and extra pay. The facts are, Mr. Caron's chief object seems to be, in season and out of season, to find some excuse for adding to the pay and perquisites of the gentlemen comprising his staff. New sinecures are being formed every day for his pet officers, and though the duties may be nil, an extra dollar or two dollars per day is always added. Under Mr. Caron's management our militia system is becoming an exceedingly expensive plaything."

While the Government through Mr. Caron, are squandering the people's money on fat offices, fuss and feathers for the staff, the rank and file, the very essence of our militia force, are neglected. The most recent instance of disapproval of the mean and niggardly way in which the Government has always treated the volunteer force, is the resignation by Col. Growski of the presidency of the Dominion Rifle Association. He gives as his reason, not a desire to shirk the responsibilities of the position, but that the militia force has not been "fairly treated by the Government;" and there is truth in his assertion. He is the last man to make such a charge as implied, unless he has the best of reasons for it. The present Government's neglect of the volunteer force has done much to impair the esprit du corps that at one time marked the body. The members of the force are falling off—the men are willing to fight an enemy, but they are unwilling to fight the injustice of those whom the law has constituted their friends. The fact is, the money wrung from the people by taxation is lavished on staff officers, departmental extravagance and political hangers on, while the volunteer private is allowed to do the real work, with flabby tunics, baggy trowsers, and miserly pay, but liberal snubbing. The expenditure should be divided. More should be spent on the men and less on staff officers, gold braid and feathers. But one can hope for no change while the present Government is in power, whose motto is, the appropriation of the spoil to themselves and their political friends.

Editorial Notes.

The decision will be given on the four charges pending in the Welland election trial, on Sept. 29th.

Wednesday, September 19th, has been fixed as the day for the hearing of the appeal from the judgment of the Election Court, unseating Mr. Phelps in West Simcoe.

Still another week gone by and no site selected for the Peterborough post office. Has Sir Hector, since he entered on his new crusade to bring about French Canadian ascendancy, forgotten the claims of this town? Are we to be kept in a suspense and uncertainty that involves the material progress of the town?

The trial of the petition against the return of Sir John A. Macdonald for Lennox will be held at Napanee on Oct. 10th, before Mr. Justice Armour. The West Huron, against the return of Mr. Cameron, will be held on the 16th of October, and that against Mr. Guillett, of West Northumberland, on Oct. 29th, at Cobourg.

The Tory journals seek to bring religion into discredit by sneeringly calling Hon. Mr. Mowat the "Christian statesman." It was hardly to be expected that presumably respectable journals should descend so low. One would not be surprised at such sneers coming from Mr. A. H. Roe, the agnostic Tory member elect for Lennox.

Notice was given at Osgoode Hall last Saturday, before the Muskoka election court, by the counsel for the respondent that he had been instructed to go on with the scrutiny to which Mr. Bettes, as claimant for the seat, is entitled. A large number of ballots cast for Mr. Fauquier, can be rejected under the decision of the court.

The defeated Conservative candidate in the East Huron local election, Mr. Hays, sues Mr. Pollard, a deputy returning officer, for the penalty of $200, which the former claims that the Election Act, R. S. O., sec. 10, imposes on every deputy returning officer who does not keep the poll open continuously from 9 to 5 p.m. It appears that Mr. Pollard and his poll clerk adjourned for dinner! A motion to strike out a part of the statement of claim is under consideration.

The Review, in a very gingerly manner, suggestive of great respect for the corns of its political leaders, disapproved of the appointment of Mr. Chapleau, Sir Charles' disgraced and corrupt private secretary, to a North-West shrievalty, but it has not summoned courage to condemn the fully proven and unmasked corruption and bribery exercised by and on behalf of the Tory party in Muskoka. It is base enough, however, to insinuate charges of corruption against Mr. Bettes, which were so utterly baseless that the Tories shrank from the attempt to prove them when they had a chance. The Review's spasms of honesty and independence are of short duration. A single crack of the party whip and the party hack ambles into the old rut again.

An incident not down on the programme occurred at the laying of the new post office corner stone at Port Hope last Thursday by the Hon. Mr. Langevin. The stone had been well and truly laid, and the trowel skillfully handled, but there was no gavel to give it the necessary taps. An article of the kind could not be found anywhere until recourse was had to a neighbouring Orange lodge, the gavel from which was found to answer the purpose admirably. The incident provoked some amusement, but it is properly considered by the brethren to be of profound significance. Having found it impossible to get along without an Orange gavel, Sir Hector will take the hint and not again give the Orange Bill the six months hoist. —Post.

Dominion Government officials who have been rewarded for—and in proportion, also, to—their unscrupulous labours for the benefit of the party, are expected to earn their reward twice. Mr. David Marshall, of Port Hope, at one time chief constable of that town, but now Collector of Customs at Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, is diligently earning the salary he has been drawing for months by operating as a part of the Dominion Government bribery brigade now at work in Algoma. He is enough representation from this district. We earnestly hope that the County of Peterborough will not be disgraced by sending out any more missionaries like those who last winter covered themselves and their county with ineffaceable disgrace, by joining in the iniquitous and nefarious corruption campaign in Muskoka. We don't aspire to furnish political thugs to fight the cause of the Ottawa obligarcy against our own Province.

Is the N. P. sleeping or gone on a journey? The attention of its advocates is called to the fact that it is not filling the bill. They are also called on to explain how it is that under its benign influence the value of bank stocks is declining. What is the use of Sir John's untold millions of capital which the endorsation of the June elections was to pour in a golden stream into the country, when the N. P. can't keep our own capital from losing its earning power? The Shareholder gives the following as the value of bank stocks in the third week in August, 1882, and the corresponding week of this year:

	1882.	1883.
Bank of Montreal	212	198½
Merchants'	130	121½
Commerce	144½	133
Toronto	190½	185
Ontario	127½	115½
People's	89½	85
Molson's	130½	126½

An aggregate decrease of over 16 per cent. The "hail" of facts is beginning to "sweep away the refuge of lies."

The Tory sheets are raising a hypocritical howl because Sheriff Clark, of Algoma, declined the writ for the election sent by the Government of Ontario, owing to illness—alleging that the writ was taken from him to be given to a more pliant person. There is not a word of truth in the assertion of the Mail and other organs. The Mail evidently argues from the precedents for such disgraceful arrangements furnished by what Sir John has done. In the last Dominion election Sir John passed over sheriffs and registrars in thirty constituencies in Ontario alone, and gave the writs to creatures of his own—exempli gratia, Jim Stevens, of Bothwell. If the organs had any shame they would hold their peace. Sir John did infinitely more in one short year, preceding and during the last elections, to debauch the electorate, to pervert and prostitute the franchise, than Hon. Mr. Mowat has done in the whole course of his political career, even putting the most malicious Tory construction on his acts.

CHIEF JUSTICE COLERIDGE.

AFRAID TO COME TO CANADA.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, who tried and sentenced the London dynamite conspirators, is on a visit to the United States, the guest of the bar of that country. He recently declined an invitation from the bar of Toronto, and there is considerable indignation in some quarters over the refusal.

Those who ought to know say that the real reason why Lord Chief Justice Coleridge does not visit Canada is that both he and the British Government are afraid of his life being attempted in this country by Irish assassins. The special officers of the British Government stationed in the United States are understood to have reported to that effect. O'Donovan Rossa and his gang have been making threats, and it was thought that Canada would be chosen as the scene of their execution should the lord chief justice cross over. They do not care to carry out such threats in the United States, whose guest the lord chief justice now is. The great bulk of the people of that country have no sympathy with the dynamite crowd and were any of them to raise a hand against the lord chief justice there would be such a wave of indignation sweep the country that it would also sweep the dynamiters from the face of it. It is true that in New York city and in places of large Irish population there is no love lost on England or representative Englishmen, but even in New York the people will not stand being dictated to by the dynamiters who tried to have the Brooklyn bridge opened on a date other than the Queen's birthday. But the New Yorkers were strong enough to carry their point. It would certainly be the worst thing that ever could happen the cause of Ireland, were any attempt made on the lord chief justice of England when a guest of the United States. But in Canada the same restraints would not it is thought, be in force, and so it was decided the lord chief justice should not visit this colony.

A MANIAC MONSTER.

A PENNSYLVANIA FATHER ATTEMPS TO SACRIFICE HIS DAUGTHER AND CRUCIFY HIS SON.

An Erie, Pa, despatch says: The eastern part of this county is intensely excited over the freaks of a man crazed by religion, Sylvester Knott, a well-to-do farmer living in a comparatively isolated spot on the banks of Lake Erie. Some months ago he attended a meeting of the Salvation Army where the first seeds of insanity were sown. Since then his brain has by degrees grown more and more inflamed, and now his frenzy knows no check. For two weeks past he has wandered up and down the lake bank, regardless of sunshine or storm, declaiming on salvation schemes, picturing the horrors of judgment day, and calling up sinners to worship God or be eternally lost. Yesterday morning he planted a large cross in the woods, upon which he nailed his 8-year-old son, believing the boy would be tormented in hell fire forever, unless he died the death of mankind's Redeemer. With strength well nigh superhuman, Knott held the lad firmly while driving a large nail through the little fellow's hand, unheeding his piteous cries for mercy. The dreadful work was interrupted by some wood cutters who chanced to be passing. Leaving his son hanging, the maniac fled, first striking down one of the rescuers with a hammer, then leaping into the lake. A search for his hiding place proved fruitless, and it was thought that he was drowned. But before midnight the crazy man returned, smashed the door of his house and knocked Mrs. Knott insensible at a single blow. Entering a chamber in which his only daughter Minnie, a beautiful girl of 17, lay cleeping, he bound her hand and foot and carried her to a lonely place in the forest where hundreds of cords of wood were piled. An altar was quickly built, and upon it the madman secured his child. "Even as Abraham did with Isaac, will I offer you as a burnt offering unto the Lord," chanted the madman, setting the funeral pyre on fire. The climbing flames soon licked the exposed limbs of the girl, whose shrieks of agony and prayers for a more merciful death were music to the madman's ears. Dancing around the heap on which lay the girl he implored the Almighty to accept the sacrifice as atonement for the sinful deeds committed by him in years long gone, and added fresh fuel to the altar. But help arrived in time. Two young men, crossing the woods on their way home from a party, saw a bright light and heard the young lady's screams. One felled the demented sire, while his companion scattered the blazing fagots and lifted the almost nude maiden from her fiery bed. The cords that fettered her limbs were transferred to those of the unconscious maniac. Miss Knot is painfully burned about the lower extremities, and their are large blisters on her shoulders, arms and sides. So awful was her experience that the doors of any asylum may be open to admit the daughter as well as the father. She raves day and night, and it is feared her reason is permanently dethroned.

SPEAKING

FOR MYSELF.

The announcement of the Dissolution of Partnership you have all read. It has been before your eyes for the last month. That I am now carrying on the business by and for myself should be fully known. No doubt it is.

I wish to thank those who have bought from the firm in the past. I wish to ask that the same preference shall be shown myself in the future. Rest satisfied that I shall endeavor to merit your custom. My aim and effort will be to foresee the run of trade and to keep up a stock every week alike—one worth buying from. If such goods as are in demand are not to be found at my counters, somebody's at fault. And everything shall be bought at such a nimble purchase, that the prices to you, to all, will be fractional.

BY WAY OF REMINDER

that at the end of a season is a good time to buy, I will say that a small balance of Summer Goods are yet unsold. These will be rattled out—they're well worth buying—at a reduction from early prices. You will find these goods so displayed that you can run your eyes over them quickly. Secure these while they are going, and the advantage is wholly on the side of the buyer.

YOU ARE NOT LIKELY

to find a store where you will be better or more pleasantly served than mine. The harder you are to please the better for the stock. Then you'll appreciate a really well filled preparation. Look in at any rate. Who makes lookers more welcome? It shows up the goods, and of course, with the goods the prices.

FLOOD AND FIELD.

The Boat Race and Lacrosse Pic-Nic.

Two Very Interesting Sporting Events—Both Successfully Consummated—Mercer vs. McIntyre—Mercer Wins the Cup—The Pic-Nic—The Dancing—The Sports and Games—The Race and the Result—A Big Pile Lost and Won.

Lake Chemong and its shores in the vicinity west of Bridgenorth, never witnessed such a lively half day as the afternoon of Monday last. The sculling match would, of itself, have attracted a multitude, but add to this the numbers attracted by the lacrosse pic-nic and we have an immense assemblage of people. Visitors to the pic-nic began to flock out quite early in the morning, but after noon the grand exodus took place. Business in town was generally suspended, and everybody with an ounce of sporting blood in his veins was OFF TO THE RACES.

Never was there such a draft on the conveyance capacity of the town. Every horse in the livery stables was, to use an Hibernicism, out of them, and every description of vehicle was brought into requisition. About one o'clock the six miles of the Mud Lake road was literally covered with the various conveyances. There were hacks, phaetons busses, buggies, buckboards, dog carts, gigs, drays, trucks, pump wagons, beer wagons, butcher wagons, hearses (or the next thing to them, furniture vans,) bicycles, equestrians, and hundreds on foot. Every vehicle was loaded down, and some so heavily, that they came to grief on the road.

The grove where the

LACROSSE PIC-NIC

was held is a beautiful spot, just west of the village. The grounds about two o'clock were pretty well filled, and those who chose amused themselves with dancing, to the music of Martin's quadrille band; others, by hundreds, hovered around the headquarters of the sporting men. While the preparations for the race were being completed the lacrosse club carried out with great success a good programme of

SPORTS AND GAMES.

In the dancing contests the judges, Messrs. J. Sheehy, Frank Ferrin and J. O'Brien, awarded the following prizes:
Waltz—M. Tierney Miss Jennie Nolan.
Clog—Frank Clark.
Irish Jig—Jas. Wallbrook.

This ended the events and the pic-nic, for the approach of the boat race was announced, and everybody scampered to the shores of the lake, from which the hundreds of spectators had a splendid view of the struggle. The pic-nic was in point of pleasure a most enjoyable one, and we are pleased to be able to add that it was equally successful in a pecuniary sense.

Pending the preparations for the crowds of people swarmed round the shores of the lake, haunting, principally the boat houses, where the boats were guarded with the most jealous care. Both boats were carefully black-leaded and brought into the very best of "condition." McIntyre was the first to make his appearance in public, but Mercer slept at his headquarters till half past three. Shortly after four o'clock the referee's steamer, the Eva, which had brought an excursion from Bobcaygeon, steamed up to the stake boats for a start. She was followed by the Bella Fair, with a large crowd on board. There were besides several passengers taken on board, chiefly those financially interested in the race. Capt. McCallum was most gentlemanly and attentive to the convenience of all on board his tidy little steamer, and the representatives of the local press are much indebted to his kindness for places, and the usual courtesies. Besides the local press representatives there were three or four others, who imposed themselves on Captain McCallum as reporters for the Globe, Mail, World and other Toronto papers, and thus "beat" him out of the amount of the fare which others honestly paid.

STRUGGLE OF THE SCULLS,

THE COURSE

was two miles straight away, from an island near the head of the lake east to near the floating bridge. The lake, unbroken by a ripple, was like a wide expanse of glass, and the weather was just the thing. About five o'clock McIntyre showed first at the stake boats, dressed in navy blue guernsey and trunks, weighing 125 lbs., and seemingly impatient for the start. In a few minutes after Mercer showed up, with 153 lbs. to his credit, and dressed in a sleeveless blue guernsey. He had the shore position and his opponent the outside. The referee, whose whole conduct of the race was characterized by the greatest fairness, arranged a code of signals to be given by his steamer in case one oaraman was crowding the other's water. Three minutes after five, both men were ready for the first stroke, when, on the word from the referee, four scull blades at once broke the still waters of the lake into flashing spray (although McIntyre, perhaps, caught the water a second sooner than his opponent,) and both men were off at a lively clip—forty-two strokes to the minute. For a short distance the race was on even terms, but Mercer soon showed in front and continued increasing his lead as the race progressed. There were no course buoys laid down, so that the relative positions of the men could not be noted. Neither man steered a good course, and it is hard to tell which lost most distance by going out of the straight line. Forty-two to the minute was not kept up far, and it was not long before the pace dropped to twenty-seven. At about the mile McIntyre made a game spurt, but he gained nothing for his opponent, with a good lead to play on, kept it, with something to the good at every one of his long, effective strokes. The immense crowd on the pic-nic grounds broke into a roar as the men came swinging down opposite them, and here Mercer had such a good lead that he could afford to stop and wave his hand. Both men kept on till Mercer reached his winning flag, eighteen or nineteen minutes after the start. McIntyre ceased pulling when when the ringing cheers of Mercer's friends announced his arrival at the winning flag, ten lengths, as decided by the referee, ahead of his opponent.

"ARE YOU READY? GO!"

When the victor landed he was swooped down on by his friends, who crushed around him and fairly carried him to his hotel, where cheers were given for him and the referee.

At once the race was over, there was a mad scramble for home, and the road was soon a dark mass of rushing vehicles, moving through clouds of clinging dust. The roads were rough, there were many mishaps, and the way was strewn with wrecks of ruined phaetons, etc. Our reporter was honored and happy in securing a seat with Mr. Smith, of the "Market," who doesn't believe in keeping a good horse for nothing, and who, not chosing to take anybody's dust, passed everything on the road and was the first to reach town.

Never before did any sporting affair in town give rise to so much interest and excitement, and never before was so large an amount of money lost and won on a single event. It is estimated that from $6,000 to $8,000 changed hands on the head of the race.

The boats used by both men were in-rigged lap-streaks, weighing about 125 lbs. each.

McIntyre took his defeat in good part, not making it worse by claiming excuses. He frankly acknowledged that Mercer won because he rowed the fastest. Mercer takes his honours with becoming modesty.

Mercer's friends intend to present him with one of Wharin's shells—the best that can be built.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. J. E. McIntyre presented Mercer, who defeated her husband on Monday, with a beautiful finger-ring.

A GARDEN IN HER FACE.

There is a garden in her face,
Where roses and white lilies blow;
A heavenly paradise is that place,
Wherein all pleasant fruits do grow;
There cherries grow that none may buy,
Till "cherry-ripe" themselves do cry.

Those cherries fairly do enclose
Of Orient pearl a double row,
Which, when her lovely laughter shows,
They look like rosebuds filled with snow;
Yet them no peer nor prince may buy,
Till "cherry-ripe" themselves do cry.

Her eyes like angels watch them still;
Her brows like bended bows do stand,
Threatening with piercing frowns to kill
All that approach with eye or hand
These sacred cherries to come nigh,
Till "cherry-ripe" themselves do cry.

Farm, Garden and Household.

Agricultural Experiments at Guelph.

The Experimental Department of the Agricultural College, Guelph, consists of a field containing twenty-three acres, divided into 180 plots, laid out in somewhat rectangular form, with narrow tilled but cropless spaces between them at the sides, and with a sufficient space to admit of a horse turning between them at the ends. The land has been well underdrained, is very uniform in character, especially in each class of the group of tests. Twenty plots of uniform size are sown to as many different varities of fall wheat, all sown under the same conditions. These embraced the Democrat, Rodger, Lancaster, Egyptian, White Mountain, &c.—The Democrat and Clawson are amongst the most vigorous.

Across from these are twenty plots of one variety of spring wheat, sown under different conditions to test the value of manures; twenty lots again contain oats and barley, under different conditions; twenty plots contain grasses, &c., which are being tested under the same conditions.

In the central portion of this field a rain-guage is being constructed, which in regard to its plan of construction and aim, is without a rival in America. The first one constructed on the same plan was erected on the experimental grounds of Sir J. B. Lawes, of Rothinghamstead, England.

Prof. Brown speaks highly of Lucerne, in fact looks upon it as an invaluable adjunct in Canadian farming, but thinks little of Prickly Comfrey, as animals will not eat it readily.

"Bow Park" Farm.

From the prospectus number of the Canadian Stock-raisers' Journal we take the following general description of this celebrated farm, so intimately associated with the name of Hon. Geo. Brown:—

"Bow Park" is situated in the County of Brant, but three miles from Brantford, on the west bank of the Grand River comprising 900 out of the 1,600 acres embraced in the peninsula formed by the eccentric windings of the river at this point, termed by the Indians "Ox-bow-bend," hence the origin of the name "Bow Park" No fewer than seven miles of the river border on the estate, within which an excellent road has been constructed, called the "Three Mile Circle," for carrying on the operations of the farm. Outside this circle and all around it is a range of large fields, having the river for their other boundary, and inside of it are very large fields of great fertility, separated from each other by belts of brushland. 780 acres are under the plough, the balance being devoted to roads, building sites, orchard, belts of wood for ornament and shade, with several runs of sheltered broken land, where the cattle take their daily recreation.

The outbuildings attached to them now occupy many acres. They are substantial frame buildings (mostly two story) erected on cedar or concrete foundations, and finished off with three coats of Carson's fire proof paint. The largest of the barns is 220 ft. long by 48 ft. wide, with lower story for roots; ventilation being secured by means of box vents carried to the top of the building. Other large barns have been erected where convenience demanded, and each with a special object in view.

Attached to the centre of the great barn on its north side is a building 60x30, with engine and boiler sufficient for chaffing all the hay and straw used on the farm, crushing the corn and oil-cake, pulping the roots, cutting the fire-wood, pumping water into the cistern, and steaming the food for the cattle during the winter.

Three shorthorn houses have been erected, each of them 270 feet long and from 32 to 34 ft. wide, with passages that admit of driving through the centre of each from end to end; the first with boxed stall 10x12 ft. for cows whose calves have been weaned; the second with stalls for ordinary purposes, and the third with boxed-stalls for bulls. At "Bow Park" the boxed-stalls are quite preferred, being thought more conducive to the general health and to the beauty and symmetry of the animals. The bull-house has outside door and separate yard attached to each box.

The pig-house will accommodate one hundred pigs.

There is also a separate calving-house, with comfortable apartments for herdsman, and a separate building with boxes 12x12 on the sides for cows and young calves, in which they are kept from six to nine months, except when out for grazing or other purposes.

There is also a spacious calf house and a first class sheep house attached, in which sheep are kept during the winter, but utilized for calves during summer.

The soiling season lasts from the first week in May until the end of September, the aftermath of the hay fields being utilized for grazing purposes after this month. The first crop of the season used for this purpose is rye, followed by a mixed crop of oats, peas and tares, cut from the second week in June till the end of July, when corn is used for the balance of the soiling season. Catch crops of corn are usually sown on lands from which the first and second crops of grain crops have been removed. About seventy-five acres of this green crop has has been found sufficient to carry over the entire stock of "Bow Park" during the soiling season.

This seems to be all the more remarkable when we reflect that the cattle alone at "Bow Park" number fully 360 head. These are all high-bred short-horns, very many of them consisting of importations from the most valuable short-horn families of Great Britain and the United States and their progeny

The "Bow Park" herd was established in 1870, mainly through the enterprise of the late Hon. Geo. Brown. Its one great purpose is the rearing of pure-bred farm stock—Durham cattle, sheep and pigs; and surely this purpose has been realized in a marked degree. Nearly 400 short-horn cattle, and most of these of a class scarcely equalled by the best breeding establishments in the country, is certainly a good showing for thirteen years' labor on a farm of the above limits, in addition to sheep and pigs at present on the place, besides the large numbers that have been sold of each class at the annual sales.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT IN SCHOOLS.

Our Ontario educationists might find a suggestion or two in the following, from the New York Herald:

The several hundred distinguished educators who were in session at Ocean Grove should not have loaded themselves with so many essays and discussions on fine abstractions that they could not find time to denounce some of the glaring imperfections of the public school system. It is quite gratifying to boys and girls who wish to study music, the modern languages and higher mathematics that they are enabled to do so for nothing in the public schools; but as only a limited number of pupils pursue these studies, and the salary of a teacher of any of the higher branches is several times as great as that of the young woman who teaches arithmetic and geography, the parents of the great majority of children have a right to grumble. As a rule, the lower the classes the greater the number of pupils under a single teacher. The reverse should be the case. When two or three score of little children recite in chorus or by rote to a single teacher those who are lazy or slow of comprehension learn about as much as if they were playing in the streets. If extra teachers can be afforded they should be placed in rooms and departments where the pupils are least able to learn themselves.

When will educational conventions become courageous enough to denounce the custom of teaching reading and writing as ornamental branches? To imitate copper-plate engraving is the task usually set writing classes, the models or copies being such as no pupil conforms to after leaving school. As to reading, the teachers seem to agree with most of the compilers of reading lessons that to read means to recite aloud a given number of lines after the manner of professional elocutionists.

—not to read understandingly and in such manner as to remember what is read.

Give the children a good elementary education. Forty-nine in fifty of them cannot remain in school long enough even for that.

COWS IN THE PASTURE.

Murphy heard cows in his orchard the other night, and slipping out the back way appeared suddenly near the front steps, and yelled: "He-ah Tige! he-ah Tige! he-ah!" Just then a figure rushed in the gloom. "Take 'im! take 'im! screamed the old man, but his daughter Miranda, who had unaccountably appeared on the scene, secured the dog by the collar and refused to let go. "What ye doin'?" yelled the old man; "don't ye know them cows have been in here three or four times?" "Oh, pa!" was the anwer, "but this was only a calf." The man was pacified, but Adolphus, who standing out in road awaiting development, wasn't, and Miranda will never understand the coldness that has sprung up between them.

A VALUABLE HORSE LAMED

Mr. A. C. Eakins, Campbellton, N. B., had a valuable horse lamed whilst driving on a bad road in the dark, and at first thought his leg was broken, and got him home with great difficulty. Knowing its benefit, having used it before, he immediately applied Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, and in three days his horse was well again. Mr. Eakins always keeps a bottle handy in the stable and records its praises as the only horse liniment in the world.

Thanksgiving Day.

It now seems the general rule to crowd into one day the thankfulness of a whole year. The exception to this rule is in the case of those who have used PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR, with the invariable results attending its use for a perfect cure. They feel thankful always. Try Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Safe sure and painless. Sold by druggists everywhere. N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Proprietors.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow: you will be inspired with new life: strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & McDonald.

Beware of Imitations.

Since Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has become celebrated, a number of unprincipled persons have been endeavoring to palm off Electron and Electric Oil for the genuine DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL. Beware of these similar named articles. If their originators had any faith in the healing properties of their own medicines they would, like honest men, give them a name of their own, and not try to sell them on the reputation of another; but as they know their preparations have no merit, they resort to the most unprincipled means of selling them by getting a name as near as possible to Eclectric. We therefore ask the public when purchasing to see that the name Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is on the front of the wrapper, and the signature of NORTHROP & LYMAN, the proprietors for Canada on the back. 2-52

TRAIN AND TRACK.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NOTES.

The first piece of steel work on the new Michigan Central bridge at Niagra Falls was laid on Wednesday.

Traffic in the freight department of the Grand Trunk Railway is lulling a little at present.

The Midland is doing a larger business than ever hitherto at this time of year, especially in grain and lumber.

—There is a bad sink hole on the Ontario and Quebec railway, seven miles from Moberly, in South Shertrook. An enormous amount of stuff has been thrown into it, but it needs more. A carload of gravel attempted to cross it, but rails, ties, and everything went down. The road will soon be open for traffic.

TRAINS are run steadily now between Coboconk and Lindsay. From ten to eleven each morning and again in the evening, is a busy time at the depot and requires close watching to keep the track clear. As, however, everything is worked on a systematic scale, one train is always out of the way before the other comes along and as new sidings are being laid, there will soon be accommodation for all the cars on the south side of the depot.

Mr. R. Junkin of the Midland railway staff at Lindsay is about to remove from Lindsay to Brockville. Mr. Junkin has had charge of the outgoing freight masters at the station since he came to Lindsay and has won many friends by his obliging manner and excellent business qualities. Mr. Junkin will bid good-bye to railroading and will devote his attention to insurance, having taken the position of general agent for the Sun Mutual Insurance Co, of Montreal in the district surrounding Brockville. Mr. Junkin has already been very successful in this field and his services will, we are sure, be a valuable acquisition to the company.

—The first instalment of the iron for the new railway bridge came in on Tuesday, being the large iron girders which reach from the abutments to the centre piers. The centre span of the bridge will be of the "truss" pattern, the material of which will arrive in a day or two. The contractors for the bridge proper, the Hamilton Bridge Coy., at first proposed to place the girders on scows at the wharf and tow them up the river to the bridge piers, where the girders would be raised by derricks. This plan has been abandoned and the piece of track from the station to the bridge will be put down at once and the iron passed down to the bridge. Three weeks will probably see the bridge in operation.—Lindsay Post.

Did She Die?

"No!

"She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years,"

"The doctors doing her no good,"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about."

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery,

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

"Under the care of the best physicians,

"Who gave her disease various names,

"But no relief.

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop bitters, that we had shunned for years before using it."—THE PARENTS.

Father is getting Well,

"My daughters say:

"How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters."

"He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable"

"And we are so glad that he used your Bitters."

Mr. John Bowell, son of the Minister of Customs, and formerly his private secretary, has been appointed Customs Surveyor at Winnipeg at a salary of $1,800 a year It is reported that after a few months Mr. Mingaye, Collector of Customs, will be removed to Ottawa preparatory to being appointed Commissioner and that young Mr. Bowell will receive the Winnipeg collectorship. This looks like a very nice arrangement and no doubt it will be carried out. Mr. Bowell, the Minister, and Mr. Johnston, Commissioner of Customs, have both left for Manitoba to inspect Custom offices there, and to instal the new surveyor at Winnipeg. Mr. Bowell's large family must now nearly all be provided for.

The loss of power to digest and assimilate food in anyone who has a weak spot, whose weakness renders perfect nutrition a necessity, requires immediate attention; the lungs impaired by inflammation, the heart by rheumatism, and the liver or kidney by over-stimulation, will soon cry out from starvation when the blood is insufficiently fed and the tissues ill-nourished. Failure of nerve power and a weak stomach are the chief factors in these troubles, and the element of nerve nutrition and essential agents of the gastric juice in WHEELER'S PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA the best remedy.

A police magistrate is questioning a tramp whose bearing indicates that he has seen better days. "You look as if you a gentleman," he remarks, "Yes, sir," says the prisoner with a sigh: "Once, sir, I was worth thousnods." "Gambled, eh?" "No, sir." "Squandred it in riotous living, eh?" "No, sir." "Then, to what were you addicted?" "Friendship, sir."

"Do not grasp at the shadow and lose the substance," Kidney-Wort is able to convert you from a shadow of your former self into the substance of established health. Said a sufferer from kidney trouble when asked to try Kiddey-Wort for a remedy. "I'll try it, but it will be my last dose." It cured him and now he recommends it to all. If you have disordered kidneys don't fail to try it.

Last year 884 lives were saved on the the British coast through the efforts of the crews of the lifeboats belonging to the National Lifeboat Institution. The institution is supported by voluntary contributions.

The great secret of beauty lies not in the enamceller's or the tonsorial art, but it depends upon good health, a fair, brilliant complexion rendered so by pure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters purify the blood, cure Scrofula and all diseases of the Blood, Liver and kidneys. 25,000 bottles were sold during the last three months. 26-2t

A case of alleged Asiatic cholera is causing excitement in Milwaukee, two physicians having pronounced it to be of that character. Other doctors, however, maintain it to be cholera morbus.

D. McCrimmon of Lancaster writes that he has suffered with inflammatory rheumatism more or less from childhood and had tried nearly all advertised remedies with but temporary effect. Burdock Blood Bitters have radically cured him, and he authorizes us to say so. 26-2t

The Wild Strawberry leaf is a good antidote to the poison of the green apple and cucumber. In other words, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a sure cure for Colic Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Dysentery, and all Bowel Complaints so often caused by the irritating effects of various fruit. 26-2t

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City

CONFIDENTIAL

Thousands of young Men and Women married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of their troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do not avail. The JERUBEBEIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition to one of renewed life and vigor.

Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $2 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

THINK AS YOU READ

—No "Blarney" in Either Price or Quality—

Giving All we Honestly can Afford!

There are two ways of doing business, one is "get much and give little;" that sort may do for to-day. The other is, "give all you honestly can afford for what you receive;" this is good for this year and all the years after. Not only give good measure and good quality, but lots of other things in the way of confidence and convenience, comfort and accommodation. A new customer expressed surprise that her friend, being as she said, no judge of quality took our salesman's word so implicitly; her explanation was: "But this is guaranteed, and that means something in this house."

In a word we have undertaken to find out, and do find out what our patrons want, how they want it, and hand it over at level prices.

Clap the above business drift on our bargain offer. We'll keep open for one month yet. It is some time since the buyer had an equal chance with this offer. We've put the sickle to the prices in all lines and the prices are made to send the goods out a-whirling.

Every reduction we've made has its reason in plain business—to clear off stock. Our plan works to give our patrons much for little—not to seem to do it but to do it.

SHOOTING OF CAREY.

O'Donnell's Examination—He Detests the Informer Through His Children—The Details.

The full details of the killing of James Carey, the informer, are thus related in the London daily papers. Carey sailed from England on the steamer Kinfauns Castle. He was noticeable only as an attentive father, who took pleasure in playing with his children. O'Donnell, the murderer, and Carey both were going to Natal, and on the arrival of the steamer Kinfauns Castle at Cape Town were transferred to Melrose Castle. Carey is described as a man with clean-shaven face and a heavy, dark moustache. He was spoken of as Mr. Power, a courteous and unassuming gentleman travelling for pleasure. That some of the passengers surmised that the informer was on the steamer is beyond doubt. One day after leaving England a passenger named Williams was watching Carey, and the Steward said to him: "Surely, you are not thinking what I am thinking?" to which Williams rejoined: "What are you thinking?" The Steward said: "There is something suspicious about that man Power," and exchanging their ideas the the two men thought it might be Carey. Williams shaved Carey, and afterwards said to the Steward: "Won't it be a lark to write home and say

"I SHAVED JAMES CAREY?"

O'Donnell during the voyage frequently played with Carey's children. Very often he sat alone with them on the decks, teaching them their lessons. He would ask them their names and make them repeat them over and over again. The smallest children would become embarrassed, not being accustomed to their new name of Power, and then O'Donnell would take them on his knee and quieting their fears say it was no difference, that he knew their names were Power all the time. Thus he discovered who Power really was. Capt. Rose, of the steamer Melrose Castle, made the following statement before the Magistrate at Port Elizabeth:

"I left Cape Town on July 28th. On the 29th I was summoned by cries of "Murder." I immediately proceeded to the fore cabin and saw passenger Power lying in the after part of the saloon wounded by fired by O'Donnell, who was calmly seated on a settee in the middle of the cabin, with a woman clinging around his neck. I instituted a search of O'Donnell's effects, and discovered in his box a revolver and box of cartridges.

[The pistol was here produced; it was of metallic manufacture, with no maker's name on it.]

Carey's wife came up and the prisoner said,

"SHAKE HANDS, MRS. CAREY;

I did not do it." The body was about five yards from me. I took deceased's collar and necktie off and opened his shirt. The officers' servant, Parish, had his thumb on the hole in the deceased's neck, from which the blood came, though not much was flowing. I then went to help Mrs. Power, who was waiting, and I left the body with Parish. I stayed there until the man died and carried him up stairs. When the vessel came to port witness saw a crowd assembled on the wharf, and as soon as the story was circulated cheers were given for O'Donnell as he walked ashore, handcuffed and between two policemen. O'Donnell is a man standing fully six feet in height, with an unusually high forehead narrowing at the sides. The nose is straight and well-shaped, gray eyes, dark hair, and he is about 44 years of age. He has the appearance of having either been in the army or in the

WELL-DRILLED CONSTABULARY FORCE.

His appearance suggests that he has been subjected to military training of some kind or other.

Charles Jones, the boatswain, said: "On the 29th I was in the fore cabin playing with a child. I heard a shot fired, and the deceased sang out, 'Maggie, I'm shot.' O'Donnell and Carey were drinking together. The deceased had a glass of brandy, the prisoner had a bottle of beer, and the prisoner's wife a bottle of ginger beer. I did not see the first shot fired, but I did the other two. As the deceased was staggering away the prisoner followed him up and fired the two shots, which struck him on the loins and about the spine."

"Did they seem friendly?"

"Yes, the prisoner asked deceased about his wife, and whether she was sick."

WITCHCRAFT IN THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

It is surprising that in this age witches should be believed in, even in the vaunted enlightenment of the United States. An infant, the child of Mrs. Kochert, of Reading, Pa., was taken sick about a week ago. One of the neighbors said that the child acted as though it were bewitched, and another neighbor suggested that a "witch doctor," who lived not far away, be called. The witch doctor was summoned. He said that the little patient, without doubt, was bewitched, and he and the neighbors took up the task of finding who the witch could be. Meanwhile the child died while undergoing such treatment as the doctor prescribed. Mrs. Snyder, a neighbor, heard that Mrs. Kochert had accused her of being the witch, and she called her to account in the Alderman's Court. Mrs. Kochert testified that the doctor gave her bits of white paper, which, he said, had undergone a magical spell, and that he instructed her to get a certain kind of molasses, stir the paper into it, and give it to the child with a spoon. She followed his instructions, but the child would not eat the mixture. Then the doctor told her to get a green briar stick, dry a leaf from it over the fire, and whip the child's empty cradle with it till she was exhausted. Mrs. Kochert testified that she did as she was told, but "notwithstanding all these things the child died." When Mrs. Snyder her of the method of treatment she seemed surprised, and asked, "What is the witch doctor doing here?" This expression was repeated to the doctor by Mrs. Kochert, and he remarked, "When you tread on a dog's tail he howls." The Alderman reserved his decision.

A FELONIOUS FOOL.

A fellow working in a Maine factory where young women are employed contrived a practical joke for the entertainment of himself and his admirers. He killed a large snake and left it among some boxes that were to be assorted by the young women. Miss Stevens uncovered the reptile with her hands. The The shock made her insane, and the physicians say that she will probably die and in any event will be a maniac for life.

DOINGS OF THE DEVIL.

A TERRIBLE RECORD OF CRIME IN THE "STATES" FOR ONE DAY.

Ezra Douglas, a printer, struck his wife at Nebraska City, Neb. She shot him dead and then killed herself.

John Smith and James Bine shot each other mortally at Nevado, Mo., in settlement of an old grudge.

Ah Yung, a Chinaman, was executed at Missoula, Mon., for murdering a brother celestial. He met his fate boldly.

Wm. Pope, after a futile attempt at reconciliation with his wife near Woodville, Ill., shot her and himself dead.

A. M. Sykes, at Norfolk, Va., shot his father dead for deserting his mother and children nine years ago.

Herbert Mayer, a German immigrant, received a letter that his wife was coming from Germany to Trenton, N.J., after him, and went and committed suicide.

A Hungarian was killed, two fellow-workmen were shot, and an Irishman, named Tom Kearney, was unmercifully beaten during a row over wages at Pana-tauney, Mo.

A negro, named Clark, looked through a window at the wife of Dr. Abrahams, a prominent physician and ex-confederate surgeon, at Houston, Tex., while she was making her toilet, and the doctor fired at him. The negro returned the fire and mortally wounded the doctor.

Reports from Wayne county, Tenn., say a mob attempted to lynch Miller McLean, a negro jailed for outraging a child. Sheriff Bumpass attempted to assist McLean to escape. Both were fired on and killed.

WIFE OR WIDOW: WHICH IS SHE?

A Bangor correspondent of the Aroostook (Me.) Pioneer gives the following account of a peculiar case: Last January P. G. White, of Bangor, a member of the Penobscot bar, made application for a divorce on the ground of incompatibility of temper. Mrs. White resolved to contest the case, as she believed that outside parties were influencing her husband. At the April term of the court a trial by jury was had, lasting two days. The jury concluded, although the evidence scarcely justified it, that a divorce ought to be granted. Exceptions were filed and the case was carried to the lay court and argued last June. The full court overruled the exception. Within a few days after this decision was announced, a secret meeting, was arranged between the parties litigant, and they decided to overrule the full court and live together again. Accordingly, on the 5th of this month they started together for the seashore, where they are enjoying the honeymoon unmolested by officious meddlers, after six month of cruel separation. They are still man wife, as the court has not entered "divorce decree," and cannot till the October term. The serious question arises, What is the duty of the court under this state of affairs?

THE QUEEN'S DINNER PARTY.

People are mistaken if they suppose that a visit to Windsor signifies confidential intercourse with the royal hostess. The guests and such of the household as are included in the dinner party assemble in the grand corridor, and the Qreen enters from her private apartments just as the repast is announced, and accords a formal greeting to each person. The company then goes into the dining-room (the oak room) and during dinner, conversation is, of course, of a very rapid sort—"Shakspeare and the musical glasses." After dinner the party meet again in the corridor, and her Majesty goes round the circle, speaking perhaps for two minutes to each person, after which she retires, and the guests adjourn to one of the drawing-rooms to finish the evening with music or cards. Next morning they leave without having again seen the Queen, so that very little political capital can be made out of a visit.

HIGH PRICES FOR CATTLE.

[London Truth]

Extraordinary prices were realised last week at the sale of a draft of the Shorthorns of Mr. Helford, of Cerne Abbas, whose herd was established 10 years ago in Leicestershire. The average for 22 cows was 176 guineas, and for 5 bulls, 322 guineas. Duchess of Leinster, a splendid and beautifully shaped animal, brought 1,150 guineas, which was given by Lord Fitzhardinge after a sharp competition with Sir Curtis Lampson. The daughter of this cow was sold to Lord Bective for 1,505 guineas. The bull Duke of Leinster, went to Berkeley Castle at 900 guineas Several lots were bought for breeders in the United States and Canada. Among Mr. Helford's herd are two cows which were bought at the Bowness sale in 1877 for 8,400 guineas.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, on 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Industrial Exhibition.

Mr. Joseph Redmond, Otonabee, is showing five Berkshire pigs of different ages at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition.

Vital Statistics.

There is a striking analogy in the figures of the vital statistics of this town for August, to the famous 13-15-14 puzzle, which enjoyed such a violent and short popularity recently. The figures of the statistics are 14 births, 13 marriages and 15 deaths.

A Town Contractor Abroad.

According to the Norwood Register the contract for the erection of the new school building, in that village, has been awarded to Mr. John Alford, of this town, for the sum of $6,350. Mr. Alford's tender was the lowest, and consequently was accepted by the Board. The new building is to be completed by May, 1884.

Traffic Returns.

The traffic returns of the Midland Railway of Canada for the week ending Aug. 25th, 1883, was as follows:—Passengers and mails, $6,475.87; freight, $13,506.73; total, $19,983.60, as compared with $19,071.47 for the corresponding week of 1882, being an increase of $912.13; and the aggregate traffic to date is $671,135.26, being an increase of $24,489.13 over 1882.

Arm Lacerated.

On Monday morning Mr. Geo. Cooney, son of Mr. Johnston Cooney, of Otonabee, while assisting at threshing on the farm of Mr. Wm. Stewart, had his arm caught in the gearing at the side of the machine and badly lacerated, three cogs leaving indellible marks on his arm. Dr. King, of this town, gave the necessary surgical attention to the injured man, whose case is progressing favourably.

A Fine Farming Feat.

Recently Mr. John Miller, sr., and Wm. Fawcett of Otonabee, performed the astonishing work of binding 23 acres of rye in two days and a quarter. What makes the circumstances more binding is the fact that Mr. Miller is 69 years of age and the lad only 14. There are few pairs of men in the country who can beat or even tie such binding, though there are many who can surround old rye with greater facility.

Springless Trusses and Supporters.

Prof. G. W, Hotchkin of Albion, Orleans Co., N. Y., will again visit as follows:—

Peterborough, Cassie House, Oct. 17 & 18
Lindsay, Benson House, Oct. 19 & 20.

Prof. H. having had thirty years experience has become master of his profession and defies the hernia that he cannot hold it in its place. Prof. H. treats Inguinal, Umbilical as well as Varicocele, also children, all of which he has treated successfully. Go and see him for yourselves. 37

A New Stock Journal.

We are in receipt of the prospectus number of the Canadian Stock Raisers' Journal. It is a handsome sixteen page sheet (with cover) issued monthly in Hamilton, at the very low price of $1.00 per year. It is well printed, on good paper, and full of ably written and carefully selected articles on stock raising, which is becoming the leading industry of the country. It is handsomely illustrated. A journal so urgently required and so worthy of its object, should receive a liberal patronage from the progressive stock breeders of the Dominion.

Band at the Exhibition.

The Fire Brigade Band is booked to appear at the great Industrial Exhibition, Toronto. The day selected for their appearance is the great day of the fair, the "citizens day," Monday, September 17th. Through the day the band will furnish music, and the attractions will be a bicycle tournament, performances in and under water by the celebrated Beckwith family (Agnes and Willie), balloon ascensions and excursions on the electric railway. In the evening our band will give a concert, by electric light, and there will be a display of electro-hydraulic fireworks. Whatever the other attractions of the great fair may be on the 17th, there will certainly be good music.

Burleigh and United Townships Fair.

As will be seen by referring to our list of coming exhibitions the date of that for the Burleigh and United Townships is fixed for Monday, Oct. 10th, at Apsley. A good prize list has been prepared, and the fair promises to be a fine success.

Growth of this County.

In 1825 this county had a population of 625, occupying 45,675 acres, of which 2,964 acres were cleared. In 1851 Peterborough county had a population of 15,237, occupying 179,429 acres of land, of which 69,574 were cleared. In 1861 the population was 30,472, occupying 395,241 acres, of which 202,282 were cleared.

Ladies leaving their orders for Mantles are always sure of a good fit at Turnbull's. Cutting done on shortest notice.

Our Cheese Industry.

According to the report of the Ontario Bureau of Industries, in the year 1883, from the opening of the season to July 31st, the fourteen cheese factories making returns used 3,570,780 lbs. of milk, which produced 353,481 lbs. of cheese. Of this amount cheese to the value of $28,215 was sold, leaving 83,984 lbs. on hand.

Ministerial Taffy.

It was an exceedingly Frenchy bit of taffy that Sir Hector Langevin laid on the Port Hoper's with a silver trowel on the occasion of laying the corner stone of the new post office. He blandly told them the public buildings were his tribute to "the mettle and enterprise of the town." On the same principle, Peterborough should have half a dozen post office buildings.

Farm, Field and Fireside.

The publishers of the Farm, Field and Fireside, Chicago, are meeting with great success in securing subscribers to their publication. In addition to furnishing an excellent paper at the low price of 50 cents for six months, they propose to distribute $40,000 in presents to their readers. See their announcement in advertising columns.

Private School.

A private school for boys conducted by the Rev. E. C. Wilson and the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, will open at Ashburnham on the 13th Sept. Boarding and day pupils received at moderate rates. Thorough instruction given in all departments. French and German a specialty. Advantageous arrangements offered for evening pupils. For prospectus, etc., apply to the Rev. E. C. Wilson, Peterborough. 32-6t.

Foot Ball.

The Peterborough Foot Ball Club was re-organized on Wednesday night of last week, for the season, with the following officers:—President, F. J. Lewis; First Vice-President, H. Kay Coleman; Second Vice-President, A. St. A. Smith; Sec'y-Treasurer, J. Morris; Captain, W. H. Buddin; Committee,—P. Cooper, R. B. Rogers and R. M. Hamilton. Matches are being arranged with the Toronto club, and with the Military College club, Kingston.

The Gildersleeve Cup.

This prize is on exhibition in the show window of Mr. H. LeBrun's City Clothing Store. The inscription on it recounts that it was won in 1878 by the Kingston Lacrosse Club, who held it in five matches till 1881, when on the 18th of August in that year it was secured by the Peterborough Club. Here the inscription stops, and after the match with Kingston on the 17th, the blank is to be filled with the name of Peterborough as owners in free simple. That is, that is the programme at present, and it will not be changed unless the Kingston club decidedly and successfully object.

Ladies wanting a stylish or durable Dress, will find a nice selection to choose from at Turnbull's.

The Scholarship Winner.

Some time since the teachers composing the staff of the Collegiate Institute contributed to a scholarship to be awarded to the pupil educated at the institute who should succeed in taking the highest first class standing at the intermediate examinations. Mr. Alfred Orr is the successful competitor who took 1st C with the highest number of marks. Mr. Orr started on Monday to attend the Normal School to prepare himself for his professional certificate. The example of the teachers might be imitated by our wealthy citizens. Lest they should fancy they are deprived of a chance of encouraging education the opportunity is thus suggested them.

Interesting Statistics.

The Agricultural returns of the Ontario Bureau of Industries for August, 1883, is full of interesting information. From it we extract particulars respecting this county. The acreage of fall and spring wheat and grains in this county for the year 1883 is as follows:—Fall Wheat, 13,069 acres, yielding 281,696 bushels; spring wheat, 23,103 acres, yielding 405,592; old wheat on hand, 90,947; barley, 13,728 acres, yielding 376,779; oats, 24,834 acres, yielding, 926,308; rye, 5,638 yielding 103,965 bushels; peas, 13,209, 264,180 bushels. Hay, 39,805 acres, yielding 70,654 tons. The amount of butter produced in this county in 1882 was 585,221 lbs. Of potatoes there were 2,477 acres; mangolds, 266 acres; carrots, 371 acres; turnips, 863 acres.

The Game Laws.

A reminder to shooters—genuine sportsmen need no such reminder,—respecting some points in the game laws may save them from infringement of its provisions and an interview with the magistrate. Game may be lawfully killed as follows:—Ruffed and pinnated grouse, Sept. 1 to Jan. 1; quail, Oct. 1 to Jan. 1; woodcock, Aug. 1 to May 1; wild-fowl, Aug. 15 to May 1; wild turkey, Oct. 1 to Jan. 1; deer and elk, Oct. 1 to Dec. 15; rabbit (hare), Sept. 1 to March 1; snipe, Aug. 15 to Jan. 1; speckled trout, May 1 to Sept. 15; black bass, May 15 to April 15; maskinonge and pickerel, May 15 to April 15; lake (salmon) trout, Nov. 10 to Nov. 1; mallard, gray, black, wood, summer and teal ducks, Aug. 15 to Jan. 1. Battery, punt gun, sunken punt, and night light are forbidden in wildfowl shooting. Imported game may not be killed without consent of land owner. It is forbidden to kill for exportation "deer, elk, moose, reindeer, or caribou."

Pleasurist Parent of Them All.

Mr. John McGuire, of the township of Seymour, the other day secured the biggest muskinonge of the season in the River Trent. This giant specimen of the genus esox weighed thirty-three and a half pounds, and measured five feet in his—fins.

Parish Mission Services.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw will conduct services and preach at the following stations on the appended dates:—Hare's School House, Sept. 13th; Temperance Hall, Nassau, Sept. 20th; the Chapel, Asburn, Sept. 27th. All the services will begin at 7.30 p.m.

Lacrosse Match.

On Tuesday the Clippers, a juvenile club, went down to play the alleged Millbrook junior club. The Clippers took the first three games, but Millbrook disputed this and the game went on, Millbrook winning three straights. The Clippers being mere lads, objected to playing against "boys" with moustaches and side whiskers.

The Missing Link.

The grading on the Missing Link is nearly, completed and about 175 men will be paid off on Saturday night. The track is laid for four miles at each end, and it will not be long before the line will be in complete running order. A quagmire on the line, about three miles west of the town, is twenty four feet deep and is giving no end of trouble. It is not yet disposed of.

The O. & Q.

Work on the Ontario & Quebec railway is progressing favorably. About five miles of track west of the town is laid. It is expected that the bridge at Cavanville will be ready by the time the tracklayers reach that point. The bridge over the river will take a longer time to finish, but it is getting on well. The land abutments on both sides of the river are completed ready for the timbers.

The Reason Why.

A lively squabble is going on in Port Hope as to the reason why the local band was not employed for the Midland employees' pic-nic, and the matter has even found its way into the papers. To help the Port Hope people out of the dilemma we suggest the real reason. The committee throughout made first class arrangements, and to make the thing complete they employed the best music obtainable, and therefore the Peterborough band was engaged.

An Enticing Display.

The beautiful display of neck wear made in the show window of Habiliment Hall is worth pausing to admire. Mr. McNeil does knot neck-lect any chance of automatic advertising—making his goods advertise themselves. He is not sparing of printers' ink either; when he has a chance he does not throat away, but collars it, as will be seen by consulting his well displayed announcement in the advertising columns of the EXAMINER, where is presented to fishers for fine garments, a chance for a good Haul of Habiliments.

The Weekly Intelligencer.

Which is acknowledged as being one of the leading journals of Ontario, has reduced its subscription list to one dollar per annum. Each issue contains the report of a sermon by that celebrated divine Rev. T. De Witt Talmage. Its market reports are full and reliable, particularly its reports of the cheese and hop markets. Taking it it as a whole we consider that the Weekly Intelligencer has no superior as a home journal, and should be read at every fireside. To new subscribers for the balance of this year the Weekly Intelligencer will be sent free, upon the receipt of the subscription price, to January 1885—one dollar. Address Intelligencer office Belleville, Ont. 37-1t

A Dangerous Hole.

On Monday evening after dark, while returning from the races, Mr. D. Belleghem broke the axle of his furniture van by driving in a hole on Reid street between London and McDonnell. The van was not heavily laden, containing only Mr. Belleghem and ten of his employees, but the collapse of the axle was due to the wheel suddenly falling into this deep hole, which is a most dangerous spot, especially after dark—and on a street so much used as the town terminus of the Mud Lake road. It is reasonable to presume that Mr. Belleghem could collect the cost of his break from the corporation, which should not allow the street to be mined with deep and dangerous pits.

"A Killing Frost."

Last Sunday night, September 9th, there was a most severe and untimely frost, remarkable in its severity and destructiveness for the time of year. Ice of considerable thickness was formed, and the ground was frozen to the depth of half an inch. The thermometer, as noted by Mr. Thomas Telford, the well-known Kinnismore meteorologist, was eight degrees below the freezing point on Monday morning at sunrise. The tomato crop has been destroyed, late potatoes are ruined, late oats will be badly damaged, and many garden vegetables will be all but destroyed. The cold wave was general. In the Western States the corn crop was ruined. From all parts of the Dominion reports of serious losses come.

Record of the Institute.

Considering all the circumstances the work done by the institute this year is a very creditable one. The results are, matriculants at universities, five—one at Toronto, two at Victoria, and two at Queen's; teachers, 26—two first class, one second and twenty-five third class and intermediate. The circumstances above alluded to are; the illness during the year of the late principal, which ended in his death—the installation of a head master who would naturally not be able to do his best work at beginning, and his being called away from the school by domestic affliction. All these facts combined did not produce the most favorable conditions for the advancement of the pupils, and considering this the record of the institute is a most satisfactory and creditable one.

Ladies who will wear black, and are tired of Cashmeres, will find some desirable black all wool goods to choose from at Turnbull's.

Ecclesiastical Retreat.

The Lindsay Post says:—"A 'retreat' for the priests of this diocese was held in this town last week. Bishop Jamot had other dignitaries were present. Rev. Father Ryan, of Montreal, conducted the services and preached suitable sermons daily." One week during every year the Church requires every ecclesiastic, of whatever degree, to spend a week in retreat, in meditation, prayer and holy discourse.

Cavalry.

Another instance of the forward march of Peterborough was displayed yesterday in our cavalry troop en route to the front, wearing boots furnished by the old established firm of R. Stenson & Son. Formerly military boots could only be obtained from the old military city, Kingston. Now Kingston must take a back seat to Peterborough. Yet the world goes round.

Oddfellow's Funeral.

On Sunday afternoon last the funeral of the late Dr. Bennett was held from his father's residence, North Monaghan. It was conducted according to the funeral ritual of the Oddfellows, of which order deceased was a member—Peterborough lodge. The following brothers acted as pall bearers, John Sawers, W. J. Green, James Kendry, S. Clegg, Jas. Byrne and Wm. Galley. At Haggart's corners the funeral cortege was met by the brethern and the Fire Brigade Band, which led the procession to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the body of the deceased was laid.

United Methodist Conference.

The united Methodist Conference has been in session in Belleville for the past week, and will likely continue two weeks longer. The Conference has been mainly engaged in settling details and in arranging the bounds of the conferences and circuits. Peterborough will be included in what is called the Bay of Quinte Conference. It was decided to elect two general superintendents at a salary of $2,500 each and travelling expenses. The names of Rev. Dr. Rice and Rev. Dr. Sutherland were mentioned in connection with the office. The election of officers resulted in the appointment of Rev. Dr. Rice as first general superintendent, Bishop Carman as second general superintendent, and Rev. J. C. Antliff as secretary.

Horticultural Society's Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough Horticultural Society will be today, Thursday. It is feared, however, that owing to the early frosts the display of late fruits and vegetables, such as grapes and tomatoes will not be up to the mark. But to supplement the attractions that may be possibly wanting in these departments, arrangements have been made for a grand musical and literary entertainment in the evening, at which the following well known vocalists, Mrs. Chambers, Messrs. Porteous, Elliott and Rush, will appear. It is to be hoped that those who have in former years moved actively in promoting the interests and objects of the society, and all interested in these objects, will lend a helping hand.

Y.M.C.A Secretary and Buildings.

Mr. George E. Williams, of Montreal, permanent secretary of the Y.M.C.A. for Peterborough, will arrive in town on the noon train on Friday, to assume the duties of his office. Mr. Williams will give his whole attention to the work, and for the present will occupy the present rooms of the association as offices. It is in contemplation, and the near future may see the project carried out, to erect a building for the association on the vacant lot, northeast corner of Charlotte and George streets. We believe the lot has been secured by a gentleman interested in the progress of the work of the association. The building will contain the necessary premises for the Y.M.C.A. and also coffee rooms, to be conducted under the auspices of the Womans' Temperance Association.

Lumbering Operations.

The lumbering season has opened, but it cannot be said that lumbering operations have begun to any considerable extent. The outlook for the lumber trade is decidedly gloomy; prices are ruling low and mill men have great difficulty in disposing of their present stock, not to speak of increasing it in the way implied by extensive limit cuttings. The market being dull and the burdensome taxation on most of the supplies used by lumbermen is not by any means encouraging. Of the local lumbermen, Messrs. Ullyott & Saddler have begun operations, sending out a number of men to their limits, which are situated in Burleigh and Anstruther in this county, and in Anson in Victoria county. Their cut this year will be at least one-third less than last year. Mr. Hazlett's operations are not yet decided on, and it is prehaps doubtful if he will more than nominally enter his limits this season. Mr. Hilliard is in the same position, and Mr. Irwin is now absent visiting the markets, and his operations will depend on the result of his visit. Altogether the prospect of extensive lumbering operations in this district this winter, are not encouraging.

Journalistic.

Mr. A. G. Magurn, late of the Globe staff, has assumed the editorial chair of the Belleville Ontario, and has entered upon his duties. He comes well recommended, and will no doubt keep the Ontario up to the high standard to which the late editor, Mr. J. B. Ashley brought it. Mr. Ashley resigned to accept a position the Deaf and Dumb Institute. Mr. Ashley has done first-class service for the party for seven years in his journalistic capacity, and will continue to serve his country just as efficiently in his new sphere. As an editor he was clever, painstaking and thorough, as a man he was every inch a gentleman, full of beaming courtesy and kindness, that endeared him to all who knew him. We congratulate him on the recognition of his services implied in his appointment, which will be a welcome relaxation from the arduous labours which we know him to have patiently performed for seven years. The best wish we can give the Ontario is that its columns may receive at the hands of Mr. Ashley's successor on its staff, the care, attention and satisfactory results apparent during the former's incumbency. We warmly welcome Mr. Magurn to the journalistic community of the Midland District.

IN CAMP AT COBOURG.

The Rangers out on the "Golden-Eye."

Again this year No. 3 district holds its brigade camp at Cobourg, and on Tuesday morning the Peterborough contingent left for the camp. There was a very meagre muster of volunteers, and what few did come to the mark had some trouble in getting equipped. At ten o'clock No. 1 Company, Capt. Edwards and Lieut. Beck; No. 2 Company, Capt. Langford and Lieut. Lee, with about forty privates all told, headed by the band, marched down George street, to the Sherbrooke street dock. Here was found No. 3 Company, Ashburnham, Lieut. R. B. Rogers and Lieut. Haultain, with less than twenty men, already on board, who were joined by the new arrivals, and the Golden-Eye was off to the wars. At Harwood the battalion was joined by No. 4 Company, Keene, Capt. Birdsall, Lieut. Hammond and Lieut. Campbell; No. 5, Norwood, Capt. Burke and Lieut. Brennan; No. 6, Hastings, Capt. Howard.

The staff of the Peterborough Rangers is Lieut.-Col., J. Z. Rogers; Major, T. M. Grover; Major and Adjutant, Dr. Bell; Surgeon, Dr. O'Gorman; Quartermaster, J. W. Miller.

No. 3 troop of cavalry, Lt. Col. Rogers and Lieut. Snyder, started for camp at eleven o'clock. They marched down Aylmer street on the trot, and will continue the march to the camp. The Peterborough detachment of the Durham Field Battery went to camp on the early morning train.

The muster of the 57th is a very small one this year. It cannot be expected that volunteers, with the treatment and neglect they receive from the Government—poor pay, poor equipment, no encouragement in rifle shooting—will, in time of peace, turn out en masse as they would in case an enemy invaded our country. Our citizen soldiers are worthy of better treatment than they have hitherto received from the Government.
